

Aug. 18, 1927

Miss Mary Dillon
Brooklyn Borough Gas Company
Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dear Miss Dillon:

I hope you have not forgotten my visit to the Brooklyn Borough Gas Company's office back in May. I wrote you then that I wanted to have another talk with you. I have been away a good deal and things have been so crowded that I have not had a chance to ask for it nor am I doing so now, though I shall one of these days.

What I do want to ask of you now is that you will look over the paragraphs that I have written about you in an article that the Editor of McCall's Magazine has asked me to write on "Women Bosses." In the earlier pages I have talked of women whom I have known as forewomen in industrial plants and of what women are doing in independent businesses, particularly in clothing and food. This will show you where you come in.

I shall be grateful if you will look the pages over - make any suggestions or criticisms that occur to you, and particularly tell me if anything I have said is in any way disagreeable to you. I shall have to ask you to return the pages as I have no other copy.

Looking forward to the day when I will have another visit with you, believe me, my dear Miss Dillon,

Sincerely yours