

Honor Program Membership Rises 6% Over Last Semester

As it completes its first year-and-a-half, the student-formed academic Honor Program shows a continued increase in the number of students participating. The program was instigated for two principal reasons: Many students felt the need for an academic situation where an atmosphere of individual honor prevailed; it was also felt that a correction of the problem of academic dishonesty could be best accomplished by student awareness and action. The resultant program was an attempt to satisfy both of these conditions.

Despite the fact that the total student body is smaller this semester than last, second semester sign-ups increased the total number of students participating by six per cent (from 744 to 805).

In the three semesters since its inauguration, the Honor Program has acquired the active support of over two-thirds of the student body and has generally increased campus awareness of the need for complete academic integrity.

While complications arising from continued status as a volunteer program have necessitated variations in the conditions for taking examinations, the goals and purposes of the program remain as originally formulated in the Honor Code:

Purpose: The purpose of the Honor Program at Allegheny College shall be to promote individual responsibility and integrity in academic affairs and to develop an atmosphere conducive to serious scholarship.

Scope: The following applies to those participating in the Allegheny Honor Program. All work submitted for academic credit shall be under its jurisdiction, including examination, quizzes, papers, and laboratory work.

Honor Committee: A self-perpetuating Honor Committee of six members selected on the basis of individual qualifications and subject to approval by the College Court shall be established to maintain the standards of the Honor Program and to investigate reported infractions. If warranted, the Honor Committee shall present their findings to the existing College Court and act as the prosecuting agency.

College Court: Upon recommendation of the Honor Committee, the defendant shall be tried by the existing College Court.

Operation: The participants in the program shall signify their allegiance to the Honor Program by signing the Honor Pledge, reading: "I pledge myself to uphold the principles of the Honor Program to maintain intellectual integrity, and to conduct myself honorably in all work related to the academic programs at Allegheny College." In addition, the participants shall affirm the originality of any paper submitted for credit. The participant will enroll in the program during registration and continued membership will be assumed, until notification of withdrawal is presented to a member of the Honor Committee.

Since they are concerned with the promotion of intellectual integrity it is assumed that the participants and faculty will report any breakdowns in the Honor Program to the Honor Committee. In the event of notification, the Honor Committee shall discharge its responsibilities as cited above. The person reporting the alleged infractions has the option of remaining anonymous.

Participants shall be accorded certain freedoms in the conditions under which they take examinations as far as problems of scheduling or available classroom permits.

Amendments: Amendments to the articles of agreement shall be by action of either the Honor Committee or the participating students in the form of a two-thirds vote.

The Honor Committee membership for the 1961-62 academic year includes: Nancy Fahnestock, Powell Arms, Bruce Africa, JoAnn McCalister, Sandy Levy, and Tom Clark, chairman.

The Honor Committee feels that the program is continuing to be a success and a benefit to the campus. Only once during the first semester was the Honor Committee called upon to investigate a case which was later brought to the attention of College Court. The purpose of the Honor Program—"to promote individual responsibility and integrity in academic affairs"—should be subscribed to by every member of the college community. The Honor Program has been established to provide formal recognition of this common purpose and a means for advancing it. It is expected that student support, without which the program would not be a success, will continue to increase and that those participating will continue to actively uphold the principles of the program.

Choir To Sing New Responses

The Allegheny Chapel Choir will inaugurate three new service responses by D. Donald Cervone, Allegheny Class of 1954, at the Worship Service in Ford Memorial Chapel, Sunday, Feb. 18, at 11 a.m.

Cervone, who was a music major at Allegheny from 1950 to 1952, received the Bachelor of Music degree in 1955 from the Eastman School of Music; the Master's degree from the University of Illinois in 1960.

In 1960 he was also awarded a Ford Foundation grant to compose, as composer-in-residence, for the high schools of the state of Montana. The grant was renewed in 1961—an added distinction—and he is presently composer-in-residence for the high schools of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The responses which the Chapel Choir will sing this Sunday, including an introit, a prayer response, and a benediction response, were commissioned by the Choir, and are dedicated to it. The Chapel Choir has also performed, in recent years, Cervone's "The Winter Has Passed," a setting of verses from the "Song of Solomon," and "Hodie," which is one of Cervone's annual Christmas carols.

Applications for the position of Editor-in-Chief of the 1963 KALDRON are now being accepted.

Anyone interested in applying for the editorship should leave a message at Brooks desk for Nancy Falor or contact her at 6-9013 by February 28.

Quartet Draws Full Audience

Returning to Allegheny for the second time, the La Salle String Quartet met an enthusiastic audience that filled the chapel. Interviews with the members of this quartet will be played on the MOSAIC radio program.

The first portion of the program had a classical theme with Beethoven and Mozart represented; a Bartok quartet, comprising the second part, indicated the contemporary world and its music.

The quartet has toured Europe twice. It is currently making its thirteenth nation-wide tour. It was formed in 1946 at the Julliard School of Music in New York when four young musicians wished to establish an ensemble.

The members of the quartet are Walter Levin and Henry Meyer, violinists, Jack Kirstein, cellist, and Peter Kamniszer, violinist.

Pi Delta Epsilon Reactivated; 27 To Be Initiated Tonight

Twenty-seven Allegheny students will be initiated into Pi Delta Epsilon tonight following a banquet at the David Mead Inn. With this ceremony the Allegheny Chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, the national honorary collegiate journalism fraternity, will be reactivated at the college after an absence of 28 years.

The main speaker at the dinner, to begin at 6 p.m. in the Walker Room of the David Mead,

IFC and Pan-Hell Help Film Series

In two meetings held last week by the Inter-Fraternity Council, the appointment of George Jackson as the new IFC Rush Chairman was announced by President Dave Burkett, and plans for Greek Week were begun in a joint session with Pan-Hell.

At a regular business meeting Wednesday night, Feb. 7, Burkett announced the appointment of Jackson, and a communication was received from the Red Cross Blood Bank, concerning their return to Meadville and Allegheny during March. IFC agreed to again sponsor the Blood Bank on Campus.

At the same meeting, it was decided by the council that the money which has been collected in fines this year will be used to bring entertainment to Allegheny for the Saturday night of Greek Week.

Following through with its long-range plans to improve and strengthen IFC, the council appointed two major committees. The first, to consider revisions of the judicial committee, is headed by Dr. Hutcheson, IFC faculty advisor, and has as members Glenn Murray, Tom Clark, Dave Burkett, Dick Maglisceau, Jim Dyer, Tom Wake-man, and Bing Ewalt. The second committee, appointed to revise the Honor Code and Constitution, is chaired by Jim Corby, and has as members Tom Siffenger, Bob Cain, Dick Blackwood, Bob Hannah, Roger Smith and Jim Kutz.

The following night IFC and Pan-Hell held a joint meeting in the Alumni Lounge of Brooks Hall. Plans for Greek Week were discussed, and it was decided that committee chairmen Curt Fee and Sam Hester should look into plans for booking a big-name entertaining group for the last night of Greek Week. Greek Sing was discussed and it was decided that each fraternity and sorority should sing two songs; one fraternity song, and one non-fraternity song.

will be Mr. Harry R. Pore, Jr., editor of the Monessen, Pa., Valley Independent, chairman of the 1962 Allegheny Annual Fund, editor of The Campus in 1932-33, and a member of the Allegheny Pi Delta Epsilon Chapter '33. The topic of his speech will be "A Student Editor Goes to Press," and will deal with his own experiences as a journalist in relation to his work in the newspaper field as a student.

Other speakers will include Mr. Edward E. McDonald of Pittsburgh, the Executive Secretary-Treasurer of the fraternity; Dr. Stanley S. Swartley, Professor Emeritus of English and advisor to the original chapter during its existence here from 1922 until 1933; and Dr. C. G. Katope, Assistant English Professor and advisor to the new chapter. Toastmaster will be Lewis Fisher, president of the present group.

Initiates Include Professor

Following the dinner will be the formal initiation ceremony, open only to initiates and members, during which the new members will receive a gold key, an engraved certificate, and a white carnation, the official fraternity flower.

Students to be initiated tonight include Charles Bailey, Michael Bavar, James Berry, Margaret Boal, Diane Duntley, Burdett Edgren, Harvey Ekins, Nancy Falor, Lewis Fisher, Herbert Happel, Jane Hile, Charles Hultman, Jules Krainin, Vicki Lukavick, Susan Marcy, Ellen McKee, Ruth Merrill, Virginia Moyse, Beck Myton.

Also, Carol Russell, Janice Senkewitz, Virginia Sleigh, Margaret Stewart, William Townsend, Richard Tucker, and John Urbaitis. In addition, Dr. Christopher G. Katope, Assistant Professor of English, will be initiated as a Faculty-Honorary member.

Several Allegheny alumni members of the fraternity will be present at the banquet, as well as other students eligible for membership soon, and representatives of the college and student body.

Plans Include Speakers

Membership requirements state that the student be active on a college publication or on Publications Board for at least two years, or have been active for one year and currently hold a major staff position. Only juniors, seniors, and sophomores in the latter part of their second semester are eligible for membership.

Present plans of this group are to sponsor speakers in the journalism field at each meeting as the formulation of long-range plans is made.

An exhibit in Reis Library currently features Pi Delta Epsilon and its history at Allegheny.

All students who are interested in applying for student counseling may pick up applications in Bentley Hall. The deadline for applications is 5 p.m., March 5 and the applications may be returned either to the counseling center or to any of the student counselors.

Editorial

Included in this issue of The Campus are two articles dealing with the Student Editors' Conference held in New York City last weekend, sponsored by the National Student Association and the Overseas Press Club of America.

The conference topic, "Reporting a World in Crisis," raised in the minds of the Allegheny representatives a related question: What should be the role of the college newspaper, and more particularly, of The Campus, in reporting national and international news.

In the past, The Campus has not been specifically concerned with such coverage. Three points of view presented themselves to the three Allegheny editors attending the conference. The first, that The Campus should attempt no coverage of national and international news; secondly, that only news in this area which applies to the Allegheny College community should be printed; and finally, that The Campus should report such news generally, in the hope of stimulating student action.

In view of this question, The Campus would like to solicit opinion on its role in news coverage of national and international events. Comments by students and faculty alike will be welcomed.

Which of the above points of view should The Campus adopt? These ideas will be helpful in the formulation of a policy, although limitations of time, space, etc., will affect the final decision.

CAUSE Approves Betts, Accepts Charter

At the meeting of CAUSE last Sunday, Lee Ann Betts was approved as Acting Coordinating Chairman in the absence of Rick Momeyer who is spending the semester as an exchange student at Fisk University. The group's charter was approved to be sent to the Student Activities Committee.

Before the charter is finally accepted, the group must also be approved by ASG. The CAUSE organization expects to have this final approval some time this semester.

Two of the exchange students from Fisk, Betty Taylor and Sherman Greene, were also present. They have expressed an active interest in serving upon the CAUSE committees and were able to bring a fresh viewpoint and suggested several outside organizations which the group might contact for assistance in ideas for fund-raising.

One of the comments Betty made was that few Negro students have ever heard of Allegheny. This idea was also stated by Mr. Zack when talking about the admission policy.

He said that the college considers academic qualifications of a student to be of paramount importance; secondarily they consider extra-curricular activities. There is, then, definitely no selection by the college either favoring or discriminating against any ethnic group.

The problem facing CAUSE, then, appears to be that of encouraging applications; they have made progress in contacting students, several of whom have already applied.

Awards For Personal Libraris

LOVEMAN AWARD a-wag
The Amy Loveman National Award, a gift of one thousand dollars, will be given yearly to a college student who has collected an outstanding personal library, beginning January 1962. The award is sponsored by The Saturday Review, The Book-of-the-Month-Club, and The Women's National Book Association.

Nominations of senior students for the Award will be made by Chairmen of Campus Library Award Committees who will have selected a local winner. "How would I start building a home library," "The next ten books I hope to add to my personal library and why," "My ideas for a complete home library," and an annotated bibliography of the local winner's present collection accompany the nomination for the national award.

No collection of less than 35 books will be considered. Collections are to be judged on basis of intelligent interest, scope and imagination shown in creating the collection and knowledge of the books as revealed in the annotations. Collections (excluding textbooks) of any type are eligible; whether centered in a subject or avocation, a single author or group of authors, a general collection.

The deadline for nomination is April 30th. The award will be made to the winning student at Commencement time.

IFC Pan-Hell Begin Greek Week Plans

Pan-Hell and IFC at a joint meeting on February 8 decided to sponsor a special series of films by the Film Arts Society.

Mr. Buhl of the Film Arts Society attended the meeting. The films are to be shown at the Academy Theater in Meadville at 7 and 9 p.m. on Wednesday evenings.

Each fraternity and sorority is to sell 25 subscriptions to the film series. Proceeds will be used for charitable purposes.

Sargent Shriver Answers Peace Corps Critics

By Bill Townsend

"The Peace Corps has shown tangible results to a skeptical world," declared Robert Sargent Shriver in a speech commemorating the first birthday of the Peace Corps. He spoke before the International Affairs Conference for College Editors last Friday at the Overseas Press Club in New York City.

It was fitting that Shriver chose the Editors Conference to celebrate the first birthday of the Peace Corps, since President John F. Kennedy received his ideas for the service organization in a question and answer session following an address before the 1960 Editors Conference. A year later, the President's brother, Edward Kennedy, spoke to the group of editors to announce the passing by Congress of the Peace Corps bill.

Perhaps the most pressing problem confronting the world today embraces the need for a transfer of wealth and production from the "have" nations to the "have-not" nations. Shriver outlined three methods that have been used to accomplish this need.

Many nations have turned to (1) social overthrow or communism. In the past (2) the United States has given large amounts of money and manufactured goods to backward nations throughout the world. This has not been enough. What was really needed was (3) instruction and personal assistance.

The Peace Corps proposed just that—to organize the American people and to send our people abroad to contribute their skills to people of other lands.

Critics of the Corps wondered if the American youth had the moral, mental and physical qualities to live without the comforts of modern America.

In answer to this challenge, the Peace Corps has 800 members, 600 of whom are working side-by-side with citizens of 13 countries. The Peace Corps has had to recall only five volunteers from their assigned countries. Shriver pointed out that this is an unprecedented record in the field of foreign service.

The attitudes and actions of the volunteers have resulted in their acceptance in the assigned countries. "Arriving in Ghana 55 school teachers sang the Ghanaian National Anthem in the native language as they left their plane," commented Shriver. "In Sierra Leone our representatives carried their own luggage from the boat to their new homes to the astonishment of the natives. Throughout Africa, natives are amazed to see white teachers taking orders from their Negro superiors."

Americans with the right motives are wanted by the Peace Corps and by foreign countries. If Congress passes the new appropriation bill for the Corps, 2,000 volunteers will be in the field by June and a goal of 6,000 will be set for September. Shriver is confident that the bill will be passed. "Even Barry Goldwater has said, 'I'm for the Peace Corps all the way.'"

Shriver concluded his address by answering a challenge presented by an Indian citizen to the American people. The Indian, according to Shriver, had asked, "Can young Americans bring to India the spirit of the American revolution?" Shriver replied, "The world is waiting and hoping the Americans have the stuff to do the job. I have faith that we will."

Iranian Speaks On Middle East

"The Rise and Change of East Nationalism" was the topic of Dr. Nosrollah Saifpour Fatemi last night in Ford Memorial Chapel. A coffee hour was held yesterday afternoon for an informal meeting with faculty and students.

Dr. Fatemi's appearance at Allegheny was sponsored jointly by the American Association for Middle East Studies and the Public Events Committee of Allegheny College.

An Iranian by birth, Dr. Fatemi was educated in both Iran and the United States. He was graduated from Stuart Memorial College in Iran and received him M.A. and Ph. D. from Columbia University and the new school for Social Research.

Presently a professor at Fairleigh Dickinson University, Dr. Fatemi has recently returned from a study trip in Asia and the Middle East.

Two Students Make Television Appearance

Gaye Cushner and Curtis Fee, both Juniors, will be seen with admissions director Victor R. Zack, Jr., in an Allegheny College segment of the "Twixt Twelve and Twenty" television show to be aired by Pittsburgh station WIIC-TV next Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m.

The program is concerned with teen age interests, and is said to enjoy top viewing rating in its' time slot.

The show was taped in Pittsburgh last Sunday afternoon.

Co-producer of the program is Mrs. Arthur J. Diskin, wife of an Allegheny graduate of 1942 who is now an attorney in Pittsburgh. Mrs. Diskin appeared on camera to introduce the Allegheny segment.

The Allegheny portion consists of a number of campus views and the answering of questions posed by several high school students from the Pittsburgh area.

Truth has only to change hands a few times to become fiction.

Junior To Report For 'Mademoiselle'

Phyllis Carlson, class of '63 from Jamestown, N.Y., will represent Allegheny on the National College Board of Mademoiselle magazine this year. She is one of 805 students from 335 colleges who will report to Mademoiselle on the college scene.

As a college board member, she will complete an assignment that will show her interests and abilities in writing, editing, fashion, advertising, or art, in competition for one of the 20 guest editorships that will be awarded by the magazine at the end of May.

The winning guest editors will be brought to New York for four weeks to help edit, write, and illustrate Mademoiselle's 1962 August college issue. They will receive travel expenses and a salary.

While they are in New York, the guest editors will interview outstanding men and women in their chosen fields to help clarify their career aims. They will also visit fashion showrooms and advertising agencies, and will be guests of honor at the magazine's College Fashion Show in the Waldorf Astoria, and at parties that the magazine is planning for them.

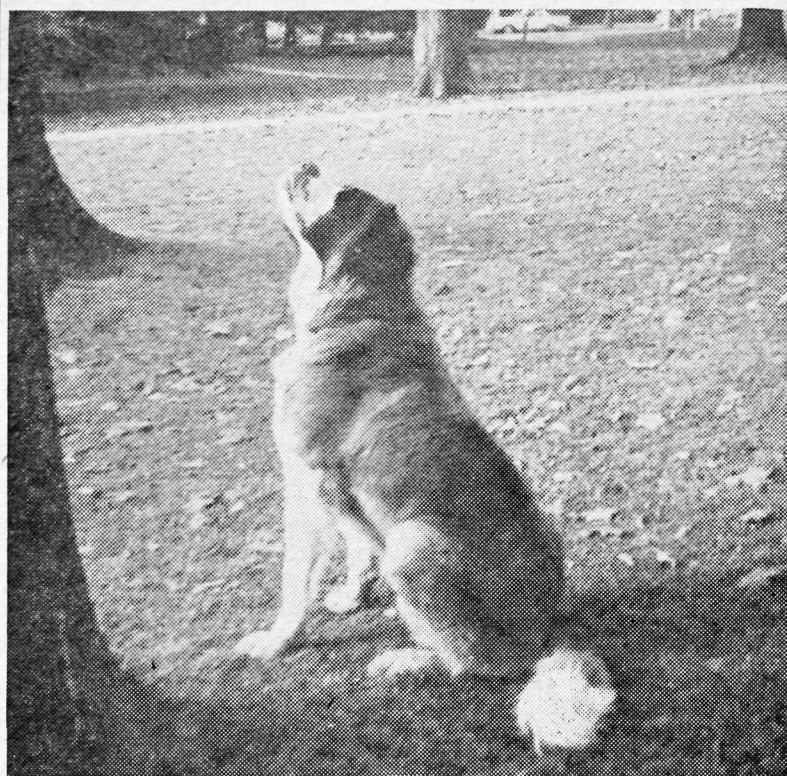

Tatoosh Island, one mile off Olympic Peninsula, is the extreme northwest corner of the United States. Its fifteen acres is directly in the path of all storms brewing in the North Pacific. The island's population of 18 is made up of the members of the Coast Guard and weather stations which broadcast storm warnings to the mainland.

Fashion Expert Clues Campus Coeds

Josephine Riggs of the Tobe-Coburn for Fashion Careers will be visiting Allegheny on Monday, February 26 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. to discuss opportunities in merchandising and fashion. Mrs. Riggs will be available to speak in classes, meet with groups and hold individual conferences.

Tobe-Coburn School in New York City trains college women for positions in retail merchandising, fashion coordinating, advertising and magazine work. It offers scholarships to interested and qualified college women.

Mrs. Riggs, a graduate of the Tobe-Coburn School, received her BA from Emerson College in Boston. Before becoming a faculty member of Tobe-Coburn, she was an assistant buyer at Lord & Taylor.

Three CAMPUS Staffers Attend NY Conference

Three members of The Campus staff, Lew Fisher, Editorial Assistant; Bill Townsend, Managing Editor; and Harv Ekins, News Editor, attended a College Editors Conference in New York City Feb. 9-11.

The conference, sponsored by the Overseas Press Club of America and the National Student Association in cooperation with the Readers Digest Foundation, had as its topic "Reporting a World in Crisis," and stressed the role of the college newspaper in the reporting of international news.

It was attended by more than 200 students from some 200 college newspapers. One hundred of these students, including The Campus's Lew Fisher, were granted scholarships provided by the Reader's Digest, covering room and board.

The format of the conference included a series of speeches, seminars on world affairs, and clinics concerned with the application of the material covered in the speeches and seminars.

Featured speeches were made by Robert Sargent Shriver, Jr., director of the Peace Corps; Robert Considine, columnist and correspondent for Hearst Enterprises; and Wayne Morse, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on Latin American Affairs.

Mr. Shriver's speech dealt with the achievements and outlook of the Peace Corps (a detailed coverage of this is to be found in this issue). Considine's topic was "Behind the Day's News." In this address, he commented on the difficulties created by what he termed "the difficulties of the shrinking journalistic craft," reducing the numbers of major newspapers, resulting in a greater challenge to the quality of newspapermen.

Senator Morse dealt with the recent meeting of the Organization of American States at Punta del Este.

Seminar topics were: Sub-Sahara Africa, The Arab World, Asia and the Far East, Europe and the USSR, Latin America, and Nuclear power and Disarmament. The purpose of the seminars was to accent the important and newsworthy events in these areas, and to inform the attending editors of their significance. Campus clinics held later gave student editors suggestions on how to apply these events; a special United Nations session was held in the Carnegie Endowment, during which editors heard an address by Kathleen McLaughlin, UN correspondent for the New York Times, on "Covering the United Nations."

Saint Bernard's Antics Range From Trees To Broom Closets

by LEWIS FISHER

"Dr. Buckingham, is it possible for a Saint Bernard to be neurotic?," a reporter asked the head of the Psychology Department.

"It is," replied the voice on the other end of the line. Dogs can be just as neurotic as people can, although it's difficult to analyze animals' neuroses since we can't explore their memory."

Whether she's neurotic or psychotic, is suffering from schizophrenia or paranoia, most people around campus seem to agree that "there's something wrong" with Trixie.

Trixie is the massive 110-pound brown and white Saint Bernard, assumed to be four years old and a purebred although the papers are missing, which has spent the past year in a futile attempt to chase the squirrels off the Allegheny campus. At any time of day, regardless of the weather, she can be seen peering up a tree, sniffing for trails on the ground, or lumbering across campus in search of new trees and more squirrels.

Trixie's presence at Allegheny is due to Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity brothers Don Coffey, Steve Harrington, Mike Lipitz, and Bill Sutter, who bought her last fall for $32.17.

Trixie's Appetite Voracious

Since then Trixie has eaten food that equals her cost many times over. She became so expensive to feed that her owners sold her to the fraternity itself, and now it pays for the case of dog food Trixie consumes each month. She also gets food scraps from the house, from neighboring Robert L. Murphy (the college's Public Information Director) and his wife, and an occasional squirrel or a bite of a motorcyclist.

It is the cost of feeding her that has saved her twice for her owners. Once the fraternity's chapter at Youngstown University kidnapped Trixie, but they returned her after a week because she cost too much to feed. The same problem caused her to be released after a few days by some freshman girls last year.

Members of Phi Kappa Psi also were "hosts" to Trixie for a while. They fed her on hamburg, and for a week after she was returned, whenever she was hungry she went back to the Phi Psi house.

Tracking down squirrels is Trixie's main occupation in life. She works at it from seven in the morning until seven at night, when she goes to the Murphys' for an hour or two and then on home to bed.

It's no problem to Trixie to find a few squirrels every day, but capturing them is quite another matter. If the squirrel is on the ground when spotted, Trixie lumbers off after it, often trying to climb the tree after the fleeing squirrel. Failing that, she waits impatiently at the foot of the tree, successively looking up at the squirrel, barking at it, plodding around the tree, and pretending to go away. Usually the squirrel wins after an hour or so of this psychological warfare, and Trixie leaves, dejected.

Barks Up the Wrong Tree

Sometimes the squirrel abandons one tree and attempts to escape on the ground to another. Once, near the College Union, a squirrel sneaked down a tree on the north side of the building and scampered off for a tree on the west side, with Trixie in groggy pursuit. The squirrel ran safely up one tree while Trixie stopped and barked up another one until she realized that the squirrel was not there.

Once in a great while Trixie succeeds. Last winter she started chasing a squirrel over the snow. Trixie's padded feet gave her an advantage over the hapless squirrel, which learned too late not to try to race a Saint Bernard on snow.

Other stories about Trixie have become legend. There's the story about Trixie's almost having a squirrel drop to the ground at her feet as the squirrel attempted to flee through the branches from tree to tree, but the squirrel caught itself on a low branch and was saved. And the tales about Trixie's being hit on the head by a nut dropped by a squirrel, or about her begging for bones at a local meat-market.

One time Trixie was feared to have been hit by a passing car when she was spotted lying in the middle of a busy sidewalk. Further investigation showed she had just decided to take a nap.

Perhaps Trixie's behavior stems from claustrophobia suffered when she was first purchased and had to ride in a Volkswagen with her four owners and the 80-year-old woman who had directed them to the kennel. She's used to close quarters now, however. Trixie made more than 339 papers from coast to coast this fall when she joined fifty-eight freshmen in a broom closet.

Or perhaps Trixie is frustrated because she has no other Saint Bernards to play with.

But maybe it's time to stop worrying about Trixie's problems and to begin feeling sorry for the squirrels.

SPORTSCRIPT

Although Allegheny is not having an outstanding winter sports season, there have been many fine individual performances which are worth noting.

During the past week, Bruce Carlile, of the swimming team, set and tied pool records at Washington and Jefferson. Ritts Howard, Skip Shaffer, Jim Beatman and Dave Ludwick of the 400-yard medley relay team also set a pool record.

In basketball, Hank Kachelreiss netted 30 points for the Gators. Although the basketball team is having a poor year, they have an established star in Kachelreiss and a very promising freshman prospect in Larry Katz.

The wrestling team is worth noting due to fine freshmen performances by John Antonnen, Bob Lerch, and Jack Saxer plus veteran

John Berhard who is a previous P.A.C. champion.

Wrestling and swimming championships are decided by Conference Meets at the end of the season. The Conference Tournaments are at Cleveland on March 2-3. The swimming team is heavily favored to win the P.A.C. championship.

On Saturday the wrestling and swimming teams compete at home while the basketball team is away at Grove City. Look for a victory by the mermen, a close battle on the mats with the Gators winning, and another loss at Grove City with Hank Kachelreiss playing another fine game.

Frosh Lead Grapplers To Beat Alfred, 28-8

Three Freshmen were largely responsible for Allegheny's 24-8 wrestling victory over Alfred on Saturday at Alfred.

John Antonnen, 130; Bob Lerch, 147; and Jack Saxer, 167; were the winning Freshmen. Antonnen and Saxer pinned their opponents while Lerch decisioned his man, 3-0. Other Gator victors were Jim Hart at 123 pounds, and John Bernhard in the 157 pound division.

Dave Wion won his second match of the season, in as many bouts, in the junior varsity matches.

Allegheny travels to Case Tech on Wednesday to try to better their 3-3 record.

Saxons Sink Gators, 84-55

The Allegheny basketball Gators were undermanned and outplayed as they dropped their ninth game of the 1961-62 campaign, 84-55, to Alfred University, Saturday night.

"We were without the services of Dunc Parkinson and Bill Smucker who could not make the trip. We had three players foul out of the game in the second half which left us with five players to finish the game," said Gator coach, Bob Garback.

The Gators played a respectable first half, behind by only six points after the first 15 minutes but in the second half, they reverted to their familiar style seen so many times this year and finished a meek 29 points behind.

The Saxons from Alfred shot an amazing 62% from the floor in the second half which combined with their first shooting, gave them an overall 42% field goal average. Allegheny hit only 20 of their 81 field goal attempts for an average of a little less than 25%.

"In the second half, Alfred started hitting from the outside against our zone defense so we switched to a man-to-man defense which didn't work very well as Alfred continued to widen their lead," Coach Garback stated. Garback also added that, "Every time we have used the man-to-man defense this year, we've gotten into trouble."

The one bright spot in the Gator's display at Alfred was the performance of Hank Kachelreiss, who threw in a dozen field goals plus six free throws for 30 points.

Alfred's top scoring honors went to Steve Steinberg who netted 18 points for the Saxions.

In summing up the game, Garback stated that "our shooting was very cold, in fact, we couldn't hit at all. We tried all types of defenses and none of them worked."

The Gator's next home game will be February 22 against Fenn University.

Mermen Set Records, Defeated By W & J

The Gator mermen suffered a big upset at the hands of Washington and Jefferson at the victor's pool on Saturday although Allegheny set two pool records and tied another one.

Bruce Carlile won three events as he set a new 440-yard freestyle record with a time of 5:09.5 and tied a record with in the 220-yard freestyle. His other win was in the 200-yard butterfly event.

The 400-yard relay team of Ritts Howard, Skip Shaffer, Jim Beatman and Dave Ludwick set another pool record with the time of 4:14.7.

Allegheny's record now stands at 4-2. Their next meet will be at Case Tech on Wednesday.

CAMPUS CLASHES

As the intramural basketball season swung into the heart of the 1961-62 schedule, one major upset took the spotlight in the hardwood action this week.

The Independents surprised the Phi Psis by beating them 41 to 31, led by Bob Beck's ten points. The losers were led by Bill Seedyke who had nine points.

In another encounter, Dale Colby with eleven points and Sam Hester with nine points led the Phi Deltas to a 42 to 20 victory over Theta Chi. Marty Goldburg scored seven points for the losers.

Deane Shure and Bill Beggs with 15 points and 11 points respectively, led the Sigs to a 50 to 36 victory over the Deltas. Jim Edwards was high scorer for the Deltas with 14 points.

Next, led by Gary Koehler's 14 points, the Phi Gams soundly beat the Chi Rhos 40 to 18. Dave Graham popped in eight points for the losers.

The Phi Psis, coming back strong after their loss to the independents, trounced the Deltas 63 to 31 behind Howie Hutton's 12 points and Andy Shapiro's ten points. Jim Edwards again led the Delt scorers with 13 points.

In the second game of the evening Stoner Tracy and Joe Valentino again led the Phi Gams to victory. Valentino had 12 points and Tracy had 11 as they beat the Phi Deltas 52 to 31. John Crill scored seven points for the losers.

Intramural bowling began on Monday with the Phi Psis taking four points from the Independents by default and the Phi Deltas taking three points out of four from the Chi Rhos. Ron Comfort bowled a 215 for the high game of the day.

On Wednesday, the Phi Deltas won three more points from the Theta Chis as Al Moss bowled a 192.
