Hon. Herbert Hoover,
Department of Commerce,
Washington, D.C.

My dear Secretary Hoover:

The newspaper man of whom I spoke to you when I had the pleasure of seeing you here in New York, has been on a rather long vacation and it was not until a few days ago that I was able to see him. I told him of the letters you had sent me and he would like to have copies. There is no reason why he should not have them, is there? As a matter of fact, I understood that I was to pass them on to him, but as your conveying note was marked "Confidential", I am hesitating until I have made certain.

I think it would be wise to put them in his hands. He tells me there are two or three unbelievers on the staff and this should scotch the matter once for all.

I hope you are going to stay on in the Cabinet. We all feel safer with you there.

Faithfully yours,
