FREDERICK BAER DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE IN MUSIC COURSE PROGRAMME FRIDAY

Last Friday evening's concert by Frederick Baer, successful New York baritone, more than satisfied an audience that filled Ford Memorial Chapel to capacity. The Allegheny Singers performed in three selections on Mr. Baer's program. Dr. I. R. Beiler, representing the College-Community Lecture-Concert Course committee, introduced Mr. Baer.

The program which Mr. Baer presented included compositions by Italian, German, Russian, and English song writers in addition to two negro spiritual numbers and three choral selections. In announcing several of his songs, Mr. Baer made brief and helpful explanatory remarks.

The nature of the program was varied and beautiful. Whether rendering the scolding laughter of "Song of the Flea" or the tender melody of Von Weber's "Meine Lieder", the baritone voice commanded admiration. Mr. Baer's most popular number was "At Twilight" by the English composer, Terry. The soft colorful tonal beauty of this number as sung by Mr. Baer resulted in the audience demanding its repetition. Every audience before which Mr. Baer has appeared this year has done the same thing. Beethoven's powerful and emotional "Die Ehre Gottes" was well received. The expressive negro spiritual "Lord I Want to Be" was loudly applauded.

"Built on a Rock," the work of Christiansen, greatest living choral writer, overshadowed the other two numbers in which the Allegheny Singers participated. The composer embodies ecclesiastical dignity in the strains of this work. Mr. Baer did not take part in the chorus' final number, "Wake, Awake," by the same composer. The Singers provided the accompanying score for Mr. Baer's "The Turtle Dove." Mr. Morten J. Luvaas, head of the department of Music, directed the chorus.

Alma Grayce Miller was Mr. Baer's accompanist.

In addition to his announced program Mr. Baer sang "The Sleigh," "Who is Silvia?" by Franz Schubert; "Miss Kitty O'Toole," by Protheroe; and "Invictus" by Huhn. The announced program was as follows:

- I.
 - a. Tre Giorni Pergolesi
 - b. Gia il sole dal Gange Scarlatti
 - c. In my Little Room Moussorgsky
 - d. Song of the Flea Moussorgsky
- II.
 - a. Die Ehre Gottes Beethoven
 - b. Botschaft Brahms
 - c. Meine Lieder Von Weber
 - d. Der Sieger Kaun
- III.
 - a. Built on a Rock Christiansen
 - b. The Turtle Dove Christiansen
 - c. Wake, Awake Christiansen
 - d. Mr. Baer and The Allegheny Singers
- IV.
 - a. That Day We Met Braine
 - b. At Twilight Terry
 - c. The Bold, Unbiddable Child Stanford
 - d. Lord I Want to Be (Negro Spiritual) Arranged by Wille
 - e. Gwine to Hebb'n Wolfe

In addition to possessing a beautiful voice, Mr. Baer possesses much dramatic ability. This asset was essential to the effectiveness of "The Bold, Unbiddable Child," "Gwine to Hebb'n," "Song of a Flea," and several other numbers. Accurate diction enhanced Mr. Baer's singing still more.

Singer Interviewed.

When asked which of the numbers on the program was his favorite, Mr. Baer said, "They're all favorites. To answer your question I'd have to limit it to a single school of music. My favorite English song is 'At Twilight'; my favorite negro spiritual, 'Lord I Want to Be'; and so on.

"I believe that colleges should not grant degrees to those students who do not possess some knowledge of music," said Mr. Baer in discussing the value of music as an avocation. "Music is unsurpassed as a means of refining the soul. It is a wonderful hobby," he continued.

To dispel any idea that he was "speaking from a bigoted standpoint," the baritone told the writer of his interest in athletics. He has broken several amateur dash records. Then, too, Mr. Baer has had a great deal of contact with business through his former position as accountant. His high evaluation of music, he contends, has sound practical basis.

WOMEN DEBATERS MEET GROVE CITY TOMORROW

Men's Group also Active with Trips to West Virginia and Pittsburgh.

As a grand finale to a very successful season of debating, three of the most seasoned of Allegheny's women debaters will meet a team of Grove City College co-eds in the Little Theatre, Arter Hall, on Thursday, March 17, at 8:15 o'clock. The question for debate will be "Resolved, that Capitalism as a system of economic organization is unsound in principle." No decision will be rendered.

Little is known of the Grove City team, but the ability of Ruth Birkner, Geneva Hazen, and Claire Skinner, who are to uphold the affirmative side of the question in the name of Allegheny College, has been exhibited in former debates and much can be expected of them.

With this outstanding event, the activities of the men debaters seem to fade in the background this week, but, in spite of the fact, a successful schedule has been carried on as usual. Cecil Bartholomew, Kenneth Johnson, and William Boetcker upheld the negative side of the question against Geneva College last Friday, March 11, and Sanford Corcoran, Louis Haberman, and Paul Cares traveled to West Virginia this week and met the University of West Virginia on Monday, March 14. The University of West Virginia debated the affirmative side of the question. On Friday, March 18, Sanford Corcoran and Paul Cares will meet a team from the University of Pittsburgh, at Pittsburgh, and defend the negative.

As a climax to the men's forensic schedule, a select group has been picked from the English Language 4A class to meet a team from Brothers College of Madison, New Jersey, here on Wednesday, March 23. Two of these men, Paul Cares and Harmon Gilbert, have seen four years of service, and the third man of the group, Sanford Corcoran, is a veteran of three seasons. These three men, who have been working diligently on the question throughout the year, show promise of presenting a suitable attack upon the arguments of the Madison men, and of defending themselves against any attack of the opponents.

Change in Name of Literary Magazine Rumored as Likely

It is reported that, in line with the present policy of bringing the Literary Magazine up to date, the name of the publication is to be changed to something more sprightly. The most favored suggestion is "The Allegewi Magazine"; "Allegewi" is an Indian word from which the name of the college is derived.

The spring issue of the publication will appear shortly after the Easter recess. The keynote of the number is "college romance", a topic which will be discussed from every angle by several contributors. A special feature of this Lit will be another of William Hunter's delightful Scotch legends.

Charles Bartberger and John Corcoran of the freshman class have been given positions on the contributing staff of the magazine. Other additions to the staff are expected soon.

DOUBLE-CAST PLAY MEETS WITH ONLY MILD SUCCESS

Disappointing houses greeted the performances of Hubert Henry Davies' "The Mollusc" on March 3, 5, 7, 9, with scarcely half the seats filled on any except Saturday, the fifth. While admitted to be well done both in acting and production, the play did not attract audiences as large as those who have attended previous productions, but conflicts in dates, general business conditions and unfamiliarity with the play may explain in part the attitude of former ardent Playshop devotees.

The lion's share of credit for the polish and finesse displayed by the amateur actors and producers of the Little Theatre goes to Miss Alice H. Spalding, and Mr. John W. Hulbert, the Playshop mentors, who were responsible for the casting of the play, for the direction of the action, and for the production of one of the finest sets that has ever been seen on the stage of this theatre. Assisting Miss Spalding with the production was Miss Georgia Buckham, who is well experienced in Playshop technique.

Additional work and responsibility were added to the task of the producers in this play due to the fact that there was a double cast, each character being required to rehearse with all members of the cast. The players were assigned to each part, and they were

Preparations For Pan-Hellenic Ball March 19 Complete

All preparations and arrangements to make the Pan-Hellenic Ball, which will be held in Cochran Hall on March 19, a fitting climax to the pre-spring activity for college social functions, have been completed.

The various committees under the general direction of Helen Hopkins, have arranged to make this formal one of the best of its kind ever held at the college. Since invitation privileges have been extended to both sorority and non-sorority women, it is felt that a large crowd will attend the dance.

Cochran Hall will be decorated in the simplicity and natural beauty of the Greek style. The music will be furnished by "Dutch" Kress and his Olympians, popular local dance band. Dancing will continue from 8:00 to 12:00 with Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Tolley and Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Akers as chaperones.

The general committee for the dance includes the following women: Betty Cappe—orchestra. Martha Fell—decorations. Kathryn Earnest—refreshments. Margaret Evans—program. Lucille Antico—chaperones. Beatrice Staciokas—invitations.

Dr. Tolley Delivers Talk at Greenville in Methodist Church

The Community Council of Religious Education held the 10th annual anniversary exercises in the First M. E. Church at Greenville Wednesday evening. The address was delivered by Rev. Dr. William P. Tolley, President of Allegheny College, and the Greenville Record-Argus of Thursday publishes the following report:

The speaker, Dr. William P. Tolley, President of Allegheny College, delivered a very scholarly and appropriate address for the occasion. In his introductory remarks he spoke of religious education being known as a popular fad 10 years ago whilst now it is a recognized fact. Every seminary and almost every church college has a chair of Religious Education today. Ten years ago this was the exception.

He recalled attention to the former divorce existing between theory and conduct and though Aristotle endeavored to link the two together, the real merging is the result of the present programme of religious education. The method of religious education, "as it deals with life situations to make religious truths finds expression in life and conduct," was duly stressed.

As to the future the speaker advocated religious educators to be physicians in the field of education rather than moralists. "The latter," he said "tends to develop the spirit of self-righteousness and leads people to sit in judgement over the moral and religious life of others. The physician will diagnose the cause of moral delinquency in the community and find whether it is the effect of unwholesome environment, sinful recreations, capitalism, low standards of Christian living, and then puts forth effort to remove the cause which contributes to sin and unrighteousness in a community."

The concluding thought was that of altruism and unselfishness which must dominate our educational ideals.

'GATORS MAKE FINE RECORD ON COURT DURING SEASON, WINNING SIXTEEN CONTESTS

Everyone at Allegheny can be satisfied with the successful season on the basketball court just brought to a finish by the Blue and Gold squad. Completing the last lap of subsidized competition at this college, marking "finis" to the successful regime of Coach Dick Baker, and concluding the long and faithful service of six members of the varsity, the old Alligator wound up its career with sixteen victories and five defeats, one of the finest records compiled by any team in this section of the country.

Sixteen games won out of twenty-one played is in itself a creditable record for any team, but couple this with the high type of competition met by the team, none of which can be considered as "set-ups"; add to this the fact that no other district team played so difficult a schedule, and, furthermore, that two of the best members of the varsity, Kerr and Brown, could not be used; and it is clearly evident that the Alligator and Coach Baker have really accomplished wonders the past season.

Their early game record is particularly outstanding. Twelve teams fell victims of their dazzling attack before a contest was lost. Among these were such redoubtable foes as Colgate, Geneva, St. Bonaventure, Grove City—all names that have long meant something in basketball circles.

Returning from a five-game invasion of New York, the gruelling pace began to tell on the 'Gator. Almost completely worn down, the team stumbled badly for a space of two weeks, with several set-backs in games that would probably have been won if the men were rested. From this period on, the quintet gradually regained its power until once more near the peak of its ability in crushing its final opponent, Waynesburg.

The only opponent of the season indisputably superior to Allegheny is Westminster, despite the fact that the Blue and Gold finished fifth in the Tri-State standings.

Names appearing in the personnel of the squad will long be remembered at Allegheny and surrounding colleges. Captain Dennison has been a consistently heavy scorer in almost every contest. Garbark has played mostly in the back-court, but many times he has taken the offensive when points were needed and rolled the score upwards with amazing accuracy. Walter Berger has been the vortex of a deceptive offense, and a steady influence in every situation. Conn has few equals at the center position, being an excellent scorer, passer, and guard. Mills and Massing have appeared but rarely in the regular line-up, but their ability at forward and guard respectively is unquestionably of a high grade. All six of these men have played their last for Allegheny, and their loss is irreplaceable.

Ralston and Jiles, both first-year men, have alternately taken the fifth position on the starting quintet as running-mate for Captain Dennison at forward, and have performed with all the flash and brilliance of veterans, both being dead shots from any spot on the court.

Non-regulars, but still contributing largely to the success of the team, are Hibbs and Brown, centers; Willard Berger, guard; and McKim and Hershelman, forwards. All are underclassmen and can be depended upon as the nucleus of next year's varsity five when Coach Tippin takes over the reins.

The season's record follows:

Piano Arrangement of Beethoven Symphony Presented in Chapel

A different type of programme was presented in chapel Friday noon. Philip Benjamin, instructor in English language and literature, and George B. Roessing, instructor in romance language, presented a piano duet, Beethoven's "Fifth Symphony".

Morten J. Luvaas, professor of music, explained the work to the students before its presentation, first giving the general symphonic form and then analysing this particular work. The "Fifth Symphony" is frequently called the "Fate Symphony"—it was written at the time when Beethoven was beginning to grow deaf, and seems to portray his struggle against his fate. In particular the two four-note contrasting themes have been referred to as fate's knocking at the door. The "Fifth" is probably Beethoven's greatest symphony.

Benjamin and Roessing gave a very good and highly appreciated rendition of the work. Both are excellent musicians, and play very well together.

FRESHMEN DECIDE TO GIVE ALL-COLLEGE

The Freshmen, at a meeting held after Wednesday's chapel, decided to have a dance. It was also decided that the dance should be open to anyone who desired to attend.

A committee consisting of Louise Reynders and Ernest Joslin was appointed by the Freshman president, Samuel McKim, to see Dean Schultz and Dean Bowie in order to get their approval for the dance. As nothing further could be done until the committee receives the permission of the Deans, the meeting was adjourned.

HISTORIANS TRAVEL WASHINGTON ROUTE

Two historians will arrive in Pittsburgh next Thursday to make a three-day trip over the route George Washington took from Ambridge to Erie in 1753.

They are Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart, professor emeritus of Harvard and official historian of the George Washington Bi-Centennial Commission, and Professor John K. Lacey, of Boston, former Harvard historian.

NEWS STAFF SPONSORS VOTE ON CANDIDATES

Presidential Possibilities to be Subjected to Local Straw Vote.

The News Staff of The Campus is to sponsor a mock presidential-prohibition poll through the pages of this paper during the next two weeks. On Thursday, March 17, Friday, March 18, and Monday, March 21, the office of Miss Cotton, in Bentley Hall will be the scene of the balloting.

In this issue on Page 2 there will appear a ballot with the names of the most likely Republican and Democrat presidential nominees, in the opinion of the News Department. Tear or clip the ballot out of the paper and mark an X after the name of your nominee for United States President. Be sure to mark only one name under each party. Then after the polls close on Monday afternoon the nominations will be tabulated and the leading nomination from each party will be the presidential nominees. A ballot will be printed in the next issue of The Campus containing the two names of the nominees and their various positions relative to the 18th Amendment. The polls will open then the following Thursday, March 24, and the voting will last until the end of classes on the following day.

THOMSON AND GILBERT TALK BEFORE KIWANIS

Harry Thomson and Harmon Gilbert debated before the Erie Kiwanis Club last Tuesday, March 8, in the private dining hall of the Hotel Lawrence. The question debated was "Resolved, that Capitalism as a system of economic organization is unsound in principle." Mr. Gilbert debated the affirmative side of the question while Mr. Thomson took up the negative side.

This debate is a part of the program of the Allegheny Speakers to appear before different clubs and organizations and debate the question of Capitalism. The subject of the debate is a very timely topic in which all business men are greatly concerned, and whenever our debaters appear, they are given the keenest attention and their speeches are well appreciated.

JOHN HAYNES HOLMES TO BE HERE APRIL 28

New York Minister Takes Place of Warden Lewis Lawes on Lecture Series.

Although there will be some disappointment in the announcement that Warden Lewis Lawes, of Sing Sing Prison, will not be able to fill his engagement as speaker on the Community-College Music Lecture Series, there will also be a welcome for the word that Rev. Dr. John Haynes Holmes, of New York City, will be the substitute speaker. He will appear in Ford Memorial Chapel the evening of Thursday, April 28, to give the last number of a series of five in the 1932 course.

Warden Lawes recently suffered a fractured arm which will prohibit him from filling this season's engagements, but it is hoped and planned that he can fill the same platforms next year.

Dr. Holmes is considered one of the most intelligent and courageous of modern day thinkers. He is a brilliant speaker, and internationally known for his wisdom and outlook. It was on the personal advice of Dr. Holmes that Mahatma Gandhi refused to come to the United States early this winter, because he feared Gandhi's mission would be entirely misunderstood, and that he would be publicized to an annoying and harmful extent.

DR. TOLLEY TO TEACH BIBLE CLASS SUNDAY

Dr. Tolley will teach the college Bible class next Sunday morning at 9:40. This will be the last meeting of the class until after the Easter vacation.

Although the number attending has decreased within the last few Sundays, there were about 25 students at last Sunday's class.

These Sunday morning Bible classes are under the guidance of Professor Woodring. This term's study, according to Dr. Woodring, is concerned with "The background in religion and the intra and extra Jewish culture of Jesus."

Ten minutes of each lesson are devoted to the singing of hymns under the direction of Mr. Luvaas.

Education Professor Gives Chapel Talk on Rating of Students

Dr. Guy E. Buckingham, Assistant Professor of Philosophy and Education, addressed the college students at Chapel on March 14 with an illustrated lecture on the mental capacity and efficiency rating of college students.

Dr. Buckingham had with him on the platform a chart showing two phases of the "Normal distribution" curve which represented the frequent occurrence of relative magnitudes of traits among individuals. Upon this chart and other apparatus Dr. Buckingham demonstrated the importance of various phases of training in the determination of probable usefulness.

Particularly Dr. Buckingham stressed the importance of not neglecting a single phase of training, under which he included social, physical, civic, spiritual, mental, and economic. He also pointed out to the students how failure to balance carefully one's training may cause a person in the uppermost level of capacity to fall into an efficiency rating below normal. Dr. Buckingham stated that college students have a high potential capacity, but it must be developed in a uniform measure in order to secure a well balanced training. Dr. Buckingham also stated that a student would drag down his efficiency average if he was well developed mentally, but deficient in other qualities.

ALPHA GAM ALUMNAE MEET LAST THURSDAY

Mrs. Florence Reid, 228 Bolleau Place, was hostess to the alumnae of Alpha Gamma Delta, Thursday evening, with Miss Charlotte Shields assisting. A business meeting was held, plans being made to co-operate with the project of the national organization of the sorority. This is the maintenance of a summer camp at Jackson, Michigan, at which 250 poor children are cared for annually.

Plans were made, also, for the entertainment of the national inspector of the sorority, Miss Julia Riser, of Birmingham, Alabama, who will visit Meadville April 15-19.

An informal hour closed the evening and lunch was served.

SCHOLARSHIP AND FRATERNITY.

With the recent publication of the fraternity scholarship averages, an article in "The American Scholar", official organ of Phi Beta Kappa, seems particularly apropos. The author, Mr. A. E. Duerr, chairman of the Interfraternity Conference, states the results of a survey made during the past five years in an effort to get an approximate picture of the relationship between academic achievement and the fraternity.

The survey in question covers one hundred fifty-four colleges at which five or more national fraternities have chapters. The statistics show that five years ago only 42% of the colleges had fraternity averages above the general college average. Last year the fraternities crossed the line of superiority at 50% and this year are decisively over the mark.

This rapid improvement is the result of a concentrated emphasis upon scholarship by the leading national fraternities and now practically obliterates this formerly valid point of attack upon fraternity life. Allegheny is no exception. For the past few years the averages of the fraternity men have been above the composite averages of all the men in the college. This is a significant and laudable trend, and if it continues should go far in removing antagonism towards fraternities.

THE INTERFRATERNITY SING.

Recently The Campus announced the completion of the arrangements of the Third Annual Interfraternity Sing. This event is looked forward to with anticipation by the entire College as one of the most delightful affairs of the spring season.

Last year only half of the fraternities on the campus participated in the event, but even then it was most successful and pleasant. At the same time, when all the organizations do not take part something is detracted from the complete enjoyment of such an affair. There should be no excuse for a fraternity not entering. Each group should be able to sing at least three songs creditably and if it cannot, this is an excellent opportunity to acquire the ability. A complete entry list will add infinitely to this already notable college function.

This is purely a secret balloting, since there will be no names on the ballots. A member of The Campus staff will check the names on the school roll as the people cast their ballots. It is hoped that the entire student body will take an active interest in this poll and will cast their ballots from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. on Thursday, Friday, and Monday, March 17, 18, and 21.

In order for the poll to mean anything it is essential that the great majority of the students cooperate with The Campus by voting. There is nothing obligatory about the experiment, but if enough interest is shown other experiments will be planned by the staff.

Instructions are briefly given as follows:

- (1) Tear or clip the ballot from page 2.
- (2) Mark an X in the square after the candidate of both parties you select.
- (3) Cast your ballot in the Ballot Box in Bentley Hall.
- (4) Be sure the watcher checks your name.
- (5) Don't forget the ballot next week which will get the final results from the poll.

CAMPUS QUESTIONS

MAX MONTOR'S VISIT

On Tuesday, March 8th, Allegheny College had the opportunity of doing honour to the memory of one of the world's greatest poets, the centenary of whose death is being celebrated this month, by hearing a distinguished German actor, Max Montor, read in the original that poet's most famous work, Faust. A rare treat was enjoyed by those present . . . but they numbered scarcely thirty-five, instead of filling the Playshop Theatre to capacity.

What kind of an impression of the cultural standing of Allegheny College do you think our distinguished visitor carried away with him and what kind of publicity do you think he will give up as he travels about the country, when only one-sixth of our faculty members and one-twentieth of our student body thought that they understood enough German or otherwise deemed it worth their while to turn out for this occasion? The unusually cold weather and the prevailing gripe explains the absence of some, but what about the others? The college spends large sums annually on publicity. Does it ever stop to consider what unfavorable publicity it gives itself on such an occasion as this?

Why did not those whose German is a bit deficient prepare themselves for the event, which was duly advertised, by reading one of the translations of Faust to be found in the library? Had they done so they would have been surprised—as were some members of the Beginners' class—to find how much they could understand due to Mr. Montor's clear enunciation and masterly differentiation by voice and facial expression of the various characters portrayed, from the Lord God, the arch-angels and Mephistopheles in the prologue in heaven, to the learned professor Faust, who in his despair at the limitations of human knowledge turns to magic, the Earth-Spirit whom he conjures, his pedantic assistant Wagner, the timid young freshman who comes to the learned professor for advice and is given a description of the various branches of knowledge by Mephisto dressed in Faust's academic robe, the witch and the baboons in the witch's kitchen, where Faust is made twenty years younger, the innocent Gretchen with whom he then falls in love, the widow Martha, in whose house they meet and who tries to win Mephisto for herself while Faust makes love to Gretchen, the soldier brother Valentine, who meets death in a duel fought for her sake and dying curses her, and the pathetic, mad Gretchen in the final prison-scene. An unusual treat was missed by those who failed to turn out.

ANNA SCHAFHEITLIN.

CURRICULUM DISCUSSED

The first result of the new curriculum plan will be to increase the importance of the Adviser by laying on him the burden of responsibility for studying the student. His function will be to adapt the curriculum to the needs of the student. He will attempt to foresee the requirements of the student's future career and avoid coming too late to a situation which might have been provided for.

Another result will be the increased importance of the student in mapping out his own work, not by a free elective system, but, as far as possible, by providing a goal toward which he can consciously work.

The net result should be a much higher degree of adaption of a college course to the eventual needs of the student.

EDUCATION FRATERNITY INITIATES FIVE MEN

At an important meeting of Kappa Phi Kappa last Wednesday evening in Ruter Hall, five new members were initiated into the local chapter, and plans were made for the Kappa Phi Kappa Founders' Banquet.

The Founders' Banquet will be held in the Kepler Hotel on Friday evening, March 18, at 6:15. The speaker will be Dean Will Grant Chambers, national president of Kappa Phi Kappa. Dr. Guy E. Buckingham will be toastmaster. Those in charge of the program hope to have Dr. Tolley speak, also. All the members of the faculty and alumni members of the fraternity have been invited to the banquet, which is Kappa Phi Kappa's most important event of the year.

Dr. Henke presided at the initiation. The new members are: Frank Leslie Stewart, principal of Cochran High School; Harry Thomson, Hasson Rocky, James Wilson Kelley, and Glenwood Miller Black.

A petition from Illinois State Normal University for membership in the national fraternity received a favorable vote.

It seems that schools with whom the Allegheny Campus exchanges papers have a high opinion of our track team. The following article has been noticed in several school papers: "A custom established last spring—all track officials at Allegheny College wear tuxedos when officiating."

QUILL CLUB PRESENTS SUNDAY READING HOUR

Reading Room of Reis Library
Scene of Readings
by Members.

According to the suggestion of Miss Edith Rowley, college librarian, at a meeting of the Quill Club on February 9, plans were formulated to create a "Reading Hour" to meet in the library on Sunday afternoons. Much help in the creating of these plans was received from the faculty advisors of the club: Mr. P. M. Benjamin, Mr. F. F. Seeley, Dr. Julian Ross, and Dr. J. R. Schultz, who have all had some previous experience in the creation and running of reading clubs.

In carrying out these plans, the Quill Club Reading Hour was initiated into the curriculum of extra-classroom activities, and has functioned during the past four Sundays with increasing success. Readings have been carried on by faculty members and students on varied subjects of interest, and the committee in charge has scheduled speakers for the future that promise to uphold the reputation of the organization and to offer many hours of pleasure on Sunday afternoons.

Mr. P. M. Benjamin, assistant professor of English Literature and advisor of the Quill Club, introduced several undergraduates and a few of the faculty to the type of reading to be carried on by choosing J. L. Lowes' "Of Reading Books".

The following Sunday, February 28, Mr. W. R. Locke, instructor in English Language and Bible, was the guest of honor. Mr. Locke chose to read from the Bible, the book of all books, and made certain selections to illustrate the various types of literature to be found in the Bible. "The Song of Deborah", "The Story of Gideon", and "The Story of Micah ben Imiah." illustrated prose, and selections from Psalms, Isaiah, and Job exemplified the poetry of the Bible. In conjunction with the reading from Job, Mr. Locke read the "Poem on Wisdom" from the Apocryphal book, "The Book on Wisdom". To conclude the reading, two selections from the New Testament parables, and a part of the "Closing Vision" in the Book of Revelations were presented.

Mr. F. F. Seeley, of the department of English Literature, carried on the following Sunday with selections from the works of the modern essayist, Charles S. Brooks. Mr. Brooks, who lives in Cleveland, Ohio, uses very common things as subjects for his essays, which prove to be both food for thought and laughter.

Last Sunday, March 13, a representative of the student body, Clifford M. Lewis, was the center of attention in a group composed only of undergraduates. Mr. Lewis, who is editor-in-chief of the Allegheny Literary Magazine and an outstanding member of the Quill Club, chose to read from Robert Louis Stevenson, and selected an excerpt from "Travels With a Donkey."

To conclude a pre-Easter vacation program of readings, Dr. Schultz, professor of English Literature and Dean of Men, will meet an expected large group of students and faculty members on March 20. The group convenes around the fireplace in the new addition of Reis Library at 4:30 P. M. every Sunday for one hour.

The rats and mice at Susquehanna held their mid-semester graduation exercises recently, making use of the regular administration diplomas for the occasion. Having decided that they were ready for matriculation they hit upon the idea of using the Susquehanna diplomas. Consequently, when members of the administration looked into the closet the other day, it was discovered that the University diplomas had already been put to use, or rather disuse, for 1932.

CAMPUS CLIPPINGS

Fishnet stockings are causing an outbreak of cribbing among the co-eds of Northwestern University. Answers are written on slips of paper under the stockings and all the girls have to do is to move their skirts and, well, what can a professor do about it?

According to the director of physical education at Boston University, "The modern co-ed judges her health by her general pep, vitality, and general healthy mental attitude, and not by her mirror, as formerly. No eighteen day diets for the sensible girl."

By action of the faculty of the University of Rochester, all eight o'clock classes have been dispensed with. They decided that it was better for the students to sleep in their rooms instead of the class room.

From the Haverford News, with apologies to Joyce Kilmer: I think that I shall never see A D as lovely as a B

A B whose rounded form is pressed Upon the records of the blessed A D comes easily—and yet It isn't easy to forget D's are made by fools like me But only God can make a B.

The controller of Barnard has issued the following statement: "If there is any sign which a student very much desires, please do not steal it. Just apply at the office and a duplicate can be obtained at cost."

The state of Ohio put a ban on the workings of the co-ed frat pin collectors by making the following law: "Whoever, not being entitled to do so under the rules and regulations thereof, wears the badge or button of a society or organization of ten years' standing in this state, shall be fined not more than $20 or imprisoned not more than 30 days, or both."

'The Jealous Wife'

Having scored a success with the production of Hubert Henry Davies' "The Mollusc," the Allegheny College Playshop is focusing its attention on "The Jealous Wife", an eighteenth century comedy, written by George Colman. Although this sparkling comedy was one of the greatest successes of its time and continued as a stock piece in England well into the nineteenth century, this production at Allegheny will be the first in America by any company, amateur or professional.

This old comedy of manners which Allardyce Nicoll, an accepted authority on English drama, describes as "truly among the dramatic masterpieces of its time" opened at the famous old Drury Lane Theatre in 1761 with an illustrious cast of seventeen, including David Garrick, the most famous actor of all time, Mrs. Pritchard, famous for her Lady Macbeth, and Mrs. Clive, described by Samuel Johnson as follows: "... Mrs. Clive in the sprightliness of humor, I have never seen equalled."

Nicoll goes on to describe the play. "This is an excellent comedy of manners, full of telling situations and well-drawn characters. . . With brilliance and verve the story is carried through from an excellent opening to a humorous conclusion. There is here something of Vanbrugh's breezy laughter and occasionally not a little of Wycherly's wit. Truly the comic spirit in the late eighteenth century was not dormant when it could produce a work such as this is. . . The text of "The Jealous Wife", however, seems to have been wholly by Colman, while the plot, in spite of acknowledged hints from the "Adelphi, Tom Jones", and "The Spectator", as well as what appears to be an unacknowledged borrowing from Thomas Shadwell's "The Squire of Alsatia", is almost original". The setting promises to be magnificent, the costumes beautiful. Allegheny is indeed fortunate to be able to view such a play.

WIN OVER WAYNESBURG ENDS 'GATOR BASKETBALL SEASON

Ring down the curtain on the '32 season as well as on the collegiate basketball careers of six seniors, Allegheny's clever cagers were distinctly "on" as they overwhelmed the Waynesburg Yellow Jackets last Wednesday night on the Montgomery gym floor by a 53-26 score.

It was a fitting finish to one of the outstanding court seasons on Allegheny's records. The starting line-up consisted of five seniors, and a sixth saw action throughout the greater part of the game. Shooting spectacularly from every angle of the court and passing the ball with amazing speed in and out of the Waynesburg defense, the Alligators covered themselves with glory. A thundering ovation greeted each of the six stars as he left the floor.

Outstanding in the Blue and Gold victory was the all-around work of Bob Garbark. Eight times Garbark located the net to score field goals and four times he converted foul points to give him the large total of 20 points for the contest. Captain Dennison, Berger, Conn, and Mills all gave admirable demonstrations of skill. "Denny" sped all over the court to collect four field goals and a foul for a total of nine points. Berger as usual led the 'Gator passing attack, while Conn and Mills each performed with floor-work of the first order and tossed in three goals apiece.

The Yellow Jackets stepped off to a 6-0 lead in the opening minutes of play with Ufeme and Janosick converting foul chances, while Currie and Avery each tossed in a field goal. Somewhat surprised by Waynesburg's offensive power, the Alligators called time out; after talking things over for a minute they were ready for action again, this time more serious and determined. Garbark chalked up Allegheny's initial points with a pair of fouls. Then after Janosik had counted two foul points to offset Garbark's efforts, Conn came through with a foul and Garbark with a beautiful shot from mid-court which cut the strings cleanly. Mills, maneuvering for a shot near the foul line, got clear for a moment and arched another two-pointer through the hoop. Waynesburg kept in the lead, however, when Janosik scored from under the basket. But the Allegheny attack was beginning to function; Garbark dribbled in to score a lift shot and Conn found the range from near the foul line to put Allegheny out in front for the first time, 11-10. The Alligators maintained their high speed attack and soon had run the count to 20-10. Waynesburg interrupted presently when Avery scored from the side; Conn retaliated, however, with a corner shot. Currie and Dennison balanced field goals, then Dennison immediately tallied another. Currie "rang the bell" with a lift shot and Ufeme accumulated two points at the foul line. After Avery had swished the net from side-court, Garbark added a field goal and a foul to make the count 29-20 as the half ended.

Allegheny's offensive power was even more in evidence in the second half. Coach Baker sent in a quartette of reserves in this period and they all broke into the scoring column. Throughout the half the Alligators continued their fast pace of the initial period and soon had the Yellow Jackets completely outclassed. For the second time this season the Methodists passed the half hundred mark in their total scoring.

ASSOCIATED PRESS PUTS BOB GARBARK AT GUARD

Speed, scoring power and experience are combined in the elements making up the mythical all-star collegiate basketball teams of Western Pennsylvania, selected for The Associated Press on the basis of a poll of 20 coaches.

FIRST TEAM
R.F. Lawry, Pitt 10
L.F. Jagnow, Carnegie 11
C. Brownlee, Westminster 20
R.G. Aultman, Geneva 13
L.G. Rice, Westminster 13

SECOND TEAM
R.F. MacDougal, Duquesne 7
L.F. B. Smith, Carnegie 7
C. Montgomery, Geneva 7
R.G. Garbark, Allegheny 9
L.G. Siljander, Westminster 6

First choice counts two points, second choice one point.
Such sterling stars as Reiter, Duquesne, and Kocheran, Westminster, crowded MacDougal and Smith for the forward honors on the second team, each receiving six points. Other players whose ability brought them consideration for places on the all-star teams, each of whom received at least one vote for first or second choice from a coach, are:

Feldman, Duquesne, five points; Laycock, Grove City, 3; Ferguson, Carnegie, 3; D. Smith, Pitt, 3; Currie, Waynesburg, 3; Berger, Allegheny, 2; Grahame, Geneva, 2; Wardle, Thiel, 2; Dennison, Allegheny, 1; Ufema, Waynesburg, 1; W. Kowallis, Pitt, 1; Janosick, Waynesburg, 1; Manning, Geneva, 1; McGeever, Duquesne, 1; Fegley, Grove City, 1; Moore, Duquesne, 1.

Champion Westminster dominates, placing two Titans on the first team, selected from a field of athletes whose pross on the court gave to the district a superlative brand of 1932 basketball.

Outstanding, a tower in basketball wherever the game is played, is the young giant from Westminster, Bud Brownlee, the unanimous choice—and the only one—of the coaches who took part in the poll.

The contest for laurels is close, but whatever the rating the selected teams are surely formidable. Lawry, of Pitt, and Jagnow, of Carnegie, are great forwards and they rank next to Smith, of Carnegie, as leading scorers among the Pittsburgh schools. Lawry, up to this week, scored 172 points, Jagnow 148, compared to 182 for Smith, who was named to the second team.

Brownlee, in center, occupies an undebatable position. He is a superb factor to the championship Titans and his scoring record, as shown in revised figures, is 379 points in 23 games, an almost matchless accomplishment throughout the country this year.

Aultman's generalship is well known and he was an important factor in the fighting Geneva team that finally stopped Duquesne after the Dukes had all but finished the season undefeated in the district. Rice has been described as the sparkplug of the Westminster offensive and he exemplifies, along with Brownlee, basketball as Coach John Lawther favors it, "a tall man's game." Brownlee is just about six feet six, Rice six feet four.

The second choice team is rated by some the equal of the first. Brownlee excepted, Garbark, of Allegheny, who led the second team selections with nine points in the poll, has been described as one of the greatest players in the district.

Track Practice Gets Under Way with Mild Workouts in the Gym

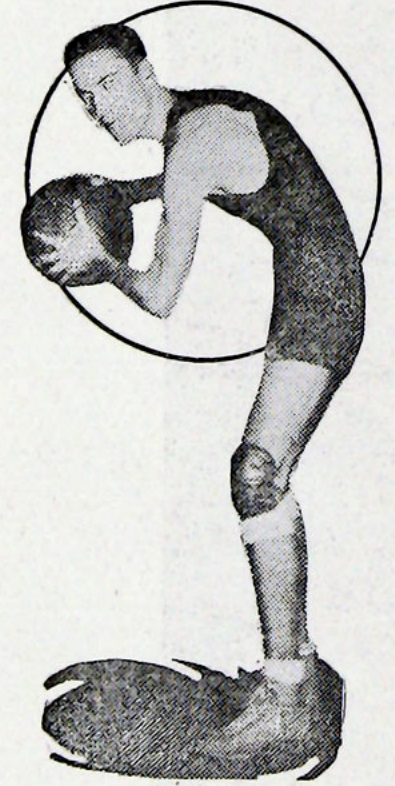

Under the direction of Coach Way, track practice is getting organized for the coming season. As yet no intense training has been inaugurated; workouts are held indoors daily to loosen stiff muscles rather than to stress form.

In all probability indoor workouts will continue for the next two weeks. Not until after the Easter recess will the squad move outdoors. By that time the cinder path will be in fairly good condition and the team will have almost a full month of strenuous practice before the opening meet with Oberlin on April 30th.

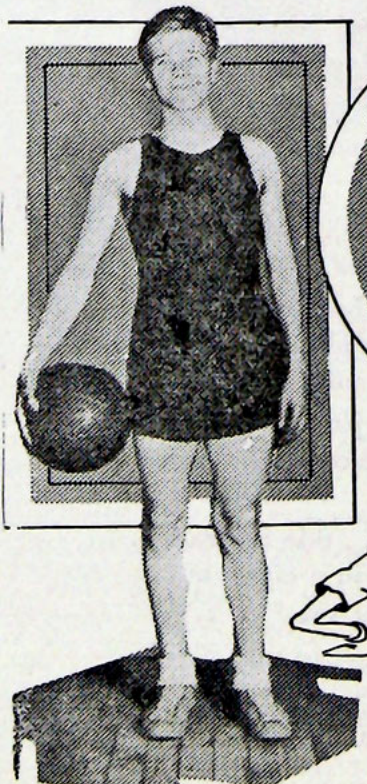

A meeting was held several weeks ago at which time Coach Way gave training advice. He warned the squad against over-doing in the first few weeks of preliminary workouts. Expressing his opinion that the Blue and Gold would be represented by a well-balanced team, he anticipated a successful season for the Allegheny tracksters. Coach Way also prophesied that Oberlin would be most formidable opponent on the schedule and if the Alligators were victorious in this meet they should go through the season undefeated.

Intra-Mural Court Title to Methodical Phi Kappa Psi Team

Phi Kappa Psi was crowned interfraternity basketball champions last Saturday when their methodical cagers won the second game in the playoff with Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 21-15.

In the first play-off game on last Thursday night, Phi Kappa Psi snatched victory out of the fire by a narrow margin. It was Tamplin's mid-court heave that cut the strings just a few seconds before the final whistle sounded that turned defeat into victory for the Phi Psis. After getting off to a fair lead in the opening minutes of play, the Phi Psis soon found themselves pressed by a fast offensive which began to bring results. As the first half ended the score was deadlocked. Taking up their drive where they left off in the first half, the Sigs took the lead and were soon five points out in front. Here the Phi Psis began to come back, however, and with a minute left to play were only one point behind. Then Tamplin heaved his deciding long shot and Phi Kappa Psi had one victory to its credit towards the championship.

Saturday's game was not so closely contested, but it was almost as exciting. The Sigs fought desperately, knowing that if they lost, the honors would go to the Phi Psis, and if they won, another game would have to be played.

The Phi Psis started out in whirlwind fashion and soon had a commanding lead. Checking closely, the Phi Psis held the Sigs scoreless from the field throughout the first half. Williams' foul point was the lone Sig tally in this period. At half time the score was 9-1. The S. A. E.'s made a much better showing in the second half and outscored the Phi Psis 14 to 12. The Phi Psi lead was too much to overcome, however, and the game ended with Phi Kappa Psi holding a 21-15 advantage and the intramural championship.

THEORY OF "BEAUTIFUL BUT DUMB" EXPLODED

The expression "beautiful but dumb" is all wrong, Miss Leta S. Hollingsworth of Columbia University Teachers' College, indicated when she said that "gifted adolescents exceed adolescents of average intelligence in beauty of face."

Addressing annual schoolmen's week at the University of Pennsylvania, Miss Hollingsworth said yesterday that actual surveys have shown that:

"Gifted children are taller, heavier and stronger than the others and as a rule are superior in character."

"The majority have fathers who are professional men, proprietors of successful businesses or executives; very few come from the unskilled laboring classes."

"As for racial origin, the great majority are of Scottish, English or Jewish descent."

PHI BETA PHI HOLDS INITIATION FOR TWO

Jack Pogue and William Church were initiated into Phi Beta Phi, honorary biological fraternity, on Tuesday, March 8. A special initiation was given for these two men who were prevented by illness from attending previous initiation ceremonies when seven members were received into Phi Beta Phi. The names of those who were initiated earlier in the semester include: Dorothy Dunlap, Fred Ewing, Margaret Groves, Lloyd Hanson, Ruth Johannesmeyer, Charles Kutz, and Francis Leopold.

Here is what they think love is at the University of Baltimore: "Love is a strong complex emotion or feeling inspired by something, as a person or quality, causing one to appreciate, delight in, and crave the presence or possession of the object, and to please or promote the welfare of that object."

PHI PSIS AND SIGS AHEAD IN BOWLING

With Phi Kappa Psi far in the lead in league B, having won all their matches, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon leading league A, the intra-mural bowling contest nears completion. Very few games have been played in the latter league and if more matches are not run off before the finals, which are to be held this week, the league will be dropped.

The results of the games played in both leagues are as follows:

LEAGUE A—
Phi Gamma Delta, 3—Alpha Chi Rho, 0.
Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 3—Phi Gamma Delta, 0.
LEAGUE B—
Beta Kappa, 1—Beta Upsilon, 2.
Phi Kappa Psi, 3—Delta Tau Delta, 0.
Beta Upsilon, 0—Phi Kappa Psi, 3.
Delta Tau Delta, 0—Non-Fraternity, 3.
Non-Fraternity, 0—Beta Upsilon, 3.
Beta Kappa, 2—Delta Tau Delta, 1.
Phi Kappa Psi, 3—Beta Kappa, 0.
Phi Kappa Psi, 3—Non-Fraternity, 0.
Beta Upsilon, 2—Delta Tau Delta, 1.

Despite the bad condition of the bowling alleys, a great deal of enthusiasm has been shown in this tournament. If enough interest is aroused among the women of the college there are possibilities of a women's tournament.

Professor Shaw of N. Y. U., who gained fame with the statement that whistling was the earmark of a moron, now claims that a Phi Beta Kappa key is useless and that pants are a sign of patriotism.

BOXING AND WRESTLING SEMI-FINALS COMPLETED

An abundance of action and generally much better boxing and wrestling characterized Friday's 11 preliminary bouts in the Allegheny College tournaments.

Johnny Williams, Beta Kappa, and Jack Ungerman, S. A. E., two tough boys in the 155-pound division, presented opening fireworks in boxing. Williams made the mistake of holding back his offensive drives until too late in an effort to tire Ungerman. Ungerman punished Johnny badly with a swinging left, and was awarded a technical knockout after a few seconds of the second round.

Worrall, Beta Kappa, and Monroe, Delta Tau Delta, the other two 155-pound entries, provided the next fist-cuffs, and plenty of them. Worrall rushed Monroe from the start, shooting in one left jab after another against Monroe's retaliation of less frequent left hooks. Monroe was tired and all through the period did little more than absorb Worrall's blows, which were now coming less frequently. In the third frame Worrall scored consistently with a right uppercut until he was awarded a technical K. O. midway in the period.

The best boxing yet shown was exhibited by Horne, Phi Gam, in defeating Edwards, Phi Psi, in the 175 pound division. Throughout the first two rounds Horne punished Edwards with left jabs and hooks, with occasional rights, and absorbed in return only a few rights in the second round. Edwards, though game, tired quickly in the first period, and the fight was awarded Horne as another technical K. O.

The closest battle of the afternoon was put up by Jack Hershelman, Chi Rho, and Gaisford, S. A. E., 145-pound class, with the decision going to Gaisford after three rounds of alternately fast and slow mixing. Gaisford piled up a big advantage in the beginning of the first round, but Hershelman came out fighting in the second and snapped quick lefts and rights to cut down Gaisford's lead, but in close mix-ups midway in the period. Gaisford gained sufficient points to draw the round. The third frame was Hershelman's by a small margin, but the decision of the bout still went to Gaisford.

Six of the seven wrestling matches resulted in falls, an unusual occurrence. Grappling in the 135-pound class Serene, S. A. E. and Campbell, Chi Rho, alone went the full route. It was a closely fought match, but Serene piled up time advantage in the middle of the bout and again at the end, and came out with the decision by 2:24.8.

Whitsett, S. A. E., and Turner, Phi Psi, 145-pound, took little more than half the allotted time to settle their rivalry, Whitsett applying a half-Nelson to pin Turner down in 3:57. Gregg, Phi Gam, matched with Cole, S. A. E., scarcely let the bout get started before he won by a fall in the time of 51 seconds. Elder, S. A. E., wrestling Frye, Delta, in the same class must have had the same idea. Starting with a flying tackle, he applied hold after hold on Fry with no rest, only to have Frye work away with the agility of an anglerworm on a hook. Finally Elder managed the old reliable crotch and half-Nelson and bore Frye down on the mat for a fall in 1:03.

Superior strength and plenty of it sufficed to give Ferraraccio, Beta Upsilon, gripping with Powell, S. A. E., at 165 a fall in 1:31. Powell worked valiantly, but Ferraraccio consistently pulled out of all holds.

In the only heavyweight battle of the afternoon Vigrass, Beta Kappa, took Larson, Phi Psi, in a real tangle. Vigrass wore Larson down with a long period of "long distance" wrestling, and then pinned him down to win the fall in 3:27.

The best exhibition of wrestling in the whole meet so far was not enough to gain McCartney, Chi Rho, a win over Edwards, Phi Psi in the 165-pound class. McCartney displayed excellent form and piled up a considerable time-advantage over Edwards, but with only 29 seconds of the six-minute bout to go, Edwards managed a surprise fall, and got the slap on the back and the bout.

Only three matches could be held Saturday in the eliminations of the Allegheny College boxing and wrestling tournaments, leaving the finalists in two classes as yet undecided. The 135-pound boxing and the 155 and unlimited wrestling classes were made ready for Wednesday's finals, but the 145 classes in both boxing and wrestling still have one bout to go.

Angrove, Alpha Chi Rho and Waite, S. A. E., opening hostilities in the unlimited wrestling Saturday, presented the shortest bout of the meet so far. It took, in fact, just 48 seconds before Waite, struggling for a hold on Angrove, rolled over backwards, planted both shoulders on the mat and presented Angrove with the match on a fall.

Brakeman, S. A. E., and Beiler, Phi Gam, next on the programme in the 135-pound boxing, took their full limit of time. Both boys were game, but the outcome was never in doubt. Almost all the points were scored in fast mix-ups, where Beiler was almost invariably short with his hooks but Brakeman scored steadily. The bout was for the most part a slugging match, and Brakeman took every round.

The best match by far was the last one, and it was wrestling that should equal anything in the finals. Elder, S. A. E., and Gregg, Phi Gam, tangled in the 155-pound class in a bout that was fast and close throughout. Both men worked hard for a quick fall in the opening minutes, and each had close escapes throughout, pulling out of bad situations with displays of skill and strength that brought bursts of applause from the 200 or so students gathered in the gym. Advantages shifted regularly from time to time, but twice Gregg made the mistake of stopping to regain wind while Elder's time was piling up, and with the help of these occasions Elder accumulated a time advantage of 1:57 for the decision.

The remaining preliminary matches, Ritts, B. K., vs. Klicka, S. A. E., in boxing and Whitsett, S. A. E., vs. Sutter, S. A. E., in wrestling, will be held Tuesday at 4 P. M.

DR. SHAFHEITLIN TO LECTURE ON GOETHE

In connection with the International observance of the one-hundredth anniversary of the death of Goethe, Dr. Anna Schafheitlin, professor of German, will give an illustrated lecture, in English, on the life of the famous poet on Tuesday, March 22, at 7:30 P. M., in the Playhouse Theatre, Arter Hall. Following this, there will be a social hour in Hullings Hall, under the auspices of Der Deutsche Verein.

PHI DELTA THETA WINS SCHOLARSHIP CUP AGAIN

Maintains Highest Average of Chapters in Upsilon Province.

For the second consecutive year the local chapter of Phi Delta Theta was last Saturday awarded the scholarship trophy of Upsilon province of the national fraternity organization. The huge silver loving cup, presented annually by the Pittsburgh Alumni Club of Phi Delta Theta, has been in competition for four years, but the Allegheny chapter is the only one to have won the award twice.

West Virginia Alpha Chapter, at the University of West Virginia, captured the trophy the first year it was offered, on the basis of its record in 1927-28. The Washington and Jefferson group by a fraction of a point nosed out the Allegheny Phi Deltas the next year. During 1929-30, and 1930-'31, the supremacy of the local organization has not been threatened, although during the former period it ranked first on its own campus, and only fifth last year.

The cup was presented at the annual Founders' Day Banquet, held this year on March 12 in the Urban Room of the William Penn Hotel. Hugh E. Elliott accepted the prize on behalf of Pennsylvania Delta.

A. D. P. Miller, Allegheny '08, was toastmaster at the banquet; and the main speaker of the evening was Raymond D. Evans, '14, who commented on the necessity of close cooperation between the alumni bodies and undergraduate members of the fraternity.

About 150 Phi Deltas attended the meeting, at which the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce offered its cooperation in any effort to bring the 1934 General Convention to Pittsburgh. The Alumni voted unanimously to endorse the attempt to bring the convention there. Following the dinner and speeches, the Club and the undergraduate delegates to the banquet adjourned to the Pirate Hall of the hotel, to attend a dance, at which Don Bestor and his Victor Recording Orchestra played.

Freshmen at Harvard in 1734 had to obey this rule: "No freshman shall wear his hat in the college yard except when it rains or snows or unless he be on horseback."

Allegheny Singers Return from Jaunt Over the Week-End

Carried by a fleet of private automobiles contributed by faculty members and friends of the college, the Allegheny Singers on Sunday afternoon left here on the first lap of a concert tour carrying them during the next twenty-four hours north through Warren to Jamestown, to return through Warren and Kane.

The tour, carried out under the personal supervision of Mr. Paul Younger, booking and publicity agent for the college, was an outstanding financial success, proving to be profitable for the school despite the fact that the condition of the roads prevented a scheduled appearance in Bradford.

Forty-five in number, the Singers were under the direction of Morten J. Luyvaas, who is becoming noted throughout the East for his success in moulding this group, and were chaperoned by Miss Mina French, Alumni Secretary to the College.

Leaving Meadville early Sunday, the group made its first stop in Warren. At that place they presented a concert in the First Methodist Church, under the pastorate of Dr. C. T. Greer, the father of a student member of the Singers.

From here the local contingent continued on to Jamestown, New York, where they sang at eight o'clock in the First Methodist Church, of which Dr. Maywood is pastor. The evening and night was spent by the Singers in the homes of members of Dr. Maywood's congregation.

On Monday morning the Singers returned to Warren, where they filled an engagement at the Warren High School, enjoying there as at the two previous appearances an enthusiastic and appreciative reception.

Later in the day, Professor Luyvaas and his charges repeated their successes before the students of the High School at Kane, Pa. Lunch at that place was served under arrangements made by Allegheny alumni teachers of that city.

Despite minor mechanical mishaps and dangerous driving conditions, the group returned intact, and in excellent health and spirits. The carefully considered plans and arrangements made for the Singers resulted in perfect connections in every case except the appearance scheduled for Bradford which the group was unable to make because of the conditions of the roads in that vicinity.

The group will not go on the road again until April 3, when they will return early from the spring recess to make a tour of seven days' duration, carrying them to Oil City and Pittsburgh. Thereafter the students making up the personnel of the Allegheny Singers will look forward to the Atlantic City trip planned for them, the most ambitious undertaking of its kind ever attempted by this school.

FIGHT FINALS HELD INTRAMURAL NIGHT

Tonight at 7:45 o'clock the enthusiastically anticipated Intramural Night will start off with a "bang". Everything is set for a full evening of hotly contested boxing and wrestling.

Thirty finalists are marking time preparatory to stepping into action with hopes of emerging with championship honors in their respective weight divisions. Within the last week even more interest has been evidenced among the participants with regard to getting in better condition. Strenuous workouts have been carried on under supervision of student trainers in an effort to build up greater endurance. Obviously, this training will show up in tonight's bouts, and a marked improvement should be noted over last week's elementary matches.

A capacity audience is expected to pack Montgomery Gym to witness the climax of this year's intramural competition.

The finalists in both boxing and wrestling are as follows:

- WRESTLING—
115—Joslin vs. Harner.
125—S. Johnson vs. Hinchberger.
135—Serene vs. Sleppy.
145—(Sutter or Whitsett) vs. Nichols.
155—Elder vs. Ferraraccio.
165—Koehler vs. R. Edwards.
175—Balser vs. Remaley.
Heavyweight—Vigrass vs. Angrove.
BOXING—
125—K. Anderson vs. F. Williams.
135—Maitum vs. Brakeman.
145—(Ritts or Klicka) vs. Gaisford.
155—Ungerman vs. Worrall.
165—Robbie vs. W. Hershelman.
175—Horne vs. Morse.
Heavyweight—Hamer vs. Fallon.

CHEMIST CITES CAUSES OF FALL

A professor of bio-chemistry at the U. of Toronto claims that war, epidemics, birth control, and the fact that man is becoming tired of living may very probably result in the extinction of the human race.

More than half of the honorary fraternities at Penn State exist merely for recognition purposes. In these words the "Penn State Collegian" sums up a recent investigation of 37 leading honor societies.

Light up . . . Convince Yourself that Chesterfields Satisfy

FLIP OPEN a pack of Chesterfields! Help yourself to a cigarette...Light up . . . and let's get the facts.

Mister...you're dead right. They're milder!

It's no secret in tobacco circles that Chesterfield buys the finest tobaccos that grow...Turkish and Domestic...sun-ripened, mellow, pure!

Chesterfields are blended first... then cross-blended... to make them milder... and milder still! There's no mistaking that rare balance of flavor built up by Cross-Blending. You enjoy it in every fragrant puff!

Even the cigarette paper is different. Cleaner, whiter, tasteless... the purest that money can buy.

Listen, smokers... this is straight. You can't put taste in a cigarette... unless quality goes in, too.

● Pass your verdict on Chesterfield's Radio Program, too! Nat Shilkret's 35-piece Orchestra with Alex Gray, soloist, are on the Columbia Network every night except Sunday, at 10:30 Eastern Standard Time.
