

COLUMNIST SCHEDULED TO SPEAK FRIDAY

Coler Delivers Talk On Economics of New Deal at Last Forum

Industrialist Gives View Of Administration Policies As Seen by Big Business

Ludwig Lore, columnist for the New York Evening Post, is scheduled to speak Friday evening at 8:00 p. m., in the Court House under the sponsorship of the Meadville forum association.

Author of "Behind the Cables", a daily column interpretation of events throughout the world published in the Post, Mr. Lore will speak on "World Trends Toward Democracy and Dictatorship."

Thirty-five years experience in Europe and America have given the speaker an excellent background for a discussion of world events.

Recognized as an outstanding commentator on international affairs, Mr. Lore's discussion of world trends will be the fourth in the series pertinent to democracy.

Coler Speaks.

Carl S. Coler, industrial relations director of Westinghouse Electrical and Manufacturing company, was the speaker Friday at the Community forum sponsoring a series of talks on democracy and its problems.

"A Conservative Looks at the New Deal", serving as his topic, Mr. Coler analyzed present trends in economic and political fields.

Defining a conservatist as "one devoted to preserving our present methods of inducting the national life and opposed to radical changes in our (Continued on page 4)

ADDITION TO EXCHANGE LIST OF LIT MAG

Two new colleges, Massachusetts State college and Southwestern college at Memphis, Tennessee, have asked to be added to the Allegheny Literary Magazine's exchange list, which formerly included only Oberlin, Ohio State college, Westminster, and East Northfield Seminary of Massachusetts.

Robert Wright, '40, editor, stated that the reason for so short a list was the lack of extra editions of the Lit to send out to various schools. To remedy this, a hundred more magazines are to be printed next issue.

The new issue, coming out March 13, will have the following highlights: cover designed by Robert Miner, '40; the Critic's Page, written by Janet Fishel, last year's editor of the Lit; a short story by Hall Van Vlack, winner of the freshman writing contest; a series of poems, entitled Trip to Montreal, written and illustrated by Bob Miner, '40; Miss Ida M. Tarbell as subject of the faculty sketch; a story by a Spanish student who was forced to leave Rome because of the civil war, and an article about Dr. Miller's art classes with illustrations of their work.

Realization Colleges Should Help Take Up Arms Against Dreaded Public Enemy

Blood tests of 78,388 undergraduates in more than 500 American colleges indicate that 2 out of every 1,000 students examined are infected with syphilis, according to a report issued last week by the American Social Hygiene Association. This rate is practically the same as that of non-college young people of the same age. These findings are incorporated in a study prepared by staff members of the United States Public Health Service for the monthly Journal of the American Social Hygiene Association.

The rate of infection for the general population in the age group 15-19 years, based on estimates of the Public Health Service issued in November, 1938, is about 1.8 per 1,000. The apparently higher college rate results from the inclusion of an unknown number of students in higher age groups up to 24 in the present survey.

Other findings of the recent survey show an indicated difference of about 15 percent less syphilis among college women than among men, a difference, it may be noted, paralleling nationwide prevalence rates by sexes. There is also a slightly lower rate among college women of the same age group at large. Little difference is shown, however, between one region in the United States and another for either sex, or between the rates for schools

DEBATERS MEET HEAVY SCHEDULE

Slippery Rock and Wesleyan Meet Here; Travel To Grove City Feb. 27

Schedule for the speech department engagements for the final week of February indicates students enrolled in speech work will represent Allegheny in numerous inter-collegiate debates.

Two of this week's debates will be held this afternoon. Two Allegheny teams will be pitted against two teams from Slippery Rock State Teachers college. Debating the advisability of the continuation of the government pump priming policy, Helen Crawford, '40, and Barbara Flick, '41, will uphold the negative against Slippery Rock, while Katherine Hill, '42, and Shirley Silver, '42, will oppose the Slippery Rock team, supporting the affirmative. The debate will be held in the Speech Studio and the Playshop at 4:15.

Wesleyan Here.

Tomorrow another pair of debates will be presented here. At 4:15 in the Speech Studio Russell Colton, '42, and Paul Krantz, '42, will debate on Ohio Wesleyan team, opposing an alliance of Great Britain and France against the advance of Fascism. Upholding the same side of the question, Betty Brady, '39, Marlan Henry, '39, and Mary Brock, '41, will debate an Ohio Wesleyan team at 8:00 p. m., in the Playshop.

A large audience is anticipated for all these campus debates, since both questions are exceedingly vital and a public forum at the conclusion of the debates enables the audience to share in the discussion.

Trips Scheduled.

T. Edwin Spofford, '40, Robert Hoover, '41, Gerald Stoner, '42, Earl Anger, '42, and Cassius McGrew, '42, will (continued on page 4)

BICKING VICTIM OF POOL ACCIDENT

Robert Bicking, '42, was taken last Sunday to the Allegheny General Hospital of Pittsburgh for special treatment for injuries sustained in a swimming pool accident here.

The accident occurred February 10, when, according to Bicking, he was pushed while standing on the edge of the shallow end of the pool. To avoid hitting other swimmers, he dived straight down and injured his head severely when it struck the tile bottom.

Bicking was in Spencer Hospital, Meadville, until Sunday when he was taken to Pittsburgh for treatment of a severe brain concussion.

The injured man, a pledge of Phi Gamma Delta, has been active as a member of the freshman swimming team.

ADMINISTRATION OFFERED IDEAS BY COUNCIL

A. U. C. SUGGESTS RECREATION CENTER; PUBLICATIONS BOARD

Moving to provide students with improved recreation facilities, (see editorial, page 2) A.U.C. moved Sunday to present to the administration a plan to furnish Cochran basement as a lounge where students could dance, bowl, and listen to the radio.

The plan, if accepted, will see new furniture and paint in the basement of Cochran hall, and the possibility of a refreshment hall, and the possibility of a refreshment concession. The idea will be presented to the administration this week, it was learned.

Also discussed was the publications board now being constructed by student editors and faculty advisers. Under this scheme, financial control of college papers and magazines would be centralized in a student-faculty committee, which would be able to furnish business managers a statement of their financial situation on request. "It is felt," commented an A.U.C. official connected with the plan, "that such a system would aid materially in cutting down the deficit of Allegheny's publications."

Fraternities and sororities will be asked to cooperate in providing Friday chapel programs, announced Forrest K. Foster, '39, chairman of the chapel programs committee. Each group will be asked to present a short program, in an effort to raise student interest in chapel programs.

Details and administration of the plan will be worked out by the committee, working in conjunction with men's undergraduate council and the (continued on page 4)

LETTER AND PICKED VOLUMES ARE FEATURED

Fifty Volumes Selected by The American Institution of Graphic Arts on Display

The century-old letter written by Silas Hubbard, father of Elbert Hubbard, while Silas was a student at Allegheny, is the subject of one of the new displays in Reis library's Craig Room. Elbert Hubbard helped establish the Roycroft press, and the books in the case are examples of the Roycroft art.

The other display is concerned with the fifty books of the year selected by the American Institute of Graphic Arts as outstanding examples of graphic art. Among these books are R. L. Root's Poetical Career of Alexander Pope, published by Princeton University Press and Pen Pictures of Early Western Pennsylvania, illustrated by Cushman and published by University of Pittsburgh Press.

John Ritchie Schultz's edition of the Unpublished Letters of Bayard Taylor was selected by the Institute. Carl Van Doren's Benjamin Franklin, published by the Viking Press was also chosen.

Other books selected were The Public Papers and Addresses of Franklin D. Roosevelt, published by Random House, New York, and Lawrence G. Wroth's edition of A History of the Printed Book, published by the Limited Editions club, New York.

Another of the books published by the Limited Editions club and selected as an outstanding edition was Somerset Maugham's of Human Bondage with 16 etchings by John Sloane.

CHAPEL CHOSEN FOR MUSICAL

Ford Memorial chapel was chosen by the Crawford County Principals' and High School Teachers' association for the scene of a musical program which they sponsored Thursday night.

Chester B. Lingo of Saegertown, president of the county principals and teachers group, presided and introduced the various numbers.

Schools which were represented included Bloomfield, Conneautville, Linesville, Beaver, Randolph, Springboro, Hydrotown, Cambridge Springs, Conneaut Lake, Cochran, North Sheango, Townville, and Saegertown.

PRE-LAW STUDENTS

Pre-law students interested in a scholarship to Columbia University are requested to contact Dean John R. Schultz.

SUCCESS OF TWO SEASONS AGO REVIVED

"LIBEL" PRESENTED OVER THIS WEEK-END WITH VETERAN CAST

Libel, a success of two years ago, will be revived by the Playshop on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 25, 27, and 28. This play by Edward Woolf, was first produced in London in 1934 and the following year in this country, Collin Clive playing the leading role of Sir Mark Loddon. The play concerns a libel suit brought by Sir Mark Loddon against a strong London newspaper. The scene takes place in an English courtroom.

Macedo Returns.

Joseph Macedo, '37, who appears as Foxley in Libel, returns to Allegheny from Connecticut to play this role. While an undergraduate here he appeared in many plays including The Fan, Twelfth Night, Ghosts, Fashion, Noah, Men Must Fight, Enemy of the People, and The Bishop Misbehaves. After graduating he spent some time at the State University of Iowa in the Department of Dramatic Art.

Notables in the cast are John Jones as Sir Mark Loddon, Phyllis Freeland as Lady Enid Loddon, John Barkley as The Hon. Sir Arthur Tuttington, Edgar Wood as Sir Wilfred Kelling, Bruce Dearing as William Bale, Joseph Macedo as Thomas Faxley, Charles Barkley as George Hemsby, William McCotter as Patrick Buckenham, John Megahan as Dr. Emile Flordon, June Seiberg as Sarah Carlton. Others include Roy Uhlinger, Marion Henry, William Todhunter, Richard Taylor, Samuel Hazlett, and Charles Liggett.

PAN-HELL DANCE SCHEDULED FOR MAR. THE 11TH

Johnston and Boltz Represent Allegheny at Pan-Hell Conference

March 11 has been set as the date for the annual Panhellenic dance, Betty Boltz, president of the organization, announced Monday. The Freshman women's dance, sponsored by Panhellenic, will be held on April 22.

The committee in charge of the Panhellenic dance is headed by Barbara Johnston, representative of Kappa Alpha Theta. Her assistants are the junior members of the council, Jane Wisenall, Alpha Xi Delta, Velma Zwilling, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Betty Stewart, Alpha Chi Omega, Jane Anderson, Theta Upsilon, and Betty Schryver, Alpha Gamma Delta.

In charge of the freshman dance, which is annually arranged by the Panhellenic Council, is Jane Wisenall, aided by Velma Zwilling, Betty Stewart, and Betty Boltz, of Theta Upsilon.

Panhellenic Conference.

Barbara Johnston, president-elect of the Panhellenic Council, and Betty Boltz, president of the group at the present time, will be sent this week-end to a regional conference at Washington, D. C.

Convening in Dodge Hotel, the representatives will take sight seeing trips of the city Friday. The remaining time will be spent in business sessions and panel discussions.

Tentative program of panel subjects for Saturday morning includes interfraternity cooperation, membership distribution, campus relationships, and fraternity relationships.

TWO DANCES ON WEEK'S PROGRAM

Two dances, one an innovation on the campus social calendar, will be featured this week-end.

Designed to make up the deficit incurred by the recent Interfraternity Ball, the M.U.C. announced yesterday its plans for an all-college radio party Friday night.

Each house will select its best records for the dance scheduled for Cochran Hall. Couples will be admitted for a nominal 25c charge. Twelve o'clock permissions have been granted by the deans for the event, it was announced.

A.U.C. All-College.

Alf Bottomley and his Swing Sextet will be featured at the All-College dance Saturday night at Cochran hall.

Under A.U.C. sponsorship, the dance Allegheny-Hamilton basketball fray will begin immediately following the Admission to the dance will be by activities tickets.

NINETY-NINE HONORED BY DEAN'S LIST

PLATO AND HIS WORKS SUBJECT OF SUNDAY TALK

Opens New Series of Craig Room Hours With Lecture and Readings

President Tolley initiated the second semester series of Craig Room hours Sunday with a discussion of the works of Plato.

Introducing his Platonic discourse, Dr. Tolley made reference to the general field of philosophy.

"Philosophy, dealing with the unsolved problems, is always on the front line of knowledge," commented the President. "It is a field concerned mainly with an evolution of fundamental life problems."

Plato Preeminent.

Plato, the speaker indicated, is the most eminent of all philosophers. His writings reflect all of Greek philosophical trends except the atomic school.

Writings of Plato have a unique distinction in that they have come down almost in full.

Paralleled Christ.

Reference was made by Dr. Tolley to certain parallels between the life of Christ and Plato—the many legends concerning both and the common indirect sources for their work.

Plato's writings are best classified in three periods: the Socratic period or dialogues, the works in Plato's 40's and 50's symbolized by the Republic, and the final period of his life, said the President.

Present controversy as to Plato's authorship in the different periods was minimized by the President for "Plato formalized most of the great question of life and posited many of the answers."

Selections Read.

SHANE HEADS GATOR STAFF

Under the editorship of Robert Shane, '41, an entirely new staff has been selected for the Gay Gator, the college's unofficial humor magazine.

Editor Shane announced the new staff this week which will contribute to the March edition. Associate editors include Stewart Shaffner, '42, and Hall Van Vlack, '42. Contributing editor will be Ben Beacom, '40, while the art work will be drawn by William Dotterer, '40, and Betty Spring, '40. Eleanor Young and Lee Knoll, both of '41, will write "Alley-Gags". Business managers will be Roger Flint and Hector Caravacci, of '42.

Fraternity Theme.

In the coming edition, according to the announcement yesterday by the staff, fraternity initiations will be utilized as the theme. Special features will be written by Mr. Van Vlack and (continued on page 4)

Seniors Lead List in Placing Thirty; Juniors Win Second Honors

Fifty-three Men and Forty-six Women Recognized For Outstanding Work

Ninety-nine students, fifty-three men and forty-six women, have been honored by being named on the Dean's list for their scholastic achievement in obtaining an average of 85 or better during last semester. The list is reported from the offices of Dr. Laila Skinner, dean of women, and Dr. J. R. Schultz, dean of men.

The total of 99 students includes 25 Freshmen, 15 Sophomores, 29 Juniors, and 30 Seniors.

Pointing out the fact that the Dean's list is "a means of recording and honoring a student's achievement during college," Dean Skinner issued the following list of students:

Freshmen.

Betty Chapelle, Dorothy French, Ruth Godley, Henrietta Hayward, Mary Kennedy, Virginia Kirk, Jane Lewis, Nancy Martin, Muriel Matson, Charlotte Miller, Marie Shamburger.

Howard Beebe, Willis Bowman, Robert Crofoot, Blaine Detrick, Paul Fera, Paul Krantz, Cassius McGrew, Frank McKnight, James Moffat, Julius Raskin, Stuart Schaffner, Gerald Tefft, Perry Wehr, and Fred Zimmer.

Sophomores.

PROF. McCLEAN LEAVES COLLEGE THIS SEMESTER

The loss of Professor McClean due to a semester's sabbatic leave and the return of Associate Professor Buckingham marked the beginning of the second semester.

Professor McClean is now in California with his family after an automobile trip across the continent. The route was indirect, stops being New Orleans, El Paso, Tucson, where he visited Professor Swartley and Hollywood. After a short vacation in California, he plans to conduct research in West Coast libraries.

Professor Buckingham has returned from his sabbatic leave during which he was an associate member of the department of advanced education in the Teacher's College of Columbia University. There he conducted experimental research with members of the Columbia University faculty on the Definition of the Functions of Higher Education and Statistics Back of the Mathematical Formula.

Another Allegheny faculty member, Professor Luvaas, is in Norway on his leave. He will return for the Commencement concert in June.

"Be Original Boys" On Valentines Day, for Candy and Flowers Soon Fade

"Roses are red.
Violets are blue.
Sugar is sweet,
And so are you."

P. S. Will you be my Valentine?

All of which naturally sounds very ditty and ancient at this point; but you know how time flies around here, so it won't be long before February fourteen rolls around again, and by that time we hope that a few of the male readers of The Campus will have gotten an idea or two from the following paragraphs.

Cries of delight were echoed all over the women's dormitories last week when box upon box of candy was delivered, and the halls gradually became filled with the scent of violets, roses, and numerous other flowers. Flowers and candy, candy and flowers!

You couldn't walk into a room without seeing someone diving into a pile of chocolates in the hope of finding her favorite covered nut. And the scant supply of vases was soon depleted so that milk bottles were eventually used as a last resort. Yes, the gifts were all too, too lovely, but that's not the end of the story. Because a few days later, the cries of the maids were even louder than those they had noised the previous Tuesday. Sorry to disillusion you, boys, but you can't get around the fact that the flowers do wilt, and that too many chocolates are fatal to the desired "lily-white" complexions of the females.

Forgotten was the pleasure of first opening their gifts, and the sentiment attached to them. For girls will be girls, and a woman has the right to change her mind. And how they were changed!

"Oh, why on earth did Jack send me roses again? They wilt so quickly, and you can't enjoy them for more than a day or two. I wish he would have thought of something else!"

And...

"Honestly, if I ever see another piece of candy again, I'll scream! I've made myself sick eating it, and my face is a wreck. Why can't boys be more original?"

And therein lies the sad, sad point of our tale. Why aren't you males more original? The age of romance certainly isn't past, but this is the age of practicality and it might be a good idea if your presents fit in with the scheme of things.

STUDENT UNION?

One of Allegheny's needs which could be immediately filled without any ruinous expense is the necessity for some sort of student union, where "dates" would find facilities for dancing, bridge, and refreshments. Many colleges provide a whole building for this sort of recreational center, though that seems to us an over-emphasis in the smaller schools.

But there is a place on this campus where such an experiment would have a better than even chance of succeeding. We refer to the basement at Cochran, now devoted to a couple of ping-pong tables and some rather desultory checker games.

All the necessities for a student union are there. Add to the bowling alleys a little paint and a few new chairs, and some arrangement in the way of a refreshment concession would complete the picture.

The need for such a gathering-place seems obvious to us. In the dormitories, radios must be kept at a low volume, lest upstairs residents be disturbed. The floor intervening between the proposed basement club and the Cochran rooms does away with the problem there. The no-smoking rule enforced in the dormitory parlors would not apply to these rooms. All the facilities are there, and a small expenditure would make them admirably suited to the purpose in mind. It is our opinion that any money spent on this plan would be an excellent investment for all concerned.

PROGRESS

An invention which will revolutionize one of America's great industries, that of making paper, has been successfully tested in Pittsburgh, with less publicity than usually attends such progress.

A Pittsburgh inventor, Dr. F. W. Hochstetter, has perfected a process by which paper of any kind can be de-inked and used again, with but one-tenth the deterioration of fiber formerly attendant on such a procedure. The reconditioned newsprint has been run through the terrific punishment of a modern high-speed with a degree of success which even its inventor had hesitated to prophesy.

Another discovery for which Dr. Hochstetter foresees equal success is his method for manufacturing paper from straw, potato peelings, and similar waste.

What these two processes will do to the paper industry is beyond comprehension. To mention two of the more obvious, prices will go down to previously impossible levels, and our supply of timber, which has been steadily decreasing despite efforts to conserve it, may have a chance to develop.

The world at present is badly handicapped by its own foolishness, but it is refreshing to note that real, humanitarian science is going ahead, constantly benefitting the race in spite of man's apparent desire to commit suicide.

WHO'S HYSTERICAL?

We have been told by more than one person that the attitude of "The Campus" on armaments and their sale to our democratic allies is one deliberately calculated to produce war hysteria, and is inspired probably by Satan, but at least by Berlin or Moscow.

We would have been deeply concerned about these charges, had we not noticed that most of the hysteria is coming from the opposition point of view, and that the only red faces in the picture are those who are shouting against losing our heads. In short, from those who are hysterical with the fear that they may become hysterical.

We refuse to see in our statement of last week anything except the perfectly logical idea of strengthening our first lines of defense, the nations of Europe which may stop fascism before it gets to America. If that makes us communists, fascists, propagandists, or rabble-rousers, we plead guilty to the charge.

STUDENT GYM CLASSES OFFERED

Several fine opportunities have been offered Allegheny freshmen and sophomores in the diversified gym classes which have been opened to those of the lower level.

Badminton, that fast moving sport which first took the fancy of the Hollywood glamor lads, has been placed on the list; and to add zest to the game, the class has been conducted with mixed groups. It has been suggested that if one wants to learn a game, he should steer clear of H. P. Way's shuttlecock swatting proteges.

Another interesting pastime is swimming in which the fair co-eds again vie for honors against the manly laddies of the college. Senior Red Cross Life Saving courses are also being held. More serious diversions are boxing and handball which contribute in no small measure to physical building up.

Those disliking exercise, however, should remain far from Karl Lawrence's classes in fistiana as it has been rumored in awed whispers that the leather pushing neophytes have been made to circle the Montgomery Gym indoor track about ten times at the close of each day's session!

Nevertheless, a fine offering is at hand and whether one's aim be exercise or recreation, the satisfying element is to be found in the pleasant variety of elective courses offered.

Letters to the Editor

Editor of The Campus
Dear Mr. Hummel:

Another May Queen election seemingly fell from heaven last Friday surprising the too few students who attended chapel. When Chairman Hummel uttered the three little words May Queen election three quarters of the students looked around considerably bewildered — THEY WERE THE FRESHMEN! The upperclassmen who chanced to be sitting in chapel Friday found themselves "in" on another whirlwind election.

Is the May Queen a senior election or a freshman one? It seems to me that the seniors are the logical group to sway the election, not freshmen whose only knowledge of the May festival came perhaps with a feeble glimpse of the queen on high school day.

Seniors, waitresses, and even singers are out of the compulsory chapel class. As a result important elections do not tally the general opinion of the campus.

In that two-and-a-half minute interval after the speaker, while attempting to visualize the perfect senior queen freshmen boys especially were resorting to queer methods of selection; some were eenie-meenie-minie-moing, and others were using the closed eye method of poking a hole through his next vote.

The Athletic board itself can't be reprimanded entirely for this system of elections. They are carrying out a tradition, with little thought, however, to the fact that students are not satisfied generally with elections that are suddenly sprung on them.

Why wouldn't it be feasible to hold an election in the bookstore, where they have been held successfully in the past? To consensus, then, might be a cross section of the general student body.

Sincerely,
'42

Editor, The Campus
Allegheny College
Meadville, Penna.

Dear Mr. Hummel:

It seems that a time-honored tradition at Allegheny has been the annual election of a May Queen. The queen and her court are to be the seven senior girls whom the student body selects on the basis of popularity, charm, activities, and beauty. All this is very well but the fact remains that the term "student body" embraces a much greater number than those present at chapel on Friday last.

The results of the election have not yet been made public but that is of little significance. Our concern is not with the end but with the means to that end. The Activities Board decided to hold the election unannounced in order to avoid the "ever present politics"; this idea is fine in theory but when the question of popular vote is brought up, the aspect is changed.

After all, Mr. Editor, the senior class is entitled to voice in the selection of the queen and her court. Although May Day is "for" the whole college, it is "of and by" the senior class. And certainly one could scarcely say that the handful of sophomores and the eight or ten juniors present represented the majority vote of their respective classes.

The election has been held, but may we suggest that in the future at least two-thirds of the student body may be allowed their rightful vote??

Sincerely,
Upperclassman.

C. S. COLER SHOWS HOW TIME SPENT

Mr. C. S. Coler, Westinghouse Manufacturing Company director of industrial relations, presented in chapel Friday charts he has prepared as a result of research on how individuals and the world as a whole spends their time.

"At the age of 25 average sleep is less and average work is less per individual man according to the chart. I can only contribute this to increased interest in the girls."

The second chart showed how we as a nation use our time. Included in the chart were recreation and other activities outside of working hours, sleep, and working hours spent in manufacturing, agriculture, trade, transportation, professional services, unemployed, and others.

Mr. Coler came to Meadville to speak Friday night before the Meadville community forum.

P. S. I. MEETS FOR INITIATION

Aileen Dain, '39, and Jean Siebielic, '39, presented papers last night before a Phi Sigma Iota meeting at Tarbell house. Miss Ludwig acted as hostess. The papers read were discussions of two contemporary Frenchmen, H. I. Lenormand and Edward Estienne. Initiation was held for Virginia Leydick, '39.

Students enrolled in the Contemporary Affairs class will hear this week Dr. W. Scott Hall discuss "The Refugee Problem"; Dr. Elisabeth Spann-Delorme will speak on "The New Tension Between Japan and Russia."

In the Craig Room This Week.

Richard E. Byrd, Alone—Admiral Byrd's five-month stay at Bolling Advance Weather Base, his motives in remaining alone, and the hardships he endured.

Dorothy Parker, After Such Pleasures—Contains "The Waltz", "The Little Hours", and other stories.
Arthur E. Hertzler, The Horse and Buggy Doctor—A doctor's dilemmas and how he solved them.

The Junior banquet will be held at the Kepler Hotel at 6:30 on Friday, Feb. 24. Dress will be formal.

A. C. C. SPONSORS PEACE PROGRAM

A student-conducted peace forum, in which students alone will participate is the feature of the Allegheny Christian council's new program. There will be several forums beginning in the spring, the specific dates to be announced later.

The student committee in charge of the forum plans consists of Edwin Spofford, '40, Patricia Green, '42, Muriel Matson, '42, and Robert Appleyard, '40.

When Dr. H. D. Bollinger, of the Wesley student foundation, was present on the campus last week, he announced an inter-collegiate council to convene at Berea college, Kentucky, this summer, and extended an invitation to the Allegheny Christian council. The convention is for the purpose of encouraging campus religious organizations. The A.C.C. expects to send one delegate and one faculty member to the convention.

U. S. ISOLATION DEBATE TOPIC

A policy of isolation from foreign belligerent nations was the subject of a debate held Thursday night, between Allegheny college and Pennsylvania state college, before a public audience at the Lewistown High School.

Advancing the merits of the isolationist policy were James Gettamy, '41, and Herbert Rosen, '40. Their Penn State opponents were Joseph Cohen and Milton Sweet.

The issue debated was, "Resolved, that the United States should pursue a policy of isolation with regard to all nations involved in foreign or civil conflict outside the western hemisphere."

JUNIOR BANQUET PLANS COMPLETE

Speakers for the junior banquet, to be held Friday in the Kepler hotel, were announced yesterday by Benjamin Beacom and Mont MacKinney, members of the committee.

The speakers will be Velma Zwilling, president of the class, and Edgar Wood. Professor Ogilvie of the Biology department will represent the faculty. Master of ceremonies will be Robert Wright.

All juniors who will not be able to attend the banquet are requested by the committee to notify Cora Kraus in Hulings hall, the committee announced.

Generally Speaking . . .

The secret of the corsage in the ice-box "leaked" out over at the Sig house last week. We smell a rat—wonder if it could have been Duesing.

The Phi Deltas were all downstairs at their formal—what a funny party! An air of solemnity must prevail at the Phi Psi initiation—six of the Senior Court's robes were among the honored present. We always said Cook was subtle!

We hate to be catty, but don't you think Jim Gilmore chose a little beneath him when he hung his pin on George—the Phi Gam dog? At that George held onto it for six weeks.

Ellie has been getting second hand reports of how Dick's getting along with Northwest Passage through some interspersed commentary by Mr. Benjamin in English 2 class.

It was disclosed on Saturday night that Dick Jarvis gave his pin to a charming girl from home, from all reports.

The girls from Hulings pulled a fast one on the Sigs, calling George Blank up and then having a nice little chat—and George not allowed to speak to any women at the time. "Thanks for calling, Ma," were his closing words—now which one of the Hulingites is George's mother?

How many times is it now, Dorie, that the haunting strains of "Violets" has greeted you as you walked into the dining room?

Jean Bracken will appreciate any suggestions on "how to spend a quiet evening at home". She and Bill gave us a good case of jangled nerves the other night—first it was solitaire, then hide and go seek, kibitzing, and finally just a settin'—that's what we call a hot time in the old town!

We have another John L. Sullivan in Herbie Koerner—he shadow boxes in front of the mirror in Hulings when he thought no one was looking—but we saw you, Herbie!

NOVEL PROGRAM FOR CRAIG HOUR

The current semester's second Craig Room Hour will be held at 4:00 p. m. Sunday, featuring a series of student readings of original writings.

Chairman Robert B. Wright, '40, indicated that the writings to be read will be read for the first time, and some of them may later be reprinted in the Lit.

Short stories, poems, and essays will be contributed.

Many Contributors.
Contributors to next Sunday's program include many known campus writers.

Helen Hilker, '41, will read some of her poems. Robert Miner, '40, will also proffer a group of poems. William Hummel, '39, will read an essay. A short story will be presented by Hall Van Vlack, '42. Comments on new books in the Craig Room will be made by Robert B. Wright, '40.

Pederson Scheduled.
Walter B. Pederson, pastor of the local Unitarian church is scheduled to speak at the third Craig Room Hour on "Contemporary Irish Poets".

P. CARES TALKS AT HISTORY CLUB

Mr. Paul B. Cares, instructor in the history department, speaking last night at the Phi Delta Theta house before the History Club, discussed the coming papal election.

Forrest Foster, '39, president of the club, introduced Mr. Cares. In charge of the arrangements was Betty Lou McCurdy, '39.

Plans for future meetings formulated by the executive committee include a dinner meeting in honor of Ida M. Tarbell, a forum discussion of democracy and dictatorship led by Forrest Foster and Bruce Dearing, and a spring picnic for the initiation of new members.

ESSAY CONTEST WILL BE HELD

Announcement of the Sarah Homer essay contest for undergraduates was released today by the English department.

This year an award of twenty-five dollars will be made at commencement for the best essay presented to the department of English in accordance with their regulations. Any subject of the writer's choice treated in either formal or informal manner will be acceptable. The only restrictions upon the subject, the department specified, will be that the student confine himself to matters which vitally interest him.

Essays will not be accepted for the contest after April 29, 1939. Entrants should send three typewritten manuscripts to the registrar's office. The essayist should use a pseudonym, placing his own name in a sealed envelope.

This annual Sarah Homer essay award has been provided for by the will of the late Fred L. Homer. The three judges to be announced later will be members of the Allegheny College faculty.

'Gators Swamp Western Reserve

CAGERS LOSE TO SURPRISING GROVERS, 42-34

GRATZ LEADS WITH 13 POINTS AS LOCALS FADE IN SECOND HALF TO BOW

The point a minute pace which had been begun against Grove City a month ago and which had carried the 'Gator five through three other fast conquests over Thiel, Alfred, and Western Reserve, proved too much for the Lawrence basketballers as they faded in the final minutes with Grove City on the Crimson court last Friday to bow, 42-34. After a nip and tuck first half in which the blue and gold held its own, the locals could only hold their stride for about six minutes of the second canto and went out as the Grovers started hitting the hoop from all angles.

In this return game with the Grove City crew, the 56th contest between the friendly rivals, the Crimson found a way to stop flashy Al White and turned George Petach and Bingham loose to get the points. The 'Gator quintet was headed by Art Gratz who was good for 13 points, having six floor buckets and a free throw. Petach popped in 19 counters by virtue of his 8 goals and three charity tallies, and the aforementioned Bingham contributed six counters from the court to annex runner-up honors.

Al White and Alex Hart were good for 9 and 8 points respectively and Bill Cook contributed the remaining four from his backcourt position. The locals visibly showed the fatiguing effects of their four game spurt in losing this one to the Grovers.

The locals show next in Meadville when they face the Hamilton courtmen on Saturday. The Lawrencemen should prove troublesome to the New Yorkers after the Grove City debacle.

Before we start out on our new sports program it might be interesting to get a general slant on the various artings of the teams as they stand at the present time. Out in front we have the T.U.'s with a batting average of 200. They have made a very good showing in all sports this fall and are to be commended upon their present position. The second in line with 150 points are the Kappa's. This swing into second place was engineered by Alice Elcher who placed first in the ping-pong tournament and so 100 points to the score. The Theta's are third with 100 points and will no doubt stay right up in front judging from the caliber of playing they have demonstrated so far this year. The Freshman teams 2 and 3 have 100 and 50 points respectively and to them we say—"give 'er the gun and the best of luck to you!"

Here's a good chance for more teams to be placed in position for obtaining points. Four new tournaments are rapidly getting under way so get your teams out and let's make things hum.

This week-end the Heelers were the active ones in the realm of outdoor life. Approximately 24 members were there overnight. Saturday a number of Outing Club Members and Heelers went out just for the afternoon.

A considerable amount of wood chopping was done and the cabin is well fortified with fuel for some time to come. Dr. Spawm is said to have done log-rolling, not in the political sense of the word, but real he-mannish log rolling. Bill Mayes was at the other end which incidentally was ice and when Bill and the log had just about met there was no longer any ice to be seen. Bill insists the water was cold. We'll take his word for it. Dr. Spawm and Bruce Campbell, trying to follow his example, also met their Waterloo with the result that there were three wetish people drying out before the fire before the afternoon was over.

The skating in the evening was fairly good in spite of the temperature, and those who did not go for a hike spent their time as "tubular terrors". Peg Watt who had charged of food won wide spread approval as a cook when she set a broil ha mbefore them.

Cal entertained the group with bed time stories pertaining to his camping days with "the little cherubs" in the backwoods.

GROVER GAME CLEAN

As is not usually the case in hard fought battles, few foul penalties were inflicted. The Lawrencemen received only five foul opportunities and their opponents but nine. The 'Gators converted six of their chances; the locals capitalized on two. Referee Heider often gave the Grovers the ball outside when he noticed the 'Gators taking too frequent liberties in advancing the ball without bothering to dribble.

LOCALS DROP SWIMMING MEET TO PITTSBURGH

Brickleymen Take Two Firsts in Bowling to Strong Pittsburgh Splash Crew

Although defeated handily by the University of Pittsburgh on Wednesday, the Allegheny College swimming team made the best showing any Pitt tank foe has made this year in the Metropolitan Club. The Brickleymen took one first place in the meet, when the Allegheny 400 yard relay team of Jones, Lichtenfels, Baldwin, and Johnson, won and tied for another. In the fifty yard free style, Baldwin, of Allegheny, and Nowotny, of Pitt, tied.

The final score was Pittsburgh 36, Allegheny 18.

The summary:
300 yard medley relay—Won by Pittsburgh (Slobodian, H. Leaderstein). Time—3:15.

220 yard free style—Won by M. Lederstein, Pitt; Dill, Pitt, second; Johnson, Pitt, third. Time—2:28.8.

50 yard free style—Baldwin, Allegheny, and Nowotny, Pitt, tied for first; Beacon, Pitt, third. Time—25.4.

Diving—Won by Brown, Pitt; Aines, Pitt, third. (No Allegheny entry).

100 yard free style—Won by Nowotny, Pitt; Baldwin, Allegheny, second; Schrader, Pitt, third. Time—56.4.

150 yard back stroke—Won by Beacon, Pitt; Slobodian, Pitt, second; Barry, Allegheny, third. Time—1:42.2.

200 yard breast stroke—Won by H. Lederstein, Pitt; Shulness, Pitt, second; Knight, Allegheny, third. Time—2:51.

440 yard free style—Won by M. Lederstein, Pitt; Dill, Pitt, second; Jarvis, Allegheny, third. Time—6:58.3.

TANK SQUAD BOWS TO FENN MERMEN, 38-28

Dick Jones Lowers Sixty Free-style Record As Natators Lose

On Saturday, the local natators dropped another meet, but this time the count was closer. Fenn defeated Allegheny, 38-28, despite two new pool records set by the 'Gators. Dick Jones turned a splendid performance in to establish a new pool record in the sixty-yard free style with the time of 31.6, and the Allegheny free style relay team, who took first in the Pitt meet, did the 400-yard final event in the new school record of 4:03.

The summary:
300 yard medley relay—Won by Fenn (Stala, Leonelli, Bishop). Time—3:26.8.

220 yard free style—Won by Baldwin, Allegheny; Bestor, Fenn, second; Nadle, Fenn, third. Time—2:33.9.

60 yard free style—Won by Jones, Allegheny; Bishop, Fenn, second; Chapman, Fenn, third. Time—31.6. (New school record).

100 yard free style—Won by Baldwin, Allegheny; Jones, Allegheny, second; Fenn, Fenn, third. Time—56.4.

150 yard free style—Won by Miller, Fenn; Leonelli, Fenn, second; Taylor, Allegheny, third. Time—2:03.4.

200 yard breast stroke—Won by Hickey, Fenn; Bishop, Fenn, second; Knight, Allegheny, third. Time—2:57.

440 yard free style—Won by Wanderslebia, Fenn; Nadle, Fenn, second; Jarvis, Allegheny, third. Time—6:58.2.

400 yard free style relay—Won by Allegheny (Jones, Lichtenfels, Johnston, Baldwin). Time—4:03. (New school record).

Basketball.

The best Delt basketball team in the last three years wound up its season with a frog's whisper decision over S.A.E., 21-20. The Deltas mixed it up earlier in the week with the Phi Gams and the Phi Psis, the latter being a particularly juicy encounter; not vicious, ya understand, but very tasty. Bill Carlson, late of the middle west, played a fine game when he could see.

Earlier in the week the Phi Gams wiped their feet on the AXP's, something like 26-8.

That is about all that is deserving of note, so we must amuse ourselves with some poisonous comment on individual styles to fill out the column.

On Chris Sullivan: There are those who advance the opinion that Sullivan as a cager is strictly stinko, but it seems that Mr. Sullivan, in spite of his wild passes, holds the curb rein on some of the more temperamental lads of the Sig quintet. It is very logical that one man throwing the ball into the balcony is better than five doing the same.

On R. J. Dugan and H. T. Lavelly (The Hibernian Protective Agency): Some circles scream loudly at the unusual gusto with which these boys enter into the spirit of the game; however, it is only good clean fun.

The fraternity A.C.'s are now whipping themselves into a light froth in the Ochs-Vereke joint in the bowels of Cochran Hall, and with numerous claims and counter claims the coming bowling season looks interesting. The Sigs advance the opinion that it is between themselves and the Phi Psis. Bob Hirschman is averaging 140 per game on the warped boards and looks good enough to back up any claim. Delta Tau Delta will not say anything in English. This is as far as we feel like going on this subject.

Outing Club.

Open to everyone regardless of race, creed, and fraternal color. The Outing Club is a good thing and more people should know about it. It is one of the largest clubs on the campus, possesses a fine set-up in the farm and cabin. It has even purchased a station wagon which as yet they have found no reasonable place to park, but we hope these difficulties can be ironed out, and all members again take an active part. Outing Club deserves the support of a larger percentage of the student body than it gets.

We understand that a weekly fatus is issuing from the deepest recesses of Jacob C. Caffisch Memorial Hall for youngsters. This probably indicates the low thought pattern of the class.

A tip from the Beak: If you feel the urge to exercise, lie down till the feeling passes away.

Time—56.4.

150 yard free style—Won by Miller, Fenn; Leonelli, Fenn, second; Taylor, Allegheny, third. Time—2:03.4.

200 yard breast stroke—Won by Hickey, Fenn; Bishop, Fenn, second; Knight, Allegheny, third. Time—2:57.

440 yard free style—Won by Wanderslebia, Fenn; Nadle, Fenn, second; Jarvis, Allegheny, third. Time—6:58.2.

400 yard free style relay—Won by Allegheny (Jones, Lichtenfels, Johnston, Baldwin). Time—4:03. (New school record).

FROSH FIVE LOSES CONTEST TO GROVERS

Crimson Yearlings Win In Overtime, 38-36; Frye Drops in 15 Points

It took the Grove City freshmen, two varsity men and an overtime period to subdue a troublesome 'Gator yearling crew at Grove City last Friday in the prelude to the varsity contest, 38-36. The Crimson won on the varsity contest, 38-36. The Crimson won on a goal by varsity man Towle after another regular, Moore, had put them back in the ball game in the second half.

For Allegheny the scoring honors easily went to Henry (Small) Frye, who made a hit with the Crimson and local fans by dumping in six floor goals and "three for three" charity markers for an aggregate of 15 points. Grover plaudits were won by speedy forward Hulton with 10 points, Boose with 9, and Moore and Anderson with 7 points each. Contributing other points for the Meadvillites were Hector Caravacci with 7 counters, Gil Long with 6 tallies, and Bob (Haircut) Welayd who was good for 4 markers.

lin, N. H., erected by the National Youth Administration of New Hampshire.

In his letter of invitation Governor Murphy writes: "The Berlin ski jump constructed by the National Youth Administration of New Hampshire, has been selected for the jumping which will determine the personnel of our Olympic team. It is a tribute to the vision and performance of your organization in New Hampshire to have this distinction."

The Berlin ski jump is the largest man-made structure of its kind in existence and is an outstanding example of the workmanship of the unemployed, out-of-school youths from 18 to 24 years of age, who are enrolled on the work projects program of the National Youth Administration.

The project was sponsored by the city of Berlin and the Nansen Ski Club and was made possible by special legislation enacted by the New Hampshire legislature authorizing the city to participate in the undertaking and establishing a commission to regulate the jump. The city supplied the materials and the Nansen Ski Club of Berlin, the plans and technical supervision. Construction was carried out by State NYA Director Bingham entirely with NYA youths, except for the technical supervisors. Work was begun in July, 1937, by 50 NYA boys, employment reaching a peak of 144 youths before the course was sufficiently completed for use late last winter.

The jump was dedicated last March by NYA officials, when the first Olympic tryouts for membership on the American team took place and several new unofficial records were set. Even better marks are expected to be established at this year's finals which

WHITE LEADS IN SURPRISE WIN OVER VISITORS

The Allegheny five, shooting with uncanny accuracy, smothered the highly touted Western Reserve quintet last Tuesday night, 74-56. Never in Allegheny has there been an aggregate total so large, and only once, in 1911, when the 'Gators scored 75 points, has an Allegheny five accumulated such a total.

The 'Gators seemed at the very peak of form in all departments of play, especially their shooting, as they dropped in shots with almost monotonous regularity from all points on the floor. The largest crowd to attend a game at the gym in years saw Allegheny sink forty percent of all their attempts as compared with the normal twenty percent average.

The passing was fast and accurate, and the ball handling was sure. The team played heads up ball, particularly Robinson who repeatedly intercepted Western Reserve passes and converted them into scores.

White opened the scoring with a free throw. Then Cook put in a long one. White then became red hot, and sank five consecutive fielders, and the score was 13-5, with only four minutes passed. At this point, Western Reserve put in its own star regulars, Chuck Diven and Joe (Great) Scott, the national collegiate decathlon champ last year, and their offense began to move. The score went to 19-11, and then to 30-12, as Gratz and White got going. The half-time score was 41-24.

Gratz Out.
As the second half got under way, Allegheny seemed to feel the loss of Gratz, who had been rejected on fouls, and the Clevelanders rapidly closed the gap. The score became as close as 48-37.

Allegheny then put on a terrific spurge of scoring, and the count skyrocketed to 61-39. In this rally, Hart, Faloan and White caged numerous buckets. Then the 'Gators eased a bit, knowing that the game was safely stowed away. Substitutes came in at the late stages, and helped swell the score to the final 74-56 count.

The victory was more a tribute to teamwork than to individual play. There was no single outstanding star. Al White dropped them in from everywhere for a spectacular total of 22 points. Alex Hart was especially effective in the close-ups, making six fielders and four free throws for 16 points. Eddie Robinson played a beautiful defensive game, and Art Gratz, during the time he was in there, handled the ball beautifully.

will attract the crack amateurs of the nation. Mayor Ryan states that arrangements are being made by Berlin to handle a crowd of 60,000 spectators.

The ski course is conveniently located on a hill just outside Berlin and consists of a series of steel towers supporting a wooden runway 310 feet long from the start to the take-off. The main tower rises 171 feet from the surface of the ground, a height equal to that of Niagara Falls. The huge frame was erected by youths previously unacquainted with structural steel operations and without accident. The runway is pitched at an angle of 33 degrees and skiers develop a speed of from 70 to 80 miles per hour by the time they reach the take-off. The landing-field on the hillside below is 350 feet long and has been graded to an angle of 39 degrees to provide a maximum of safety and lessen the dangers of bad spills. The site of the jump was chosen after the entire region had been studied from airplanes in order to find a location free from unfavorable winds and air currents which might have a tendency to unbalance jumpers while in mid-air.

SOCIETY

By BETTY SPRING

This week's social life was a little bit here and a little bit there. A ten here, a fall party there, and some place else a radio party or initiation. At any rate let's delve into the week-end occurrences and see what there is of interest.

Alpha Chi Omega.

The Phi Phi alumnae chapter of Alpha Chi Omega entertained the active chapter at Sunday tea, at the home of Mrs. Marie Giddens. Mrs. Giddens, Mrs. Lewis, and Miss Mary Henderson were hostesses.

Phi Kappa Psi.

Phi Kappa Psi announces the initiation of Charles Rothrock, '41, Fred Davidson, '40, Samuel Lord, Glenn Peiffer, Stephen Hull, Dick Barnes, Al Barnes, Alton Kuhl, Russell Sipe, Jack Correy, Glen Marcy, Bill Race, and Bob Devine, '42, on Saturday, Feb. 18.

A Founder's Day banquet was held Saturday evening at the house. Herbert Mook introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Ben F. Miller, Jr. The guests were Mr. Jack Dumara, Mr. Baylon, Mr. Robert Bates, Mr. Lord, and Mr. Rabele.

Delta Tau Delta.

"Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching," and so they did Saturday evening, Feb. 18, at the Delta radio party at the Shelter (put particular emphasis on the tramp, as it was an old clothes party). The motive was a combination of informality and hilarity. Miss Agnes Painter was the chaperone, and the guests were Chris Sullivan, '40, Bill Reed, '39, Dave Shields, '38, Tom Crawford, '38, and Bill Lavey.

Ted Simpson was the week-end guest of Delta Tau Delta.

Phi Gamma Delta.

Glen Fitch, '35, of Iowa State, was the guest of Phi Gamma Delta on Wednesday, and Ray Hickey, of Penn, was a week-end guest.

Alpha Chi Rho.

Alpha Chi Rho held a smoker Sunday evening at the house in honor of their freshman pledges.

Phi Delta Theta.

It's "heart" to beat a Phi Delta dance.

Hit Play Revived In Playshop

John W. Hulburt are supervising the production. Michael Enserro is assistant to the directors.

Production is in the charge of students of the drama department. The stage manager will be Michael Supko, costumes are under the supervision of Katherine Gelbach, and lighting will be done by Charles Miller.

Students desiring tickets will have their student activities tickets honored, it was announced. If students call at the Playshop before the performance they will receive their reserved seats. It is advisable to call early this week, Playshop officials suggested.

especially a Valentine formal party, which was held Saturday evening, Feb. 18, at the house. The Town Club "heartily" beat out their sweet melodies midst a maze of red streamers and hearts. Dr. and Mrs. Rowlingson were chaperones, and Miss Skinner and Mr. Hulburt were the guests. The committee in charge was made up of Bill Parsons, Bob McVey, of '41, and Ed Wood, '40.

Phi Delta Theta announces the initiation of Jack Barry, '41, Rolf Arentzen, Howard Beebe, Robert Brossman, James Craig, Paul Herre, Frank McKnight, Cassius McGrew, Paul Krantz, Bob Welday, Bob Willison, Hall Van Black, Jack O'Laughlin, Neil Weir, James Fleek, of '42, on Sunday evening, Feb. 19.

The initiation banquet was held Monday evening at the chapter house. Alumni Julian Ross and Donald Rowlingson were guests.

economic and political system", the speaker indicated conservatives seek order and balance in promoting reforms.

Praises Roosevelt.

President Roosevelt was commended for his restoration of confidence to the American people in 1933.

Views With Alarm.

However, Mr. Coler expressed alarm at the increased taxes, the fusion of politics and relief, and the rise in the national debt.

"That people are now more ready to rely on business for economic recovery," was one of the speaker's beliefs. Concluding, Mr. Coler urged the adoption by business of principles of social and economic responsibility.

At the conclusion of Mr. Coler's talk an open forum was conducted.

Thomas Scheduled.

Final speaker of this series will be Norman Thomas, socialist leader, who will speak Friday, March 3.

College students are admitted to the series free, avoiding the $1.00 season ticket rate, providing they present activities tickets.

Syphilis Revealed By Medical Tests

infected persons do not know that they have syphilis and therefore do not request examinations, testing by selective method results in many actual cases of the disease among college students remaining undetected. The report stresses the need for routine blood testing.

Two-thirds of the college officials approached believed some method of testing is desirable. A fair proportion of the officials, as indicated by their replies, are still of the opinion that syphilis is bounded by class or racial lines, and hence think that blood testing is unnecessary in colleges.

Perhaps the noteworthy fact found by this survey is its indication that the majority of college administration officials, however, are fast beginning to realize the necessity for fighting syphilis on every front—including the college campus. In many instances, this realization, according to the report, "seems almost intuitive."

"A case of syphilis found is of great importance for what it is, no matter where it may be discovered. One case of syphilis spreads to others, finally becoming the focal point of a small epidemic. Early diagnosis and treatment is protection not only to the individual, but to the community. Public health authorities agree that control efforts, to be effective, must begin with individuals in the age-group of first exposure. College students form an important section of this group. Control in this age-group offers real—perhaps the only—hope that the general rate can be materially reduced."

Banners which were stolen from the Homecoming dance will be replaced by A.U.C., according to a statement by President William Hummel, '39. The banners were borrowed from the fraternities to aid in the decoration scheme of the dance.

A motion was reconsidered that A.U.C. recommend to next year's council that the Outing club be placed on the budget as a permanent item. The motion was defeated for the second time.

Speech Bureau Has Extension Talks

travel to Grove City and Geneva Colleges February 27 and 28 to debate the pump priming issue.

Extension Bureau.

Members of the Speech Department's extension bureau have made three appearances this week.

Helen A. Hilker, '41, appeared before a Chautauqua church group Sunday, February 19, presenting her discussion of Cowboy ballads.

February 20 two extension engagements were filled. Richard Jones, '39, and Richard I. Miller, '41, presented a pump priming policy before a combined meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs of Punxsutawney, Pa. On the same date Frances Batchelor presented a group of readings before the Kerntown Parent Teachers Association.

KAPPAS ELECT CORA KRAUS, '40

Cora Kraus, '40, was elected president of Kappa Kappa Gamma Monday night.

Other officers elected by the Kappas are Katherine Gelbach, '40, vice-president and Elinor Kistler, '40, marshal.

Miss Kraus is the assistant editor of Kaldron, and a member of the Singers. She has been assistant treasurer of the sorority this year.

Installation of officers will take place next Monday and other officers will be filled by appointment.

Boys Asked to Take Hint On Valentine Day

to fall on the same day. Another Hulingsite was the lucky receiver of a colorful potted plant which will continue to brighten her room for many a month. And believe it or not, girls really never grow up. At least they never seem to tire of toy animals which they love to have around their rooms, for we know of one who is crazy about her new white monkey.

A few of the more original gifts run into money, but there is an endless list of presents which cost no more than candy or flowers, and which are ever so much more practical. A piece of costume jewelry, a small bottle of perfume, or the ever needed pair of stockings are just a few of them.

Furthermore, when you do send your girl something different, she will appreciate it doubly, for it will show her that you have spent some time thinking about it.

So when Dan Cupid starts trimming his arrows for the big celebration of Valentine's Day next year, don your thinking caps, boys. Get out of the "candy and flowers" rut, and show your originality!
