PRICE FIVE CENTS

ALLEGHENY IS DEFEATED BY COLGATE 14-0

TOUCHDOWNS MADE IN FIRST FIVE MINUTES

McCracken's Men, After Poor Start, Outplay Maroon Warriors

A fumble and a freak play in the first five minutes of the game resulted in the Allegheny eleven being held scoreless by Larry Bankhart's warriors at Hamilton, N. Y., last Saturday, Oct. 1.

When the final whistle blew Allegheny was making its way steadily toward the Maroon goal posts and putting up a better fight than Colgate displayed throughout the game. The score was 14-0. It was the second time in the history of the two colleges that they had clashed on the grid. Last season Allegheny held the New York state boys to a 7-7 score. Colgate had the edge on McCracken's proteges this year as it had already played one game of this season's schedule, while this was the first encounter of the year for Allegheny.

After Colgate made their only counters of the game by placing the pigskin over the goal twice in the first five minutes of play, the Blue and Gold team outplayed them in every branch of the game. Allegheny gained more ground than Colgate did in the second half, and did not allow the Maroon eleven to get past the fifty-yard line toward Allegheny's goal. Just as last year, Allegheny made more first downs than its opponents. The game Saturday showed ten firsts for Allegheny and six for Colgate.

The two touchdowns, both made in the first quarter, were put over by end runs. The first run was made around end from the forty-yard line. The second counter was made on a fumble on the part of Allegheny, which was recovered by a Colgate player. A few scrimmages from the place of recovery and another end run from the 20-yard line put the ball across. Both times the ball was put over by Webster, the Colgate captain.

Allegheny's line held well on bucks and at times showed real punch. The Blue and Gold men ran good interference throughout the game. The ends were a trifle slow at first on running down punts, but got going as the game progressed. Murphy was able to get off several good punts.

Colgate's secondary defense succeeded in stopping practically all of the Allegheny plays. McCracken's boys, however, completed two passes out of five, while Colgate was able to complete but one pass, for a short gain, out of seven attempts. The Blue and Gold team threw the New Yorkers for losses on many occasions. Colgate men, at the end of the game, were heard to say that it was really an Allegheny victory, for the Blue and Gold far outplayed the Maroon eleven except for those first five minutes. Had Allegheny played another game before meeting Colgate and had overcome their slight nervousness, common in the first game of any season, it is stated that the result would possibly have been quite different.

WEAVER AND MURPHY

WIN IN ELECTION

VACANCY IN STUDENT SENATE
WILL BE FILLED BY RALPH WEAVER.

R. H. Weaver is to be the new member of the Student Senate as a result of the election held last Saturday. Mr. Weaver represents the Beta Upsilon fraternity, succeeding Ralph Limber, who will not return to school this year. Ralph is a Senior, a member of Phi Beta Phi Biological fraternity and has been very active in forensics during his course.

Daniel J. Murphy was elected to the office of secretary of the Athletic Council by a wide margin in Saturday's election. Mr. Murphy is a Senior, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and a three-year letter man in football. Having wide experience in athletics, "Murphy" is well equipped to fill the job. This office carries with it the right to vote on all captaincies.

WAKEFIELD CONTEST

SCHEDULED DEC. 2

ACTIVITIES IN ORATORY AND DEBATE WILL BE HEAVY
THIS TERM.

Although no definite plans have been made by the Oratorical Association for forensics during the coming season, the usual program with some few minor changes will probably be carried out, according to Dr. Swartley.

The Wakefield Oratorical contest will be held on Dec. 2, this year, in order to give the winner ample time to prepare for the intercollegiate contest. Those expecting to compete in the Wakefield should be preparing their orations at this time.

Two series of intercollegiate debates will be held during the season. Ross, Graham, Fleming, Hickman and Bosick have had intercollegiate experience and will form the nucleus of this year's debating teams. Larson, Henry, Boiling and Weaver, alternates last year, are back in college and should make strong bids for places on the teams this year.

The Philo-Franklin Contest for Freshmen and Sophomores will be held on March 10, 1922. This date was set so as to balance the season. Last year both the Wakefield and Philo-Franklin contests were held during the second semester.

Reorganization of the Philo-Franklin Forum will take place in Forum room at Bentley Hall next Friday at 4 p. m. An added feature of the work of the Forum will be the parliamentary practice, which will be inaugurated as soon as possible. Debating and extemporaneous speaking will be included in the program as in former years.

SOPHOMORE GIRLS

TAKE INDOOR MEET

"ALLEGHENY IN 1950" IS APPROPRIATELY GIVEN BY OLDER CLASS.

Demonstrating more histrionic than athletic ability, the Sophomore girls won sufficient points to take first place in the Freshman-Sophomore meet last Saturday. The Hulings gym, the scene of this historic custom, was well filled by the spectators of the feminine sex.

The Freshman girls were successful in taking four out of the five track events, leaving the older girls but the foot race. The marshmallow, the aerial race, the pulmonary contest and the 100-yard dash were all adjudged to representatives of '25.

It was in the presentation of their stunt, a play entitled "Allegheny in 1950" that the Sophs scored. From the points of originality, appearance and acting, this production was so superior to "Cleopatra of the Nile" that the judges, Miss Spalding, Miss Mitchell and Mrs. Akers, felt justified in awarding first place to the Sophomores.

FORMER PRESIDENT

SPEAKS AT CHAPEL

DR. CRAWFORD PROPHECIES SUCCESS FOR ALLEGHENY IN SPEECH TO STUDENTS.

Allegheny had a taste of the old days last Tuesday, when ex-President Crawford returned to his old haunts and addressed the students in the chapel service. A natural expression of best wishes was his offering to the student body with an explanation of his idea of the perfect college. Dr. Crawford complimented the effort extended in behalf of the endowment campaign, the results of which he maintained would place Allegheny on the list of first-class institutions.

Honorable traditions and ideals we already have, and adequate physical equipment we shall have, and this combined with an efficient and understanding faculty constitutes Dr. Crawford's points for the making of a model school.

He completed his talk by presenting Dr. Hixson with the original key used by Timothy Alden when he first locked Old Bentley.

ANNUAL RECEPTION

TOMORROW NIGHT

Y. M.-Y. W. JOINT COMMITTEE
PLANS NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT FOR STUDENTS.

Have you met the best girl? Have you met the only fellow? If not, next Thursday evening will be your one big chance. This exceptional opportunity will be in the form of the Y. M.-Y. W. reception which will be held in the gymnasium, and to which the entire faculty and general student body are invited. To those who have had the good fortune of attending a Y. M.-Y. W. reception in other years, a mere announcement of the event will suffice. To those who are at Allegheny for the first time, it is suggested that they consult an upper-classman, if they are at all skeptical as to what sort of time will be in store for them.

While no definite announcement has been made by the committee in charge as to of what nature this year's reception will be, assurance has been given that the joint reception will hold to its former standard—if not surpass it.

It has been rumored that the college band will be on the job to give several selections, and also that a male quartet will provide entertainment. The gymnasium will be attractively decorated for the evening. In short, every possible effort is being extended to make this social function one to be remembered by all who have the pleasure of attending.

ALFRED GAME AND FIELD

DAY NEXT SATURDAY

ALLEGHENY GRIDDERS WILL HAVE SLIGHT EDGE ON NEW YORK STATE ELEVEN.

Including both the Freshman-Sophomore field meet and the first football game on Montgomery Field, next Saturday will be a gala day for the student body. Classes will be suspended sufficiently early in the day to enable all to attend the morning program of inter-class activities. As to just what the definite program will be the Men's Senate has not made public. It is, however, certain that the usual trials (Continued on page 4.)

FACULTY MEMBERS

ADDRESS STUDENTS

Y. M. C. A. MEETING REPLETE
WITH HELPFUL ADVICE TO FRESHMAN.

Opening with a rousing song, the Y. M. C. A. started another year of service last Wednesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. room in Cochran Hall. After a few introductory remarks made by President Neely and a Scripture reading by Mr. Mook, the meeting was turned over to those men present who represented the faculty. The dominant thought of each speaker was to welcome the new men of the college, and to offer to them suggestions and friendly advice—not as faculty members, they wanted to emphasize, but as sincere friends and fellow-Alleghenians. Each speaker commented on the strong influence for which the Y. M. C. A. has held in college life. Prof. Russo won his way into the hearts of the men by saying that he, too, was a freshman, and felt just as green as did the ordinary frosh. He added that he coveted the earnest friendship of every man of the college. Dr. Henke made a deep impression on the audience by saying that it was through the influence of a college Y. M. C. A. that he was converted from a college life of laxity to one with a deeper purpose and more definite goal. Dr. Schultz emphasized the fact that he wanted to be on more than simply speaking terms with the new students, and asked them to consider him as one of them. Dr. Darling based his remarks on the Scriptural text of the evening, and explained how necessary spiritual and mental food are to our development. Mr. Gill, assistant treasurer of the college and a graduate of this college remarked that he was glad to be back at his Alma Mater, and hoped to win the friendship of the present Alleghenians. The meeting was closed by a benediction pronounced by Dr. Littell.

CONCERTS BEGIN

ON OCTOBER 28

Series of Five Concerts Headed by Indian Prima Dona

For the first time in the history of the college a high-class musical course is offered, one which would do credit to any large city, where the price would at least be double what is asked in Meadville. A short analysis of the five numbers offered will show what a rare opportunity is given to the Meadville public in general and the student body in particular.

The opening number, Oct. 28, is the unique recital by Charles Wakefield Cadman, America's most distinguished composer and a fine pianist, assisted by the Princess Tslanina, a full-blooded Indian prima donna. Let no one imagine that this is a vaudeville number, because an Indian appears in native costume. The Princess is a remarkable singer. Mr. Cadman has made a specialty of Indian music. His best known compositions are based on Indian melodies. The program will include a short talk on Indian music by Mr. Cadman.

On Nov. 21, there will be a recital by the well-known Victor artist, Miss Olive Kline, and the harpist, Miss Mildred Dilling. Miss Kline is much the same type of singer as Miss Elsie Baker, who delighted a college audience at commencement a year ago. Let anyone who is skeptical of her ability as a singer listen to a few of her Victor records. Miss Dilling is one of the best harpists before the public today. Her appearance with Miss Kline will give an added charm and variety to the program.

The third number comes Jan. 20, a program by the Chamber Music Art Society of New York. The next is a recital by Guy Maier and Lee Pattison on Feb. 21. Many of the student body heard both these ensembles in Meadville last year. The only thing necessary to say about them is that it was the tremendous success of last year that caused the committee to include them on this year's course; and the committee is sure that it made no mistake.

The course will come to a fitting climax on March 31, when the artist will be Mr. Clarence Whitehill, the most famous baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York. For seven seasons Mr. Whitehill has been one of the mainstays of that great organization. There is none better to be heard anywhere.

PRINCESS TSLANINA,

Who will appear at Ford Memorial Chapel on Oct. 28.

GREEK LETTER FRATS

PLEDGE SIXTY-FIVE MEN

Men's Rushing Season Is Practically Complete

The past rushing season among the several fraternities of Allegheny was one of the most successful that has been known in years. The open rushing rules were observed, and the season began the first week of the school year. Each fraternity found abundance of good material among the Freshmen and the different organizations are apparently well satisfied with their choice of men. The rushing season was unusually quiet and no signs of rivalry between the Greek Letter men was in evidence.

Each fraternity officially announces their pledges in this column as follows:

Wedding Bells Are Result of Many Love Affairs Starting In College, Says Psychologist

"Love affairs begun at college and which go through to wedding bells have every reason to be lasting," said a university psychologist.

"Young persons in a large university have plenty of chances to meet sex and when a selection is finally made there is little chance for a mistake. Affections that survive four years of constant opportunity are very apt to be lasting affections."

If statistics mean anything the record at the university is at least proof that at Kansas, at any rate, such psychology is sound. Out of more than five hundred marriages between K. U. graduates in the history of the school there has not been a single divorce, according to available records. A K. U. graduate of the '70s, who was a member of the faculty and has kept in close touch with graduates who met and wed through Mount Oread days, is authority for the statement that Cupid shoots straight and hard at the university.

There are seventy-five hundred graduates of the university, and of this number approximately one thousand have intermarried. This means five hundred "all K. U." couples. These figures include only graduates of the university. And it is believed that figures for the numerous former students who did not take degrees would show the same percentage of marriages of the lasting type.

However, the figures on K. U. graduates do not indicate that a college education insures a happy marriage. Many graduates who have married others than K. U. graduates have been divorced. It seems that it is only the "all K. U." knots that have proven absolutely fast.—Daily Kansan.

WHO WILL BE NEXT?

One bright morning in the middle of July, Mr. Wayne Gordon, ex-'22, left his home in Pittsburgh, bound for Minneapolis, Minn., where he became the guest at the home of Miss Marjorie Abbott, '22, who was then entertaining Miss Anne Lowry, '23.

Owing to the extreme heat, Miss Lowry and Mr. Gordon fell suddenly ill with Dan Cupid's Fever and on July 15th another college romance culminated when the nuptials were (Continued on page 4.)

THORBURN CLUB HOLDS

OPENING MEETING

YEAR'S PROGRAM WILL INCLUDE BOTH INSTRUCTIVE AND SOCIAL MEETINGS

With a good-sized attendance, the Thorburn Club held its first meeting of the year last Thursday evening in the chapel oratory. The primary object of the meeting was to organize and outline the work for the year. President Boynton made an informal address of welcome, and suggested a working plan for the year's program. Along with the bi-monthly business (Continued on page 4.)

ORGANIZED CHEERING.

Without the use of the Freshman Bible and with only one man to direct the cheering at the Alfred Game, Allegheny displays her lack of organization in yells. The task is too much for one man alone to accomplish in so little time.

Yell leaders are chosen so that the efforts of several hundred students can be directed into one line of support. When the various sections of the bleachers fall in their cheering, the entire effect is ruined, and students might as well remain quiet as far as the actual support to the team is concerned.

The Freshmen have not had access to the yells as yet. Is it too much to ask for the co-operation of the upper-classes in seeing that every FROSH knows the yells for a Friday morning Rally?

PLAN OR DRIFT?

Speaking before the members of the Sophomore class, President Burton, of the University of Michigan, recently asked a question which every student should take to heart and attempt to answer himself:

Do you drift through your college life, or do you plan? A boat on a calm sea without sails or oars, a man without a definite goal, a person who has no ambition to better himself, mentally or physically—these are all drifters. They regard life as just so many years, during which their sole aim is to "get by" to the satisfaction of their own personal wants and immediate needs, and nothing more.

There is another class, however, who hold an entirely different view of life. They look ahead, they outline a course of action, they have a goal. These planners are generally successful whether in college, where they have formed a definite mode of study and applied themselves diligently through their entire course, or in practical life, where they have been faithful to their ambition, and have permitted nothing to take the place of it. Planning and drifting are as different as black and white. In which class are you?

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

OUTLINES SCHEDULE

PROFESSOR HAMMETT CALLS ATTENTION TO ENTIRE YEAR'S PROGRAM IN CHAPEL TALK.

In a talk in which he outlined the entire year's athletic schedule, Prof. Hammett spoke before the chapel audience on last Friday. He first described in detail the chances in the Colgate trip, and then elaborated further upon the entire grid season. Discussion of plans for the basketball and track season was followed with a few words regarding the compulsory training for the under-classes. Announcement of intercollegiate wrestling and boxing teams came as a surprise to many of the student body.

Prof. Hammett said that although the team averaged 171 pounds to the man, and was largely of veteran material, too much confidence should not be indulged in. With the new system of playing introduced by Coach McCracken, it will take time to develop the eleven to its full playing power. It should also be remembered he maintained, that all Western Pennsylvania teams are far above their average. He cited the Pittsburg Dispatch in its statement that the Grove City squad is 50 per cent. better than last year.

The speaker then took up the schedule, mentioning the relative strengths of the various teams, so far as he knew them. Most of them, old rivals, he spent little time on them. Alfred University, he said, has been developing its teams steadily since the time that the Gold and Blue was accustomed to defeat them by large scores. Thiel was beaten by them last season. The game with the University of Buffalo, at Erie, should be an interesting contest. What the ability of the New York team is, is not known, but there is certain to be intense rivalry between the teams. Enough Alleghenians should attend through the medium of the special cars to considerably aid our eleven.

With reference to the basketball season, Dr. Hammett announced that the pre-season training, which will start on Oct. 17th, will be in charge of Captain Kofford. He predicted an excellent quintette with the wealth of material on hand.

Something novel is assured in the way of the track season, when the quarter-milers assemble next week for cross-country training. If the group is capable of it, the Athletic Council has promised intercollegiate meets, for which minor "A's" will be awarded. Instead of the usual two, the management assures the student body of four dual meets next spring, besides the Penn Relays and the Inter-Scholastic. It is understood that this year it will be possible to grant sweaters to the letter men in all sports, to be decorated with "A" for the first award and a bar for each successive one.

The latter moments of his talk were largely for the benefit of the Freshmen and the Sophomores, with an emphasis laid on the required training. There will be the usual boxing, wrestling, basketball and calisthenics training, in addition to the Varsity squads.

They say Dr. Akers doesn't use good English. He says "pie are square," when it should be "pie is round."

"I'll ring for Maud to bring a fresh jug of water," said the professor's wife.

"You doubtless mean a jug of fresh water," corrected her husband. "I wish you would pay more attention to your rhetoric; your mistakes are curious."

Ten minutes later the professor said: "That picture would show to better advantage if you were to hang it over the clock."

"You doubtless mean above the clock," she returned quietly. "If I were to hang it over the clock we could not tell the time. I wish you would be more careful with your rhetoric, my dear; your mistakes are curious."

TOUCHING.At first she touches up her hair
To see if it's in place,
And then, with manner debonaire,
She touches up her face.
A touch of curls behind her ear,
A touch of cuffs and collars,
And then she's off to Daddy dear,
To touch him for ten dollars.

most ancient press in the world. Its first book is dated 1361. The first press at Oxford ceased working in 1486-87, but ever since 1585—that is, for 335 years—the press as it is known today has been in continuous activity.Ever since 1676 the Oxford press has issued yearly an almanac, and he who possesses a complete set is a much to be envied man.World's Work.Dickinson College has received the pal Church in its contemplated financial campaign for $300,000, which when completed will be supplemented by an additional $150,000 by the Rockefeller Foundation.I'm the Guy.I'm the guy who is always in a hurry. If anyone is in my way, I push them aside. Why shouldn't I?

Haven't I got as much right to go where I please as anyone? If a group of girls are going through the door into chapel, and they go too slow to suit me, why I push right through them. Haven't I the right to, I can't wait all day on them. And also when I want to get my mail at the P. O.
I generally manage to get up to my box, no matter who's in the way. One day when I was in a hurry to get to class, I crowded a girl off the sidewalk. What's courtesy to me, I'm looking out for Number One. Look me over. You see me often.

business for which they are trained.'07—"You are always behind in we went with our girl to church. The minister during the course of the sermon made a most eloquent appeal for helping out the poor heathens of Africa.After the sermon the plate was passed. When we had successfully passed this ordeal our girl leaned over

and in a loud stage whisper asks:
"Didn't the minister say the collection was for the poor African savages who don't even have clothes?"Terribly embarrassed at this rather indelicate question we managed between our blushes to gargle a "Yes."
Even this did not exactly satisfy our girl for she leaned over a minute later and asks again in that same confidential whisper:"Well, if they haven't any clothes, what was your idea in dropping a pants button in the plate?"

LAFAYETTE-PITT.With a 6-0 victory over Pitt tucked away in their belts, the Lafayette College eleven will bear considerable watching in the eastern football campaign this fall. Incidentally, the East-onians are coached by Jock Sutherland, a protege of Pop Warner, and an All-American guard in 1914.PITT SYSTEM.The Warner system of playing football has been brought to such a high degree of efficiency by Pop Warner, University of Pittsburgh coach, that his former pupils are now in great demand as coaches by many colleges in various sections of the country. Jimmy De Hart, All-American halfback at Pitt in 1919, has been handling the destinies of the University of Georgia's gridgers for the past two years. This season his team journeys to Cambridge, Mass., for a tilt with Harvard."Jock" Sutherland and "Pud" Seidel, former Pitt celebrities, are now handling the reins at Lafayette. Mc-Cracken, of last year's team, is coaching here; "Chalky" Williamson and his teammate, Soppitt, of the wonderful 1915 team, are coaching at Grove City, while "Katy" Easterday, one of the best all-around athletes ever graduated at Pitt, is assistant coach at Bethany.Geneva's 7-0 defeat at the hands of Tech last Saturday indicates the unusual strength of the Covenanters this season. Allegheny will meet the Beaver Collegians in the last game of the season, Nov. 19.Eddie Wilson, who will be remembered as a member of the Erie Central High track team, is lying in Higgins Hospital, Allegheny, N. Y., suffering from a slight concussion of the brain.
Wilson entered St. Bonaventure College this fall, and was injured in practice.Dickinson revealed a powerful attack in her game with Juniata last Saturday, rolling up a total of 45 points on the visitors.Grove City made her debut by defeating Thiel 6-0. A week ago Tech defeated the Lutherans by a 42-0
score.W. and J. continued the good work exhibited in the Bethany contest and romped all over Bucknell, amassing a total of 26 points to the visitors none.Advance dope declared Bucknell to be a world-beater.Baldwin-Wallace College took Westminster into camp by a 20-0 score last Saturday. Westminster appears woefully weak this year, although the material is fair and new coaches are handling the men.Members of the football team are loud in their praise of the splendid treatment accorded them during their recent visit in Hamilton, N. Y. Hospitality seems to be a byword at Colgate.Harvard experienced considerable difficulty in defeating Holy Cross.
Buell, Harvard quarterback "booted"
a 39-yard drop kick for the only score of the game.For the first time since 1906, when the Cubs and White Sox won the pen-nants in their respective leagues, will a city world series be played. Thisyear the Yankees and Giants lock horns in the Polo Grounds. Players' shares of the receipts promise to be larger than ever before.Both New York teams are graced with a large number of heavy hitters.
Incidentally the Meusel brothers, Bob with the Yankees, and Emil with the Giants, are extraordinary sluggers.ALFRED GAME.

of wits and muscles will be held as in former years.Not a great deal is known of the strength of the Alfred University eleven, which is Allegheny's opponent on next Saturday afternoon. The Blue and Gold has met the New York team but twice in the history of the two institutions. Although both of these conflicts were won by large scores, that means little in a comparison of the two teams. Some of Al-fred's games of last year with opponents of ours indicate that that team has been gradually raising its standard of ball. The Thiel College eleven, which held our last year's team to a tie score, secured but one touchdown
against the Alfred team.Allegheny will have the same advantage over the upper New York state eleven that Colgate had over us.
McCracken's men have played their first game, the Empire State men have not. Having had the opportunity of sifting out its plays and developing its defensive tactics under strain, the Blue and Gold should present a smoothly-running eleven against Alfred.The morning's events will occasion
as much interest as the afternoon's.
If history is a criterion. The tug-of-war, the obstacle race and the tie-up will probably be found in the list of events. The wrestling match, abolished last year, may again be found.
The soccer game will require a substitute since no practice has been held this year and the Freshmen would be at a woeful disadvantage. Definite arrangements will be announced later in the week, regarding regulations and judges.THOBURN CLUB MEETING.

and spiritual meetings, it is intended that several social functions be given.
The regular meetings will consist of addresses by recognized authorities on some topic of interest. A special effort will be made to have all subjects ones of practical value. This effort will be extended with the aim of making the Thoburn Club attractive to not only those students who are interested in ministerial and missionary work, but to any student who is interested in the many problems which confront the modern Christian. A special invitation to attend or join the club is given to the men of the Freshman class.CROSS COUNTRY.About twenty men have signified their intention of reporting to Leader
Kirschner of the cross country squad.
Several members of last year's track team are also expected to come out in a short time. Practice will be started this week. The runners will meet at the gymnasium every afternoon at 4:30.There's a difference between rising to the top and going up in the air.Along with the new graduate school of business administration at New York University has been established a bureau of business research. This bureau will place the facilities of the school at the service of business men and public officials.L'il Opera—"Have you seen Car-
