Student Delegates To U. N. Return To Report On Conference

Bill Campbell, Ben Andrews, Carol Wrobbel, Sandy Spence and Sandy DeMarino were delegates to a special national conference on the United Nations held in New York City on November 10th and 11th, 1961. More than 1,000 student body presidents, student newspaper editors and honor students in international relations attended the two day session representing nearly every state in the Union.

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru delivered the keynote address. U.S. Senator Joseph Clark (D., Pa.), chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on International Organization Affairs gave the closing addresss.

The student participants also met with delegates from the Nigerian, Philippine, Irish, U.S. and Soviet Missions to the United Nations. The students toured the United Nations headquarters.

Panel discussions were held on the Problems of Chinese Representation, African Development and the United Nations, and the Role of the Non-aligned Nations in International Politics.

The special conference on the critical issues confronting the United Nations was sponsored by the Collegiate Council for the United Nations, a national student organization seeking to develop informed student support for the U.N. The Collegiate Council is the college affiliate of the American Association for the United Nations.

Contract Let To Build Dorm Annex

A contract for the construction of an annex to the Hulings-Brooks-Walker women's dormitory at Allegheny College has been awarded to the Atlantic Construction Company of Erie, according to an announcement by Dr. Allen B. Edwards, treasurer of the college.

The new structure, which will be attached to the Walker Hall area of the present building, will extend northward across Prospect Street, vacated to the college by city action last summer. The new facility will house 122 women students, and will contain a suite for a resident proctor, lounges, personal laundry rooms, and storage space for luggage.

Cost of the building, with furnishings, will run in the neighborhood of $650,000, according to Dr. Edwards. A major portion of the construction cost is being realized from a three and one-half per cent self amortizing loan from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency. The loan will be repaid over a period of years from room rentals paid by the occupants.

The annex will be ready for occupancy with the start of the fall term of college next September.

The new dormitory represents the fourth extension of college residential facilities in recent years.

Baldwin Hall, built in 1953, houses 133 Freshman men and resident advisers; South Hall, 1960, has accommodations for 150 Freshman women; and Highland Hall, completed last September takes care of 42 women students, mostly sophomores.

Construction of the annex is expected to start immediately. Water, gas, and sewer lines formerly running along old Prospect Street under a portion of the new building were relocated earlier this fall.

For Good Measure... Or Rescue Purposes?

From the St. Petersburg Times, St. Petersburg, Fla., Nov. 6:

Meadville, Pa. (UPI—Allegheny College yesterday claimed a new record for broom closet stuffing — 58 men and a St. Bernard dog.

Freshmen at Baldwin Hall dormitory performed the feat yesterday in a closet six feet long, nine feet wide, and eight feet high. They said they included the St. Bernard for good measure.

AUC Petitions Faculty For Cancellation of Classes

A request to the Faculty for the cancellation of all classes Monday afternoon, November 20, should the football team win the Thiel game, was approved in a resolution by the Allegheny Undergraduate Council in a regular meeting last Tuesday night, November 14.

In presenting the resolution, Bing Ewalt pointed out that the faculty should take some sort of appropriate action to recognize what would be the first undefeated season in Allegheny history. The resolution originally asked that classes be called off all day Monday, but it was amended with the feeling that if classes were cancelled on Monday morning, the students might not get up to attend an optional all-college function. The final motion was carried by a vote of 18 to 16 with three absentions.

Sue Tuttle suggested that special activities would be planned for Monday afternoon, if the team wins, which might include an all-college picnic, an all-college assembly, and an all-college dance at night.

The resolution will be given to Dean Ross for presentation to the faculty at their meeting today.

In other business, Ben Andrews reported on the trip made by members of the International Affairs Committee to the United Nations this past weekend. The trip was highlighted by the address by Prime Minister Nehru of India, which Ben called "sobering and stirring."

Ken Stone, Rick Momeyer, and Sue Knapp were approved as new members of the Human Relations Committee.

AUC expressed its appreciation to Dave Cook for his work in organizing the Homecoming floats, a feature not present in previous Homecomings.

Thanks were also extended to Mike Bavar for his efforts in making the well-attended Ozan Marsh piano concert possible. ASG President Dean McFall said "It is heartening to see students providing events which will be well-received by the college."

McFall Offers Opinion

Last Tuesday evening the Allegheny Undergraduate Council passed a resolution petitioning the faculty to suspend classes Monday afternoon should the Allegheny football team triumph over Thiel. Such a gesture, it was argued, would serve doubly to cement school spirit and to honor our undefeated gridders. Regardless of the logic or illogic of this reasoning, this action of the AUC raises some practical objections.

Although the power of the student government to advance such a proposal is undisputable, this action seriously prejudices the future recommendations which the student government hopes to submit to the faculty. Prior to the passage of this resolution, the AUC appealed successfully to the faculty to have classes suspended on Homecoming Day under the three-term calendar. Tuesday's resolution, I am afraid, reinforces a current faculty suspicion that students are interested primarily in reducing their work-load and increasing their time for non-academic activities, that, in other words, recreation supercedes education.

In the future the student government plans to submit recommendations on the G-course curriculum and on the subject of the racial composition of the student body. These recommendations, if accepted by the AUC and faculty, will have a permanent and significant affect upon the college far beyond the suspension of classes for an afternoon. By our action Tuesday evening we have undermined the liklihood that these future recommendations will be taken seriously.

CAUSE Objectives Carified in Meeting

The new CAUSE group, in its Sunday evening meeting, clarified its objectives through discussion.

These objectives are explained in three points:

1. To understand the Negro problem and the student's personal role in it.
2. To create at Allegheny College an atmosphere that will accept the Negro on an equal basis in any campus activity.
3. To attract qualified Negro students to Allegheny.

It was also made explicit that CAUSE is not a crusade and is not an experiment.

Arrangements were made to introduce the organization to the Allegheny women on Monday evening section meetings. Since the introductions were on a discussion basis, the representatives have a sampling of the student reaction to the cause.

In the Bousson retreat on December 2 and 3, the actual program will be developed. All interested students are urged to attend. It is hoped that a broad cross-section of student interest will be displayed. In the next meeting on Wednesday, November 29, in South Lounge, of the CU, final plans for the Bousson retreat.

Faculty Committee Checks ARC Advance Planning

"Whether or not Allegheny is ready to operate its own radio station is not a matter of opinion, but rather a matter of responsibility. Financial, administrative, and technical needs of the proposed station must be adequately provided for in advance," stated Dr. Charles Ketcham, chairman of the Faculty Radio Committee.

In mid-October President Pelletier appointed the committee, whose members are Dr. Richard Brown, Mr. Robert Cares, Dr. Allen Edwards, Dean John McKean, Dr. James Smoot, and Dr. Ketcham. No recommendations have been issued by the committee as yet. A series of questions requiring specific answers were prepared at the first meeting, October 26, and presented to Norman Greene, student chairman of the radio project.

Some of the problem areas explored by these questions were: What provisions have been made for training the staff in broadcasting techniques? for continued maintenance? for quality control? Is there evidence of a need on campus not already being met in radio broadcasting? How many FM receivers are there on campus at present, and how much would it cost to change AM sets for FM reception? The faculty committee has estimated $9,000 to $10,000 will be needed initially to begin broadcasting. Is this expenditure justifiable, and who will provide the annual outlay for operating expenses in the future? Other questions involved Federal Communications Commission licensing, legal responsibilities, and broadcasting preparation. Mr. Robert Cares is working with Mr. Greene in finding answers to these questions. The committee has scheduled a third meeting to be held as soon as Mr. Greene indicates that detailed answers are available for discussion.

Dr. Ketcham hopes those interested in the station will realize the time and consideration the committee is expending in reaching a fair decision. Some insinuations have been made that the committee is biased against the proposed station.

"This is not the case," Dr. Ketcham asserted. "The committee is as much in favor as any of the faculty listed in last week's Campus. But, because so many responsibilities must be met, the committee cannot be rushed into deciding. Therefore, we hope that the type of pressure exerted on the committee by articles in the local newspaper and in the Campus will be reasonably mitigated or ended."

Weinstein To Head ARC Public Relations

The ARC has announced the appointment of Alan Weinstein to the position of director of the Public Relations committee. This committee promises to pay a leading role in conjunction with the other 14 committees under the ARC for the promotion of the long needed radio station here on Allegheny's campus, according to Weinstein.

Weinstein stated that he felt the prime objective of the Public Relations Committee at the moment would be to better inform the campus as to the aims of the Allegheny Radio Committee and the goals of the station. Weinstein suggested that under this program, members of the ARC staff would be available for presentations and discussion with all interested groups on the campus. In accepting the position, Weinstein expressed his belief that the station when it becomes reality, will be a great contribution to the college community.

Weinstein, a member of the class of '64, has worked previously in the field of public relations in his high school. He is a member of the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity, and he enthusiastically expressed his desire to see more fraternity men becoming involved with the ARC.

As yet, the Public Relations committee has not been completely staffed. Final appointments will be announced in the near future.

Publications Board Seeks Members

The Publications Board is looking for students who would be interested in being neutral members.

It is the purpose of the Board to coordinate the activities of the three publications, The Campus, The Kaldron, and The Literary Magazine, so that efficiency and economy may be achieved and maintained. It also seeks to provide new and creative ideas for the betterment of the publications, and works out problems as they arise. In addition, the Publications Board has the power to recommend and approve editors and to draw up the budget for the publications.

Anyone who is interested please contact Sue Johnson, 368 Walker, 69010, or leave a note for her at Brooks Desk.

Take Note

The Kaldron staff is now preparing the identification for senior yearbook pictures, from information received in the registrar's office. Only first and last names, the major, and the hometown as listed on the registrar's office cards at registration are being used, unless otherwise requested. It is important that anyone who wants a middle name used, or who wants a hometown used which is different than that listed as permanent address request the change. All such requests are to be made in writing and left at Brooks Desk mailed to Diane Duntley, 108 Brooks no later than November 21.

Editorials

Our football team must be congratulated for its excellent record. A group of students who play only because they enjoy athletics, have accomplished what many teams of paid college athletes have never done. Upon winning tomorrow's game, Allegheny will become the only undefeated team in the state this season. And this year's team may well be the first undefeated team in the history of football at Allegheny. The hard work of these men, supported by an unusual degree of school spirit, has done a great deal of good for the school.

School spirit has been quite evident in many other ways this fall. Students have attended lectures, concerts, plays, and films in higher numbers than in any recent year. Most of these people who have seen and heard so many things have shown much interest in the events; audiences have not merely filled seats in most cases.

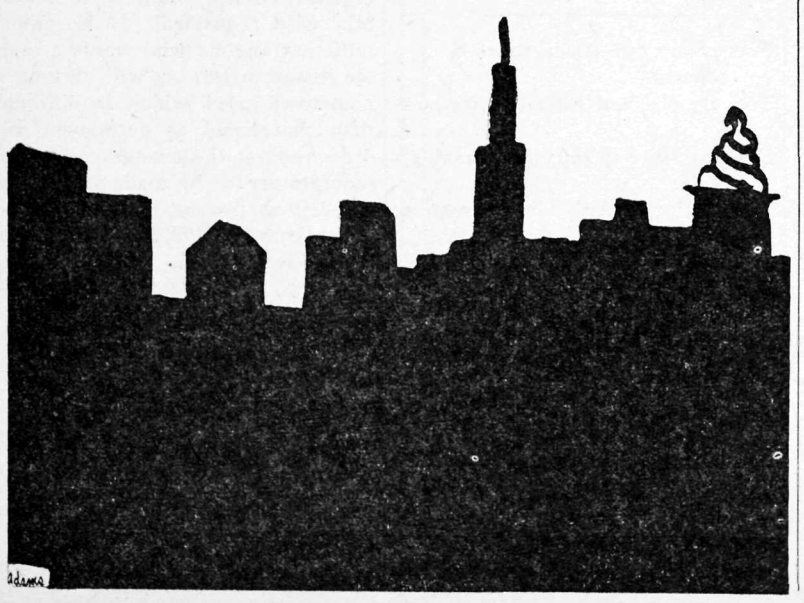

Individuals and groups are gaining a seriousness of purpose that is very gratifying to any observer. More people seem to be spending their time in earnest study than they have in years past. This intellectual attitude must be preserved at any cost. If general school spirit can help prod students to academic achievement, it is good.

Above anything else, each of us must develop and mature as an independent individual. In a world of conformity, the man who conforms to certain acceptable standards, but has courage to maintain and act upon his own carefully developed convictions, is supreme. We are not to have school spirit, not merely to study from books, but to grow up. We must all spend our time thinking and acting as rational, mature and dignified individuals.

Gator fans going to Thiel tomorrow should bear in mind that the football field on which the teams will be playing does not belong to Thiel College; it is owned by the city of Greenville and is used by three other teams besides Thiel's. Any damage to the field resulting from tomorow's game might furnish the city with enough cause to refuse to let Thiel use the field in the future, thus reducing the competition for the use of the field.

All Allegheny students should then refrain from doing any damage to the field; emotions can be channelled in more profitable directions, such as carrying the team off the field.

Just remember that we want a field to return to next year so that we can trounce the Tomcats by an even greater margin than with our victory tomorrow.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Many problems which exist on this campus are being investigated and acted upon by different college organizations. This year Human Relations Committe plans to bring to the attention of the campus those problems which lack student support or interest. The committee will discuss and then recommend possible action for solving these problems.

The committee's purpose is to improve inter-group relations on campus and between the campus community and the outside community. The committee looks into problems, tries to find out why certain conditions exist and then attempts to discover how they can best be corrected. Improvements cannot be made without student support and interest. We believe that the Allegheny Radio Station, which seems to have both student support and interest, can help unify the campus community. For this reason, we support the now-forming Allegheny Radio Station. All groups whether clubs, social organizations, faculty or classes will have a chance to make the station successful and respected by contributing program material and their working time to it. New faculty members, foreign students and guest speakers could be introduced, enjoyable music could be played and exciting and provoking ideas could be presented.

Of course, much depends upon how well the station is organized and operated. After talking with co-chairmen Ron Kalla and Norm Greene, Human Relations Committee believes that when present problems are solved, the A.R.C. could create and control a station that could become one of the major features at Allegheny College.

We support the radio station and hope to hear it broadcasting sometime next semester.

Human Relations Committee
Emily Smith, Chairman

Dear Students:

Are you the type of person who is concerned about social conditions outside of our own college campus? Do you want to meet, talk with, and work with other racial groups? If you do, there is a way in which you as an individual can participate in a project of community improvement, and also increase your understanding of segregation as it exists in our country.

The American Friends Service Committee has recently organized work camps in Pittsburgh, where students can have "a weekend of experiencing living amidst social problems, — and doing something constructive about them." The weekend begins with Friday dinner, followed by an evening of informal discussions. Saturday is spent working with people in the community on specific projects, such as clearing vacant lots or helping to paint houses. Sunday morning activities include observing a morals court in session, and attending a local church. Before leaving, the group gathers to evaluate the weekend experience.

The AFSC summarizes the philosophy of the work camps by saying, "We work with people, not for them. Developing relations is an important part of the program."

Any one of the four people who attended the November 10-12 work camp would be glad to explain the activities in more detail to any interested students. The next weekend work camp will be held from Dec. 8-10.

Dear Campus Editor and Staff:

At this late date, I wish to express my thanks and appreciation of your splendid Allegheny Homecoming issue. I enjoyed particularly the article and pictures which compared and contrasted President "Larry" Pelletier and President William H. Crawford. I'm quite sure that your most able President will appreciate the contents of the article.

You see, President Crawford was in my era, for I entered in 1903. He was an able administrator and would have been to day a Big Business "Tycoon". As someone has aptly said," If you wish to see his monument, you have but to look about you."

I did note one remark in an article on the returning alumni at Homecoming. This article pointed out how remarkable it was that alumni from "way back in 1921 were there. To my personal knowledge there were quite a few— more than a dozen, actually— including Ossian E. Carr, '00, who gave $500,000 for a new Science Building. At one gathering which I attended, there were four from 1900 to 1910. And there were several of the same vintage at the football game!!

Again, as Trustee Emeritus, my thanks for your splendid Homecoming issue.

Hope you have another one next year. See you then?

Dear Students:

On October 30 the world recoiled to the explosion by the Soviet Union of a thermonuclear bomb equivalent to over fifty million tons of TNT. Despite the protest of the United Nations, governments and statesmen all over the world, despite international condemnation from all segments of society, the bomb was detonated callously in an act which can only be considered inhumane, aggressive, and terroristic.

We are bewildered as well as shocked by the actions of the Soviet Union. As USNSA expressed in its telegram to Premier Khrushchev on October 23, "An explosion of such intensity can serve no military purpose whatever. You do not need to convince us of your power to make war, but rather of your wish to maintain peace."

If it is the desire of the Soviet Union to intimidate us, then it is incumbent upon American students to reject such intimidation through prompt and forceful action. If it is the intention of the Soviet Union to achieve world-wide dominion through the exhibition of brute force, then we must show through our protest that there are other forces, less blatent but more powerful which are at the basis of ideological contest. We must offer an alternative to terror.

The reactions of the students of this country to the "testing" of a 50 megaton bomb is especially important since an aroused and angered world will now turn its attention towards the response of the United States government and its citizens. President Kennedy has already expressed concern that continued Soviet testing might force this nation to begin testing in the atmosphere. As citizens of this country, and especially as students, we share in the responsibility for the President's decision.

Our request of you then, is threefold:

1) That a resolution be presented to your student government protesting the recent Soviet atmospheric tests, and forward it to USNSA so that student action will be unified.

2) That your student government consider the implications of the possible resumption of atmospheric tests by the United States, and forward resolutions concerning this to USNSA, so that the national office will be advised as to the position it should take in the event that the United States resumes atmospheric testing.

3) That you organize peaceful demonstrations concerning the Soviet tests. If a Soviet Embassy or Consulate is nearby — use it as a demonstration point.

Sincerely yours,
United States National Student Association
Edward R. Garvey, President

To the Editor:

As Mr. Benjamin has often, and rightfully, stated, the library is not intended as a study hall. Students are expected to use the facilities in the dormitory, and to further the realization of this ideal, our administration has generally consented to supply most of us with bookcases and even desks. Our AWS has set up a system of quiet hours. Assuming that students maintain quiet hours, which does occasionally happen, it is nevertheless now virtually impossible to study. Why?

At 7:30 in the morning the furnace in ground Walker warms up, thus causing a rattle which shakes several doors in the vacinity. We, of course, appreciate this sound of

by JoAnn Hess

There has been a definite movement of school spirit here at Allegheny. It has been present at a lot of things — pep rallies, football games, lectures, play shop, and various other campus activities in the past month. I hope that this spirit will continue to show for this Saturday's championship game with Thiel and for the remainder of the year.

One point I would like to comment on is an incident which happened Tuesday night, when some Allegheny students painted some buildings at Thiel. This is by far a real misdirection of school spirit. Actually it is not school spirit at all, but pure vandalism. This incident doesn't show any maturity on the part of the individual or individuals involved. In fact, these people have put the college community in a difficult position because of their real lack of judgment.

Secondly, we have an excellent football team with an undefeated season so far; we as a college community should be really proud of their hard work and success this year. Win or lose on Saturday, they will still be one of the greatest football teams in the history of Allegheny College in my opinion. I think we should migrate to Thiel this Saturday and cheer the team on to victory. As the spirit of Jo Ann Hess, I would like to see the school spirit utilized greater than it ever has been before — in a constructive and not destructive manner.

Migration Cavalcade To Start At 12:30

A bus-car caravan will be leaving Brooks Circle at approximately 12:30 Saturday. Gator fans should begin to board the buses by 12:15. The cost per seat is one dollar. Drivers of cars are asked not to block Brooks drive, but to park cars near enough so that you'll be able to tell when the buses leave in order that you may join the "Gator tail" to Thiel. The caravan will probably return to campus about 6 P.M.

The most important reason for Migration Day is to give full support to the Gold, so for "Golds" sake yell!Also bring every conceivable noise maker you can sound off with to let Thiel know we're there. Included should also be Allegheny banners and pennants. The cheerleaders have asked that we watch and cheer with them. This game has the makings of being the best Migration Game in the history of the college. Remember we're college men and women and this is our college so let's really turn out for this game--- you will be out of it if you don't. So, let's Go Go Go Gators to watch the "Go Go Gators" Go!!

BONFIRE

At 7:30 tonight there will be a torchlight parade to the football field for a gigantic bonfire and Ehrenberger will speak. and football co-captains Jones andand Ehrenberger will speak. Cheers will be lead by the band and cheerleaders followed by a snake dance back to the campus.

Friday, Nov. 17
7:30 p.m. Parade from Brooks Circle to Football Field; Bonfire at the Field.

Saturday, Nov. 18
12:30 p.m. Buses leave Brooks Circle.
Cavalcade to Thiel.
2:00 p.m. THE GAME.
9:00 p.m. All-College Square Dance, Brooks Hall.

It All Started Back in 1893

Tomorrow could well be the most important football game in Allegheny's long history of gridiron competition. The GO-GO Gators, undefeated and untied, clash with the Thiel Tomcats for what could be the PAC championship and the first unblemished record in Gator history. Coach Chuckran's Allegheny squad needs only a victory in Thieltown to clinch the championship over second place Western Reserve. A loss would not only spoil a perfect record, but would forfeit the conference laurals to Reserve if Reserve wins their last game.

Record-wise the outlook for tomorrow is optimistic. The 5-0 Conference record boasted by the visiting Gators is opposed by a 1-4 record of the Tomcats. But when these traditional rivals get together on Migration Day, you might as well throw away the record-book and get seated for sixty minutes of touch and go football.

Throughout the years, beginning in 1893 when Thiel whipped Allegheny 4-0, these two clube have bumped helmets 43 times, with the Tomcats holding the edge 21-17. There have been 5 ties. Last year a come from behind effort gave Thiel the nod 16-14, so you Gator fans can be sure that Allegheny will be out for revenge.

If a team can be judged by past experience, you can look to the air as Allegheny's top quarterback Stoner Tracy will be zeroing in on his talented receivers. Tracy, who has completed better than 55% of his passes this season, will also be a threat when he is within field goal range. Backing up the offense will be the Gators' undaunted defense, which has yielded but 38 points against oponents this season. Robbery is their specialty, as they have stolen a record breaking 17 passes from the opposition quarterbacks.

As game time approaches, both teams are keyed up to play an inspired game of football. The Tomcats will have their hometown rooters cheering for an upset. The Gatorshope to have the entire student body migrate to Thiel to carry back the only undefeated and untied football team in Pennsylvania. The team wants and needs your support, so cancel all plans, and migrate to Thiel to cheer on the champions!

Thiel Students Are Confident

This week the Campus received a large volume of notes from confident Thiel enthusiasts. These Thiel men wrote with the purpose of telling Allegheny how to feel about the game tomorrow. These are some of their comments:

J. Sikley: "Our Tomcats are really up for this game Allegheny. You are about to have your perfect record ruined.

R. Jessman: "You may have won more than our team, but we know that our school spirit will pull us through Saturday to an embarrassing loss for you Allegheny people."

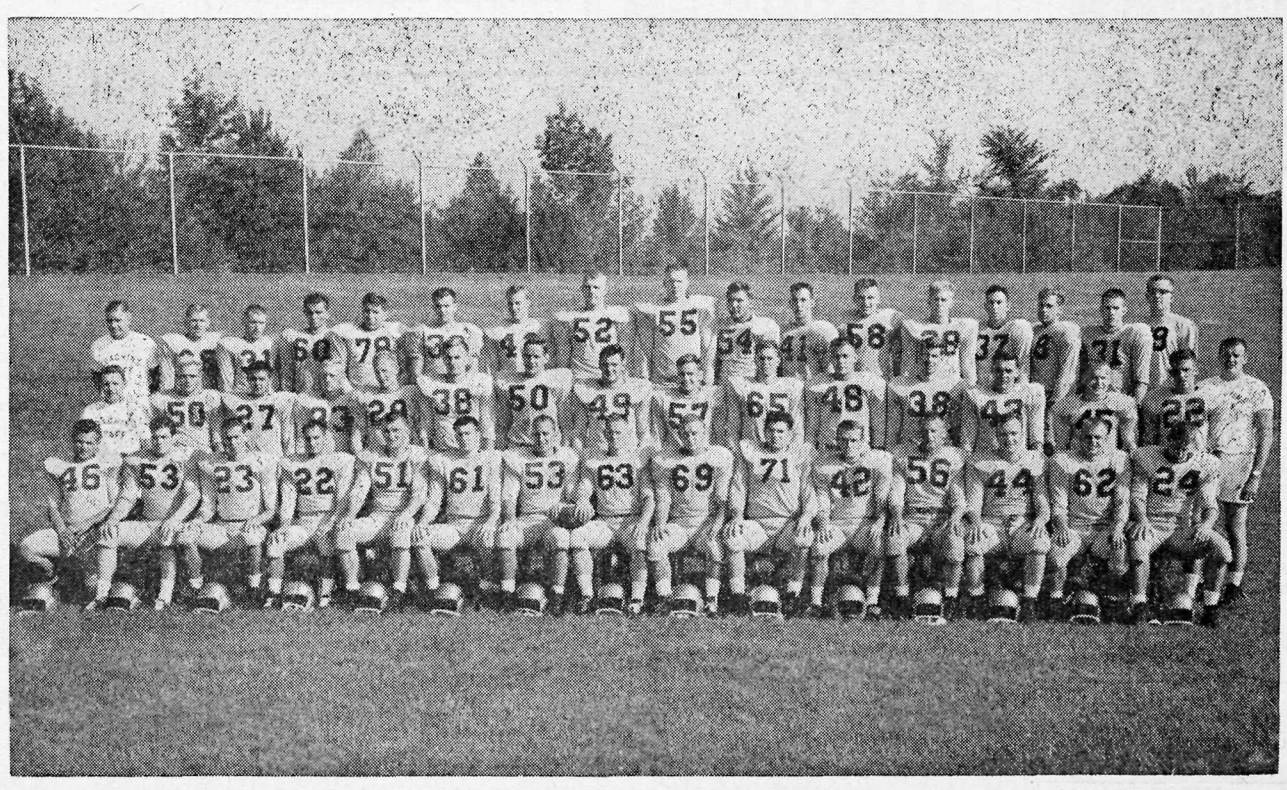

S. Banley: "Gators, you may have a team, but we've got a team with a school solidly behind it. Remember last year, when you were favored to beat us on our Migration Day? We showed up with thirteen bus loads of cheering Thiel students, and cheered our team to victory over your overconfident "reptiles."

Well, Gators, what are we going to do? Are we going to take this sitting down? No! Let's show them how we Gators can really roar when we want. Let's get on the "Gator Tail to Thiel" and show Thiel their worse defeat of the season. LET'S GO GATORS!

Game Preview

Classic predictions in the Thiel College Bulletin in September:

"Looking briefly at the PAC race, the power once again appears to be John Carroll. The Blue Streaks, after a disappointitng season last year, look ready to move back into the picture in 1961. Defending champion Western Reserve lost heavily through graduation, but cannot be considered out by any means. Wayne State, always a threat, is almost certain to be in the running. In the east, only Thiel appears to have much of a chance. Allegheny is a slim possibility, but graduation and grades hurt the Gators. Bethany and Washington and Jefferson will probably fight it out for the basement with Case."

'61 Gator Football Squad—Undefeated Champions?

Mr. Way, Dean McKean Explain Allegheny's Athletic Policies

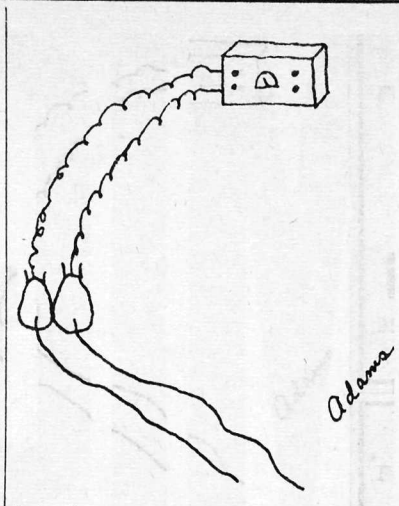

by Marion Arnold

As long as a team loses or remains average it is regarded as purely amateur, but should this team suddenly have an exceptionally good season season, especially an undefeated one, rumors start flying and suspicions arising that illegal methods were used in gaining such success. So it is happening with Allegheny. However, the rumors that Allegheny has started paying its football players no more than that—rumors. It has been Allegheny's policy since 1931 not to give scholarships to athletes as athletes and this policy has not changed in the least. To give financial aid to athletes, other than what can be given to any student, is a serious violation of the PAC code.

Any student, athlete or otherwise, who applies for financial aid must go through the same channels as all other students. His application is processed by the Student Aid Committee, and his test scores and a financial report of his family are reviewed. If the student needs aid he then gets it, otherwise not. No scholarship fund can be set aside for athletes, nor are there any discriminations or privileges given to athletes academically. When a prospective freshman who has played high school football applies for admission, Mr. Zack refers his name to the athletic department. That group may write him a letter encouraging him to come to Allegheny, but cannot in any way promise, guarantee, or even suggest financial aid to him. Also, if a high school player inquires about his chances of admittance to Allegheny and membership on the football team, he is referred to the admissions office and told to file an applicationto the Admissions Committee. All students must go through the same procedures to come here and are treated equally upon arrival; no one is treated differently because he is an athlete.

Mr. H. P. Way feels that the rumors against Allegheny are unfortunately natural in any situation where a team is notably successful or when its personel has "jellied". This is what he feels has happened this season— the men got a good start and kept playing to their potential. Moreover, he stresses repeatedly that Allegheny has not and will not change its policy or start to buy its team.

Dean McKean states that Allegheny's policy is fair and one in keeping with his personal views. In his undergraduate school, which did pay its football players, even the students were disturbed by the system, and there was no opportunity for an unpaid athlete to play. In a school where players are bought, each man is responsible for contributing his best into bringing out the thousands of spectators who will in turn pay money and thus support more scholarships. Dean McKean feels that Allegheny's team is a tribute to the non-paying program. The men participate for themselves and for their college; they are able to play solely because they want to. Anyone who has played knows this is right— it makes the sport a true, enjoyable one.

I don't care what they say— tonight at ten-thirty . . .

BIRTH DEFECTS...
THE PROBLEM NO ONE WANTED TO FACE

Most of us are optimists. We expect life to be routinely normal. Babies, for example, should come into the world fully equipped physically to take on life's battles and enjoy its blessings.
But how do we feel about a child like Georgie, now eighteen months old? He was born with an open spine, a cleft lip, a cleft palate and a club foot. Georgie is just one of the 250,000 infants born each year in this country with a significant birth defect.
Are we surprised—indifferent—or sympathetic?
In ancient Greece these babies were left to die. Mostly, through the centuries, society turned away from them. Parents felt tainted and hid their birth defects children from sight.
Today all that's changed. With New March of Dimes funds, The National Foundation has taken on the problem in earnest. A nationwide program of treatment, research and education has been undertaken. Better medical care and prevention are bound to come. But your support is needed. Say "Yes" to the 1962 NEW MARCH OF DIMES.

Gators Near Perfect Season; Must Bump Thiel Tomcats

by Kent Sanders

"One more game is all it takes."

These seem to be the most spoken words this week on campus as the football Gators prepare to play their last game of the year.

There should be plenty of excitement over the game when you consider what is at stake. First, the Gators are undefeated and if they remain so after the Thiel game, it will be the first time in the history of Allegheny College that a football team has pulled that trick. It will also mean that Allegheny is the only team in Pennsylvania that is undefeated.

Second, the win would mean that the P.A.C. football title is ours. If we don't win, and Western Reserve is able to come through with a victory, they will take the league championship for the second year in a row. Even though we have defeated Reserve, the team with the most victories wins and we both have five going into this Saturday's game.

Considering the importance of this game, it would be appropriate if we took a look at our opponents, the Tomcats from Thiel College.

"Thiel has a good running and passing offense but seem to be quite weak in their defense, especially on pass defense," stated football coach John Chuckran. "Their offense is led by Willis Wood who is a good, quick quarterback and Chuck Smith, a 235 pound fullback who can really pick up the yardage for them."

Coach Chuckran also stated that Thiel will really be "up" for this game. "The only way that they can salvage their bad year is to beat Allegheny. They love to beat us at any time but they really would like it this year because of our undefeated season," Chuckran added.

This is the game for the students at Allegheny to show their support of our fine ball club. It is our Migration Day and we should be at the game in full force to cheer the team on to what could be an historic year.

"We'll have to be at our best to beat them," said Chuckran, "and I think that the support of the students at the game will spur the team on.

Damitz in Gem Bowl

William Damitz, Gators' offensive and defensive left tackle, has accepted an invitation to play in the Gem City Bowl in Erie on Thanksgiving day.

The bowl, open to seniors only, is an east-west game drawing players from the Big Ten, Far West and many of the large universities in the east such as University of Pittsburgh, University of Buffalo, Villanova and Penn State.

Bill is majoring in pre-medicine, is a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity and holds a position on Traffic Committee.

"It was an unexpected honor to be invited to this bowl, and I only hope that I can be an able representative of Allegheny's fine football team." said "Charley Brown," a nickname handed Damitz by his teammates.

When asked about his feeling as to having one of his players being asked to the bowl, Coach Chuckran said, "It's quite an honor both for Bill and the school. He's done a steady job for us both on offense and defense. He deserves this honor."

A small minority of college students calling home after arriving on campus from vacations, place person to person calls to a code name. According to the Meadville Telephone Company, all uncompleted person to person calls are investigated by the company. If there is evidence of fraud the matter is referred to the College.

The Meadville Telephone Company would appreciate having no more calls of this type made to help "Dean McKean and the Company from having to perform a most unpleasant duty."

Wayne Latest Gator Victim; Allegheny Downs Tartars 20-8

Allegheny's football Gators took another step toward the first undefeated season in the history of this school, last Saturday, as they defeated Wayne State, 20-8, for their sixth straight win.

The Gators are the only undefeated team in the state of Pennsylvania and they lead the P.A.C. with a one game advantage over Western Reserve who has a record of 5-1. The Gators must win their game against Thiel, this Saturday, in order to cop the title.

In Saturday's game against Wayne State, the Gators played the majority of the game using the "green team." "I wanted to give the 'green team' some experience and that was the time to give it to them when we have a comfortable lead in a game," said Allegheny's football coach, John Chuckran.

The Gator's first touchdown was engineered by Stoner Tracy who marched his team 94 yards early in the second quarter to get the tally. Freshman halfback, Dave Wion, scored the TD on a seven-yard slant play after Tracy had completed six passes during the drive. The two-point conversion play went from Tracy to Wion.

Our second TD came in the third quarter after Dick Maglisceau punted and Denny Veraldi recovered when Wayne State could not handle the kick. Wion again proved vital in this drive as he moved the ball down to the one-yard line wher Phil Phrichton plunged in for the score. Steve Symington's attempt at a two-point pass conversion play was incomplete.

Allegheny's last drive came in the fourth quarter and started on Wayne's 39-yard line.

Three running plays brought the ball down to the 27 where "Cowboy" Symington fired a long pass to Sam Hester on the goal line for the tally that made the score 20-0.

The lone TD for Wayne came late in the fourth quarter. With the help of 38-yards in defensive penalties against the Gators, Wayne scored on a three-yard plunge by Sheldon Lax. They added a two-point conversion play.

"Steve Symington and Dave Wion were really outstanding in this ball game," said Chuckran. "Steve directed the club quite well when he was in there and Dave was the man we called on to give us the long yardage when we needed it," Chuckran added.

"Carl Stenberg got his chance to play middle guard on defense last week because of injuries on the club and he played so well that he won a starting assignment on defense," Chuckran stated.

In an overall look at the Wayne State game, Chuckran said, "We had to have that ball game and the players went out and fought hard to get it. We played an inspired club but we just had too much for them. I hope the same is true in our game this week against Thiel."

Campus Clashes

by John Petruso

Now that the football season has ended, the intramural picture switches to indoor activities. Volleyball has started, with basketball scheduled to follow soon.

However, the fall outdoor sports did not end with the close of the football season. The Turkey Trot (a misnomer if there ever was one) which is a rigid test of endurance and stamina, was the last fall sport. The course, which covers a little over a mile, poses several difficult obstacles. This year the race was run differently from previous years in that each team was permitted only seven entries. The results of the race were as follows: Theta Chi's Marty Leeper and Al Knapp finished first and second respectively to give their house first place with a total team score of 19 points. Coming in second were the Phi Delts, who picked up 17 points. Dave White finished fourth, with Ben Andrews and Randy Smith finishing sixth and seventh. Third place went to the Phi Psis whose team effort gave them 15 points. Bruce Carlile finished third, Amby Bauer ninth, and Chip Miller twelfth for the Phi Psis.

Finishing fourth were the Delts, with Noel Kitlowski fifth, Don Monnheimer eighth, and Dave Fulton 21st. The Delt team netted 13 points. In fifth were the Sigs with a team score of 11 points. Andy Swanson finished 13th after fellow Sig Herb Happel, who finished 11th. John Bernhart finished 26th to complete the Sig scoring. Chi Rhos grabbed sixth place and nine team points. Dave Graham finished 20th, followed by Vic Nerry 22nd and John Safer taking 24th for the Chi Rhos. The Independents with a team total of 7 finished in seventh place. Edgar Parker finished 23rd Tom Roth 29th, and Bill Burkhart 31st for the Indes. Finishing last were the Phi Gams, with Rog Klein 28th and Dick McElroy 35th.

the prolonged slamming of doors. It serves as an alarm clock. Similarly, the rattle of that much-maligned washing machine is not really deafening.

There is, however, a limit. As I write this, directly outside my window a bull-dozer is up-rooting a hedge, a dump truck is rattling the chains on its tailgate, and best of all, a steam shovel is grinding its gears to dig deep into the earth for dirt to transfer, with appropriate noises from the gear box, to the eagerly awaiting, clattering dump trucks. All of this activity is accompanied by the shouts of the workmen as they avidly cheer on the drivers of these wonderful machines. They are probably exhilarated by the work they are doing to further Allegheny's development program. So are we, especially with the activity so near at hand to observe. We are looking forward to the addition to our pillared dormitory facilities, and would not seek to question why this could not be done during vacations.

ARC Answers Questions Posed By Campus Staff

The Campus, in order to clarify questions concerning the proposed Allegheny radio station, has submitted a number of questions that might be asked to the Allegheny Radio Committee and co-chairman Norm Greene. The questions and the ARC's answers follow.

Q. What is the purpose of the ARC?

A. The purpose of the Allegheny Radio Committee (ARC) is to establish a radio station on the Allegheny Campus. This station would attempt to be a campus unifying force, a new educational medium, a new outlet for stldents and faculty, and would provide many resources as yet unavailable to the Allegheny students and the community of Meadville.

Q. Will the ARC continue to function under the same management when the station is established?

A. The ARC is being formed as the organization to operate the radio station. It will continue to expand in order to fulfill this function.

Q. What type of station is proposed and what will the range be?

A. The proposed station is a noncommercial educational FM radio station under FCC regulations. Two plans have been submitted to the administration: one for a ten watt transmitter with an approximate range of two miles, and another for a 50 watt transmitter with an approximate range of 8 miles.

Q. Do you think there are enough FM receivers on campus?

A. A survey is being made as to the number of FM receivers on campus. The committee feels that the cost of an FM receiver is relatively low. A radio that only rereives FM is available for $18. The ARC will bring in an agency to sell AM-FM receivers for approximately $25. For a Freshman this represents at minimum a four year investment, since FM is gaining commercial popularity. Notices will be sent out to pre-freshmen, and this, it is hoped, would increase the number of FM receivers on campus. The ARC has concluded from previous surveys that there is enough student interest in the radio station to promote the purchase of aditional receivers.

Q. What programs would it carry?

A. The radio station would carry a wide variety of high quality programs which would endeavor to bring better news coverage, increased contracts with foreign nations and other U.S. schools, interesting and educational seminars, lectures, and informal talks, as well as a varied program of music. As a member of the Inter-collegiate Broadcasting System, professionally recorded programing would also be available. The station, it is noted, will not be a rock 'n roll station.

Q. Where will the money come from?

A. The money for initial operations, it is hoped, will come from student government, the administration, and other sources. The yearly budget would be supported by ASG in much the same manner as budgets for The Campus and The Kaldron.

Q. How great is the student support, and from what groups does this support come?

A. To date, 266 students have indicated their interest in "'active participation" of a minimum of three hours per week. From this number, approximately 50 students will be chosen for ARC membership. The ARC has specifically pledged to represent no one faction or segment of the Allegheny community. ARC membership is open, and openly encouraged, to all groups.

Q. How can I have a part in the radio station?

A. All students who are interested in "active participation" can take part in the program by filling out an ARC questionnaire, if this has not been already done. Leave a request for this application in the ARC mailbox located at the CU desk. All other students can take part in the success of the program by showing their support through their ASG representatives and through organizational endorsement of the proposed station.

The ARC welcomes all questions and will gladly answer them via The Campus or contacts with individual groups or organizations.

Philo-Franklin Reports On Pittsburgh Debate

The Philo-Franklin Debating Society recently returned from a Novice Debate Tournament at the University of Pittsburgh, where the Allegheny team won three out of seven debates, compared with its winning one out of six last year. Eighteen schools participated.

Debating in the affirmative were Jack Bittner, Bob Kelley, who won one out of four debates, and John Erby and Steve Hoyt, debating the negative position, who won two out of three.

Overall winners were the University of West Virginia (First), U. of Pittsburgh team A (Second), and U. of Pittsburgh team B (Third).

Harold McCann, Herb Howe, and Jim Dyer of Allegheny served as timekeepers. Miss Edgerton and Doug Baur were judges.

On Saturday eight debators will go to Duquesne University for a Novice and Varsity Tournament. Participating in the Varsity tournament will be Ron Olson, Doug Baur, Steve Hoyt, and John Erby. John Crill, Jim LaBarbara, Harold McCann, and Charles Gluck.

College Queen Contest Opens

Allegheny women are invited to enter the National College Queen Contest. All undergraduate girls, from freshmen through and including seniors, are eligible.

This competition to choose a National College Queen is not just a "beauty contest". Only 50% of the judging is on attractiveness, charm and personality. Equally important will be the student's academic record, her campus activities, her hobbies, and community service.

The current National College Queen is Miss Patricia Weaver, a junior at Wilson College in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. The new queen will receive a trip to Europe, a sports car, a diamond ring, and many other awards. Regional winners each receive a trip to New York City.

To enter, write to: National College Queen Contest Committee, Suite 1606, Paramount Building, 1501 Broadway, New York 36, New York. Classmates also may nominate a girl by writing to the same address.

Seniors Returning From Germany Discuss Divided Country

by Pat Farley

Four panelists were divided on the question, "Do the German people accept their divided country?" in last Thursday's discussion in Quigley Hall. The panel consisted of two native Germans, Rita Lehmann and Dr. Lotze, and two American students, Chottie Rider and Gayle Scholes, who spent last year studying at Tubingen in Germany.

Acting as moderator, Nancy Fahnestock, Allegheny's Ambassador to Poland who spent four days in Berlin, posed questions concerning, "Germany, the Divided Country," before an audience of approximately 90 faculty members and students.

Miss Lehmann believes there is a prevalent feeling that "something ought to be done toward re-unification of Germany but no one knows where to begin." While studying at the University of Mainz, she observed that students there showed interest in the divided situation through attendance to and participation in discussions with both Democratic and Socialist speakers.

Dr. Lotze, however, stated that his contacts led him to the belief that both East and West Germans accepted the idea of the two separate states. The old Germany no longer exists in the minds of either the young or old generation, he asserted.

He does not believe the West Germans show much concern or willingness to take steps toward reuniting Germany because they are too preoccupied with keeping or raising their own standard of living. The Germans believe that uniting Germany is not worth the personal sacrifice they would have to make, he stated.

Miss Scholes and Miss Rider also found West Germans of the opinion that the "gulf was already too wide for re-unification."

Miss Scholes stated that at the 10,000-student university she attended, only ten students showed enough concern to belong to a club called "The Bridge." Discussions of the club centered around the Berlin situation. "No one especially went out of their way or showed extreme interest, however," she added.

Miss Rider also believes that the West Germans are not as concerned about re-unification as the East Germans because they are living well and do not wish to sacrifice this.

Dr. Lotze further stated that the Germans generally feel the division is a result of the war and it is the responsibility of the "Big Four" who brought this situation upon Germany to do something toward re-unification.

Another major issue discussed was the role of the government in German cultural life.

The state governments, not the national government, explained Miss Lehmann, give support to the music, arts and theater. The governments together give approximately $40 million to the theater each year, said Dr. Lotze.

"Through the political division we have a cultural division in Germany," asserted Dr. Lotze, and received unanimous agreement from other members of the panel. There is little exchange from East to West through newspapers, books and the arts.

A weekly paper, "Die Zeit," staged a conference in Hamburg between East and West German authors, Dr. Lotze said, and the West German police broke up the conference making East Germans return to their "side" because of the fear of communist propaganda.

Dr. Lotze further stated that even the language has become divided. For example, he said, "imperialism" means "expansion tendencies" in a West German dictionary, while it is defined as "the last stage of capitalism" in an East German dictionary. Russian and English words have infiltrated East and West Germany respectfully, he added.

There is, however, an exchange of agricultural products, states Miss Lehmann, but exchange is regulated by the Inter-zone Bureau, not the national government, for that would imply recognition of two separate national states.

In conclusion, the four panel members expressed personal reactions toward the division:

Miss Lehmann stated, "I know and feel there are two separate states, but I cannot give up the illusion of a state that will be reunified."

Dr. Lotze does not believe reunification is worth a nuclear war.

Both Miss Rider and Miss Scholes said they never spoke to anyone who publicly stated they didn't want a united Germany, but both have the impression that West Germans don't want to give up their personal acquisitions in efforts toward unification.

Miss Lehmann explained that this does not necessarily mean complacency or selfishness but that, "The Germans have been through war, they realize its terrors, and they fear it."

Allegheny Slated For Teacher Testing

Allegheny College has been designated as a testing center for the 1962 nationwide administration of the National Teacher Examinations next February. College seniors preparing to teach, and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require applicants to submit their scores on the National Teacher Examinations along with their other credentials are eligible to take the tests. The examinations are prepared and administered annually by Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey.

The designation of Allegheny College as a testing center for these examinations will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the examinations with candidates throughout the country who take the tests in the nationwide administrations.

At the one-day testing session a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in Professional Information, General Culture, English Expression, and Nonverbal Reasoning. In addition, each candidate may taken one or two of the thirteen Optional Examinations which are designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter in the fields in which he may be assigned to teach.

Applications for the examinations and Bulletins of Information describing registration procedures and containing representative test questions may be obtained from Mrs. Helen Grannis, Psychometrist, Counseling Center, Second Floor, Bentley Hall, or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey. Prospective teachers planning to take the test should secure an Application Blank and a Bulletin of Information promptly.

Newman Club to Host Regional Meeting

On Saturday and Sunday, November 18 and 19, the Newman Club will act as host for representatives of sister clubs from various colleges in the area during the Regional Leadership Forum to be held at Allegheny. Activities will include talks by the national president and secretary of Newman Club and by other national and province officers on various phases of leadership. Discussions will follow each speaker. A communion breakfast will conclude the weekend on Sunday morning.

This is the first meeting of its kind to be held at Allegheny in recent years.

Teachers' Sorority To Hold Bazaar

Kappa Delta Epsilon, the National Teachers' Honorary Society, will hold its annual Scholarship Bazaar on Monday, November 27, 1961, from 4:00 to 9:00 p.m.

The craft work, knitted articles and stuffed animals made by the members will be on sale in the Pine Room of Brooks Hall. Baked goods will be on sale at Brooks Desk .

Profits from the Bazaar go toward a $100.00 scholarship to be given in the spring to a sophomore or junior, whose interests are in the field of education.

Barb St. Lawrence, Chairman of the Bazaar, and all the KDE members would welcome the participation of the students, faculty and general public to make this a succesful project.

Other Campuses

Bethlehem, Pa. — (I.P.) — Lehigh University has discontinued, effective with the present academic year, its requirement that undergraduates in the sophomore class be required to enroll for two semesters of courses in physical education. All freshmen admitted to Lehigh will still be required to participate in two semesters of physical education courses. All first year men will also have to take a physical effiency test and to pass a swimming test before being fraduated.

Commenting on the change in required physical activities, Dr. Harvey A. Reville, vice president and provost, said, "the requirement of physical education courses for the junior and senior classes at the university were discontinued several years ago. And, since the student participation in and expanding intramural program of sports and games has grown so extensively in the recent years, the need for a formal physical education course in the sophomore year has been greatly reduced."

Approval for the revised program in physical education requirements for the sophomore class was adopted by the Lehigh University faculty. The revisions were originally recommended by the university's department of athletics and were endorsed by the university's committee on educational policy.
