My dear Miss Tarbell:

It strikes me as most inappropriate to write anyone in the merry month of June and ask how an article on social work is progressing.

I am sure you haven't had time to touch the article yet, but I am interested in knowing if you have all the material you want and everything is "stacked" before I leave for my vacation on July 1st.

I also wanted to know, if you are not going to use the old diaries which we sent you of Mr. Holbrook's father, if I might have them back. Mr. Holbrook cherishes them very greatly. I can send someone down to your house to get them at such hour as you may designate.

My vacation is for the entire month of July, but I shall be back in the city the first of August and at your command whenever you wish me.

Cordially yours,

Louise Franklin Bache
