My dear Mr. Walbeck:

I hope you will pardon me for the delay in acknowledging your note of September 27th enclosing the copy of the article from the Vandergrift News on the death of former Burgess McIntire. It gives me what I wanted.

I enjoyed my ride back to Pittsburgh after my day with you and Mr. Bodwell and my conductors very much indeed. It was a good day for me. It is a real satisfaction to know that Vandergrift is carrying on through thick and thin and growing on the lines which seemed to me so sound when I first made its acquaintance eighteen years ago. I was obliged to come on to New York at the end of last week so that I could not get the second day in your town that I had hoped for. However, one of these days I may be back there again.

Kindly remember me to Mr. Bodwell, Mr. Russell and Mr. Black and thank them all for their kindness.

Very sincerely yours

Mr. R. M. Walbeck
