PLANS COMPLETE FOR COLLEGE BANQUET TOMORROW EVENING

College Spirit Will be Feature of Washington Birthday Affair

INTERESTING PROGRAM ARRANGED

College spirit and enthusiasm will reach its highest pitch at the Washington's Birthday Banquet to be held in the gymnasium tomorrow evening. This event in the college year marks the climax of the social life for the winter season. This year's preparations point to a greater gala affair than has ever been produced at Allegheny. The various committees working under the general chairman, W. Melville Jones, are making plans to give the students and faculty of the college an evening of amusement that will be full of life and originality, and at the same time be orderly. Never before has the enthusiasm shown itself to be as intense as it has been this year, as demonstrated at the various class meetings held during the last few days. The seating capacity of the gymnasium has always, of recent years, been taxed to the full, but this year it is expected that all the seats will be readily sold, meaning that some will be unable to attend. The committees are preparing for 350 plates.

Returning alumni will this year be seated at a table by themselves. Previously all alumni have been seated at the table with the faculty and prominent speakers. This change has been made because of the interest shown among many of the alumni located in nearby cities.

The program will be short. The speakers are chosen from alumni, faculty and student groups. The nature of the toasts will be attractive and original.

The program, including speeches, orchestral pieces, and songs from various bodies of the students will go to make up a unique program. Professor R. W. Thomas will preside as toastmaster for the occasion, and President Hixson will deliver an address concerning "The New Allegheny." The alumni speaker has not been announced yet, but whoever is chosen to fill this place in the program will speak on a topic of general interest to the students and faculty. Miss Helen Shaffer will speak as a representative of the Senior class. Charles W. Havice and C. H. Wolz will respectively represent the Junior and Sophomore classes. No Freshman speaker will be placed on the program this year. None of the speeches will be of longer duration than five or six minutes, and will all bear on the same general topic.

Music furnished by the Harmonian orchestra and the girls' Glee Club will serve to liven up the evening. At previous banquets there have been songs sung by the student body, but without the extensive aid that will be given at this time. College songs will be sung by the entire assemblage, and the orchestra and girls' Glee Club will give numbers during the course of the program.

The committees have decided that it is inadvisable to allow the classes to march around during the program, as they have done heretofore. For that reason there will be no marching tomorrow night.

The banquet is being served by a caterer from Conneaut Lake Park. This woman has had experience serving all types of dinners for various functions and has always given complete satisfaction. The charge per plate will be one dollar and thirty-five cents, which is as low as the committee in charge felt that it could be placed and still keep the banquet on a paying basis.

Spectators will be allowed to view the banquet from the balcony as in previous years at a nominal charge. Many town people will be glad of this opportunity to view a function so full of the real college spirit; and, as has been the case previously, the balcony will undoubtedly be filled with spectators.

The committee requests that all decorating be completed by four o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The banquet begins at six-thirty.

COLLEGE TO ENTERTAIN FUTURE MISSIONARIES

Allegheny College is to be hostess of a Student Missionary Conference, March 2-4. Nearly two hundred students are expected to attend, representing all the colleges and normal schools of Western Pennsylvania. An interesting program of prominent speakers has been arranged and good times as well will have a place on the program.

Only about fifty Allegheny men and women will attend as delegates, but all are invited to the conference sessions and will share the responsibility of entertaining the guests.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB WILL APPEAR IN HOME CONCERT NEXT WEDNESDAY EVENING

MUSICAL CLUB HAS HAD GREAT SUCCESS IN OTHER ENGAGEMENTS

With a specially prepared program, including many new and novel features in ensemble and solo numbers, the Men's Glee and Musical Club will present its home concert on February 28, in the Ford Memorial Chapel.

Several new songs have been included in the home concert program in order to make the concert appeal to all those who will be present. There are some of a more difficult nature, but these are interspersed by numerous selections of a lighter vein.

Throughout the whole program are many pieces by the orchestra. This organization plays many popular songs correctly and with uncanny talent that correctly and with uncanny talent. An opportunity to hear them should not be passed by lightly.

C. A. Bollinger, in his chalk talk, simply charms his audience from the time he begins to draw till the last sheet is used. He is an artist of rare ability.

Those who attended the Y. M. C. W. reception early in the first semester will remember with pleasure the entertaining monologue given by "Buck" Wolz. He has a whole new set all prepared for the home concert and they are said to be even better than his previous numbers. As a parlor entertainer Buck has a fast growing reputation. An evening well spent is assured to all those who attend the concert on Wednesday evening, February 28th.

UNDERCLASS DEBATE TRIALS ARE ARRANGED

KANSAS COURT PLAN IS AGAIN SUBJECT FOR DEBATE

Much interest was shown at the meeting held in Bentley Hall last Wednesday to arrange for freshman try-outs for the freshman-sophomore debate which will be held on March 15. There were a number of freshmen present at the meeting. It is rumored that a few others who did not attend the meeting expect to try out for this annual event. Dr. S. S. Swartley stated the question for the debate as, "Resolved, that the United States and the several states should establish several courts analogous to the Kansas Court Plan."

KLEE-O-KLEET TO GIVE PLAYS ON MONDAY EVENING

Three One Act Productions Will be Presented by Girl's Dramatic Club

Klee-O-Kleet, the girls' dramatic club, will present three one-act plays on Monday evening, February 26, at eight o'clock in Ford Memorial Chapel. The production of these plays has been made possible through the skillful coaching by Miss Alice Spalding and her capable aid, Miss Fanny Mitchell, and the faithful daily rehearsals of carefully selected casts. "Rehearsal," the first of the club's repertoire, is an extremely clever comedy which, to those who have witnessed the rehearsals of a college dramatic club or of any amateur players, will be reminiscent of many actual humorous occurrences.

The second play, "For Distinguished Service," is a comedy of the social problem type which veers off to near-tragedy before the end of the act. The cast of this play is composed of three freshmen all of whom possess unusual histrionic ability. It is the only one of the three plays in which freshmen only participate.

The Klee-O-Kleet players will carry their audience far from the modern realistic world, as presented in the

LOCAL DEBATERS MEET WESTERN RESERVE MAR. 1

The first varsity debate of the year will be a dual contest with Western question, "Resolved, that the power of question, 'Resolved that the power of the Supreme Court to declare legislation unconstitutional should be restricted.'" The affirmative team from Allegheny will probably travel to Cleveland, while the Blue and Gold negative speakers will meet with the Ohio debaters on the local platform.

On March 9, Allegheny will meet Wooster and W. and J. in a triangular debate. In this contest the negative teams from all three colleges will travel so that the Allegheny negative will debate at Wooster and the local affirmative team will meet the Washington-Jefferson negative team in Meadville. The triangular debate is to be on the same question as the one

JOHN LOMAX TO GIVE RECITAL HERE APRIL

FAMOUS COLLECTOR OF AMERICAN BALLADS TO BE BROUGHT HERE BY QUILL CLUB

Through the efforts of Quill Club, John A. Lomax, Professor of English at the University of Texas, and the holder of the Harvard scholarship for the investigation of American Ballads, will give two very interesting lectures here on April 11.

Professor Lomax has spent many years with the cowboys on the ranches and has obtained all of his material directly from them. He sings several ballads in the same manner as the cowboys, besides telling what each stands for and how he obtained it. He has collected two volumes of these ballads both of which can be found in the library. Mr. Lomax's work is rapidly becoming more valuable, and the late President Roosevelt during his Presidency congratulated him upon it.

Prof. Lomax has also devoted much time to the collection of negro folk songs and ballads. These Negro songs will be rendered in the afternoon at the first recital.

In the evening the cowboy ballads will be given. Both recitals are enhanced by the interesting tales of the life and manners of the cowboys and Negroes.

Among the foremost of the cowboy ballads are, the Song of the Boll Weevil, the Dog's Song, and the ballad of Jessie James.

GROVE CITY DEFEATS BLUE AND GOLD TEAM 25-13

Capacity Audience Watches Exciting Contest Last Night

The college Gym, packed to the point of overflowing, and rocking with the reverberating cheers of the Allegheny and Grove City factions, witnessed the Blue and Gold floor men go down to a stinging defeat administered by their Crimson rivals last night to the tune of 25 to 13. Fighting desperately until the final whistle, the local passers were unable to break through the wonderful defense of the visitors. This important factor combined with brilliant offense displayed by Smith, the victor's fair haired forward, spelled defeat for Baker's proteges in blazing letters.

Grove City jumped into the lead at the outset, as Hartman registered a pair of foul goals, only to fade in the short-lived glimmer of Johnny Brownell's clever counter and five consecutive foul shots. Smith and Fleming immediately retaliated with three clean baskets from mid-floor. Airtight guarding on the part of both teams prevented further scoring from the floor during the remainder of the first period, but Hartman sent Allegheny's hopes a-glimmering when he suddenly regained form and tossed five throws from the free try mark through the elusive hoop. The Crimson quintet displayed their superiority throughout the entire second half, although Wise and Brownell led their team in a gallant last stand. Smith's speed and uncanny accuracy from all angles was disheartening, while Shorts and Fleming proved invincible to our striving forwards. Wise outjumped his taller opponent constantly, only to lose the advantage to the fleetier Crimson guards. Coach Thorne, of the down-staters, judged his time correctly and replaced his tired athletes with less formidable substitutes who allowed Ross to score Allegheny's second and last field goal too late to do any damage to Grove City's lofty position.

Smith was the outstanding star of the game, though Fleming, Brownell, who scored 11 of Allegheny's 13 points, and Wise proved themselves capable and consistent performers for their respective teams.

Summary and line-up of Grove City game:

Grove City—25	Allegheny—13
Forward	Ross
Forward	Smith
Center	Hartman (C)
Guard	Fey
Guard	Fleming
Guard	Shorts (C)

DAY OF PRAYER IS OBSERVED AT CHAPEL

REV. H. H. HOUGH SPEAKS ON VALUE OF PRAYER

An interesting variation in the chapel devotions featured the observation of the Day of Prayer for Colleges at Allegheny last Thursday, when the Rev. H. H. Hough of the Stone Church gave a convincing talk upon the value of prayer. The program was opened with a solo by Dorothy Mussler, sung to organ accompaniment by Miss Sylvia Barnes. Reverend Mr. Hough's theme was, "Notions Concerning Prayer." Calling attention to two prevalent ideas that prayer is a good thing only for old women and sick people, or that prayer is the changing of the mind and laws of God, he stated that, because of these attitudes, many people are led to believe that prayer is worthless and is unnatural to a normal person.

But the modern view of prayer is that it is a normal thing and that to live apart from God is unnatural. One of the best things a man can do in college (or elsewhere), in the opinion of Mr. Hough, is to acquire a right relation with God so that the forces of God flow through him to bless the world. Sincere prayer brings us in touch with higher powers that stir and aid us to do God's work in God's natural way; for history shows that men who have done things have been men of prayer.

But, the speaker urged, we should think as God thinks, see as he sees, and pray for sense to use his natural law, rather than that he shall change them at our request. As a fitting conclusion he recommended the short but eloquent prayer: "Day by day, in every way, make me better and better."

The talk was followed with an earnest prayer at the conclusion of which the students joined in the Lord's Prayer.

ALLEGHENY LOSES TO BONAVENTURE PASSERS

NEW YORK TEAM SENDS LOCAL QUINTET TO DEFEAT BY 40-29 SCORE

In a well attended and exciting contest last Friday evening the St. Bonaventure floor men decisively defeated the Blue and Gold basketball team in the College gym by a score of 40-29. This was the season's first defeat on the home floor. Although the local passers were fighting hard all through the game the clever floor work and accurate passing of the New York boys gave them an unquestionable superiority.

The game opened with some expert passing and fine signal work on the part of Allegheny. The starting whistle had hardly blown until Ross caged a pretty shot after receiving the first tip-off. This score was quickly followed by a counter registered by Brownell. However, Allegheny's luck was of short duration, for Bonaventure's fierce attack, lead by McMillen, their right forward, was soon brought forth in full force and resulted in several sensational shots through the hoop. During this period of the game there was fast team work on both sides which kept the spectators in a state of constant excitement. Bonaventure's attack, however, was nearly impregnable, and the first half ended with the visitors at the better end of 23-13.

During the second half, Allegheny was able to hold its own in a much better fashion, particularly in one flashing comeback when Ross, in rapid succession, made two fine shots through the basket. During this half the dribbling of Manguso, the visitor's wily guard, and the accurate shooting of McMillen featured the playing of the Brown and White. Miller made frequent long-distance attempts to score, but the hard luck jinx seemed to have kept the ball from tumbling through the black iron circle. Toward the end of the game fighting became fast and furious, but Allegheny was unable to overcome the lead which St. Bonaventure had acquired. It came most a par with the visitors during the final period of the game, for Bonaventure scored but one more point during the second half than the Blue and Gold scored.

In point of baskets scored Ross led the game, having made six goals from the field. Bonaventure was a five man team.

Washington's Birthday will be celebrated by Allegheny College students in true holiday fashion by the all-college banquet tomorrow evening. Beginning in 1900 this custom has remained at Allegheny and has been the only event through the year when the students and Faculty have been brought together at a college function. The theme for the banquet tomorrow evening will be "A Bigger and Better Allegheny Spirit." The class rivalry will be present, yet the entire assembly will be bound together by a common bond—that of "Allegheny spirit." It is hoped that the entire student body will be on hand and join in the festivities—and make this year's banquet a real Allegheny function.

With February 22nd comes the close of the Freshman period of instruction in the College traditions, and the Freshman Rules for 1922-23 will cease to exist. From the opening of school, in the fall of 1922, the first year men and co-eds have lived through a period of probation. During this time the peaceful life of the Freshman has been continually haunted by threats and hostile acts on the part of the Sophomore class. After tomorrow the first year student will be permitted to appear on the campus in civilian attire and fully initiated into the traditions of Allegheny.

The cheering at the St. Bonaventure game last Friday night was exceedingly gratifying in view of the poor support accorded by the students in several contests.

It is extremely easy and requires no effort on the part of any individual to root for a team that is leading, but let that team trail its opponents for any length of time and there is a natural tendency to settle back and let the members of the team fight for their own salvation. This feature has characterized our cheering in the past and not until Friday night was such a complete reversal of form noticeable.

With the visitors leading by a large margin, the stands gave vent to their feelings and "yelled themselves hoarse" as the cheer-leaders called for support. That this psychology was transferred to the Blue and Gold defenders is evidenced by the way in which they came back in the second half.

This week is perhaps the most crucial one of the indoor season, with Grove City and Tech on the schedule. We are entering both these contests as the "underdogs." So let's show some of that fight and back that team. It is this unflinching support that counts in the long run.

YALE AND THE LATIN QUESTION

Yale University authorities are considering the omission of Latin as a requirement for B. A. degree. Some will plead for the keeping of Latin as the only sound basis for learning good English. Others argue that the proper teaching of English itself will do all in this respect that Latin can do. Some will plead for the retention of the language in the schools as a mental challenge, like mathematics. Finally, others will challenge it as a compulsory study because of the very fact that it is compulsory. In other words, while men agree pretty well that past educational ways are imperfect; with all our new ways, with all our gigantic systems, our special studies, and our wise pronouncements, we still admit the teaching of mankind to be an experimental activity.

ALLEGHENY FLOORMEN FACE SUPREME TEST

TECH AND GROVE CITY FEATURE THE WEEK'S SCHEDULE

February 24th and 27th are the dates that schedule two of the hardest contests that Allegheny will be called upon to participate in. On the 24th Carnegie Tech is met on the home floor and the 27th finds the team going to Grove City for a return game.

The contest with the Pittsburgh aggregation promises to be a thrilling affair, even though Tech seems to hold the Blue and Gold in contempt for the defeat administered them in Pittsburgh. Tech meets West Virginia (Wednesday and Grove City Friday, while the home squad will have almost a week of rest. This should be of great advantage to Allegheny and materially increase her chances for victory. The fact that Allegheny lost to Tech at the end of a three-day trip can not be taken as a criterion of the two teams' respective basketball ability. The defeat of Grove City has a wonderful rejuvenating effect on the Tartan squad. Anderson and Gibson, two of last year's men, are playing a great floor game. Donohue is the third of the trio of Tech's stars. He is only a freshman and is already the most sensational man on the team. The performance of these men will be watched with interest by the Meadville fans next Saturday.

The second game with Grove City may even be harder than the meeting with Tech. Our traditional rivals will be on their own floor, where they are even more formidable opponents than they are on the road. After a whirlwind start at the beginning of the season the Grovers lost several games, but they are now due to come out of the slump.

The defeat of these teams—Grove City, the vanquisher of Pitt and Tech, the conqueror of Grove City—will put Coach Baker's team in the limelight. All the members of the team are in fine shape physically, and a double victory is as certain as a double defeat.

KALDRON PICTURE IS REPRESENTED IN AMERICAN PHOTOGRAPHY

In the February number of "American Photography" a favorable criticism is made on the picture. "In the Gloaming," taken by John C. Bird, I-A courses, '22. This photograph was made for the pictorial section of last year's Kaldron and portrays a scene on French Creek. The American Photography says, "It is not very often that we see a picture that is so unusual and so interesting in treatment as Mr. Bird's, 'In the Gloaming.' The placing of the white roof in the picture shows that he has a highly developed sense of the pictorial in composition."

ADDITIONAL PERSONALS

Sara Coulter, '22, has been the guest of Alpha Gamma Delta during the past week.

Walter W. Bingham, '22, visited Phi Alpha Kappa last Saturday.

ALUMNI BULLETIN IS DEVOTED TO ATHLETICS

THE LATE BISHOP THOBURN'S WORK REVIEWED

Featuring the athletic activities of Allegheny, a very interesting number of the Alumni Bulletin appears this week. A complete resume of the football season is given together with articles on the coaches and individual members of the team. The basketball, track, and other teams are also given particular attention. Special mention is made of the inter-class and inter-fraternity contests which are playing an important part in Allegheny's new in foreign countries.

Among other features, the Bulletin contains a very interesting article on Bishop Thoburn and a list of graduates who are serving as missionaries in foreign countries.

Various alumni associations are represented in the publication, and personal items of many of the graduates are noted. This Bulletin is edited by Miss Edith Rowley, librarian of the college.

Chase Gage who will lead the Glee and Musical Club in their home concert on February 28, in Ford Memorial Chapel.

DR. CHURCH HAS PUBLISHED A NEW BOOK

Dr. H. W. Church has edited a new book by Bordeaux, "Le Nouvelle Croisade des Enfants." It has been published by Allyn and Bacon and will be used at Allegheny in the French I and I-A courses.

This book was written by Bordeaux for his own children, but it is not in any sense a juvenile book. It is to be used essentially as an elementary text book suitable for first year work, and contains several new and original sections devoted to the study of the verbs used in the story and complete exercises involving the vocabulary of the book. The book is filled with many beautiful illustrations of the actual districts of France and Italy in which the story takes place.

The first book of Bordeaux to be edited by Dr. Church, "Le Peur de Vivre," published by Henry Holt and Company, received instantaneous approval through the country and was adopted by more than twenty colleges in less than two months after its publication.

Among the more important institutions using the edition are the University of Pennsylvania, Vanderbilt University, the University of Nebraska, the University of Georgia, Ohio Wesleyan College, and Goucher College.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained Virginia Grenelle, Mildred Stoner, Mary Gealey, Elenore Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thomas at dinner Sunday, February 18th.

CLUB ACTIVITIESQUILL CLUB

Presenting a realistic Wild West program, Quill Club held one of its most successful meetings of the year at the Phi Gamma Delta house last Tuesday evening, February 13. Such a subject was featured to create enthusiasm and atmosphere for the appearance of Lomax in April.

Dr. Schultz began the program with a general talk on the West. After this introduction, William Dale read a paper on the "Great West" which was filled with thrilling reminders of barroom brawls and cattle round-ups. This was followed by an informal talk by Frank Jolly telling of his own personal observations of life in Texas. Dorothy Leeper then read a selection from Mark Twain's "Roughing It." William Risher followed by reading a paper on the life and habits of the American cowboy. As a means of furnishing a background for the literature of the West, Helen Robinson presented a paper on Cowboy Ballads. Charles Wolz, accompanying himself on the piano sang some of the better known ballads of the West. The remainder of the evening was given over to general sociability and a luncheon a la Western of weiners, buns, pickles and coffee.

This long established club, rich in tradition and history, enjoys particularly active faculty interest. No less than five faculty members were present at the last meeting, including Professors Schultz, Swartley, Thomas and Goodfellow and Miss Rowley.

THOBURN CLUB

"The Negro Problem of the North and South" was the subject which the Rev. Mr. Taylor, pastor of the African Methodist church, Meadville, discussed before the Thoburn Club on Thursday evening. Mr. Taylor declared that because of the general ignorance among the Southern Negroes and the lack of encouragement which they received from the white people, the great Negro race in the South was in reality not free. The conditions existing on many Southern plantations and the inhuman treatment accorded to the negroes were cited by the speaker. Mr. Taylor feels that the existing conditions constitute a grave menace to our national well-being and called attention to the fact that the only permanent solution of the problem is education, religious training, and an awakened morality.

THE PHILOSOPHY AND EDUCATION CLUB

The February meeting of the Philosophy and Education Club was held at the residence of Dr. F. G. Henke. The constitution prepared by the constitution committee, of which Gerald Prather is the chairman, was read and adopted section for section.

Two permanent committees were appointed, a social committee with Mr. Prather chairman, and a programme committee with J. L. Ross as chairman.

The following officers were elected: Julian Ross, vice president, and Helen Boyd, treasurer.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Henke.

Their guarding and quick floor work was also a decided feature of their wholly capable plan of floor attack. Although the game was not exceptionally rough there were several St. Bonaventure men hurt, and Brownell suffered a leg injury which cut down his speed a considerable degree. SPORT COMMENT

Geneva College has announced a strictly Class B football schedule for next fall, Pitt, Tech, and W. & J. being dropped. Allegheny will be met at Meadville on Nov. 11. Among the other teams to be opposed are Westminster, Grove City, Waynesburg, Thiel, Juniata, Bethany, Ashland, and Duquesne. With the advent of the new athletic program at the institution and the appointment of Tom Davies, the former Pitt star, as coach, prospects are bright for real opposition from the Covenanters this year.

LOMAX RECITAL

to be discussed with Western Reserve.
After a brief respite following the two debates on the Supreme Court question, the Blue and Gold team will start for a debate with Dickinson College some time in April on the question, "Resolved that the United States and the several states should establish several courts analogous in principle to the Kansas industrial court." The team for the last month has been devoting much time to the preparation of the question to be debated, inasmuch as the legal nature of the discussion makes considerable study necessary for intelligent speeches on the subject. The men representing Allegheny in the first two debates are for the affirmative, Messrs. Bozic, Leeper, and Ross, and for the negative, Messrs. Demmler, Hammett, and Larson. The alternate for the affirmative is C. L. Sutton and for the negative, M. V. Wright. No team has been chosen for the debate with Dickinson, but a debate on which trials for this are to be held will be announced in the near future.
