

DECISION TO BE RENDERED

Campus Competition Judges Will Report This Afternoon.

At a late hour the Judges on Campus Competition telephoned that they were unable, because of the great amount of work, to give a decision until this afternoon.

The College Council has selected as Judge of Campus Competition Dr. E. A. Smith, the Faculty Dr. W. A. Elliott, and these two in turn have selected Dr. Akers. This is the system of judge selection recently made by the College Council and will be tried for the first time this year.

The Competition is judged under two systems this year. Up until the middle of the year all "stuff" published will be judged from a reading of the Campus files. All unpublished writing from manuscripts. Of all material handed in after the middle of the year, the Judges are supposed to see only manuscripts, regardless of whether they were published. No professional work is to count. At the end of the competition the Editor of the Campus handed all matter over to a Competition Committee, which had as its chairman Mr. Elkins. This committee examined the material and arranged it in suitable order for inspection by the Judges, after which it was delivered to the first mentioned faculty members for final judgment. This system relieves the incumbent Editor-in-Chief of all responsibility in regard to competition.

A THRILLING LECTURE.

On next Tuesday, May 25th, Dr. Camden M. Coburn will deliver in Ford Memorial Chapel his justly fascinating popular lecture on "My Experiences Among the Arabs." The lecture will be given for the benefit of the Oratorical Association, which is in debt because of the extra Cornell debate which was held here two weeks ago.

His unusual popularity last summer at Chautauqua, N. Y., and other great Chautauquas throughout the country, and his winter lecture trips several times at the same place show full well the speaker's standing as a popular lecturer. One who has heard this thrilling story of Arabian experiences will never forget it. It is in places so intense that one feels that he can hardly keep his seat, he is so moved by the speaker's great dramatic style of delivery and the general rapid movement of the stirring adventures, in which Dr. Coburn many times narrowly escaped with his life. He has been in places where no other white man dared to go and he will vividly describe these adventures on next Tuesday evening. It is a safe prediction that every student will be glad to pay twenty-five cents for this lecture which ordinarily bills for fifty cents and over.

NON-FRATERNITY MEN BANQUET!

Fifty non-fraternity men of the college, accompanied by Professors G. E. Snaveley and I. D. Hyskell of the faculty, celebrated Teutonic Day with a banquet at the Saegertown Inn Friday night. College and floral decorations made the festal board the more attractive, and the entertaining facilities of the Inn were exhausted during the course of the evening.

FIVE NEW ONES

DUZER DU ELECTS NEW MEMBERS.

Offers $25 Prize.

The Duzer Du of Allegheny College held a meeting Wednesday afternoon and elected five new members, all of whom were selected from the caste which presented "The Rivals."

Those selected were chosen because of general merit and acting ability. The dramatic club is in splendid condition in every way and is already making extensive plans for presenting an original play next year.

Prize of $25 Offered.

A prize of $25 is offered by the club to the person who offers the best written drama, the scene, plot and incidents to be in some way connected with Allegheny College and its history. Particulars will be gladly given to any competitor by the president of the club. This prize is offered, not only that the club may have an original play with which to work, but also that the latent inter-

BRICKER VS. WEIDLER

TO PLAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP IN SINGLES.

The Tennis Tournament is on in full swing and the singles have come up to finals. This year Allegheny has four men in singles who are all strong men and who are evenly matched, Bricker, Stidger, Weidler and Dalzelle. Thursday Bricker defeated Stidger in three hard and long sets. Friday afternoon Bricker won from Dalzelle. Weidler will play Bricker today for the championship in singles.

The doubles will all be played off today and the first of next week.

Baker Fields Well.

At the Spirella ball park on yesterday afternoon Allegheny met Hiram in a hard game of base ball.

The field was a little wet from recent rains but did not hinder the progress of a fast game. The crowd was not as large as it should have been because of the Tennis Tournament singles being played off yesterday afternoon.

Just before we went to press our special correspondent rushed in with the news that Hiram had, after a long fight, defeated Allegheny 3 to 0. Benedict pitched a strong game.

OUR STANDING ABROAD STRENGTHENED.

Although the recent base ball trip did not bring Allegheny a single victory, it has been years since so much prestige has been gained where it is most wanted, as in the last week's four games at W. and J. and at U. of W. Va. The first two were reported last week in the Campus, especial note being made of the second at W. and J., in which Forman struck out 18 men, and lost 6 to 5. The score the day before had been 9 to 2, but prominent newspapers in all parts of the state were loud in their praise of Allegheny's players and playing.

At University of West Virginia, the first game was West Virginia's until the eighth. One of the Morgantown papers said: "For the genuine after-you-my-dear-sir courtesy and consideration, the Meadville base ball aggregation has Alphonse and Gaston backed all the way off the map. They play a nice clean game of base ball, and know how to take a suggestion in the proper spirit. At the beginning of the eighth inning of yesterday's contest, with the score three to one, a West Virginia man suggested to the Allegheny team that they might do the real handsome thing by tying the score and allowing West Virginia to win in the ninth. They did."

Summary—Two-base hit, Blake; double play, Weidler, Leffel, to Forman; left on bases, West Virginia 12, Allegheny 7; base on balls, off Blake 3, off Benedict 1; struck out, by Blake 5, by Benedict 14; umpires, Campbell and Lloyd; attendance 600.

The second game, resulting 7-9, was also pitched by Benedict, Forman playing first base after a few moments in the box. Weidler and Baker each had two of Allegheny's nine hits, one of Bakers being a home run with no men on bases.

An example of the way Allegheny was received is shown by the fact that West Virginia is very anxious to arrange for another series of games next year.

MONUMENT TO OUR DECEASED STAFF.

"A Thorn in the Flesh" No Longer.

THE STAFF OBITUARY.

This issue of the Campus is sent forth in marks of mourning because of the untimely decease of the staff, making a sad duty the lot of the Editor-in-Chief this bright May morning, when he should be singing rather than sighing.

We do not know just what caused their sad demise. All we know is that they are dead, all but the Associate Editor. We had hopes once early in the fall that our Athletic Editor would recover, for he awakened from a seemingly endless stupor and wrote up one game for us. But alas, even this hope was crushed, for he, too, has been remanded to the earth. It is a sad death, too, because we have been told that he was nice to his mother and was to have graduated this coming spring.

Our Literary Editor early in the year showed decided signs of life after a long period of journalistic stagnation. This seeming convalescence was the direct result of daily injections of nitro-glycerine, otherwise called "nagging" on the part of the Chief Doctor of this hospital. However, these hopeful signs were only the last struggle before oblivion, and, after one final spasm of Literary Monthly criticism, the effect of which we still feel, this member of our staff also sank to sleep, and so far as we know to-day is lying beneath the dandelions and violets, doing that thing which he always, in life, loved best of all—resting.

So far as we have been aware, the remainder of the staff have been dead and buried since the picture was taken for the Kaldron some months ago. What is worrying the Editor-in-Chief just now is to find where they are buried and erect a monument to their memories. The only fitting monument we think of would be a petrified man of whom we heard once, who was so busy in life that he went to sleep in a running stream and slept so long he was petrified. We would like to find that bit of human statuary to erect it to the memory of our beloved staff in whom we are not well pleased.

TEAM GETS EDITORIAL MENTION.

The Morgantown Dominion was kind enough to speak editorially of our team in the following courteous way:

"A Gentlemanly Team.

"The Allegheny College boys, now the guests of the University, are receiving compliments on every side because of the gentlemanly manner in which they conduct themselves. There was no rowdiness on the ball field, they are courteous to each other and to the local people. In addition they were nice enough to lose the game in the ninth inning. What more do you want?"

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY FACES US!

Last fall in foot ball we won second place in the league; in the winter season we won first place in basket ball with a perfect record, and there is a vast possibility of winning two more firsts, namely in base ball and in track. We desire in this editorial page to make a prophecy that the Allegheny College base ball team will win first place in the league. We base this prediction on the showing made during the recent trip south. Our team played such ball as is sure to defeat the teams in the Western Pennsylvania league.

Now for Track!

It depends entirely upon about eight or ten Allegheny men who are not now out for track as to whether we win the Conneaut Lake meet. We firmly believe that Allegheny College can win that meet. Grove City will be our worst fight. We have already run them close, showing that with a few men entered to take second and third places, we can easily win out. The meet is at home and no expense is connected with transportation, therefore Allegheny ought to have 30 men entered in the meet. Every man in college who can do a single thing in track ought to turn out and report to the coach at once. Seconds and thirds will win the meet. No man is too poor for that. It would be an eternal disgrace and regret to lose this meet because we haven't enough spirit to be willing to go out and take a second place. Every Freshman, Sophomore, Junior or Senior who can run ought to go out. Especially those who have heretofore been track men.

There is a great chance of closing this year with three first places in the league. We have already won in basket ball; the base ball team will see to its work; the track victory is up to every man in College.

Talk Victory!

Every man in the school ought to begin today and talk victory for Conneaut Lake every minute from now until the great day. Every man ought to go out and watch the practice. Every man and woman ought to attend the meet. There ought to be such a spirit of positive, victorious enthusiasm over this meet that the Allegheny team cannot help winning.

The Team's Duty!

With the great possibility that faces us, every single track man owes it to this student body and to this College at home and abroad, to train every minute from now until the meet; to train conscientiously at that—in order to put the best they have into that meet. We are bound to win with such aim and spirit as that.

MOVING-UP DAY.

All the classes have held meetings at frequent intervals during the last week to get ready for the great, spectacular parade of Moving-Up Day, which will be on the 3rd of June. This decided action comes as a direct result of President Crawford's warning that Moving-Up Day would be abolished unless the classes seemed to want it. They do want it, and are busy getting ready for it.

The Climax.

Following the usual morning exercises will come the stupendous parade. Then the annual game between the Faculty and Seniors, and last of all, the evening will see a fitting and imposing climax to the day's celebration in the minstrel show.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

Editor of the Campus:—

Sir:—What alumnus of Allegheny does not but feel pride in the noble showing of her undergraduates! And those who follow her fortunes in athletics are more than pleased at the record of the base ball team on its recent trip. Allegheny never did have her share of luck on the field, and there is such a thing in athletics—if not in other things, but surely the consistent, plucky playing on the diamond and gridiron, which her strictly-amateur nines and her elevens have been putting up in the last few years—will certainly compel the fickle goddess to be ashamed not to allow things to break better for her so far as scores and victories are concerned, as well as in her unexcelled record on the basket ball floor.

The real value after all is not so much in the final score as in the good battle which has been put up. The recent trip—if it did not loom large in games won—increased mightily the respect in which the College is held by such pre-eminently athletic schools as Washington and Jefferson and West Virginia.

Very sincerely,
PAUL WEYAND, '98.

"YOU OWE A DEBT OF HONOR."

On next Tuesday evening every person in college who has any sense of honor has a good chance to pay back a debt contracted this year with those who have debate and oratory in charge. We mean this, that you are indebted to the Association for a most successful year in oratory. In fact, for a most successful three years. But in doing this thing for you the Association has gotten into debt. They have refrained from asking for popular subscription, but Dr. Coburn with true college spirit has kindly consented to deliver this most popular of his lectures to pay the overhanging debt.

So not only because you will be getting your full money's worth, but because you have a debt of honor to the Association, should you go to this lecture.

CUT-UPS.

(Anonymous Cut of Chapel Organist.)

(We offer the following to our readers not with the idea that we attempt to be a literary journal, but that we are afraid the Literary Monthly will get hold of it if we don't publish it first. Thus we save the Monthly a very severe criticism at the hands of our vindictive deceased Literary Editor.)

See the joyous student boy

FIFTEEN ALLEGHENIANS IN CAST.

The social department of the Stone Church Epworth League is planning an event for the near future which will interest Allegheny for several reasons. In the first place, it is in keeping with the dramatic awakening on the hill, and then it includes in its program the names of several college people.

It is planned to hold a "Dickens Entertainment" on some evening before commencement, at which four scenes from Dickens' novels will be presented. Each is to be rendered in costume, with full scenery and stage properties. The four selections made are "Bardell vs. Pickwick," from Pickwick Papers, "Squeer's School," from Nicholas Nickleby, "The Quarrel," from Martin Chuzzlewit, and "The Exposure of Uriah Heep," from David Copperfield. The parts have been assigned, and regular practices are being held.

The work is in charge of Miss Emma Edson, president of the League, who is devoting a great deal of time to the plan. Miss Edson is a member of the Allegheny College faculty.

The casts for the various scenes have been practically completed, and contain the names of a score or more of college people. Among them are the following:

SOCIETY BRAND SUITS AT MENDEL'S

THE FRESHMAN BANQUET!

Tuesday evening the Freshman class enjoyed a banquet at Saeger-town Inn. A story was written by a member of that class and we hereby let it loose on the public:

"A special car for the occasion departed from College Hill with the feasters about 5 o'clock. Upon arriving at the Inn, the various entertainments of the hotel were indulged in until 7:30 o'clock. Then the class line, headed by President Short and Dr. and Mrs. Akers, marched into the spacious dining-room of the Inn. The dining-hall with its long line of brilliantly lighted tables, presented a very pleasing appearance. Across one end of the hall there extended a large 1912 banner. The place cards were suggestively decorated each with a green cap and the class colors of yellow and brown. The banquet served was of ample proportions and it is safe to say each guest did justice to the repast. At the end of the banquet the following toast-list served to heighten the good fellowship of the class:

Toastmaster Mr. Short
Co-Eds Mr. Gorham
Freshmen Men Miss Thomas
Athletics Mr. Thomas
Hulings Hall Miss Anderson
Faculty Mr. Herbster
"Bubblyjacks" Miss Ling

The various subjects were well handled and many a pun was made by the speakers at the expense of their classmates. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent about the Inn until the departure of the home-bound car at 10:30 o'clock.

AT MRS. PORTER'S STUDIO.

On Tuesday evening a select gathering of those who love real music heard the students of Harry Waithe Manville and Flavia Davis Porter give a spring recital.

Mr. Forest P. Weaver, our chapel organist, interpreted Mendelssohn's Sonata IV. in a very pleasing manner.

Mr. P. B. Shaffner sang "Memory Lane."

These were the only persons closely connected with Allegheny College who were on the program.

THE MAY FESTIVAL.

(Written by a Young Lady from Hulings.)

The campus will be gaily lighted Monday evening with Japanese lanterns in celebration of the May Festival. A jolly time and a girl is promised every man. The chief amusements will be a College Carnival of tables, a May pole, spectacular performances, music, and refreshments. This is for the Y. W. C. A. and everyone should be willing to help such a good cause. Come and you will never regret it.

MISS FUGATE, CHAIRMAN.

The members of Allegheny College Classical Club listened to a very interesting program in its club room last Tuesday evening. Miss Fugate, as chairman for the evening, called for papers from three Senior members of the Club, as follows:

"English Literature Enriched by the Greek".....Mr. Aiken
"The Value of the Study of New Testament Greek"....Mr. Fishel
Miss McKinney told of the three daily meals of the Greeks in all tribes in the Homeric and Classical periods, describing the wines, the food, the table manners and customs. She closed with a description of a large banquet.

Mr. Aiken cited instances in which the more modern English authors have used Greek models, not clippings, but an absorbed Greek spirit. The works of Keats and Swinburn were treated in this light.

Mr. Fishel said that the Greek brings a new light to New Testament students, by making the narrative stand out before them in a new way. There are words which lack English equivalents. A number of such words were given and discussed.

A general discussion followed the reading of each paper.

The next meeting will be the last of the year, and will be held at the home of Dr. W. A. Elliott.

MILLWARD, THE HUMORIST DOCTOR.

William Millward, private secretary to Bishop Bashford at Peking, China, will be graduated with the present Senior class next June. Although separated from his fostering mother by a half-circumference of the earth, Mr. Millward has not forgotten College Hill by any means, but constantly reminds the students by postal card or letter that he is one of them at least. A recent communication from the Far East contained two typewritten sheets of half comic and ridiculous Chinese cures, a few of which are given below:

For autotoxma: Swallow with a cup of cold water one large spoonful of live tadpoles.

For high fevers in infants: Give one pulverized scorpion.

For some kinds of infection: Use powdered frogs' eyebrows.

GARFIELD AND BEVERIDGE, and many others had to work their way through college.

STUDENTS' MANUAL ON PRESS.

The Students' Manual, under the able direction of J. H. Broadbent, managing-editor, and Miss Viola Simpson, associate editor, will soon be placed in the hands of the students for inspection. Several changes have been made in the subject matter and form of the handbook which will greatly add to its attractiveness and usefulness. A brief history of the college carefully prepared by Dr. E. A. Smith will make the possessor of a Manual proud of his investment, and will make the book a valuable agency in influencing prospective students to a rightful appreciation of the school.

Dr. W. H. Crawford has contributed an article on "The Relation of the Student to College Life," Dr. W. A. Elliott one on "The Attitude of the Student Toward the Intellectual Requirements of the College," and Dr. C. M. Coburn, an article similar to the above on "The Relation of the Student to the Religious Life of the College." These three contributions will greatly elevate the literary standard of the Manual over former editions.

INTER-CLASS TRACK MEET.

By securing 55 points out of a possible 126, the Sophomores won the inter-class track meet, held Wednesday afternoon on the new athletic field. The other three classes secured the points as follows: Freshmen 42, Seniors 25, and Juniors 4. R. J. George of the Sophomore class won the individual championship with 16 points. The one-mile fraternity relay was taken by Phi Kappa Psi.

In all respects the track meet was a success. Each event had its full share of entries and each was contested with keen rivalry. Of course the fight for the victory was between the Sophomores and Freshmen. The former class took the lead early and kept it throughout the meet. According to the rules no man that had secured an A this season was eligible. This excluded all men who had won five points at Grove City. By this ruling the Juniors were deprived of their best men, Yost, Croasmun, Hines, and W. Bail. This fact largely accounts for their small score. One man, R. Stidger, was taken from the Sophomores by this rule.

By winning Wednesday's meet the Sophomore class captured the Bronnell inter-class cup for the second time, having won the meet as Freshmen last year. According to the rules of the Association, if the second year men succeed in taking the cup three years in succession, it will become theirs permanently. The trophy is a large sterling silver loving cup mounted on a black wood base. Across the cup is inscribed "Winner Inter-class Meet." At present the cup stands on the big mantel in Cochran Hall.

The Sophomores also had the individual championship man, R. J. George, who secured 16 points, taking first in the high jump and low hurdles, and second in both the running broad jump and the high hurdles. For the Freshmen Peterson and Krug each secured 16 points, the former winning both the 220 and 440-yard dashes. Stewart for the Seniors secured two firsts, the 100-yard dash and the running broad jump. One of the most interesting events was the two-mile run. For this the track had to be circled sixteen times. First of the Sophomores ran this in very consistent form, easily winning.

The last and climactic event was the fraternity half-mile relay race. Just to see the antics of "Tax" Miner and Drum, and the portly frame of Parshall ambling around the course was enough to make even the most dissatisfied double up with laughter.

Those who subscribed to the Sweater fund are asked to pay up at once.

Commit not, through love of life, actions worthy of death.—Menander.

SPECIAL MEETING OF Y. M. C. A.

Since the address to the men of the college made by F. M. Harris of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A., on Wednesday evening, April 28, interest has been growing in regard to the Niagara Student Conference. This Conference is held annually at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ontario, under the direction of the International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations. This year it will be from June 18th to 27th.

Last year a "Summer Conference Fund" was established to help Allegheny delegates in attending the Niagara Conference. This year it will be increased and it is hoped that a larger number may go from Allegheny than ever before.

Next Wednesday evening the regular Y. M. C. A. hour will be given over to a Conference meeting, where informal reports will be given by the delegates of last year. Further information may be secured from any of last year's delegates, Fishel, Shaffner, Broadbent, or Boyd.

A NEW ART ASSOCIATION.

The Meadville Art Association, in which the students and members of the college faculty were vitally interested, recently met to elect officers for the ensuing year, resulting in the choice of Professor F. A. Christie of the Unitarian College, president; Mrs. A. C. Huidekoper and Mrs. J. O. McClintock, vice-presidents; Dr. E. A. Smith of Allegheny College, secretary; W. S. McGunagle, treasurer; Professors G. E. Snively and W. T. Dutton remain chairmen of committees as before. The two paintings owned by the Association, "Clouds Rising After Rain" and "Salle de Glaces Palace of Versailles," will be hung in the College Library until after Commencement.
