My dear Miss Tarbell:

For your information beg to advise you that my dear beloved mother is passing away very quickly. At present I am earning a very small salary, and I am doing my very utmost to get a better position, but do not seem to be successful in securing one.

The few dollars I get all go to my mother and the doctor.

Armour & Co of Chicago have opened a new

Office at 130 Broad, NYC and are putting new help on every day, but am informed they only put on men that are properly introduced by a letter of introduction to some Official.

Can I am impose upon your good nature?

Will you be kind enough to write to Miss Jane Adams of Chicago for a letter of introduction for me to one of the Officials in New York City.

Miss Adams has known

a wonderful influence in Camp.
Miss Adams could get a letter from one of the Officials in Chicago, and in turn it could be turned over to me.

I want to do my utmost to move to the Country where I think my dear beloved Mothers life could be saved.

I am going to night school studying grammar and am trying if I can do something to help
my mother along in this great world.

If she should die I would

Good of my mind.
Hoping to hear from you
as soon as possible and
thanking you again
for your many many kindness.

Remain
Very respectfully Yours
