June 24, 1939

My dear Malvina Hoffman:

I am just back from the country and find your note of June 15th. You say that if I will drop you a line "after Thursday or Friday of next week" that you will find an evening for me to come up for a visit. Nothing would please me better, that is as I take it it is just ourselves. I could go Wednesday or Thursday or Friday if I knew early in the week.

Now, my dear, if you are too tired, too busy getting ready for the country please say so. But if you really feel that you would rather I come I shall be so happy to do so.

How you must miss Anne.

Always affectionately
