Dear Miss Tarbell,

I am dis-
appointed, and so is Mrs.
Moores, that her half-
completed engagement
of last week calls her out of the city and makes it impossible for her to accept your invitation for luncheon.
I am assuming in
the absence of further
word from you that I am still to be permitted to accept for myself and meet you at the Cosmopolitan at one.

I tried to reach you by telephone and looked for you at Browne's, both in vain.

Sincerely yours,
Charles W. Moored
