Dear Mr. Newell:

I hope you have not wanted the two volumes of reports which I am returning to you, today - yours of the Census of 1890 and Major Powell's report on Irrigation of 1879.

The truth is that my work took such a turn that it was not until now that I have been able to use them. The notes are made, however, and I am expressing the books back to you today, with many, many thanks for your kindness in loaning them to me.

I hope that one of these days when you are in New York we can have another talk.

With all good wishes, believe me

Sincerely yours
