Mr. W. C. Boyden
134 So. LaSalle St.
Chicago, Ill.

Dear Mr. Boyden:

Thank you for your letter of the 23rd.

I am glad that you gave me your reaction on "The Lincoln Cult" as a title. If it suggests anything mystic, I would be the last to want to employ it. No doubt you are wise in putting the name simply, and then, as you say, I can talk along any line or lines that would seem to me interesting to a group of lawyers and their wives.

Mrs. Post wrote me most cordially about going to her for the few days after the 17th that I am to be in Chicago, and I have written her that it will be a real pleasure. Usually I feel that I cannot go to people's houses when I am working, but Mrs. Post is one of the kind that would understand the limitations of my time and strength, I am sure, and it would be a delight to be with her - a most attractive woman, as you say, and one of whom I have again and again talked to Bert. I know how much he always loved her.

I have written Mrs. Post that you and she can settle it between you as to where I shall go on my arrival, whether to you for the night as at first suggested or to her. I want to make as little trouble as possible, dear Mr. Boyden, for you and all, and please be

Steve how much I appreciate the kindness of you all.
