DR. PRESTON BRADLEY.

On any Sunday morning about thirty, a person walking past the Pantheon Theater, Chicago, is astonished at the crowds surging in and about the entrance. He finds the street crowded with people coming from all directions and all going to this one place.

This is a typical scene when Dr. Preston Bradley occupies his pulpit in the Peoples Church of Chicago, at the Pantheon Theater. He preaches there every Sunday morning at eleven o'clock to a packed house made up in a large degree of practical, every-day business men. His ability to attract and hold these men Sunday after Sunday until even standing room is at a premium, is the surest possible evidence of his power as an orator.

Few men in the city of Chicago are more in demand as speakers before special gatherings than Doctor Bradley. Last year he filled eighty-five engagements before leading clubs and organizations of the city. He is thoroughly wide awake and all of his talks are up-to-the-minute discussions of live topics. He has traveled extensively and is a frequent contributor to the leading magazines and newspapers.

Doctor Bradley is a member of the Authors Club, London, England, the Chicago Press Club, the Chicago Playgoers Club, the National Arts Club of New York, the Drama League of America and a life member of the Chicago Art Institute.

He is a firm believer in the Lyceum and by his clear, forceful presentation of present-day problems has already won an enviable reputation in that field. His extensive experience as pastor, lecturer, writer and traveler has given him a wide list of subjects from which the committees may choose.

THE REVEREND McILVAINE ADDRESSES Y. M. MEMBERS

SPEAKER TAKES THE NINETEENTH PSALM AS TEXT AND DELIVERS INTERESTING TALK.

"To see God in everything about us" was the subject of the talk given by the Rev. MacIrvine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, when he addressed the Y. M. C. A. members in their room last Wednesday evening. The subject was prompted in the mind of the Rev. Mr. MacIrvine by the death of an intimate friend who did find God in everything around him. The text chosen was the nineteenth Psalm, which the speaker divided into three parts: The book of nature, the book of revelation, and the book of human life. During the talk he quoted "The Life of Christ is the Human Life of God," from Henry Van Dyke. Mr. Gill offered the benedictory prayer.

The dance "after the battle" was thoroughly enjoyed by many—including some college people. Irvin's original pep orchestra sure made things lively and an exceptionally live crowd helped the occasion.

Father Hands Out Advice to His Son

WHY BE AN ORDINARY MAN?

Note: The following is taken from a letter written by a vice president of the National Bank of Commerce, New York.

"As long as a boy is in school, he has no idea what life really is. When he gets out of school and meets other men in competition, he learns what a serious piece of business life is. Then a man is tried and the weaklings are sorted out from those made of sterner stuff. The quality of men is tried out in competition.

"Business is an intensive course of doing your level best every day.

"My experience with men is that almost any man can do wonderful work once in a while and a great many men can do ordinarily good work all the time, but the man who succeeds is the man who can do exceptionally good work regularly.

"A great many men fall into the error of thinking because they have done a good piece of work they can rest on their oars for a while. The mill can't grind by water that has passed; a sustained effort must be made—spasmodic people do not get anywhere in the long run.

"I have often wondered at the foolishness of people who do not put forth every ounce of effort that is in them. Do you ever stop to think what a slight difference there is between the leaders in any line of industry and the men in the second line? The difference is usually very slight. The difference in the reward is so great that I often wonder why the people in the second line do not put on a little extra effort and reach the first line.

To illustrate. The difference between a man like myself, who cannot sing, and a man who can sing moderately well is great. Let us say that the difference is 50 points. The difference between the man who can sing moderately well and a very ordinary professional singer is not so great—say only 10 points. The professional singer gets paid for his effort, while the man who sings moderately well must do so only for his own amusement. The world will not give him anything at all for his singing.

"To continue—the difference between an ordinary professional singer and one of the high-class singers is less than the previous gap. Let's say it is only 5 points. But the high-class professional singer will probably get 15 times the salary of the ordinary professional singer. To cap the climax, the difference between a high-class professional singer and a leader like Caruso is so slight that an ordinary person could not even tell the difference. Let us say that difference is only one-tenth of one point, but Caruso probably got 100 times what other professional singers got.

"It is the same thing in business. The difference between leading executives and ordinary executives is so small that you probably could not tell the difference, but the leaders are paid 10 and 20 times the salaries of the ordinary executives.

"The moral of the above is that the world will pay a tremendous price for just that Thin Shade Beyond what the Ordinary Man gives—so why be an Ordinary Man? Why not put out every ounce of effort you have in you? Do your honest best 24 hours a day.

"Hard work does not need to be drudgery. A man takes pride in his work and gets pleasure out of it. It is a lot of satisfaction to know that you are doing something worth while and doing it well. As a matter of fact, this is a more lasting form of satisfaction than any I know."

ROMANS ARE DISCUSSED BY DR. C. F. ROSS TUESDAY

The Daily Life of the Romans" was discussed by Dr. Ross at the Classical Club meeting in the Classical Club Room of the Library on Tuesday night, Nov. 1. Old coins, written tablets, style for writing, lamps and other articles of daily use, which Dr. Ross secured when he was in Rome, were shown.

The following members have been taken into the club this year: Catherine Krider, Mary Dorworth, Edith Briggs, Dorothy Rose, George Braun, Martin Gerhardt, Elton Hickman and R. W. Pratt.

INTERESTING SPEECH GIVEN TO STUDENTS

C. W. SHAW, OF LIFE SERVICE COMMISSION, EXPLAINS THE ALARMING SITUATION EX-ISTING IN THE U. S.

"More money is spent in one year on candy and cosmetics than on education in all of its forms," declared Mr. C. W. Shaw in his talk in chapel on Thursday morning. He showed from statistics that the number of cigarettes sold in the United States in one year, if placed end to end, would encircle the world thirty times.

The American people are not training their intellectual powers but are spending all of their energy and ability on useless and merely transitory pleasures. It is because of this the unusual that the present wave of tinuous seeking for excitement and crime is sweeping the country. During the last year three times the number of crimes were committed in Chicago than were committed in the much larger city of London.

The Life Service Commission, of which Mr. Shaw is a member, is working in conjunction with the Foreign and Home Missions, the churches and the schools. There are too many misfits in this world and so it is the purpose of this commission to help each young man and woman of today find the work for which he or she is particularly suited. There are responsibilities for every one in this world, and if each one assumes his share, they will be a burden to none.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB IS ON COMPETITIVE BASIS

JOHN A. M. STEWART WILL DIRECT ORGANIZATION, WHICH IS UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF CHASE GAGE.

Following the tryouts held in the oratory of the chapel Tuesday, Nov. 1, thirty-two men were selected for competitive positions on the Men's Glee Club. With some fifteen of last year's men back in school and with the new chosen material, this organization will undertake one of the largest programs ever attempted within recent years.

Letters have been received at this early date from nearby cities, desiring engagements of the club, and it is the statement of those in charge that some concerts will be given before the holidays.

Chase Gage has been chosen leader and J. A. M. Stewart, director.

The personnel of the club is:
First tenors—Ware, Baker, Troupe, Greenlund, Carlson, Fleming, Parker and Alker.

Second tenors—Canby, Swanson, Johnson, Steele, Challener, Coleman, Crandall, Knapp and Zurbach.

First bass—Hines, Davies, Wolz, Cole, Dundon, Brownell, Bollinger, Shaffer and Sigendall.

Second bass—Boynon, Bates, Maitland, Bozic and LeClair.

DEBATING SOCIETY HEARS INTERESTING DISCUSSION

MESSRS. LEEPER AND CUSICK WIN IN PHILO-FRANKLIN DEBATE.

In debating the question, "Resolved, That the United States should immediately adopt a program for the reduction of armaments," the negative team, composed of Messrs. Cusick and Leeper, won easily over opponents at the meeting of the Philo-Franklin Forum in Bentley Hall last Friday afternoon.

About 100 students were present and after the debate wide interest was displayed in open discussion of the question. Messrs. Braun and Hummer, who composed the affirmative side, vigorously upheld their arguments during the debate, but it is said they could not break down the negative contentions of their opponents.

For the first time in many years, the Philo-Franklin Forum has enjoyed standing room only attendance. This has been attributed to the reorganization of the society this year. The

Bishop Smith Delivers Inspiring Sermon At Allegheny's Vesper Service

Facts Regarding Life in India Were Emphasized by Noted Speaker

Bishop H. Lester Smith, D. D., at the vesper service on Sunday, said that those who are strong in the United States should bear the burden of the weak. He painted the background of the world's need by telling what he had just seen in India. Mrs. Ethel Moore Miller gave the offertory solo, "In My Father's House are Many Mansions." Mr. Charles Shaw presented the members of the Life Service Team which visited the college at the first of the week.

A renaissance is taking place in India at the present time, the spirit of God is working. While a first impression shows that the country's greatness lies in her past, the shrines of other religions are crumbling and the only buildings now seen under construction are Christian. The problem is to unwrap the wrappings in which the souls of the present generation in India are incased to live stronger and better lives. Men fail to realize that the plant depends, not upon the color of the ground to come to its usefulness and fruitage but upon the life in the plant. The people of India have this potential life, they have the aspirations and need education. Christian belief that each individual has every power God has given men everywhere and they have the faith that they are to preach God and his salvation to all men.

Christianity causes discontent, unrest and revolution. England took unrest to India in her superior educational and governmental systems. Christianity has forced other religions to say that their idols and degrading elements of worship must go. Many Indians are converted to the idea and ideals of Christianity, but hold that it is too western to become the new religion of India, without which the nationalist leaders say India can advance no farther.

India has one-fifth of the human race within its boundaries; it has been influenced by single men more than any other country on earth. It now waits for Christian leaders and teachers. Unless educational facilities and leaders are greatly increased the Christian churches will be open to the charge of breeding illiteracy, which has been laid at the door of Catholics in Mexico and South America in many places, the Lord's Supper cannot be given for fear the people will consider it mythical and superstitious from lack of education.

Bishop Smith said that those in this country who are strong ought to bear the burden of the weak. Every person's life should somehow be hitched up to the purpose of bettering life. The question is where will an individual life count for most in improving the world of tomorrow. No one wants to be a parasite. But tomorrow will not be a better day unless

DR. SHERWOOD EDDY TO BE AT ALLEGHENY

NOTED RELIGIOUS WORKER WILL ADDRESS STUDENTS SOON.

Dr. Sherwood Eddy, who is one of the foremost men in the Y. M. C. A. field today, will come to the college on December 5, under the auspices of the local organization, with a message of vital importance and deep inspiration to all students.

This well-known religious worker comes to us with an enviable record. From 1896 to 1911 he filled the position of national secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in India. In the fall of 1911, he was appointed secretary of the International Commission of the Y. M. C. A. workers working among students of Japan, China, India, Russia and the near east. During the war he was among the soldiers in Europe.

Dr. Eddy received his Ph. B. at Yale in 1891, M. A. at Wooster, M. A. at Yale in 1916 and LL. D. at Wooster in 1916, and is the author of "The Awakening of India," "The Students of Asia," "The New Era in Asia" and many magazine articles.

Besides the chapel period being given over to Dr. Eddy, various meetings are being arranged for the day in order that he may reach all of the students.

CHESS CLUB MAKES PLANS FOR THE SEASON

R. P. AGNEW IS ELECTED PRESIDENT, W. R. FLINT, VICE PRESIDENT AND T. L. ROSS SECRETARY.

Definite plans for the year were formulated by the Chess Club, which held its first meeting of the year at Cochran Hall last Wednesday night. The possibility of intercollegiate tournaments was discussed, the members deciding to prepare themselves for such events by frequent practice. A letter was read from the Pitt club, which extended a challenge for a tournament to be held in the near future. This challenge will be met and trips will be made to Tech and Geneva as well.

The following men were elected to office for the year: R. P. Agnew, president; W. R. Flint, vice president, and J. L. Ross, secretary-treasurer. J. Houser, McQuiston, Cartwright, Fisher and Beecher were elected to membership.

Although the club was organized only last year, it is progressing rapidly and can promise some excellent tournaments to those interested in the game.

All men wishing to petition the club for membership are requested to hand in their names to any of the officers of the club. The ability to play chess is the only requirement.

COLLEGE BAND GAINS PUBLICITY FOR ALLEGHENY

ORGANIZATION WILL BE EQUIPPED WITH UNIFORMS, SWEATERS AND CAPS.

That Allegheny has a band which would rank high even in professional circles was the opinion quite generally expressed by those who heard its work at the game last Saturday afternoon in Erie.

The band is preparing some very heavy classical pieces for concerts which will be given at later dates; the manner in which the material is already being handled clearly indicates that the organization is composed of very efficient musicians. The sections are not only very well balanced, but as a result of frequent sectional practice, each section has developed an exceptional technique. Through the able directing of the leader, H. M. Maitland, expression has been attained which is of no amateur kind.

The following men compose the organization: Cornets—W. B. Gealy, C. W. Crandall, K. A. Smith, I. B. Estep, S. W. McKinley and A. C. Scourfield. Clarinets—R. H. Kelly, H. R. Lillie and H. C. Baum. Horns—P. H. Shultz, C. A. Bollinger, O. M. Cornell and E. B. Eaton. Piccolo—W. W. Phillips. Saxophones—G. W. Eddy, L. M. Shaffer and G. O. Sigendall. Trombones—H. B. Knapp, H. E. Sterling and M. E. Russell. Baritone—W. H. Maitland. Bass, C. W. Havice. Drums—W. Kinkaid, M. L. Merritt and W. A. Bird.

Uniforms consisting of white sweaters and navy caps have been ordered and will soon be received. The sweaters are of very good grade material and will bear the neat monogram of "A.C." across the chest. It was hoped that the shipment would arrive in time for the engagement last Saturday, but the time required for their making was longer than expected.

EDITORIAL

On Saturday, November 29, Allegheny plays its final game of the season with Geneva on the home field. It is reported that a large number of alumni will return for this game. While there has been no definite plans made for this game the spirit will run high on that day. The alumni present will look for a victory, they will also look over the college as their Alma Mater and its heritage. They will not see it solely as this or that organization. Why not some form of entertainment for them? A gathering, a social, an Alumni Dance wouldn't seem entirely out of place. Allegheny would not be alone in fostering such an occasion for almost every school has alumni functions. It could do no other harm than to bring the student body in closer touch with the alumni, cementing their relations and interests with the college. The Campus advocates nothing specific regarding social functions, and yet, it cannot fail to see the benefit from celebrating the home-coming game in honor of those who have so loyally supported their Alma Mater.

Several letters have been received from members of the student body declining certain institutions in the college. Undoubtedly, the writers wished them to be published in the columns of The Campus. This staff could not permit for the reason that (1) the letters were anonymous, being signed only by member of the class of '25 and '23, (2) they were of too radical a nature, and (3) one letter was over 300 words in length. While The Campus staff welcomes letters from the student body on any subject, it reserves the right to prohibit the publishing of letters that are not signed, that are not for the best interests of the college, and that are too long to warrant space. However, signatures will be withheld upon request.

One of the letters that could not be published concerned the chimes of Ford Memorial Chapel.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas, of Meadville, and has a wide circle of friends, who with the Campus, wish the happy couple abundant success. She was a member of Alpha Chi Omega. They are at home at 1504 Versailles avenue, McKeesport, Pa.

Dramatis Personae.

Scene.....Wedding Ceremony

Synopsis.

"We seem to gather that she was young, blue eyed, beautiful, and some one's cousin; high born and of high spirits. But how came 'the Wanderer' into her circle? Was it by the humble vehicle of Aesthetic Tea, or by the arid one of mere business? To all appearances, it was chiefly by accident, and the grace of nature." (Isn't it thrilling?) Down by the forested shores of the Beaver, where he built a little dam just as the little Beavers do; there Theodore fell. "Love is not altogether a Delirium," says Carlyle, "yet has it many points in common therewith."

But then marriage will out! Oct. 27 was the date. The bride's former home was in Pittsburgh. The groom, who was a member of Phi Delta Theta, is a salesman for a large Pittsburgh bond company.

Miss Marguerite Diefendorfer, '20, and Mr. Vincent Hayes, both former students at Allegheny, were married the 1st of August at Miss Diefendorfer's home in Conneaut, O. Mr. Hayes is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, and Miss Diefendorfer of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Several of the Kappa girls of Miss Diefendorfer's class attended the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes are now living in Oil City, Pa.

(This wedding is but another link in the chain of college romances.)

BISHOP SMITH'S SERMON

there are more in the world who are willing to give their lives for others. Heathenism has no burden on its heart for the weak, poor and helpless. Christianity holds that each generation owes a debt to the past which it must pay to the future generation. If American blood is too good to shed for India, Christ's blood was too good to shed for America.

There is a tendency at present to drift back to the cynicism of pre-war days. Sometime in the future, the nations must unite for the great purpose of the salvation of the world. The young people must rise above personal ambition.

Bishop Smith coveted for the sake of each student the enrichment to his own life which would come when he had decided for a life of service; he coveted for old Allegheny the ideals, high, holy and noble, which should make this institution a blessing to the ends of the earth.

members are now elected and membership being on a somewhat competitive basis, is tending towards making the Forum a source for forensic material.

At the next meeting the question: Resolved, That Congress should pass a Veterans' Compensation Bill, will be debated. This subject has held considerable discussion in the press and no doubt will draw another large attendance.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS.

At a meeting of Duzer Du last Wednesday the following officers were elected to the men's dramatic organization: President, W. E. Severn; vice president, Hugh Buchanan; secretary-treasurer, D. LaVerne Parent.

Under new business a choice of a play was discussed and a committee appointed to select one for presentation on St. Patrick's Day. While it is not official, reports are current that the play will be either a modern comedy or a play from Shakespeare.

Duzer Du is worried over the choice of a play. Perhaps the one suggested by the football manager in his announcement concerning Gallt Curci would be a wise selection.

THE PROFS.

Lois A. Halderman.

Today from 8 o'clock 'til 4 a half a dozen profs or more stood up and tried to teach me. They used the pain and simple ways I listened to in primer days, but still they could not reach me. They fed me up on good advice, explained the day's work slowly twice, and made the next assignment. In never-ending sympathy they keep on working fruitlessly, refraining from reassignment. Tonight I finger all my books and pass them up with hurried looks before I join my neighbor, and we, as wise and knowing Sophs, begin to criticize the profs, imperfect in their labor. One will not let the students bluff; another is not strict enough; one's manner will not soften; one cannot hear the warning bell but lectures on too long and well; another smiles too often. One makes himself a daily bore by pulling off jokes we've heard before to make himself amusing. One gives too many D's and E's; another gives too many B's, the scheme of grades abusing. One deals in facts we learned before in nineteen two or nineteen four, and one persists in preaching. Another, running off the track, cannot remember to come back and stick to what he's teaching. My French prof has it in for me and calls upon me constantly to make my life unpleasant; although I sit beneath his eyes, my Greek instructor never tries to see that I am present. A prof who gives my neighbor notes talks faster than a parrot; his speed is aggravating; and having tried with all his might, my neighbor calls me in at night to help him in translating. Somehow we cannot stop until each prof, who teaches on the hill is in our weight and measure, and we supply relentlessly a dozen faults where none may be, for constant source of pleasure. But if the profs could hear but half, they'd burst into a record laugh at all our harmless blunder; they'd take a Dutch Connption fit, and watching them come out of it, all Meadville town would wonder.

FORMER ALLEGHENIAN PLAYS PROMINENT PART IN NEW INDUSTRY.

C. L. Jones, Allegheny '19, now an industrial fellow at the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, University of Pittsburgh, has won considerable attention in the oil industry. In a lecture delivered recently at Mellon Institute on "Economic Possibilities of the Shale Oil Industry," Mr. Jones explained to a large audience composed of scientific men and students in chemistry, the scientific aspects of the new field. He emphasized the point that this enterprise will not be revolutionized by "the sublime inspiration of a single inventor." Its development will depend wholly upon scientific research and later commercial development by a number of men who are not actuated by the desire to gain immediate fabulous profits.

The country has within recent years been flooded with alleged promotions and inventions, purporting to revolutionize the entire industry of extracting oil from oil shale. The sleek, suave, sleazy confidence man, the aristocrat of the underworld, no longer confines his activities to selling gold bricks to the gullible folk of the city and country, but is and has been promoting oil shale, which has become in many instances the new fake bonanza.

Mr. Jones pointed out that "over 200 companies are at present engaged in the development of the shale oil industry. A considerable percentage of this number comprises honest men. However, a large percentage is composed of men of questionable honesty, whose methods with the public recall the gold brick days." Notwithstanding these crooked new industry, in the hands of responsible people, operating on a legitimate basis, will some day occupy a commanding rank among the nation's resources.

While in college, Jones was actively engaged in the various campus activities, having been a varsity debater, editor-in-chief of the Kaldron a member of the Oratorical Board, Quill Club, Modern Problems Club and Duzer Du.

Mr. Jones secured the honor of being elected to Delta Sigma Rho because of his forensic ability and Alpha Chi Sigma because of his thoroughness in chemistry. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta.

LE PETIT SALON.

Le Petit Salon held its regular meeting for initiation Monday afternoon, Nov. 7, 1921, at the home of Miss Marie Charlton. The initiates gave a French play and sang some French songs. The new members are: Ardin D. Mook, Kennedy Crumrine, Theodore Lorz, Raymond Courtney, George Happell, D. J. Murphy, Gertrude Houser, Ethel Kerr, Lucille Drake, Martha Brown, Helen Bowman, Katherine Simmons, Francis Pitt, Mildred Ellis, Ethel Swanson, Bess Jeffrey, Virginia Grenelle, Elizabeth McLaren and Mildred Stoner.

FACULTY NOTES.

Prof. Elliott leaves Thursday evening for Detroit to attend a meeting of the Commission on Unification, appointed by the last General Conference of the Methodist Church. The Commission is composed of five bishops, ten ministers and ten laymen. Its purpose is to continue the negotiations with the Methodist church, South, looking to the union of the two great branches of Methodism. The Commission will be in session several days.

Prof. Elliott has also been named as one of the five laymen from the Pittsburgh area of the Methodist church to attend a national conference of ministers, laymen and church officials that will meet at Detroit Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week to confer regarding matters of policy concerning the church's attitude to the pressing needs and opportunities in the world today.

CHINESE TEA.

A Chinese tea, enjoyed by town women and Allegheny girls was given Monday afternoon in the living room of Hulings Hall by Mrs. Josette Beebe Dennis and her sister, Mrs. Margaret Niles, who have been doing missionary work in China. Miss Clara Weller, Y. W. C. A. president, presided.

In a short talk Mrs. Charles J. Ling touched on the work of the Isabella Thoburn School, Allegheny's sister college in Lucknow, India, and explained the possibility of doing much work through funds.

Mrs. Josette Beebe Dennis, who is now living in Meadville, was born in China, and has spent most of her life there. She gave a brief story of her life and an interesting explanation of Chinese customs and religious superstitions. Many trinkets, curious nicknacs and embroidered articles of dress brought back with her were passed around.

Mrs. Margaret Niles, a missionary and teacher in China, told of her work there and read several Chinese poems. In a delightful way she made those present tolerant in their criticism of the Chinese in fostering ancestral worship.

The living room was decorated in Chinese tapestry and rugs. The girls were attired in Chinese costumes and served genuine tea to the guests.

PHONOGRAPH FIENDS ENDANGER CHANCES OF PRINCETON ELEVEN.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 5.—(Special)—If the Princeton football team is going to win any of its big games this year the phonograph fiends of the campus have got to silence their machines. This ultimatum went out today. The Princetonian editorially condemned the music-mad lads to worse fates than Dante ever dreamed. Whether the records be a Hula Hula, Sweet Patoot Jazz or a Browish classical outpouring of splendorific music, it is all the same. The gridders can't sleep. Nothing was said, however, in behalf of lonely chaps of philosophic mind who burn the midnight oil in studying.

They will have one advantage over the male of the species in that when knickers are worn and that lonesome two-bit piece slips through a hole in the pocket, it won't mean anything.

Mrs. Nellie L. McClurg, the well known Canadian novelist, is doing all she can to help England with her surplus women. She suggests a government matrimonial to help this, saying that in Canada and even to a greater extent in the other British dominions and colonies, men are in almost as great a surplus as women are in England.

"Red Cross Sunday" is to be observed Nov. 13 throughout the United States. Pittsburgh is planning on making it the most impressive day ever arranged there.

Lord Rayleigh, a great scientist, has in his estimates, given the age of the world as 1,000,000,000 years. His contention is that new knowledge, much of which is due to the discovery of radio-activity and radium, has extended the age of the earth to this figure.

Dartmouth College undergraduates today placed themselves on record as being ready to serve in the places of the railway men quitting their jobs in the event the strike becomes a reality. Students of Lehigh University have also signified their willingness to help keep trains running in case of a strike.

Yale's grid battle with West Point looms up bigger than most games. It was announced that practically the whole block of 77,000 seats has been disposed of. About 1,500 cadets will make the trip to New Haven, Conn., for the event.

WITNESSES ERIE'S FIRST COLLEGE FOOTBALL300 ALLEGHENIANS ATTEND

Intercollegiate football was given a rousing send-off in Erie last Saturday afternoon, when Allegheny completely defeated the University of Buffalo on the Athletic field by a score of 26-13.

The Blue and Gold warriors put up the best game of the season and a total of three touchdowns was scored in the first half, while Buffalo counted 7 points in the first quarter as the result of a blocked punt. Allegheny lessened her pace to a considerable extent in the second half and registered only one touchdown, while Buffalo also managed to push the oval over the line during the third quarter. This ended the scoring for the day as numerous substitutions weakened both teams, although the New Yorkers threatened to go over the goal line again as darkness was setting over the gridiron.

Adverse weather conditions tended to decrease the number of fans, although about 2,500 braved the elements to witness the first intercollegiate football game in the history of Erie. The 600 Blue and Gold adherents were given the surprise of their young lives when three touchdowns were scored in the first half. The band was all primed up for the occasion, and rendered a number of good selections in an excellent manner. In fact the members of the band are to be commended for their performance last Saturday afternoon. The rooters from Buffalo were conspicuous by their absence, and the anticipated cheering duel between the contending sections failed to materialize.

Buffalo outweighed the local team about twenty pounds to the man and their big line made a profound impression as they ran signals before the game. However, these men were not in condition, and nearly every play would see a blue jerseyed warrior sprawled out on the ground.

Forward passes, although numerous, were generally unsuccessful for both elevens. Line plunges and end runs constituted the majority of the ground-gaining attempts by the Blue and Gold backs.

The new backfield combination with Wills at full, Miller and Graham at halves, and Morley at quarter, worked to perfection. The varied attack of this quartet was the subject of favorable comment from the stands. Wills played the game of his life at full, but due credit must be given the line for the way they opened up the holes through which he went for 1 and 15 yards on practically every attempt. Miller's dazzling end runs were very pretty indeed. The fleet half succeeded in flanking the Powell ends for many substantial gains. For Buffalo the work of Jordan, Helwig and Cudahy showed to advantage. Buffalo lacked the offense, and only at widely separated times did that team display an effective attack. Both of her touchdowns were secured by line plunges, but on each occasion she was put in scoring position by a fumble and blocked kick.

INITIAL TRIP FOR HILL AND DALE SQUAD—MEN ARE IN GOOD CONDITION.

In sending the cross-country team to Carnegie Tech on Thursday, Nov. 10, Allegheny is making her debut in this class of athletics. The early leaving will give the men an opportunity of running the course before the meet, Armistice Day.

The men who will represent Allegheny at Tech Armistice Day are: Kirschner, Reams, Bliss, Troup and Wimmer. These men constitute the first team to compete in an intercollegiate cross-country meet.

Tech has a very good cross-country team, one that has had the experience necessary to make a winning team. The Plaid will have the advantage over the Allegheny boys in that they have met several other colleges before Allegheny and as the meet is being run off on the Tech course.

Plaid never had a look in. Killinger, Wilson, Lightner and Co. accounted for 28 points before the final whistle blew.

Scoring their first victory over a Penn team since 1915, Lafayette's veteran eleven took sweet revenge on the Red and Blue last Saturday, 38-6.

Harvard suffered her second defeat of the season at the hands of Princeton. Lowrie and Gilroy starred for the Tigers.

Grove City was nosed out by Bethany, 14-0, last Saturday. However, the Williamians crew put up a wonderful battle against heavy odds.

Franklin and Marshall trounced Dickinson 21-0. The F. and M. lads have a well balanced team this year.

Cornell again demonstrated her powerful offensive against Buck O'Neil's eleven. The big Red team scored a total of 41 points, while the New Yorkers were able to register only 7.

Muhlenburg furnished one of the upsets Saturday by defeating Lehigh 14-13. The Lutherans are coached by Johnny Spiegel and have a powerful eleven this year.

McGill University, Montreal, playing its first game of American college football in four years, held the flashy Syracuse eleven to two touchdowns.

Army was again jinxed by the powerful Notre Dame outfit. Rockne's

BASKET BALL PROSPECTS ARE VERY PROMISING

ABUNDANCE OF MATERIAL AND THREE LETTER MEN BACK INDICATES A SUCCESSFUL SEASON.

Among the thirty-five candidates who are trying out for basketball under the coaching of Captain Kofford there is a great wealth of material. Most of the large squad are freshmen, while there are some upperclassmen and three of last year's varsity team, namely: Parker, Wise, M. Graham, Mountsier and Captain Kofford. The team has been working very hard on the fundamental work and expects to start the regular scrimmaging soon. At the close of the football season, Braun and Miller will probably join the squad with other football men. From all present indications Allegheny should have one of the best basketball teams it has had for many years. The team has lost the services of only one player from last year's team, but it will keep some of the varsity players of last year working hard to hold down their positions against such promising candidates from the freshman class.

DICKINSON WILL HAVE HARD BATTLE SATURDAY

BLUE AND GOLD SEEK REVENGE OVER LAST YEAR'S SCORE BY EASTERNERS.

In facing Dickinson College on Saturday, Allegheny will have one of its greatest games of the season in meeting the easterners on their field at Carlisle, Pa.

Rumors are prevalent that Dickinson has a much stronger team this year than last season. It will be remembered that the down-state boys carried home a 7-0 victory last year when they played on the Blue and Gold gridiron.

Allegheny is prepared to fight an uphill game and if possible to come out on the long end of the score. Prospects look quite promising for a victory as the team has shown its desire to work and fight.

Dickinson has not met any of the teams Allegheny has played, but the teams she has played have been beaten very decisively.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL SERIES OPENS FRIDAY—FRESHMEN OUTPLAY OPPONENTS.

The first season of girls' basketball at Allegheny opened Friday, when the Freshmen defeated the Sophomores by a score of 13-2. Judging by this game, girls' basketball, which is only an experiment this season, is soon to become an established institution at Allegheny. The game Friday was the first of a series of five to be played by the two teams in the near future. A silver loving cup is to be the prize awarded the winning team.

Though manifesting greatly the need of both teams for further practice, the game was, nevertheless, an interesting one. During the first quarter, when Rose and Davenport each succeeded in making field goals, the two teams seemed evenly matched. In the remaining quarters, however, the Freshmen steadily proved themselves more than a match for their opponents. With Davenport making baskets from the field, and Rugh shooting fouls they raised the score while the Sophomores were unable to gain further points.

The lineup was as follows:

FRESHMEN, 13.	SOPHOMORES, 2.
Rugh	Gilmore
Davenport	M. Rose
Prather	C.
Arnette	Olmstead
Nicklin	D. Rose
	Crandall

Field goals: Freshmen—Davenport 3, Rugh 1. Sophomores—M. Rose 1.

Fouls: Freshmen—Rugh 5.

Substitutions: Hilderbrand for Nicklin, Nicklin for Hutchinson, Berlin for D. Rose.

squad from South end took the West Pointers into camp by a 28-0 score. Mackey Mohardt was the cause of it all.

Bucknell showed her class against the Navy Saturday. The Middles were held to 6 points by the Lewisburg Collegians.

Thiel displayed a consistent offensive against Susquehanna last Saturday. Christman scored twice for the Greenville Lutherans.
