Dear Miss Tarbell:

I have read about half of your book; it had to compete with Mrs. Stratton's "Laddie", which is about as attractive as "Molly Make Believe" or "Daddy Longlegs"

Your book is as attractive as it is useful: having got fully into it, I shall finish it with enthusiasm. What is more, I am going to make use of it. It will help me to carry out more fully, things that I have nibbled at.

On my second reading, I may mark for reviewing to you.

Always one of the best things about an author is the style: yours can't be beat.

Sincerely yours,

W. Nelson
