

March 20, 1931

Dear Mr. Graeve:

Do not think that I have severed my connections with The Delineator! I meant before this to have the E. R. sketch in your hands but I've had such a miserable time. A week in bed on my arrival with a trained nurse and then a month of lectures at the University, which took every ounce of strength I had. My interview was dictated but I could not touch it. Now, however, I pulled out and I hope to be able to send you the revision, which is underway, in a few days. My secretary will type it in New York.

I hope the delay is not going to inconvenience you. I am always humiliated when I fall behind in my schedule. Please forgive me.

Of course, you understand, that if the sketch, as it reaches you, is not satisfactory, I'll be glad to do what I can to make it so. I expect now to be in New York about April 10th, but you can reach me at Tasson, C/s Mrs. Fred McCormick, R. F. D. 2, Box 59B.

With best wishes to you and Miss Carrol. If it is any comfort to the two of you, you have my word for it that you do not necessarily escape influence by coming to the southwest.

Very sincerely yours,

Oscar Graeve
Delineator
Butterick Building
New York