GLEE AND MANDOLIN CLUBS AT EDINBORO

AN APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE OF OVER SIX HUNDRED.

Musical Clubs Given an Enthusiastic Reception at Edinboro State Normal School Monday Evening.

The College Glee and Mandolin Clubs rendered their delightful program before a large and responsive assemblage at the Edinboro State Normal School on Monday evening. Each number on the program was encored; and several numbers called for two encores. The Mandolin Club was in "fine form" and picked their way into the hearts of their auditors. The Glee Club, as usual, covered themselves with glory and sang their way also into the hearts of the Edinboroites. Charles W. Ferry, bass soloist, sang Le Cor with fine effect and was obliged to respond to an encore. The quartet, which by the way, is pronounced the finest they have had in Allegheny for years, took the house by storm. W. E. Thomas, "the funny man," and R. R. Russell, "the end man," contributed a great deal to the success of the program, with their side-splitting stunts.

Prof. James Browne Martin, of the Pennsylvania College of Music, rendered Svendsen's Romanze on the violin in a highly artistic and musicianly manner. He was most enthusiastically received. Mr. Robert Lippitt played Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 12, admirably and was also forced to respond to an encore. All in all, the concert was one of the most successful of the season, and reflects great credit on Prof. Manville and Prof. Martin, under whose thorough and efficient training the clubs have been during the season. Mr. Lick also deserves a great share of the credit for his able and conscientious work as leader of the Glee Club.

TRACK TEAM MAKES EXCELLENT SHOWING

GROVE CITY OVERWHELMED.

An Easy Day for Allegheny Athletes—Stewart and His Men Show Fine Form, Scoring 73 Points to Their Opponent's 22.

By the overwhelming score of 73 to 22 Allegheny defeated Grove City College Saturday in a dual field meet held on the Grove City turf. At all stages of the game the Meadville men showed superior form, and were at no time in danger of losing. In fact, so consistently successful were the efforts of the visitors that every first place save one was captured by the gold and blue.

Captain Stewart did exceptionally fine work throughout; especially notable being his ten-flat sprint of the hundred. The other members of the team also worked hard and successfully. The victory was in every respect a creditable one.

The various events resulted as follows:

100-yard dash—Stewart first, G. R. Clark second. Time, 10 seconds.

220-yard dash—Griggs first, Stewart second. Time, 24 1-5.

440-yard dash—Croasmun first, Stidger second. Time, 52 3-5.

One mile—Thomas first. Time, 5:16.

Relay—Stewart, Stidger, Griggs, Croasman. Time, 3:44.

High jump—Thomas first, C. H. Clark second. 5 feet 3.

Broad jump—G. R. Clark first, Stewart third. 20 feet 3.

Hammer—Hines first, Benedict second. 92 feet 4.

Pole vault—Lick first, King second. 8 feet 5¼.

Shot put—C. H. Clark first. 32 feet 1¾.

Discus—Benedict second, Hines third. 188 feet.

Out of the meet Allegheny won 10 firsts, seven seconds and two thirds; Grove City one first, three seconds and eight thirds, making a total of 73 points for Allegheny and 22 for Grove City.

Referee—Lieut. Miller, U. S. A.

Finish judges—Professor Hays, Walter Gleason.

Timers—Gleason and two Grove City men.

Field judges—Professor March, W. Gleason.

Don't Care.

We call the attention of those who have not already read it, to a paragraph of editorial writing which appeared in the last number of the Literary Monthly. The piece was headed "What's the Use."

Personally we were much interested in this somewhat philistinian outburst. We had in fact contemplated writing something along the same general line ourself. We had failed to do so up to the time of the appearance of the article in question, not through any lack of belief in the proposition there set forth, but through lack of nerve, and so we were personally interested in the undeniably pointed statements of this free-lance who wields the editorial quill on the copy-sheets of our contemporary.

For the benefit of those who have yet to read this excellent setting of the case, an approximate statement of its general trend might be here printed. The new Allegheny, says Philistine—or better insinuates Philistine, for he would not be so vulgar as to declare it outright—seems to be threatened with a spirit of "don't-care." The new Allegheny, maintains Philistine, must conquer this spirit, or anon the spirit will conquer it. There are the brief essentials, crudely stated, of Philistine's argument.

We affirm what we have already hinted at, that we believe there is a good deal of truth—more truth than we could wish—in this stand of our fellow-scribbler. Athletics, oratory, debate, missions—all have felt it to their loss. "I don't debate, therefore, I don't care to join the Oratorical Association;" "I don't play tennis, therefore don't expect my support in your tennis tournament"—such sentiments as these are too commonly expressed and too seldom cried down among us. We again urge the general reading of this timely editorial in the "Lit."

RACQUET-WIELDERS ORGANIZE AND PLAN

TOURNAMENT TO BEGIN SOON.

At a meeting held last Wednesday in Dr. Knudson's classroom, the Tennis Association was reorganized and the following officers elected:

President.....J. R. Crawford
Treasurer.....J. L. Weldon
Executive Committee.....
...Messrs. Horne, Colter and Perry

During the past week a membership of about forty has been acquired, and plans for a tournament will be gotten under way immediately. All those desiring to join the association should hand their names to the treasurer, Mr. Weldon, without delay. Only members, of course, may enter the tournament.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Ida Tarbell, '80, it is rumored, has severed her relations with McClure's Magazine, and will pursue her literary work independently.

F. R. Frost, '05, is in the employ of the Southern railway, Pittsburg, Pa. Mr. Frost has for some time been employed in Northern Tennessee.

David V. Hume, '81, is one of the most prominent citizens of Benson City, Minnesota. Mr. Hume has been mayor of the city for a number of years.

Malcolm Dewey, '05, sailed on Wednesday from New York on the steamship Baltic for Berlin, Germany, where he will meet his mother. After spending a month there he will leave for Switzerland, where he will continue the study of French and German. He expects to be absent about nine months.

Juniors Beat Sophomores 8 to 2.

'08 lost to '07 Thursday afternoon in a very interesting game. For five innings the score stood 1 to 1. At that point the Sophomore pitcher gave out and '07 had things easy. Hits were about equally distributed between the two teams but '08 threw away many chances to score by dumb work on the bases. The features were the batting of Aiken and Clark for the Juniors, and Nelson, Knapp and Mason for '08. Mason also played a star game in the field, accepting six chances without a slip. Following is the line up:

Juniors.		Sophomores.
Fish	1b	Brown
B. Miller	2b	Nelson
Horn	3b	Knapp
F. Miller	r	Donnellson
Jones	m	Lick
Aiken	l	Purdy

Chicago, May 19—The University of Michigan athletes walked away with the honors in the dual track meet at Marshall field today with the University of Chicago. The final score was 79½ to 46½. Nine firsts out of the 14 events went to the visitors. Garrels of Michigan took all the individual laurels in sight, winning in both the hurdles and the discus throw.

Lisbon, O., May 19—The Lisbon High School track team won the honors at the third annual Columbiana county high school field meet here today with 39 points to its credit. Wellsville was second with 27 points. The remaining schools participating were Salem, East Liverpool, East Palestine and Salineville. Over 2,000 people were in attendance. The Lisbon team will send nine of its members to the interscholastic at Oberlin next Saturday. Salem will also participate.

EDIFYING DEFEAT OF EDINBOROITES

PREP SWATTERS VICTORIOUS.

The Games Between the Rival Academies Now Stand One Apiece—Rubber to be Played in Meadville.

Again raiding staid old Edinboro in force, and leaving the "burg" ringing with their yells the Prep base ball contingent carried off the laurels—8-7, Saturday afternoon. About twenty-five rooters accompanied the team and demonstrated to the lethargic Edinboroites, college or rather Prep school spirit in its essence. Their loud cheering was a great factor in winning the game. Whatever the Prep. man's failing may be, he can "holler," and with an abandon beautiful to behold.

During the first few innings of the contest the fair "school marms" of the Normal School seemed to disconcert the local men. This element combined with the fact that the Prep team is new and easily disconcerted enabled Edinboro to run six points before our men took a brace and forgot the Siren. From this point the game was intensely exciting. The Prep rooters yelled defiance and were hoarse and happy as the score steadily piled up. With a grand finale the end came 8-7.

The work of King and Braymer, the star Prep. battery, was exceptionally good.

Mr. Breed served as umpire and during the time he was at liberty coached the Prep. nine, and his cool direction was a factor in pulling up those disconcerted.

The whole party express themselves as being delighted with their treatment at Edinboro. King and Braymer starred as usual and the whole team played in splendid form.

The tie will be played out at Athletic Park in the near future. The two scores 4-2, and 8-7, augur a most exciting contest for the deciding game.

BALL PLAYERS AS CHRISTIANS.

Former Allegheny College Coach Tells How One Can Be a Consistent Christian and at the Same Time Be a Professional Ball Player.

"How do religion and professional baseball mix?"

This question asked Wednesday a few minutes before the Cleveland-St. Louis game, brought a smile to the faces of all the players on the St. Louis bench but one, says the Cleveland Press. The man who did not smile was the one to whom the question was put—Catcher Rickey looked bored.

"Why shouldn't they mix well?" he asked. "I try to be both a consistent ball player and a consistent Christian. If I fail, it isn't the fault of the game or the religion, is it?"

"It isn't a thing a fellow likes to talk about," Rickey continued. "My home town is Portsmouth, O., and my people are all Methodists. Sunday to me has always been a day apart. I can't help it. It was bred in me. You might almost call it a prejudice.

"So I won't play Sunday ball. I made them put it in my contract that I would't have to. Instead, I go to church. I'm a member of the St. Louis Y. M. C. A., and, whatever city I'm in, I generally find time to visit the local association.

"You see I'm doing the things I was brought up to believe in. It doesn't necessarily follow that the other fellows have to believe as I do. That's why I'm sorry you put this proposition up to me. I'm not a missionary and the boys on the team would have a right to resent it if I should have the nerve to try to convert them.

"The boys don't need conversion. They're good fellows, they have made me one of them, and I know of no reason why, in such company a man can't play professional ball week days and be a consistent Christian all the week' round."

THE MAY "LIT."

The May number of the "Lit" abounds in good things. It is truly a "Literary Monthly" and may proudly stand by similar publications from larger schools. The general make-up is about the same as usual, but the articles are carefully selected.

Mrs. Alice Crittenden Derby contributes the first story "The Message from Bleaker's." Mrs. Derby graduated from Allegheny in 1892 and has pursued literary work until the present time. It is to be hoped that the "Lit" readers may have more from her pen.

John Milton has a very creditable snatch of song. It abounds in the beauty that usually characterizes his work. Other work in verse by W. L. Stidger, H. Everette Stone, W. R. M. —'09, and "White Horse Pete" are worthy of praise.

J. R. Crawford has a novel and entertaining short story —Margarita. Its originality commends it.

Another interesting article is by Kate C. Illingworth on the peculiarities of the English Language in India. O. H. H. has a pretty sketch entitled "His Distant Yesterday."

The editorial page is timely and smacks of the literary. The sentiment in "What's the use" is something worth keeping in mind and considering carefully.

The various other depratments are conducted with care. The whole Lit is interesting from cover to cover. The new board is to be congratulated.
