

PROGRESS IS RECORDED IN COLLEGE ENDOWMENT PROGRAM

Financial Project is Vital to Larger College Program

No doubt many students now in college, particularly those of the two lower classes, have felt no little curiosity in reference to the activities of the Bentley Hall office labelled "Second Century Endowment Fund." The Campus feels it important at this time to deal with this significant piece of current College history.

Immediately upon the installation of President Hixson in 1920 it became clear that Allegheny College could not care for her greatly increased enrollment in the face of advanced cost of operation unless additional resources were provided. The trustees accordingly set about providing the needed funds. Notwithstanding the post-war depression in business it was felt that the urgency of the College's need would admit of no delay. So early in 1921 announcement was made of a campaign to secure one and a quarter million dollars to be added to the permanent endowment of the College, the income from which amount should provide for additional instructors and help in the maintenance of the plant.

POPULARITY CONTEST TO BE HELD SOON

STUDENTS TO BE GIVEN CHANCE TO VOTE AT CHAPEL

Tedium of the regular chapel services will be somewhat relaxed toward the end of this week when the editor of the Kaldron will issue ballots to the assembled students on which they will place their votes for Allegheny's four most beautiful and popular young ladies. Because of the number of contestants there is much rivalry; the race promises to be close and the coveted places well achieved.

Throughout the year there has been much speculation as to whom these four votaries of the fair Venus might be, and it was determined some time ago that the momentous question should be answered by a vote of the student body. Furthermore it was decided that each of the young ladies' pictures should grace a full page of the Kaldron, especially engraved therein.

Monitors in Chapel Thursday or Friday are therefore expecting no vacancies in their respective sections as enthusiasm is running high and each one will be present to vote for his queen of beauty and popularity.

The personnel of the subscription list is made up largely of Alumni, Meadville residents and business firms, and Methodists from all parts of the Erie and Pittsburgh Conferences. But many warm friends were found outside these groups and boundaries among the total of nearly 6000 who rallied to the generous support of Allegheny.

By the provisions of pledges signed, the payments are to stretch over a period of five years, one-fifth being due each October 1. To provide for the collection, record-keeping and correspondence with subscribers the Second Century Fund office was opened in Bentley, and Mr. Charles W. Gill, '07, was engaged for the five year period as collector. The task confronting the collection office is $250,000 every twelve months, some $21,000 monthly, or nearly $1,000 each day. GLEE CLUB DELIGHTS COLLEGE AUDIENCE

VARIED PROGRAM IS SUCCESS- FULLY OFFERED

Singing before a large audience of college students and townspeople on February 28, the Allegheny College combined Glee and Musical Clubs presented their annual home concert in Ford Memorial Chapel. The program was enthusiastically received by the opening song, "Worship God in Nature," through the orchestral numbers to the Alma Mater finale.

The clubs were particularly well prepared for this concert through the earnest efforts of their director, Prof. Lee Hess Barnes, and as a result gave an almost perfect rendition of all the selections presented.

The clever manner in which "Hush" and "De Sandman" were presented added effectively to the result. The whole auditorium was thrown into darkness while the group was forming on the stage and continued thus through the entire two songs. A spot light played upon the winsome little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. I. R. Beiler who held a doll in her lap.

Perfect unity and excellent group action marked the singing of the "Sword of Ferrara" by Ballard and also "The Song of Prince Rupert's Men" by Flagler. "Blizzard" by Calman, a newly prepared song came in for its share of applause as well as the others.

As an encore to "Sword of Ferrara," beautiful and quaint "Smilin' Thru" was given.

Mr. Gerhardt's baritone solo "Today and Tomorrow" was classed by all as one of the outstanding features of the whole program. His full tonal quality ranks him as soloist of high merit and (Continued on page 3.)

DEBATING TEAMS WIN DOUBLE VICTORY

WESTERN RESERVE DEFEATED BOTH HERE AND IN CLEVELAND

By the unanimous vote of the three judges Allegheny's negative team won the decision over the strong affirmative team from Western Reserve University in the first collegiate debate of the year, held in Ford Chapel on Thursday, March 1.

The team defending the affirmative side of the question for Allegheny at Cleveland received a two to one decision over Western Reserve. The same subject was debated in both cities. The question under discussion was: "Resolved, that the power of the Federal Supreme Court to declare statutes unconstitutional should be restricted."

The affirmative, represented by Messrs. DeSanto, McFrederick and Freer, attempted to establish its contentions by showing that (1) a restriction of the Court's power is desirable, and that (2) the desired change can be readily accomplished by requiring that the Court give an 8-1 decision in declaring statutes unconstitutional. Voluminous statistics, attempting to prove that the Federal Supreme Court was unworthy and incapable of discharging the responsibilities laid upon it by the Constitution, were offered in support of the affirmative side. It based much of its argument on the point that the Supreme Court is today the greatest factor in the way of modern social legislation.

Not only did the negative, defended by Messrs. Demmler, Hammett and Larson, completely tear down the arguments built up by their opponents, but in three telling and well prepared constructive addresses submitted ample evidence that (1) the history of the Court warranted no restriction of its power, (2) that constitutional amendment is a better and more logical way of accomplishing the desired social reforms, and that (3) the Court is in a most effective way safeguarding individual liberties and assuring the people of the country the benefits of a constitutional government.

President F. W. Hixson presided at the debate. The judges were the Rev. H. B. Boyd, of Erie; Charles S. Gerrish, Oil City, and W. V. Zaniser, Erie.

ALLEGHENY HAS CHAPTER OF KAPPA PHI KAPPA

ALLEGHENY ZETA OF NATIONAL PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION FRATERNITY INSTALLED LAST FRIDAY

Following the initiation and installation ceremonies which were performed here last Friday afternoon and evening, Allegheny Zeta chapter of Kappa Phi Kappa, the national professional education fraternity announces itself as the newest member of the Hellenic world at Allegheny.

For some time a group of students, together with Dr. F. G. Henke, sought to bring to the college this organization which has done so much in other institutions to further interest in the field of education. Their efforts were rewarded when the national fraternity notified the local group that their petition had been favorably voted upon and that Allegheny Zeta chapter was a definite possibility.

As a result of this notification the date of last Friday was set for the initiation and installation of Kappa Phi Kappa. The initiation began at 2:30 o'clock in Ruter Hall and continued through to 6 P. M. At this time the group went in body to the Lafayette Hotel where they were served a banquet in the private dining hall. After the banquet was enjoyed, the ceremonies of installation were observed, lasting until after 9 o'clock.

Along with Dr. Henke the following charter members are announced: Messrs. John H. Bozic, Emro J. Gergely, Charles W. Havice, Harry D. Hummer, Robert H. Kelly, J. Edwin Larson, Donnell W. Marsh, Eugene P. Miller, Floyd H. Moore, Ralph M. Powell, Gerald D. Prather, Julian L. Ross, Ralph A. Theuret, and C. Stanley Thoburn.

DR. H. A. ELLIS DELIVERS PRACTICAL ADDRESS

Speaking in an animated manner, the Reverend Dr. Herbert A. Ellis of New Castle, delivered a vigorous, succinct sermon at the Vesper Service last Sunday afternoon in Ford Memorial Chapel. Features of the service were a solo by Mr. T. S. Baker of the Meadville Glee Club and an organ prelude by Dr. H. W. Church.

Taking as his text, the words from the sermon on the mount, "Ye are the salt of the earth, but if the salt have lost its savor, wherewith shall it be salted?" Dr. Ellis said that this message epitomized the whole teaching of the Master. This declaration placed a great responsibility on men, for salt was the emblem of incorruptness, sweetness and purity, and was not only a necessity of life, but also had great religious significance.

"We must be the purifying salt for a world that is full of corruption and political chaos. 'The responsibility of the Christian church lies on us,' said Dr. Ellis, 'for the world is getting smaller, and more is expected of the United States than of any other country, on account of our wealth, superior educational advantages, and equity of faith.' The invasion of Germany by France may engender another war; Russia is bleeding and starving under Bolshevism; the revival of learning in China and the silent rebellion in India portend action and trouble in those two countries.

No generation ever had such competition as the young people of today. Higher education is becoming so general that the individual must have more culture, wealth and instruction than his parents had in order to be a success. Yet we are the salt of the earth, and we are commanded to help bring the world back to itself.

In the great crisis of the history of the church, inspiration came through optimistic faith of loyal followers. Early Christians spread the Gospel in spite of persecution, and the Crusaders fought for Jerusalem, urged on by their spirit of Christian Knighthood. Such men as Charles Martel, Savarola, Luther, and Wesley have saved the church at critical times.

Today we must look to the Christian homes, churches, and colleges for leaders. If America does not take her place in the "neighborhood of the world," reproach will rest upon her. (Continued on page 3.)

BLUE AND GOLD TEAM LOSES TO WESTMINSTER 27-22

Second Defeat Administered By Down- state Aggregation

In a dull and rather uninteresting game, marked only here and there by spurts of brilliant team-work and first class basketball, Allegheny's passers went down to a 27-22 defeat last night on the local floor at the hands of the Westminster quintet. The crowd of spectators was quite thin and the rooting was correspondingly poor.

The first minute or two of play augured well for an exciting contest, for during this time there was fast team-work on the part of both sides. Brownell started the scoring by putting a foul through the hoop. Ross soon followed him with a pretty field goal from under the basket. The Blue and White defenders by this time, however, had begun to revive, and it was not long until until Fawcett had registered a counter from the side of the floor. After this, Westminster had things pretty much her own way for the remainder of the half with the exception of one more field goal by Ross. At the end of the initial period the United Presbyterians stood on the bright side of a 17-8 score. The downstate team had seven field goals to Allegheny's two.

The second half marked considerable revival in the playing of the Blue and Gold. At times it seemed as if the local team would overcome the formidable lead of their rivals. There were several brilliant flashes of play. Ross made three field goals from difficult positions; Braun did some clever defense work, and Miller started pandemonium among the rooters when he caged a long shot in the closing moments of the contest. However, although the Blue and White floorers were outplayed during the second half, they were able to retaliate against the Allegheny attack by enough scoring to maintain a lead so that the contest ended in a 27-22 defeat for Allegheny.

TRIANGULAR DEBATE TO BE HELD FRIDAY

WASHINGTON AND JEFFERSON WILL DEBATE ON LOCAL PLATFORM

After the pleasing results of the debate last Thursday night with Western Reserve University much enthusiasm is being shown over the triangular contest to be held on Friday night with W. & J., at Ford Memorial Chapel, and with Wooster College at Wooster.

The team which opposed Western Reserve at Cleveland, consisting of J. L. Ross, J. H. Bozic and R. W. Leeper will oppose Washington and Jefferson College in Ford Memorial Chapel, and the team consisting of R. H. Demmler, C. E. Hammett and J. E. Larson will debate the Wooster affirmative team at Wooster.

The question to be discussed will be: "Resolved, That the power of the federal Supreme Court to declare statutes unconstitutional should be restricted." This is the same subject which was debated with Western Reserve University.

Allegheny's debating team won all their debates last year, and W. & J. and Wooster were among the teams defeated. The debate with W. & J. will start promptly at 7:45 Friday night.

MANY DELEGATES ATTEND MISSIONARY CONVENTION

Prominent Churchmen Address Large As- sembly of Students

One hundred fifty student representatives coming here from various colleges and universities in this vicinity met at Allegheny Friday, Saturday and Sunday as guests of the college in conference for the purpose of discussing ways of increasing a knowledge of, and an interest in, missionary problems. Delegates were sent from Grove City, U. of Pittsburgh, Carnegie Tech, Missionary field work were presented by Eva, Edinboro Normal, W. and J., Slippery Rock Normal, Thiel College, and the Pittsburgh Seminary. The facts and questions concern Christian Missionary field work were presented to the delegates by a number of prominent missionaries from foreign fields. The most prominent and interesting speaker was Mr. Tawfik Saleh, a native of Egypt now studying at the Pittsburgh Seminary.

Registration of the incoming visitors began Friday afternoon. About one hundred and fifty registered. Rooms were found for these delegates in residences throughout the city by the assistance of some of the local students. Although the rooms found were scattered widely, nearly all the delegates were present for the first meal together at Cochran Hall Friday evening. Here the visitors were divided off in groups as to the school from which they came. At the close of the meal, cheers were given and a spirit of good feeling was soon created. J. L. Anderson, president of the Student Missionary Conference and a student at Pittsburgh Seminary, made announcements, and then Ralph Ward gave to the assemblage the humorous talk that he gave at the regular college chapel meeting in the forenoon. The meals for the visitors were well planned by the committee. Saturday noon the delegates lunched at the Stone Church, at which Mr. J. Edwin Larson extended a welcome to the representatives. Here also the groups were divided as to schools. Saturday evening the conference met at the Christian Church for their meal, at the close of which each of the leaders and missionaries recounted a personal experience with an element of humor in it. Sunday noon the delegates took dinner at the various homes in which they were staying and at the various fraternity houses on the Hill.

Representatives from the various foreign missionary fields who were made to give first hand information as to the success of the week-end conference. Tawfik Saleh was an outstanding character of the entire event, because of his ability to speak and largely because of the fact that he was a native of Egypt. His personality dominated much of the work that was done. Tawfik Saleh was born in Egypt, where he attended school, was graduated from Assuit College there, and is now a student in Pittsburgh Seminary. In May he expects, with a group of companions to return to his native land to teach. Others of the missionary field were Doctor Dodd from Persia and now Medical Secretary for the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions; the Rev. Mr. Ralph Ward from

LE PETIT SALON PRESENTS FRENCH PLAY TOMORROW

"Les Femmes Fortes" To Be Given After Much Preparation

After five months of careful and persistent rehearsing under the skillful supervision of Dr. Joseph L. Russo, "Les Femmes Fortes," a three-act comedy by Sardou, will be presented by members of Le Petit Salon on Thursday, March 8, 7:45 p. m., in Ford Memorial Chapel.

The plot of "Les Femmes Fortes" is centered around the inheritance left by the uncle of M. Quentin and Mme. Toupart. However, there is a third heir to this fortune, a brother of Quentin who lives in New York. Quentin visits America to notify his brother of the inheritance in order to make a settlement. When he arrives in New York he finds out that his brother died a month before his arrival, leaving a son, Jonathan, who has meanwhile settled in California. Before returning to France, Quentin sends word to Jonathan to follow as soon as possible.

Quentin is greatly impressed with American ideas and customs and decides to educate his daughters, Jenny and Gabrielle, "a l'Americaine." For this purpose he has brought with him an American governess, Miss Deborah, who is a radical believer in women's rights. Mme. Toupart, who has always regretted that she was a woman, eagerly accepts this new idea and secures Mme. Lahorie to teach them gymnastics and fencing. But Claire, the god-daughter of Quentin, refuses to become a "femme forte" and for this reason is considered old-fashioned by the rest of the household. In teaching his daughters American ideas, Quentin thinks they will be more attractive to Jonathan who he hopes will marry one of them.

Jonathan arrives in France and brings with him the typical traits of an American youth which make him the idol of all the women. He also brings with him a deed given to his father by the rich uncle and which turns over to him the entire inheritance.

This is a crushing blow to the whole family and as a last resort the women try to vamp Jonathan into dividing the inheritance or at least to permit them to stay in the house. He becomes thoroughly disgusted with their bold flirtations and falls in love with Claire who is the only person who has remained a "femme faible." Through her influence he does not drive the family out and finally tears up the deed when she accepts his proposal of marriage.

The play abounds in wit and humor and has aroused unusual interest and curiosity among those who are reading the play. Those who have witnessed the rehearsals predict a great success and without doubt the Chapel will be well crowded. The action and business of the play is such that even those who have but a most elementary knowledge of the French language will be able to enjoy the play throughout.

In view of the many difficulties arising from the presentation of a French play, Professor Russo deserves much credit for his untiring efforts. On account of sickness and other misfortunes, many changes had to be made (Continued on page 3.)

Allegheny debating team achieved a double victory last Thursday evening when Western Reserve University was defeated both at home and on the Cleveland platform. This performance speaks highly of our representatives in the forensic activity and predicts greater success in the triangular debate which is scheduled for Friday evening of this week.

No small factor in the winning of last week's debate on the home platform was the splendid manner in which the student body of the college turned out and backed the team. Perhaps a larger audience was on hand last Thursday evening in the chapel than has attended a similar function for several years. It is hoped that even a larger number of students will be in the chapel on Friday evening and support Allegheny's winning debating team.

Allegheny has indeed enjoyed a distinct privilege in being the hostess to some two hundred guests over the past week-end. Delegates from various colleges and schools of this area were here for the annual missionary convention, and Allegheny may well feel that she has been the center of a most worth-while trend of thought and activity. We hope that these visitors, who are familiar with campus life themselves, will retain an impression of our college which is altogether favorable and desirable.

Some people have remarked that over-organization of the college was a big element entering into the failure of the Washington's Birthday Banquet. At first consideration it hardly seems possible, but think and give the matter second thought!

Granted that the fraternities, social, professional, and honorary have come to stay and are beneficial to the college, we turn to the departmental clubs, and ask their value.

It is found upon a review of the organizations that twenty have the characteristics of a club. These twenty are not all departmental clubs, and many of them, such as the dramatic clubs and glee clubs, are necessary.

There are at least eleven clubs of the departmental nature, two of which are new this year. Are these clubs doing the departments which they represent any material good? Are they representative of the department?

The statement is ventured that these clubs while they may be representative of the department include others not majoring in that department. And as for their doing any material good, what do they do? If no inducement, such as refreshments are offered, no one will turn out for a meeting.

How many are in favor of the faculty taking action to restrict the clubs, and to do away with many useless ones? Think it over!

MANY DELEGATES AT MISSIONARY CONVENTION

Fu Chow, China, at present with the Methodist Episcopal Missionary Board; Mabel Stewart from India; the Rev. Mr. R. A. Blair, recently from China; the Rev. Mr. W. T. Lock, China; the Rev. Mr. W. R. Benninghoff, student secretary of Waseda University in Japan (it is of interest to remember that Mr. Benninghoff was the manager of the Japanese baseball team that made a tour of America last summer); Dr. W. B. Anderson of the United Presbyterian Board, who has been working in India fourteen years; the Rev. Mr. Dicky, India; Dr. Dodd, a surgeon, working in Persia under the Presbyterians. Others who assisted were Mrs. O. P. Akers, representing the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church; Mrs. Cricklow, of the Lutheran church, who has been in the West Indies; and Miss Marian Tucker, traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement.

Saturday afternoon Miss Mable Stewart portrayed the need that the foreign woman has for Christian Missionary effort. Miss Stewart gave examples of women with whom she had been personally acquainted in the high caste and in the low caste of India. From 4:00 to 5:30 an informal reception was given in Hulings Hall to the representatives. "Buck" Wolz, and a girls' trio furnished entertainment. Folders were given out on which the object was to obtain signatures as has previously been done at the Y. M.—Y. W. receptions. Saturday evening the Rev. Mr. Ralph Ward spoke concerning the general topic of missions.

The closing session of the conference was held at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. R. R. Dennison of Allegheny, the new president of the Union for next year told of the aims of the Student Volunteer Movement of Western Pennsylvania. After that an informal discussion was held in which delegates were given the privilege of telling what good the conference had done each one personally.

There were 28 delegates representing Allegheny; 17 from Thiel; Westminster sent 16; Grove City 15; Pitt 11; Geneva 12; Slippery Rock Normal 9; Edinboro Normal 7; Carnegie Tech 6; P. J. C. W. 4; Pittsburgh Seminary 4; and W. and J. 2.

Officers chosen for next year are as follows: President, R. R. Dennison, Allegheny; vice president, J. L. Anderson, Pittsburgh Seminary; vice president No. 2, Margaret McClure, Westminster; secretary, Sylvia Barnes, Allegheny; treasurer, Victor Graham, Grove City.

The meeting place has not as yet been chosen for the next year. Last year the conference was held at Grove City. The delegates met at Allegheny eight years ago.

FROSH DEBATERS

ARE ANNOUNCED

Try-outs for the freshmen debating team held last Tuesday afternoon, February 27, in Bentley Hall resulted in the naming of the following men as the personnel of the organization: G. M. Fitzpatrick, H. A. Bartlett, G. A. Palmer, and J. B. Harrison, Jr., alternate. These men will compose the team which will meet the sophomores in the annual freshmen-sophomore debate on March 15.

The question which will be debated by the two lower classes this year is, "Resolved, that the United States and the several states should establish several courts analogous to the Kansas Industrial Court."

Much interest was manifested in the try-outs by the freshmen. There is considerable debating material in the first year class, and Professors Goodfellow and Skinner, who judged the trials, had no easy task in determining the representatives of the class.

PI DELTA EPSILON

TO HOLD CONVENTION

PROMINENT JOURNALISTS TO BE IN ATTENDANCE

Pi Delta Epsilon will hold its annual convention at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin, on March 9, 10, and 11. At this meeting some very important issues of this national journalistic fraternity will be given consideration.

There are few organizations of similar type which enjoy the dominant position over any branch of college and university activities as does Pi Delta Epsilon over the journalistic field. As in the case of the local chapter, it controls the policies and program of the college publications in practically every instance. Such men as president Warren G. Harding, Earnest Hopkins, P. C. Pack, and H. E. Lobdell are on the roll of Pi Delta Epsilon.

"Lava," wrote the Freshman, "is what you use to shave with"

AND perhaps the Freshman was not so far wrong at that. He may have been thinking of lather that rolled down his cheeks, dried on his face, and erupted his feelings in the process.

Today, there is something better—Williams' differs from any shaving lather you ever used. For Williams' Shaving Cream contains a certain ingredient that is distinctly beneficial to the skin. And Williams' is easier to shave with. It softens whisker resistance with a speed that takes all the tedium out of the shaving process. Meeting in the Delta Tau Delta house on Tuesday evening, February 27, the Modern Problems Club was entertained during the early part of the evening by a very interesting talk by Dr. Akers on the subject of "Insurance." The remainder of the session was given to a general topic discussion.

FACULTY NOTES

Miss Alice H. Spaulding has returned from Cleveland where she attended a conference of Deans of Women and a banquet of the Cleveland Alumni Association.

Professor L. D. McClean accompanied the debating team to Western Reserve University last Thursday.

Dr. Henke has returned from Cleveland where he attended the convention of the National Education Association.

ALUMNI NOTE

Mr. E. A. Smith, Professor of History, Political Science, Economics, and Sociology at Allegheny for 15 years is now in the city visiting. He is now superintendent of public schools at Evanston, Illinois.

ALLEGHENY CHAPTER OF KAPPA PHI KAPPA

Four national officers of the fraternity made a special trip to Meadville to install Zeta Chapter. These men include Dr. R. H. Jordan, professor of education, Cornell University; Dr. A. R. Gilliland, professor of psychology, Lafayette College; Dr. J. G. Stevens, department of education, Dartmouth College, and Prof. A. D. Wright, chairman, department of education, Dartmouth College.

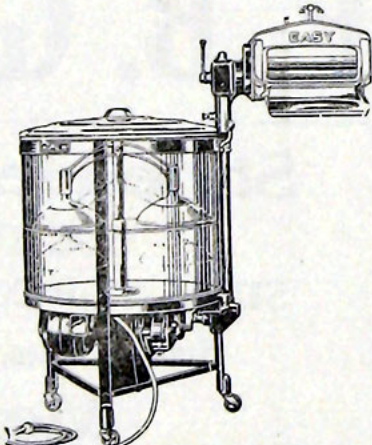

The badge of the fraternity is a very attractive key in the design of an open book across which are inscribed the Green letters Kappa Phi Kappa.

Adopting a very conservative policy, the fraternity has instituted chapters only in colleges which are recognized by the American Federation of Colleges. Kappa Phi Kappa is honorary as well as professional in the sense that membership is open to a carefully selected few students who demonstrate especial promise in the field of education. On its roll are to be found many prominent educators. The Alpha chapter is located at Dartmouth College.

Membership in Allegheny Zeta chapter will be a distinct honor in view of the large number of men pursuing work in the education department here and the relative few who will be elected.

Fraternity Parties FeatureWeek's Social Activities

With college work well established and spring not very far ahead, the local Cleopatras and Campus Napoleons are looking forward to an exceptional social season for Allegheny. Some of the various fraternities on the Hill took advantage of the few days of invigorating spring weather and held some very successful parties on Friday evening of last week. Each fraternity entertained a number of delegates to the missionary convention over the week-end and most of them were very much pleased with fraternity life at Allegheny.

At the close of the first year, October 1, 1922, there had been turned into the College treasury $255,028. This in the face of severe business depression is not an unfavorable showing.

The opening months of the second year showed a considerable falling off. December and January, however, witnessed a favorable reaction, and Mr. Gill is hopeful that no shortage need be reported at the year's close. Such shortage, nevertheless, can only be avoided by the diligent work of the collection office in seeing to it that every dollar of installments now due is promptly paid in.

The hope is held by the College administration and interested alumni that the full rounding out of this $1,250,000 fund may be accomplished by the close of 1924, as there are other undertakings in connection with the enlarged program of the college that are being delayed until the completion of the Second Century Fund. One of the most urgent of these, and the one that will mean most to the whole College body is a new administration building. The congestion in Bentley both at registration and in the class rooms has long been apparent, while the need of fire-proof space for Allegheny's Century accumulation of valuable records is one that dare not longer be disregarded.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. C. J. Conrad and her daughter Jane were the guests of Phi Gamma Delta at dinner last Saturday. Mrs. Conrad was visiting her son over the week-end.

Phi Gamma Delta entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Baker at Sunday dinner March 4.

Miss Ida Hammond spent several days last week with her sister, Louise. Sara Allgood, ex-'24, who is teaching at Bruin, Pa., spent the week-end with Ruth Carroll.

Dr. H. A. Ellis and son Wilford were Sunday dinner guests of Alpha Chi Rho.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett and daughter visited Phi Delta Theta last Sunday. Charles Crandall, ex-'25, who is now attending Western Reserve, visited Phi Delta Theta over the week-end.

Dr. C. J. Ling was a dinner guest of Alpha Chi Rho last Thursday.

rare ability. Two tenor solos by Mr. Bker were very well received. They were "Melisande in the Wood" by Coetz and "Bower of Roses" by Simon.

The pieces played by the orchestra included "Romany Love," "Oriental Eyes," and "Clover Blossom Blues." The orchestra was composed of a cornet, two saxophones, traps and drum, banjo, and piano.

Mr. W. Kinkaid deserves special mention for the adept way in which he handled that difficult piano solo.

Mr. Bollinger in his chalk talk easily won enthusiastic admiration of his audience. In one of his drawings he changed an ordinary fruit variety of peach into one of the Hulings Hall variety. A strikingly characteristic picture of the father of our country was drawn in little longer time than it takes to tell it.

"Buck" Wolz lived up to his reputation as a parlor entertainer. His nimble fingers played up and down the keys at will to accompany his verbal recitations which were both interesting and amusing.

DR. ELLIS DELIVERS PRACTICAL ADDRESS

"If the salt hath lost its savor it must be put in the highway under the feet of men."

"Twenty years from now will you, with your gifts of heritage and training, be in Who's Who?" asked Dr. Ellis. "If you are not, it is because of a lack of your will and choice."

WESTMINSTER NOSES OUT BLUE AND GOLD 26-25

POOR FOUL SHOOTING WAS
CAUSE OF UNEXPECTED DEFEAT

Poor foul shooting cost the Blue and Gold five another setback last Wednesday evening, when the Westminster College squad nosed out the locals 26-25, at New Wilmington. The Alleghenians put up one of the best exhibitions of the popular indoor sport that has been seen on the Mercer county court this season according to witnesses. The down-state collegians presented a long distance offense that was very much above the average. In fact the United Presbyterians scored 8 out of their 9 field goals from beyond the center of the floor.

Braun opened the scoring a moment after the whistle blew with a pretty toss from mid-court. From then on it was a nip and tuck affair with both sides jockeying for the lead. At the end of 20 minutes Westminster led by a 2 point margin, 12-10. Early in the second period the Blue and Gold forged ahead only to lose the advantage because of the frequent inability to locate the net from the foul line.

Clearly and Fawcett were the outstanding luminaries for Westminster, while Miller, Braun and Ross formed the Blue and Gold triple threat. Lineup and summary:
Westminster—26 Allegheny—25

Forward	Miller
Fawcett	Forward
Hetra	Center
Randall	Guard
Wise	Guard
Brownell	Guard

Substitutions: Allegheny—Dale for Brownell, Brownell for Braun. Westminster—Courtney for Houston.

ALLEGHENY MEETS JUNIATA SATURDAY

Allegheny closes its 1923 basketball season this Saturday night when it meets Juniata on the College gym. The visiting team comes here with a good record for the year and should prove to be a worthy opponent for the closing attraction of the season. Juniata incidentally closes its season with the Allegheny game and is also anxious to finish it on the large end of the score. The Huntington team is on a three day trip in which it meets Geneva, Thiel, and Allegheny on successive games.

Juniata had the honor of defeating Grove City this year. This without a doubt classes them as a strong outfit, and a player whose value to the team is not lost after the tip-off. "Lou" Braun is given honorable mention as a guard in this same selection. Following are both the non-league selections:

INTER-CLASS TOURNEY
FINISH IS EXCITING

FRESHMEN-JUNIORS MUST PLAY
OFF TIE FOR TROPHY

In two exciting games the regular inter-class basketball schedule closed last week, with the juniors and freshmen tied for first place. Saturday the juniors defeated the seniors, and the freshmen eliminated the sophomores.

The first game was a rough affair with the juniors showing a marked superiority. The score was 17-8. The contest between the freshmen and the sophomores had to be decided by an extra five-minute period. The first year men had the edge on their rivals in teamwork and this manifested itself throughout the game.
