

The Disillusionment of Women:

Make no mistake about the capacity of women in the mass ^{the} swayed by emotion, to rise in revolt, in defense.
Count on them for ^{no} revolution unless it is a revolution which concerns those they love, those they feel they must defend.
You remember Lafcadio Hearn's letter to Elizabeth Bisland written years ago describing the women of St. Pierre's defense of the statue of Josephine.
