Ida M. Tarbell,

Dear Miss Tarbell,

Several years ago, if you remember, during a visit to Atlantic City, you did my father the honor of visiting his "Antique Shop" at 311 Boardwalk. If ever, I doubt very much whether you remember me, his son, and therefore I have been very hesitant about writing this letter.

Yet, there is no harm in trying.

It so happens that I have become the editor-in-chief of our school magazine, the Atlantic City High School Herald. The first issue will probably be published sometime in October, and in it I would like the name of at least one great author or authoress. For that reason, I would appreciate greatly any few words you would care to write for, or say to, the Atlantic City High School students and other readers of the Herald.

Whether or not you may condescend to honor our school with your writing, I shall ever remain

Your friend and admirer,

Albert Myerson
