First Defeat of Season at Hands of Tech

Gold and Blue, Handicapped by Injuries, Lose to Plaid by 40-7 Score

Allegheny's hopes for a record-breaking season went "aglimmering" last Saturday when the team was outclassed by Carnegie Tech and defeated, 40-7. Minus the services of Fullback Munhall, '16, crippled by injuries received in practice and in the Akron game, and with an inexperienced line, the eleven was no match for its heavier opponent, and was overwhelmed by the worst defeat suffered by a foot ball team at Allegheny since the 35-0 reverse by Cornell in 1911. Previous to the game nine out of every ten students were ready to predict a victory for Captain Pierson's team, and the news of the result fell like a thunderbolt on the school.

Although it is admitted that Allegheny was outplayed, all witnesses of the contest affirm that the disparity between the two elevens was not as great as the score would indicate. The teams fought on practically even ground for the first quarter, and Tech was able to cross the Gold and Blue goal-line but twice during the half. A wonderful series of forward passes carried the ball down the field for Allegheny in the third period after Tech had annexed seven more points, and Cox, '16, pushed over for a touchdown, Bash kicking goal. Injuries now began to tell on Allegheny, and frequent substitutions were made in the last quarter. The Skibos hammered at the weakened defense and tallied three more times.

There is no disgrace attendant in losing to Carnegie Tech this year. The Plaid is represented by a team of very unusual strength and promise, and a great season is predicted for it. Had Allegheny been able to present her full strength throughout, it is certain that the total of points would not have been as high, but none of the eye-witnesses claim that we have the material to win over the Pittsburgh school. Tech was far the heavier, the estimates ranging from fifteen to twenty pounds per man in excess to the Allegheny athletes. Their line play was faultless, while Allegheny's forwards were unable to hold against the terrific bucks of the Carnegie backs or to make holes on the offense. In addition, the backfield did not work in customary form. Several members of the Tech team saw the Akron game a week ago and were familiar with all of the plays which their opponents had to offer. Arnold, '15, was feared, and the secondary defense of the Techites shifted to the left every time he carried the ball, thus preventing the great broken-field runner from getting a start. Bash, '16, and Cox, '16, were equally unable to gain. Allegheny's most consistent ground-gainer was Askey, '17, who was occupying the fullback position owing to the sickness of Munhall, '16. He hit the line effectively throughout, and although not as dependable as Munhall on the defense, is deserving of all honor for his work. Captain Pierson, '16, was the defensive star for Allegheny, making numerous tackles at opportune moments. Scannell, '18, who was at left end in the second and fourth quarters, also did some good work.

Allegheny's strength lay in the forward pass, and twenty successful ones were thrown by Cox, '16, during the fray, most of them coming in the last half. Tech depended principally upon straight foot ball, making great gains by hitting the line.

The game was a cleanly-played affair, in this respect far different from the contest at Akron, and although a large number of Allegheny's players were forced to leave the game, the greater number were troubled with old injuries.

The game in detail:

First quarter. Kutz kicked off to Arnold, who returned 20 yards to the 27-yard line. Arnold gained 4 yards through the line, and a penalty for offside advanced the ball to the 36-yard line. Bash and Cox were unable to gain, and Kramer punted to Tech's 28-yard mark. Findlay gained 10 yards, and Kesner recovered a fumble and added 2 more. Kesner gained a yard, and Pierson threw Findlay for a loss of 5 yards. Kesner punted to Allegheny's 30-yard line. Askey gained 7 yards and Arnold 4 through the line. A forward pass was intercepted by Findlay on Tech's 48-yard mark, and he carried it to Allegheny's 25. Hitting the line, Findlay gained 5, and Altdorffer 4 and 2. Kesner lost 3, and then recovered a fumble on the 15-yard line. A forward pass to Levy gained 7 yards. Altdorffer carried the ball four times and scored Tech's first touchdown. Kesner kicked goal. Score: Allegheny, 0; Tech, 7.

Second quarter. After the kick-off, Kramer punted to Kesner on Tech's 33 and he returned 15 yards. Findlay, Altdorffer and Kesner made first down, and Arnold recovered Findlay's fumble on the 40-yard line. Bash gained a yard and Askey 4, and Cox punted to Marshall who returned to Tech's 40. Marshall, Altdorffer and Kesner totalled 7 yards, but Tech was penalized 15 yards for holding. Altdorffer kicked out of bounds on Allegheny's 23-yard line. Carmont gained 6 yards, but Allegheny was penalized 15. Bash's fumble lost 4 yards, and after Arnold failed to gain, the ball was kicked out of bounds on Allegheny's 38. Kesner lost 2, but Altdorffer and Findlay made first down on three plays through the line. Kesner got away and ran to the 12-yard line where Pierson caught him. Marshall gained 4, Altdorffer failed, and a pass went over the goal-line. Taking the ball on the 20-yard line, Askey, Arnold, and Bash gained 21 yards in 5 plays, but a penalty took the ball back to the 25. Taking the ball on the 44-yard line on the first play after a punt, Findlay ran for a touchdown. Kesner kicked goal. Score 14-0. Bash received the kick-off and advanced to the 34, and a penalty moved the ball up to the 46. Two short passes, a yard by Arnold, a 5-yard penalty and a long pass to Carmont brought the ball to the 10-yard line. Kesner intercepted a pass. Scannell replaced Carmont at left end. Kesner made first down on 3 plays, and the half ended with the ball on the 20-yard line. Score: Tech, 14; Allegheny, 0.

Third quarter. Allegheny lost the ball on downs on Tech's 32 soon after the beginning of the half. Eight yards by Kesner, a 15-yard penalty, and a 12-yard buck by Findlay scored a touchdown. Kesner kicked goal.

Anniversary of President's Inauguration

INTERESTING ACCOUNT FROM OLD PAPERS OF THE CEREMONIES.

Yesterday was the 22nd anniversary of President Crawford's inauguration as President of Allegheny College. The twenty-two years of Dr. Crawford's administration have been years of increasing strength and prosperity for the college, years of splendid achievement which have brought to him many well-merited honors and a high place among the great educators of America. The Campus unites with the college in congratulating President Crawford upon this occasion and in expressing the deepest appreciation of the great work which he has done for Allegheny.

The inauguration of Dr| Crawford took place on October 18, 1893, in the 88th year after the founding of Allegheny. The event attracted widespread attention in educational circles and throughout all of this section of the country the popular interest was focussed upon the college.

The ceremonies began with a great parade from Bentley Hall down Park Avenue to Chestnut and thence to the Stone Church. Under a bright, sunny sky, a long, gaily apparelled procession was formed. At the head of the line were carriages, a mass of gold and blue, carrying Dr. Crawford, the trustees, the faculty and famous guests. Following these marched a body of students. The Greek letter fraternities were in line, each unit a blaze of color. Great banners of the college and fraternities were borne aloft while gay streamers of the same colors flashed in the sunlight.

At the church the procession was met by the Allegheny College Cadet Corps, which stacked arms just outside the doors. Within, the church was already nearly filled with people.

The late Dr. T. L. Flood, then Vice-President of the Board of Trustees, presided. At the opening of the meeting he read a great number of telegrams from college presidents, the governor of the state, and many other prominent men. Each message of congratulation was received with loud bursts of applause.

Dr. C. W. Smith spoke as the representative of the Pittsburgh Conference of the M. E. Church, and Dr. J. R. Mills, '62, brought the best wishes of the East Ohio Conference. Addresses were also made by Dr. J. M. Buckley, a noted religious journalist of New York City, and by Bishop Vincent, the chancellor of Chautauqua University. Judge J. J. Henderson, '62, representing the Board of Trustees, handed over to Dr. Crawford the college charter and the keys of the buildings, and then administered the oath of office. President Crawford then delivered his inaugural address.

In the evening a formal reception at the First M. E. Church completed the ceremonies of the day. The chapel of the church was decorated in college and fraternity colors. A notable gathering of alumni, faculty and distinguished guests were present, while the uniforms of the cadets gave an added touch of color. Great streamers of gold and blue hung overhead.

TO COLLEGE STUDENTS.

The First Presbyterian Church of Meadville extends you a cordial invitation to a reception to be held in the new Sunday School room Tuesday evening, October 19.

A representative of the Presbyterian Sunday School called at the registrar's office a few days ago to get the names of the Presbyterian students of the college. It was found that eighty students, or one-fifth of the total enrollment, are Presbyterians.

Recent Gift of Books to Library

HON. F. C. HOWE, '89, PRESENTS VOLUMES ON VARIOUS TOPICS.

During the past week the college received for the library one of the most valuable gifts of books of recent years. The Hon. Frederic C. Howe, '89, U. S. Commissioner of Immigration, gave to the college two hundred and seventy-eight volumes.

The books are mostly of recent issue, the greater number dealing with sociological and economic subjects. There are also a number of works on religion, literature and history. There are, in particular, a number of very valuable volumes dealing with the subjects of child labor and the employment of women.

The gift materially strengthens the reading facilities of the department of History, Economics and Political Science. The library already contains a good list of reference books for this department, and Mr. Howe's gift makes the collection much more nearly complete.

Owing to the large number of the volumes received, it has not been thought wise to attempt to publish all of the titles. We are noting, however, a few of the titles of typical books from the collection, which will give an idea of the scope of subjects.

The titles of a few of the books on economic subjects are as follows:

Taxation in the American States, Money and Banking, History of Socialism in the United States, The Evolution of Modern Capitalism, Bullock's Readings in Finance, Municipal Monopolies, complete report of the recent Factory Investigation Commission, Public Ownership and the Telephone in Great Britain, State and Local Taxation, Municipal and National Trading, The New Industrial Day, Socialism and Social Reform.

Among the many valuable works on sociological subjects are found the following typical titles: Criminal Sociology, American Charities, Pauperism and the Endowment of Old Age, Social Harmonism, Care of the Children, Rich and Poor, Women and Labor, The Century of the Child, The American Child, The Children of the Poor, The Peril and Preservation of the Home, Social Wrongs and State Responsibility, Out of Work, Social Service.

There are also a number of volumes on politics and government, of which we may mention a few:

The Referendum in America, Politics and Administration, Constructive Democracy, The Principles of Local Government, Municipal Problems, Ethics of Democracy.

Mr. Howe became Commissioner of Immigration in the fall of 1914. As the position carries with it a great amount of prestige, the Tammany faction in New York City fought hard to get it, and was bitterly disappointed when Mr. Howe received the nomination and later the confirmation of the Senate. Mr. Howe was President Wilson's personal choice for the position.

After completing his course at Allegheny in '89, he took extended graduate work at Johns Hopkins University, gaining the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from that institution in 1892. After two years of study in Germany and in New York City, he opened a law office in Cleveland, where he engaged in active practice from 1894 to 1908. During this time he served on the Cleveland Council and in the Ohio State Senate and lectured on law at the Cleveland College of Law, and on taxation at Western Reserve University. He also lectured on municipal administration at the University of Wisconsin.

In 1909 he went to New York to accept the position of Director of the People's institute. He was engaged in this work when appointed to his present position.

New Trustee Nominated Last Week

THE PITTSBURGH CONFERENCE CHOOSES PAUL STURTEVANT, '99, AS REPRESENTATIVE.

During the past week, the students, faculty and alumni were delighted to hear that the Pittsburgh Conference had nominated as one of its representatives on the Board of Trustees Mr. Paul Sturtevant, '99, of Pittsburgh. The selection of Mr. Sturtevant is a very popular one indeed, as it assures the college of the presence of another loyal and efficient member on the controlling board.

Mr. Sturtevant, who is with the Harris, Forbes Company, a bond company of New York City, is an active worker in Methodist Church circles in Pittsburgh. He came into prominence in college affairs through his connection with the great Centennial Pageant last June. He was the general chairman of the alumni committee which had complete charge of the advertising and staging of the big historical spectacle. To his efficiency and self-sacrifice is due much of the credit for the pageant arrangements.

During his college days, Mr. Sturtevant took a prominent part in student affairs, and since his graduation has preserved the same interest in all that pertains to Allegheny. The Pittsburgh Conference is to be congratulated upon the selection of such a capable representative.

The nomination of Mr. Sturtevant was made under a system adopted about three years ago for the selection of trustees. The Pittsburgh and Erie Conferences are each entitled to nominate eight of the representatives of the board. The alumni nominate eight more, making a total of twenty-four out of forty-seven members nominated in this manner. The nominations by the Conferences practically amount to elections, as the trustees almost invariably confirm the men who are designated. Mr. Sturtevant was elected to fill a vacancy which has remained unfilled for some time. He will undoubtedly be elected at the semi-annual meeting of the trustees in Pittsburgh next January.

On Saturday afternoon the annual track meet between the Freshmen and Sophomore girls was held in the girls' gymnasium. The result was a victory for the Sophomores with a score of seven to three. The events were very interesting and both classes entered into them with a great deal of spirit. There were five athletic events on the program: the relay race, which was won by the Freshmen; the thirty-yard dash, won by the Freshmen; the obstacle race, won by the Sophomores; the sack race, won by the Freshmen, and the tug-of-war, won by the Sophomores. Then as a final event, each class was obliged to present an original stunt. The Freshmen gave theirs first and showed a great deal of originality in their choice. It was an imitation of Captain Kidd. The Freshman pirates captured the Sophomore captives, threw them over a "cliff" and then sang a dirge to them. The Sophomore stunt was a Negro wedding and although the idea may not have been quite so original, the details were worked out very carefully and accurately. On Saturday evening, in the dining room, Miss Marguerite Beatty, '16, president of the Girls' Athletic Association, presented a banner to the captain of the winning team, Miss Louise Deens, '18.

EDITORIAL.

A New Song.

Last week's request for a new foot ball song was answered promptly by the alumni body in the rousing song by E. J. Hall, '13, printed elsewhere in this issue. It is a splendid thing to know that the interest of the alumni body is behind the efforts of the "active" Alleghenians. But the field is still broad enough for other contributions. What is the matter with some of the students trying their hand at an Allegheny song? It is a very simple matter to write a song, in last analysis. You know just what time most inspires you to loyalty for Allegheny, and just what "swing" is best adapted for marching and singing on the field. Put your loyalty into words, fit them to a tune, and let us have it.

Campus Competition.

The Campus has started on what promises to be a successful year. One of the chief features that promised success was the large and able representation that started in the competition of the year. What has been done in competition is good and no complaint can be found with any one person. But a number have not yet started and others have not yet gotten their pace in the work.

A new plan is to be tried this year. Heretofore, one place among the reporters was left vacant in the spring to be filled by Freshman competition the following February, with the idea of adding an incentive to competition among the first year competitors. This year, the vacancy is left among the associate editors and none among the reporters. This means that some one of the members now on the staff may be advanced to the associate editor rank in February and his place with the reporters filled from the new class or others competing. This gives an incentive to both new and old competitors and is one of the best opportunities possible for getting a place on the staff for next year.

The college activities of the fall season are always the best for Campus reporters, and none should be embarrassed by not finding enough to write about. Keep on the watch for things of interest to Alleghenians, and write them up for the benefit of those who see them here, or who want to hear about them wherever they may be.

Support College Publications.

One of the most fruitful topics in point of opportunities for good advice and high flown language that a college editor can find on which to base his editorial is the student support of college publications. And yet invariably the publications need every word that can be said for them. It is rather discouraging to look back over the files of The Campus and see the editorials in the distinctive styles of the various past editors, all directed in support of a thing that needs just as much plea for support this year.

It is not the easiest thing in the college world to keep a representative publication before the student body and the alumni body as well. But the first thing of absolute necessity is the financial side. When the business end of the proposition is assured, by the co-operation of the student body as a whole, then the rest of the publication can safely be left to a few.

Remember then, that if our publications are to be a success in their advertisement of Allegheny, they must be supported by Allegheny herself. The Campus has already started the year. The Literary Monthly will appear for the first time in the near future. Kaldron slips are already on sale in charge of a number of the members of the student body. Every one of the three fills its distinctive place in Allegheny life, and all need your support.

FORUM MEETING AND DEBATE SCHEDULE.

"Resolved: That the Monroe Doctrine should be repealed," was the subject debated in the Forum on Thursday. Isherwood, '18, and Howell, '19, put up some strong arguments for a change in our national policy, but the members of Forum decided that Armstrong, '16, and A. E. Hart, '19, had won the day in behalf of the Doctrine.

The amendment that the presiding officers should be elected for a term of two weeks instead of one month was passed, and officers were accordingly elected for the next two weeks. Armstrong, '16, was chosen for Speaker, and Longanecker, '17, for Speaker pro tem.

Professor Swartley announced the subjects for debate for a month. The subjects are:

Oct. 21. Resolved, that in Pennsylvania women should be allowed to vote on equal terms with men. Affirmative, Yost, R. L. Hart; negative, Klingensmith, Hutcheon.

Oct. 28. Resolved, that the United States should own and operate the coal mines of the country. Affirmative, H. Drake, Conrath; negative, Kendall, Latshaw.

Nov. 4. Resolved, that Warden Osborne's reforms in Sing Sing are to be commended. Affirmative, J. Castle, Flick; negative, Longanecker, Stetson.

Nov. 11. Resolved, that beginning with this present year, intercollegiate base ball should be abandoned at Allegheny College. Affirmative, Witter, Kahle; negative, Ellis, Zuver.

Nov. 18. Resolved, that the United States should establish a government-owned merchant marine. Affirmative, Gealy, Barr; negative, Regester, Brownell.

MODERN PROBLEMS CLUB MEETS.

The Modern Problems Club held its first meeting a week ago last Tuesday evening in the Library. Elaborate plans have been made for the year's work under the general topic of national defense, and this meeting was the first of a number planned to bring out the valuable points of the subject in its various phases. The speaker of the evening was Professor Stemple of the History Department, who spoke about national defense as seen by Oxford students. Professor Stemple spent last year at Oxford and had ample opportunity to see the question from the standpoint of the students of England.

It is hoped that the next talk will be by a man of experience in military circles who has seen this question from the standpoint of United States' relation with Mexico. The Mexican side of national defense in America will be particularly practical and timely and should prove to be one of the most valuable of the meetings on the program.

H. D. Perkham, '17, was made chairman of the program committee and presided over the latter part of the meeting in place of the president, W. A. Ellis, '16. R. A. Blasdell, '16, was appointed chairman of the membership committee and reported the nomination of G. S. Craig, '17, and C. E. McKinney, '17, to fill two vacancies in the membership of the club. Both nominees were elected.

FRESHMAN RULES APPEAR

COLLEGE COUNCIL ANNOUNCES RULES FOR MEMBERS OF NEW CLASS.

The long-delayed Freshman Rules have at last appeared, the deliberations of College Council having required even a longer time than usual. The committee which formulated them was J. L. Wise, '16; C. H. Stevenson, '16, and R. L. Rhoades, '16. The Sophomores, who have been eagerly awaiting this official confirmation of their demands, will now proceed to enforce the rules to the letter. The rules are as follows:

I. All Freshmen must wear green caps from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m., Sundays excepted.

II. Freshmen must use only sidewalks on the campus.

III. Freshmen must not loiter about the chapel or any of the college buildings, but must enter and take their seats at once.

IV. Freshmen must not hold any class functions or display their class colors before the Washington Birthday banquet.

V. Freshman men must not accompany co-eds on the campus.

VI. Freshman men must wear black sox and black sox only.

IX. Freshmen must ring the college bell at the end of every athletic victory.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

The regular Wednesday evening Y. M. C. A. meeting was held in Cochran Hall last Wednesday at 6:45. An interesting talk was given by Dr. Kelley of the First Methodist Church on "Paul's Philosophy of Life" as applied to the present day. He brought out the point that happiness is a practical guide to personal fitness and that fitness is the prime requisite to achievement. Fitness is three-fold, namely, physical, mental and moral. Moral unfitness is always registered in a man's life and work. We cannot be bad scholars and good scholars. We must be one or the other. If we are morally unfit we cannot reach a high mark as scholars. If we are morally fit we are mentally fit. Everybody realizes the importance of being mentally fit. Physical fitness is something on which both mind and morals depend. If we feel fit physically at all times, we feel fit both mentally and morally. If we are fit mentally, morally and physically we are happy, which is the supreme thing in life. As Dr. Kelley concluded, we must guard ourselves and keep in adjustment. If we keep adjusted, we get along better with ourselves and with the outside world.

The election of treasurer was held at this meeting. C. C. Curtis, '17, had been nominated at the previous meeting. Further nominations were called for and none being made, the nomination was closed and Curtis was declared elected.

QUILL CLUB MEETING.

Fifteen new members were added to the roll of Quill Club at the regular meeting held in the Library last Tuesday evening. Seven of these were ex-officio members, while in addition three, W. A. Ellis, '16; E. F. Ling, '16, and J. L. Wise, '16, were promoted from the rank of ex-officio to elected members.

J. C. Weaver, '17, presided, and the entire time was given over to Miss Ruth Miller, of Meadville, an associate member of the club, who read a paper on "The Silent Drama." She divided her subject into three "reels", "Then", "Thereafter", and "Hereafter". She first related in an entertaining manner the adventures of one of the greatest motion picture producers in his childhood attempts to build a "panoramer". In the second part, the entire field of moving pictures, from writing to producing and exhibiting, was outlined. Miss Miller, who is well-known as a writer of photoplays, described two of her most successful scenarios. In the last di-

Accident to Rooter at Tech Game

"CASEY" CATHERMAN, '17, INJURED BY FALL FROM BLEACHERS.

During the heat of the excitement of the Tech game last Saturday, Raymond F. Catherman, '17, of Meadville, fell from the top of the bleachers at the Tech Field, a distance of 25 feet, upon a pile of bricks, sustaining severe injuries. One of his legs was fractured at the thigh and he is said to have suffered severe internal injuries.

At the time of the accident, Catherman was standing beside Frank O. Amon, '12. Amon was able to regain his balance when the defective railing, against which both were leaning, broke. Catherman was hurried to a hospital immediately. Word from the hospital Sunday evening stated that the skull was not fractured, as was feared, and that there were no internal injuries. An X-ray picture was taken of the head yesterday. On Sunday the hospital authorities believed that he would recover rapidly.

The accident was a very unfortunate one, particularly as it will be a severe handicap in his college work. His many friends, in his own class and in the entire college, regret deeply that it should have occurred, and trust that he will have a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Catherman were in Pittsburgh at the time of the accident, and were attending the game, although they were not with their son in the grandstand. Raymond had joined his parents just before the game, and had planned to drive back to Meadville in his father's car.

FIRST DEFEAT OF SEASON.

Cox received the kick-off on the 10-yard line. Bash and Askey gained 5 yards, and a forward pass to Carmont brought the ball to Tech's 18-yard line. Two forward passes were incomplete, but another gained 12 yards. Cox caught a blocked pass and ran to the 1-yard line. Arnold and Cox could not gain, but Cox pushed over on the last down. Bash kicked goal. At the end of the period Allegheny had the ball on her own 15-yard line. Score: Tech, 21; Allegheny, 7.

Fourth quarter. Six forward passes were executed in succession, but Tech took the ball on downs. After 4 line bucks, Marshall scored and Kesner kicked goal. Allegheny received the kick-off, gained by passing but had to punt. Cox recovered a fumble but a pass was intercepted. Tech pushed down the field and scored on a pass to Lauer. Kesner missed goal. Tech again worked down the field, and Marshall crossed the line. Kesner kicked goal. Score: Tech, 40; Allegheny, 7.

Hulings Hall

The Group Bible Study classes held their first meetings Wednesday evening. There was a good attendance in all the classes. The girls have started in the work this year with much enthusiasm.

The active members of Alpha Chi Omega entertained their alumnae residing in town at a tea, Thursday afternoon, in their fraternity rooms.

The Social Service Committee of the Y. W. C. A. and a great many of the girls visited the Old Ladies' Home, Thursday evening. A program was rendered consisting of the following numbers: A quartet composed of Miss Emma Waring, '16; Miss Isabel Freer, '18; Miss Marian F. Miller, '18, and Miss Clarissa Randall, '19; a reading by Miss Ernestine Sprong, '19; a violin solo by Miss Esther Emery, '18; vocal solo by Miss Bessie Preston, '17; a reading by Miss Pauline Rhodes, '18; a musical selection by the Misses Julia Brooke, '17; Meredythe Neal, '17; Clarissa Randall, '19. The girls sang several of the college songs and other selections requested by the ladies.

The try-outs for the Girls' Glee Club accompanist was held Friday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. rooms in Hulings Hall.

Miss Irene Beatty, '13, and Miss Edith Askey, '15, were the week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. O. P. Akers.

Miss Marguerite Beatty, '16, was the dinner guest of Dr. and Mrs. O. P. Akers, Friday evening.

Gymnasium work was begun on Tuesday in the Hulings Hall gymnasium, under the direction of Miss Lindberg. In addition to the regular gymnasium work required of Sophomores and Freshmen, there are special courses in folk-dancing offered to the girls of the Junior and Senior classes.

On Friday the chapel hour was given over to a Kaldron rally. The editor, E. W. Hickman, '16, assured us that that 1916 Kaldron was to be the best we have ever had and would be more truly a Centennial Kaldron even than last year's. Assistant Editor R. F. Kahle, '17, made a very interesting plea for a real live Kaldron for 1916; and Manager E. H. Baker, '17, spoke of the financial side of the Kaldron. At the close of the meeting Cheerleader Dundon, '16, led in several rousing Allegheny yells and songs.

The Sunday evening Y. W. C. A. meeting was in charge of Miss Emma Waring, '16. The subject was "Thrift and Efficiency." The leader spoke of this as an efficient age and impressed upon us the importance of efficiency in all lines of work, especially religious. Thrift is simply a means by which that efficiency is attained.

Classical Club meets this evening. It is to be in charge of Professor Ross, who will give a talk on "Pompeii."

Miss Althea Hunt, '14; Miss Irene Beatty, '13, and Miss Edith Askey, '15, were dinner guests at the Hall Sunday.

The girls who spent the week-end at their homes were: Miss Dortha Angove, '16, and Miss Cecile Edwards, '19, at Oil City; Miss Clarissa Randall, '19, at Union City; Miss Helen Ward, '19, at Pleasantville; Miss Georgia Carr, '17, at Erie; Miss Laura Sturdevant, '18, at Linesville; Miss Louise Root, '19, at Cambridge Springs; Miss Pauline Rhodes, '18, at Butler.

Monday night was "pay night" for the Hall girls. The girls went to the gymnasium where they paid the dues to certain members of the Student Government Board, Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, and Girls' Athletic Association. Afterwards the girls enjoyed an ice cream spread.

Invitations have been received from Delta Chapter of Alphi Chi Omega for dinner at the Saegertown Inn, Friday evening, October 22.

Mu Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta has sent out invitations for a formal dinner party Thursday, October 21, at the home of Mrs. Curtis L. Webb, ex.-'00.

President Tells of Eastern Trip

ATTENDS INAUGURATION OF NEW PRESIDENT AT VASSAR.

At the conclusion of the Chapel exercises last Thursday morning, Dr. Crawford gave an interesting talk on the anniversary and inaugural exercises held at Vassar College to which he was a delegate. He spoke first concerning the inauguration of Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken as President of the college. President MacCracken is the son of Ex-Chancellor Henry MacCracken of New York University and is also a brother of John H. MacCracken who next week will be inaugurated President of Lafayette College.

Dr. Crawford then spoke of the notable men at this the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Vassar, and he also gave a fine description of the pageant presented by the Vassar girls, comparing it with the pageant held here last June.

The exercises resembled very much our exercises of last June in character, their discussion of educational problems resembling our Conference on the American College. However the fact that interested us the most was President Crawford's comparison of the pageant which they presented with our historical pageant. The two differed entirely in style. Vassar's pageant was an attempt to portray the various stages which mark the development of learning from the earliest times to the university and college of today. As to the presentations, our pageant had behind it a deep historical sentiment that was lacking at Vassar. However, their choral work far surpassed ours. Their celebration was to them as ours was to us, a challenge to the future.

MEETING OF LE PETIT SALON.

Le Petit Salon held its first meeting of the year in Bentley Hall last Wednesday, October 13. It was in the nature of a business meeting. The following new members were elected: The Messrs. C. E. McKinney, '17; N. H. Boyd, '17; A. G. Curry, '16; W. A. Ellis, '16; W. E. McConnell, '17; the Misses Agnes Smith, '17; Josephine Bourquin, '17; Louisa Smith, '16; Mildred Hazen, '17; Margaret Ross, '16; Ruth Allgood, '16; Helen Hasek, '16; Julia Brooke, '17; Rachel Maxwell, '17; Grace Monroe, '17; Leone Rial, '16; Agnes Van Hoesen, '17; Blanche Taylor, '16; Mary Flahaven, '17; Lilian Fetzter, '17, and Charlotte Whipple, '16.

Besides the election of new members, general plans for the year were discussed. An unusually interesting program has been decided upon. Alternate meetings of Le Petit Salon and L' Alliance Francaise will be resumed this year. Dr. Snavely has made arrangements for a series of lectures principally "en francais" to be given at the meetings of L' Alliance Francaise.

The next regular meeting of Le Petit Salon will be held Monday, October 25, at the home of Miss Katherine Carew, '17, on Randolph Street. Initiation of new members will be held at that time. The remainder of the afternoon will be devoted by Dr. Snavely to a talk on "Mes Experiences francaise a Nouvelle Yorke."

QUILL CLUB MEETING.

vision of her talk she told what we might expect as to the future of the silent drama.

Plans were discussed for bringing Miss Hunt, of Evanston, Ill., to Meadville for a lecture or series of lectures on the drama in November. The Club expressed itself as favorable to the project and plans were made for the same.

Before adjournment the new members were initiated with impressive ceremonies after being tested as to their literary fitness for the honor.

Miss Rowley is keeping in the Library three scrap books containing clippings which record the history of the college and which appeared in newspapers during the Centennial celebration. The books are invaluable as reference books, and will be highly prized in years to come.

Kersey M. Woodard, '18, of Linesville, has been pledged by Alpha Chi Rho.

Richard Williams, '18, who entered Allegheny last week from Pitt, has been pledged by Phi Gamma Delta.

The French department has renewed the subscription for L'Illustration, which is one of the best of the French illustrated papers.

Miss Rowley will attend the meeting of the State Library Association at Butler on Oct. 21, 22 and 23.

Last week word was received of the death of Mr. Strong, father of Miss Anna Strong, '16. We all wish to extend our deepest and most heart-felt sympathy to the bereaved family.

Miss Katie Mae Cresson, a graduate of Vassar College, spent the week-end at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Snavely while on her way from the celebration at Vassar to her home in Mayfield, Kentucky.

Miss Rowley is preparing an illustrated edition of the "Pageant Book." For some reason, it has been a slow task to find pictures of the great feature event of the Centennial week, in spite of the fact that scores of pictures were taken. It is therefore requested that any students having photographs of the pageant, or of the preparation for the event, lend them to Miss Rowley for a short time. The pictures may be left at the library. The favor will be greatly appreciated.

Mrs. C. J. Baker, of Espeyville, called on her daughter, Mary Baker, '19, on Tuesday afternoon.

On Tuesday evening Tingley Biological Club had a very enjoyable outing in the form of a beefsteak roast. They went to the Park Avenue ravine and after attaching the proper biological name to all the neighboring phenomena had a very appetizing lunch prepared under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Sykes, '17.

The first series of "open houses" for the Freshmen was given last week by the men's fraternities. A rather novel plan was adopted this year of holding three "open houses" on each of the two nights which were reserved, instead of having each fraternity take a separate evening, as was done last year. On Tuesday evening, Alpha Chi Rho, Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained in the order named. The first "open house" was scheduled at 7:00 p. m., each fraternity entertaining the new men for one hour. On Thursday evening the same plan was followed, Phi Delta Theta, Delta Tau Delta and Phi Gamma Delta being the hosts. All of the "open houses" were well attended, and the object of allowing the Freshmen to visit the upper-classmen in their homes was thus attained.

The second series of "open houses" will be held later in the season at which time each fraternity will have a full evening to entertain the Freshmen.

It was discovered Sunday afternoon that M. W. Frishkorn, '17, who has been ill for several days, is suffering with diphtheria, and he was promptly removed to the City Hospital. The health authorities got into action even as promptly, and as a result the residents of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house will be absent from classes for a period of from three days to a week.

Preparations have been made for beginning the pre-season basket ball practice, the first session to take place this afternoon. Captain R. A. Cox, '16, met the new men yesterday and outlined the work, and from now on the men will be under the direction of H. Bianchi, '18, a member of the 'varsity five. The practices will be held three days a week, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, from 4 till 5 p. m. The coach is desirous that all Freshmen of ability, as well as all older students who have not established their positions securely will go out for this practice, as it will serve to put them on a level with the veteran players when they appear late in November. The fact that ex-Captain Graham, '15; Dunbar, '15, and Barnhart, ex-'17, of last year's 'varsity squad, are no longer in school, would indicate that there is an especial opening for men playing the guard positions, but because of this forwards and centers should not lurk in the background, since four men of these positions will be graduated in the spring, and thus leave vacancies for the 1916-17 team.
