

COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

WASHINGTON

WOMAN'S COMMITTEE

1814 N Street.

December 17, 1917.

Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
132 East 19th Street,
New York.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

It is such a pleasure to have your letter, and to know that you are back again in New York. I feel as if you are that much nearer to 1814 N Street.

With regard to the suggestion about Mrs. O'Hara, I will be glad to take it up as soon as I can communicate with any members of the Committee.

I have just returned from the visit to Indianapolis, where I arrived nearly seven hours late, but just in time to appear at the meeting of the State Division. I am at present alone in the office, as Miss Patterson is out on business, and, therefore, have no one with whom to discuss this question.

This applies, also, to the matter of the service bulletin, which I am very anxious to see, particularly as I have just had a little talk on that subject with Mrs. Martin, of our Educational Department. I will write you more fully on these points when I have the proper information at hand.

Hoping to see you before very long, I am,

Very affectionately yours,

Clairinda O. Lamar
