INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET
AT SHARON TODAY

Track Team to be Entered in Big Meet This Afternoon.

This afternoon the intercollegiate track meet will be held at Sharon, on Buhl Athletic Field. Allegheny's team will leave this morning, accompanied by a large number of students. Of course, it is impossible to foretell the results, but from all indications, Allegheny will make a strong fight for the championship of Western Pennsylvania.

Allegheny's best chances will probably be in the sprints and the pole vault. Captain Van Horn is quite confident that the team will be able to get several first places in the short distances, because of the speed of Doran and Thomas. In the pole vault, L. Wells ought easily to make a first place, if he does as well as he has in practice. From all indications, the best that Allegheny can expect in the weights will be two seconds and a third, as it is likely that Westminster will take most of these events. University of Pittsburgh is confident that their man can win first place in the hurdles, but there is a possibility that Fahr may surprise them in these events as well as in the quarter-mile.

The team, most of whom will go on the trip, is as follows:

100 and 220 yard dashes—Doran, Thomas, Downing.

440 yard dash—Fahr, Metcalf, Van Horn, Lavelly.

880 yard run—Metcalf, Van Horn, Herpel.

One mile run—Metcalf, Van Horn, Hofelt.

Two mile run—Hofelt, Grant.

Hurdles—Fahr, Wells, Doran.

High jump—Wells, Fahr.

Broad jump—Thomas, Zelwis, Kulp.

Pole vault—Wells, Whitney.

Shot put—C. M. Dotterer, W. D. Dotterer, Sheffer.

Discus—C. M. Dotterer, W. D. Dotterer, Kulp, Sheffer.

Hammer—W. D. Dotterer, C. M. Dotterer, Horn.

Relay team—Fahr, Metcalf, Van Horn, Lavelly.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS.

Arrangements for the program for Commencement Week have been fully completed and the speakers for the various exercises secured. Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, one of the bishops elected at the last General Conference, will preach the sermon before the Christian organizations on Sunday evening. At four o'clock of the same afternoon, Dr. Uong, of Foo Chow, China, will lecture in the Chapel on "The Christian and Educational Outlook in the New China." As has been previously announced the Phi Beta Kappa address will be delivered by Dr. W. W. Rogers of Drew Theological Seminary.

STUDENTS RAISE MONEY.

The entire assembly chapel service yesterday was given over to the Athletic Association. As the finances of the association are in very poor condition an attempt was made to raise seventy-five dollars with which to send the team to Sharon for the intercollegiate meet. After short talks by Professor Lee, as well as several other members of the faculty, the various organizations of the college immediately subscribed practically the entire amount. Announcement was also made of the change in the schedule of classes for Saturday so that any who so wished could go to Sharon for the meet.

Klee-O-Kleet Play

"Pygmalion and Galatea" Given as Annual Production of Girls' Dramatic Club.

The gymnasium of Hulings Hall was crowded last night when Klee-o-Kleet, the girls' dramatic club, presented their annual play, Pygmalion and Galatea. The work of last year was fully equalled if not surpassed in every detail of stage arrangement and scenery as well as in the acting itself. The care that was taken in the choice of the cast was in evidence throughout the entire play, as each character in the three act comedy was delineated in a realistic manner.

The story of the play, which is a mythological comedy, largely centers about a statue, which comes to life. The desire of the art patron, Chryso, to purchase the animated statue, still further complicates the plot and distresses the sculptor, Pygmalion. The play is itself very artistic and well suited to a college dramatic club, such as Klee-o-Kleet. As can be readily seen from the names of the chief characters, the scene of the play is in the city of Athens, at the time of its power.

The cast was as follows:
Pygmalion—Marion Carroll.
Leucippe—Arlene McKinney.
Chryso—Lucile Lippitt.
Agesimos—Elizabeth Lord.
Mimos—Barbara Deane.
Galatea—Ruth Dodd.
Cynisca—Clara Hutchinson.
Daphne—Frances Barnhart.
Myrine—Marie Fisher.

All the young ladies in the production have had some previous experience in dramatics. In addition to the skillful training by Miss Alice Colter, the coach, was largely responsible for the success of the play. During the past few months the cast has been holding regular practices in so faithful a manner that every part of the entire performance was given without a single noticeable error or stumble.

As Pygmalion, Miss Marion Carroll gave a true interpretation of the sculptor, who has seen his prayer fulfilled. However, he soon found the life that has come to his beloved statue was the cause of more anxiety and misfortune than of real pleasure to him. In several places this character called for a skill on the part of the actress, which Miss Carroll appeared fully capable to satisfy.

Leucippe, the soldier of the play, was the role played by Miss Arlene McKinney. Although he is on the stage during only a short time, he is very necessary to the development of the plot and needed skillful portrayal. This part of the old Grecian soldier was well acted by Miss McKinney.

In the part of Chryso, the art patron, Miss Lucile Lippitt showed by her words as well as her gestures the real character of the overbearing man of wealth, who regards the sculptor as a mere slave. The work of Miss Lippitt was very commendable, especially in the second act, where the purchase of the animated statue is attempted.

Probably the character which called for the most artistic skill and finish, was the role of Galatea, which was successfully taken by Miss Ruth Dodd. The excellent acting of Miss Dodd was anticipated by all those who remembered her interpretation of Sylvestre, in last year's production. The entire success of the play depended on the successful delineation of this character, about which the plot centered.

Miss Clara Hutchinson and Miss Frances Barnhart were in somewhat similar roles as the wives of the sculptor and art patron. However, there was a clear difference in the characters of the two women, which the author of the play had carefully planned. Their ability to show this contrast in characters made their work worthy of even greater praise, as this was a task for the professional actor.

Myrine, the sister of the sculptor, was an important character in the development of the plot. Early in the play she is deceived by the animated statue, of whose gift of life she is as yet unaware. Miss Marie Fisher showed in an artistic manner all the feeling of indignation and the distress in the sister's voice as she accused her brother of being untrue to his wife.

C. S. MILLER CHOSEN
EDITOR OF THE CAMPUS

H. J. Wieler Chosen Assistant Editor—Report of Committee.

The committee, composed of Professors Akers, Elliott and Swartley, which has charge of the competition for positions of the staff of The Campus has chosen C. S. Miller, '13, editor-in-chief and H. J. Wieler, '13, assistant editor. The associate editors are Miss Elizabeth Lord, '13; Paul W. Johnston, '14, and Miss Ellen Olson, '13. The reporters are Miss Francis Norton, H. J. Hartman, E. J. Hall and Theodore Thoburn.

The report of the judges follows:
The committee on the matter of competition for the editorial staff of The Campus report the elections of those who may edit this college publication for 1912-13.

The material that was submitted was large in amount and of high grade.

It seems in order at this time to direct attention to the fact that six of the nine members elected will be seniors in college next year. This means there will be an unusually large number of vacancies on the editorial board at the end of next year.

The opportunity is open to the students of each class to take part in this competition and the committee is of the unanimous opinion that this is a splendid opportunity for those interested in this line of work.

Much credit is due the present board for the character and style of the college paper this year. The Campus is improving from year to year in its general content and representative character.

The elections were in the following order:

C. S. Miller, editor.
H. J. Wieler, assistant editor.
Elizabeth Lord, Paul Johnston, Ellen Olson, associate editors.
Frances Norton, H. J. Hartman, E. J. Hall, Theodore Thoburn, reporters.
O. P. Akers, W. A. Elliott, S. S. Swartley, Committee.

TENNIS PROBABLY TO BE RECOGNIZED AS A MINOR SPORT.

Sometime during the next week a meeting of the Athletic Association will probably be called. This meeting will be for the purpose of considering a petition of the Tennis Association for recognition by the Athletic Association. About a week ago a meeting of the association was called and at that meeting the Tennis Association made formal application to the Athletic Association asking that they be recognized by the Association, and that tennis be recognized as a minor sport. In order for any action to be taken it was necessary that an amendment to the constitution be made, such an amendment to be presented in writing two weeks before action could be taken upon it. This has been done and the gist of the amendment is that the Tennis Association shall be in no way financially connected with the Athletic Association but shall be recognized and tennis made a minor sport; letters, block A's and T's on either side, will be presented to any tennis player representing Allegheny and winning first place in two dual meets or first or second place in one intercollegiate meet. The members of the Athletic Association seemed to regard this proposition with favor and it is hoped that within a short time Allegheny will recognize tennis as a minor sport.

In the very first scene the two slaves of the sculptor and the art patron are introduced. In these roles, Miss Elizabeth Lord and Miss Barbara Deane also showed the contrast in character and disposition. As Agesimos, the slave of the art patron, Miss Lord was representative of the haughty servant, who disdained the poor slave of a sculptor. On the other hand, Miss Deane as Mimos, the slave of Pygmalion, appeared as a humble man who loves his master and yet is able to gain an advantage over the condescending Agesimos in the argument in the first scene.

President Home

President Crawford Returned Yesterday from General Conference.

President Crawford returned home yesterday morning from Minneapolis, Minn., where he has been attending the sessions of the General Conference of the Methodist church during the past few weeks. His appearance before the student body in chapel yesterday was greeted by enthusiastic cheers from the student body.

The following resume of the conference is taken from the Minneapolis Journal:

The centennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church is now church history. At 2:15 p. m. today the venerable Bishop Henry W. Warren pronounced the benediction which brought to an end the twenty-sixth delegated quadrennial general conference of the church. Late today thousands of delegates and visitors are leaving Minneapolis for their homes in all parts of the world.

Since May 1 the 810 delegates, men of all races and from all countries, have been in session at the auditorium legislating for the church and defining its policy. Church problems have been met and settled. Reports of the progress of the Methodist cause in all fields have been received and analyzed. The work of the church for the next four years has been mapped out. Eight new bishops and two missionary bishops have been chosen. Three bishops of the church have been placed on the retired list.

Leaders of the church said today that the Minneapolis conference had been the most notable in the later history of the church. They declared that the conference had been notable not only for work accomplished, but for the way it had been handled by the men in charge and for the way the delegates have been received by the people of Minneapolis.

Westminster Here

Game with Westminster to be Played Here Next Monday.

If Allegheny is able to defeat the Westminster nine on next Monday afternoon, the season will be closed with a percentage of 1,000. So far all the games have been won and the team is in hopes of making a clean sweep in this last game. The game will be on the Spirella field.

Although Westminster is not usually strong in baseball, they have a good team this year and may surprise the Allegheny men. Captain Townsend has not yet announced the line-up for next Monday but there will probably be but few changes. After the good work that "Red" Robinson did at Carnegie Tech on last Thursday, all the college rooters are anxious to see him in the box. As this will be the last opportunity of the year it is probable that the captain will humor the rooters and let Robinson pitch at least a part of the game, if he is in condition by that time. There will probably be an unusually large crowd of college as well as town people at the game.

DUZER DU PREPARING FOR COMMENCEMENT SHOW.

The Duzer Du cast is at present working hard in preparation for their second presentation of The Comedy of Errors which is to be made on Tuesday of Commencement Week. For this performance the cast is in charge of Miss Alice Spalding. Many radical changes are being made in the method of presentation of several of the leading roles. Rehearsals are being held almost daily and it is a safe prediction that when the presentation takes place it will be successful in every respect. Alan Eekles, in his capacity of president-elect of Duzer Du, will have full charge of the performance.

The Freshmen of Columbia University, in order to distinguish themselves from other classmates are now all using a certain style of pipe with their class number engraved upon it.

The petition circulated among the students of Wooster to the effect that the athletic fee should be increased to five dollars was passed almost unanimously.

CARNEGIE DEFEATED
AT PITTSBURGH, 3-0

Robinson Pitched Excellent Game Against Pittsburgh Scotchmen.

The third game in the Allegheny baseball schedule resulted in a 3-0 victory over Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh last Thursday afternoon. The following is taken from the Pittsburgh Dispatch:

Mainly through the pitching of Robinson Allegheny yesterday defeated Carnegie Tech, 3 to 0. The Tech batters were not able to touch the up-country pitcher at times when a hit meant a run. Moorehead pitched a strong game for Tech. Allegheny secured their first run in the third when Robinson singled, Thoburn sacrificed and Croasmun doubled. Their two tallies in the ninth were due to hard hitting by Robinson, Thoburn, Croasmun and Abbott. Score:

FAREWELL TO SENIORS IN QUILL CLUB.

The last regular meeting of the Quill Club will be held on Monday evening on the campus. As in years past the Senior members of the club will be the honored guests at this final meeting of the club. They will also be the subjects of whatever may be said and done. However, this year the nature of the meeting is being shrouded in the most profound secrecy by those in charge, who promise, nevertheless, that something very novel and impressive in the way of a farewell will be given those members of the club who are about to launch forth into the literary world. Little more can be said of the nature of the meeting as those who know refuse to say any more than that it will be worth while for every Senior who is planning for success in the world to be there and receive the words of advice and wisdom which will be disseminated on next Monday evening.

At this time the formal initiation of new members of the club will also take place. The meeting will be in charge of Miss Edith Rowley and H. J. Wieler and the following will take part in administering the last sad rites of farewell to the Seniors: Miss Ethel Bayard, Miss Florence Griswold, Miss Marian Thomas, W. F. Maxwell, W. D. Dotterer, and C. S. Burwell.

FRESHMEN WIN CLASS MEET.

At the annual inter-class track meet held last Saturday at the Vallonia race track, the Freshman class team was the winner by a large margin, securing 63 points against 33 of the Sophomores. The Juniors were third with 23 and the Seniors last with 10 points.

A number of the centennial neophytes displayed fine form and gave promise of good work in future inter-collegiate meets. Doran in the sprints, Fahr and Metcalf in the middle distances, and Wells in the high jump and pole vault, all made good for the Freshmen.

DISCUSSING PLANS FOR SUMMER Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE.

As Dr. Cobern was unable to be present at the last regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A., which he was expected to lead, the time was spent in discussing the summer conference. This year the conference of the college organization of the Christian Associations will be held at Eaglesmere, a place which has exceptional advantages for such a conference.

During the first part of the meeting all the men who have attended such a conference, told of their experience and the benefit that they had received. Then followed a more general discussion, concerning the conference for this year and the men whom Allegheny would send there. Among those who are likely to go are D. J. Blaisdell, '13, W. D. Dotterer, '13, and C. M. Dotterer, '14. It is quite probable that a number of others will also make arrangements to attend.

Big Minstrel Show

Preparations Made for Good Minstrel Show Next Thursday Evening in Gymnasium.

Everything is ready for the best minstrel show in recent years, which will be held in the Gymnasium on next Thursday evening. During the past few weeks the men, who were competing for the various positions have been hard at work preparing individual stunts and learning comic songs. The Gymnasium will be carefully decorated and the stage and other furnishings will be prepared at the beginning of next week. The show will be directed by R. B. Litten, leader of the Glee Club.

From present indications, there will be the best end-men that have graced an Allegheny minstrel show. "Dutch" Nevins will be there with his usual flow of language and his power of gesture. His famous "monkey faces," which have been suggested as an explanation of the Darwinian theory, will in itself be enough to make the show a success. His partner will be Callahan, an experienced man in dramatics. It has been rumored that "Cal" has at least a dozen jokes in his list that would cause a mental collapse on the part of the audience. The other old man will be "Goldy" Gordon, who has acquired fame as the originator of several fancy steps, which would arouse the envy of the most accomplished minstrel show artist. Deemer, who will be the only new man among the end-men, has two songs probably better for minstrel show work than have ever been heard here. He has had some experience as an end-man and so will be of great assistance to the trio composed of Nevins, Callahan and Gordon. All these men have taken especial care in the preparation of their costumes, and have contrived several forms of dress which are quite original. The interlocutor will be Thomas Hughes.

The work of the end-men will be well set off by the support which will be given them by the chorus. This year the chorus will be composed of between forty and fifty men. In addition to the work of the chorus, the managers of the show have also arranged for at least two solos to be given during the olio by E. S. Weidle and L. B. Angus. There will also be a number of individual stunts which those in charge of the show are keeping well concealed until the time of their presentation. The songs that will be sung this year are excellent, and are in themselves enough to make the show an entire success. There is a possibility that an orchestra will also be on hand to furnish instrumental music.

LE PETIT SALON ENTERTAINED AT THE HOME OF MISS PRENATT.

Miss Grace Prenatt, '12, entertained Le Petit Salon at her home on Walnut Street last Monday afternoon. The program of the meeting was in charge of Miss Adelaide Remler and Miss Prenatt. Each member described some one present, in French, attaching the name of the person described at the end. Dr. Snively then read these descriptions after which those present guessed who had been described. Miss Josette Beebe rendered a vocal solo during the program. The following were elected officers of the club for the ensuing year: president, J. M. Miller, '14; vice-president, Miss Beulah Grauel, '13; secretary, Miss Helen Harper, '13; treasurer, W. D. Dotterer, '13.

Kaldron Printed

Printing of Annual is About Completed—To be Issued on Moving Up Day.

Waving a three-pound lead pencil above his head, sweating great drops the size of eggs, swearing great expurgated Y. M. C. A. oaths, the Kaldron editor, Bim Thomas stamped back and forth through the roaring presses of The Messenger office.

"How's the book coming?" we ask, for we were really interested.

"Get out with your Campus. I'm working."

He made a savage lunge at our person and we barely got our editorial parts out of the door in time.

All of which goes to show that you had better not try to get any information out of the editor. But we should excuse him for denying us an interview, for he is producing the book which is very truly the best ever seen at Allegheny for years and years. This much we learned from the manager, K. R. Kightlinger, who is more leisurely going and professionally addicted to gentlemanly ways.

Later we investigated in the office and saw the printed forms of the coming publication. The artistic quality of the printing and make-up struck us at once. Artist Wiard has been unremitting in his efforts and has made possible an artistic standard heretofore never approached, while the editor has thrown every care to the wind save the editing of his dear, dear Year Book.

More seriously, this article is to announce that the Kaldron is printed, is at present being made up into book form by the Forest City Bindery Company, and will be on sale on Moving-up day unless there is a wreck on the Erie or the binding company bursts a suspender.

The book will be put out in but one style and at one price. The cover, paper and all mechanical features of the book have been chosen with much care and after long deliberation. The price will be one dollar and seventy-five cents, or one dollar with Kaldron subscription slips, which were sold for fifty cents, but which will be honored for seventy-five cents purchase value.

UNDERCLASS BASEBALL GAME.

There has been some discussion during the past week concerning the annual Sophomore-Freshman baseball game. As yet no definite date has been determined upon, although both teams will soon be preparing for the game. Although the Sophomores have lost several of the men who played in the game last year, they hope to be able to fill up these positions with new material. There is an unusually large number of baseball players in the Centennial class, which makes them confident of an easy victory. As usual, all the Varsity men will be permitted to play, if they take some other position than the one which they regularly occupy on the college team.

MANY STUDENTS IN CONCERT BY MEADVILLE MALE CHORUS.

On Wednesday evening of this week the Meadville Male Chorus gave their annual concert at the Academy of Music. Angus, baritone, and Mr. Clarence Sutton, baritone; while the accompanists were Miss Charlotte Marhofer, Mr. Malcolm Dewey, and Dr. I. A. Smith.
