

S. S. McCLURE,
TRIBUNE BUILDING,
NEW YORK,

CABLE ADDRESSES: { "Aldecamp, New York."
"Editorship, London."

LONDON OFFICE:
21 BEDFORD ST.,
COVENT GARDEN.

Nov. 18, 1892.

Dear Miss Tarbell:

I have received your postal card of November 6. My letter about the French Academy and its relation to women was wrong. I intended to say that the subject treated in an article which I have recently received is the Legion of Honor women. I want to keep your article on the French Academy, and if you have done anything with the Legion of Honor subject I will use that article too, or sell it for you. I don't want you to do any work for me that is not remunerating.

Very truly yours,

S. S. McClure

Miss Ida M. Tarbell,

17 rue Malebranche, Paris, France.