

November 3, 1937

Dear Mr. Swaps:

How kind of you to remember my birthday. I suppose I ought to be getting out of the way of the younger people. That seems to be the modern philosophy, but somehow I persist in hanging on. It is worth while if it brings me friendly notes such as yours. Thank you for it.

Very sincerely yours

Mr. Gerard Swaps
570 Lexington Avenue
New York City