14 Faculty Members Join Allegheny Staff

Fourteen new faculty members, three of them Air Force officers assigned to the Allegheny Air Force ROTC detachment under the service's rotation plan, will begin work at Allegheny in September.

In addition, returning students will find John R. O. McKean replacing Dr. Charles W. McCracken as dean of students, the Reverend Dr. Charles B. Ketcham installed as college chaplain, Richard M. Maddy as business manager, and Shirley H. Townsend, back as director of food services after one year as assistant dietition at Stanford University. One other administration change involves the promotion of Dorothy Jeanne Smith, 226 Mt. Hope Street, to the position of assistant librarian in charge of readers' services.

Chaplain Ketcham, Dean McKean, and Miss Townsend have all been on campus this summer in their professional capacities. Dr. Ketcham has been teaching summer school courses and Miss Townsend arrived in early June in time to serve the annual 700-dinner Alumni luncheon at Commencement. Dean McKean's appointment was effective July 1.

Business manager Richard M. Maddy, assumed his post August 15. He comes to Allegheny from St. Lawrence University where he was an assistant professor of economics and assistant comptroller. Also joining the business office as auditor is Kenneth N. Stewart, graduate of Allegheny College in the class of '56. After graduation Mr. Stewart joined the staff

AUC Adds Committees

The first AUC meeting of the 1957-58 school year was conducted Sunday, September 29 by President Tom Jones. The council has several new features this year, including a new meeting time—10:00 p.m. on Tuesday nights.

Four committees have been added by AUC this year. One is the Housing Development Committee which will meet with the president to discuss student viewpoints on campus situations. The functions of the Orientation Week Committee will be to evaluate the Orientation Week and to coordinate the various activities.

The Leadership Training Program Committee will study evaluations of the program and work on setting up a new program for next year. The creation of a new constitution more representative of AUC will be handled by the Constitutional Revision Committee.

Several appointments were approved by the council. These include Dick Engel, new Traffic Committee Chairman; and Sandy McLaughlin and Jim Bisset who will be co-chairmen of the Fund Drive this year. Also, it was announced that Nancy Moyers is chairman of the Homecoming Dance.

New Coeds See Frats

Allegheny's seven fraternities have several social events scheduled for this coming week. Last night, Delta Tau Delta serenaded the freshman women of Caflisch Hall. Sunday afternoon Phi Gamma Delta will host an all-college tea and Theta Chi, a tea for freshman women.

The annual picnic for children of the Bethesda Orphan's home and freshman women sponsored by Sigma Alpha Epsilon will be held Sunday at Bousson. Fraternity brothers have volunteered their cars for transporting the guests to and from this activity. Refreshments will be served.

Shortly, the first round robin for freshman men will begin. This is a series of meetings with the fraternities where rules, honor codes, and functions are explained, and tours of the fraternities' houses will be conducted.

For the past few weeks all fraternities and independents have been preparing for today's kick-off of their intramural football and tennis tournaments. The winning team will be presented a trophy.

All fraternities will compete again this year to determine originator of the best home-coming display on October 19.

Questions Asked In Frosh Seminar

"Need There Always Me a 'Right' or 'Wrong' Answer" is the topic to be discussed in the Monday, October 7, Freshman Seminar meeting. The groups will gather in the College Union at 7:00 p.m. and then disperse to their designated rooms with their leaders.

Freshmen who will be attending the seminar for the first time may be easily accommodated as far as being assigned to a group is concerned there is room for everyone.

Due to various meetings occurring at the same time as the last two seminar meetings attendance has not been up to par with previous ones held last year. However, some of these meetings have been changed to less conflicting days or hours so there should be an increase in students participating.

Though not a course, the Freshman Seminar Program is an educational and sharing experience, one in which much benefit can be derived. The source material ranges from the religious and moral to the literary and scientific. No advanced knowledge is required; all that is needed is an inquiring mind, a desire to learn and to share your ideas and experiences with others as they will with you. It is part of college life to learn and Freshman Seminar offers the opportunity through discussion.

McKean Discusses Varied Programs, Student Affairs

BY MIMI JACKSON AND PHIL KLUKOFF

"Liberal Arts is the finest education for an individual going to college," remarked John R. O. McKean, new Dean of Students. Having received a B.A. Degree from William and Mary and his M. Ed. from Cornell, McKean cites Allegheny as "An excellent school with a superior academic reputation."

Dean McKean stated that he is impressed with the student government and its support from the Allegheny community, adding that the student government should be responsible to itself, to the student body, and to the college as a whole. He further commented that, "It should not only reflect campus thought but also provide leadership in forming student opinion."

Dean John McKean

Fraternities Have Definite Place on Campus

A member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity while at William and Mary, McKean said of the fraternity system at Allegheny: "It has a definite place in the campus scene, has an obligation to the college as a whole, and should be serving a useful purpose." In favor of the innovation of the new honor system, he feels that the fraternities, through this move, are taking a step in the right direction.

Dean McKean, after visiting the NSA Leadership Training Program during Orientation Week, felt that we are using the National Student Association wisely. He also stated that, for a national association to

AWS Holds Bousson Retreat To Discuss Problems, Ideas

BY KAY NAYLOR

This weekend marks the date of the Associated Women Students (AWS) officers, senate members, and committee chairmen leadership training retreat at Bousson. This retreat has been arranged with the ideas of promoting closer relationship among senate members, discussing and developing techniques for improving communications between the senate and the rest of the women students, and providing an informal atmosphere in order to discuss the problems and ideas for the coming year.

With this purpose in mind, an educating and evaluating committee has been formed under the leadership of Dot Squires. Emphasis will be placed on the orientation of freshmen to the rules and philosophies of AWS.

The officers of AWS for this year are: Lynne Crandall, President; Emily Holran, 1st Vice-President; Joan McDonald, 2nd Vice-President; Wilma Harmon, Treasurer; and Marilyn Wilson, Secretary.

By means of a "group - purchase" plan sponsored by the A.U.C., student tickets are available without additional charge to each full-time registered students. Each student must present his activities card when picking up his Coupon Book at the Playshop box office between 9 and 12 in the mornings and 2 and 4 in the afternoons.

The remaining four plays of the season will be Arthur Miller's The Crucible, Nov. 21-23; Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, Feb. 20-22; Moliere's The Imaginary Invalid, Mar. 20-22; and Jean Anouihl's Thieves' Carnival, Apr. 24-26.

Faculty Discusses Segregation Issue

The faculty resolution on segregation was distributed too late last semester for publication. Although many have seen it between then and now, we believe it should be seen by the entire Allegheny College community.

Last year Dr. Henry Pommer, Associate Professor of English was Chairman of the Council. At present he is on sabbatical leave. Secretary of the group was Miss Blair Hanson, Professor of Modern Languages.

The social groups of Allegheny College have been asked to take notice of the following motion adopted by the Faculty Council, Thursday, May 16. As of yet, innovations of the motion have not been made final, but any questions or comments would be appreciated by the Faculty Council.

The resolution was adopted nearly unanimously by the faculty last spring, although moves to implement the motion were briefly discussed at that time. The faculty plans to discuss further steps of implementation this fall.

"Allegheny College admits students without restriction as to race, color, or social or economic backgrounds. The college sponsors or recognizes social and academic organizations which are considered valuable supplements to the established college curriculum. The values of full participation in all organizations which the college recognizes as legitimate parts of the college community should be accessible to all Allegheny students, and the faculty commends individual students and campus groups which have been working hard toward this goal.

"The faculty of Allegheny College is opposed to any restrictions of membership or participation in campus organizations and activities when such restrictions are based upon the student's race, color, creed or social or economic background."

Rush Week Ends; Sororities Pledge

Saturday at 1:30 p.m. Brooks circle was the scene of jubilant excitement when seventy-six sophomore girls who received bids from the campus' five social sororities were led forth by their actives. As the girls came running out of Brooks each group was greeted by cheers from the assembled crowd.

After cheering, singing, and much good natured rivalry, the sororities adjourned to the grill for an all-sorority Grill Party. From five sections of the jam-packed floor partisan and college songs were sung, and congratulations were given and received on all sides.

Saturday evening the groups went their separate ways to various locations for dinner. Alpha Gamma Delta attended a Smorgasbord at Little-Bit-of Sweden in Erie. Alpha Chi Omega had a spaghetti supper at Ma's, Alpha Xi Delta went to the Cottage, Kappa Alpha Theta dined at Bruners, and Kappa Kappa Gamma held a picnic at the home of one of their alumni.

Responsible Journalism

It appears rather elementary as well as redundant, but we will repeat it just the same: The first duty of a responsible newspaper is to publish news, which is objectively and accurately reported. This has been the policy of The Campus in the past and is our current policy.

It is also our belief that a newspaper can and ought to be an influential force in many communities, the Allegheny College Community being no exception to the rule. This we intend to carry out in the future as has been done in the past, limiting our opinions to this page—the editorial page. We encourage student opinion through "Letters To The Campus". Letters, we request, must be signed by the writer, although these names may be withheld from publication if it is so desired by the writer.

Our opinions shall be voiced in favor of whatever we believe the Allegheny College Community may benefit from, and against what we believe may hurt it.

A Cordial Welcome

We cordially welcome to the Allegheny College Community the new Dean of Students, Dean McKean, the new faculty and administration members, and those who have not been with us for some period of time.

We sincerely wish Dean McKean much success at his new position and the same greetings are extended to the new faculty members. To the returning faculty we can only say to you, "Welcome back home."

Faculty Resolution

We urge the student body to follow the path of the faculty in reference to the latter's position concerning segregation at Allegheny (see page 1). It is unfortunate that the students—through the Allegheny Undergraduate Council — did not lead the way on its own initiative, rather than follow the faculty on a matter that is hovering over our heads, both locally and nationwide.

New Foreign Students

We have several new foreign students whom we would like to welcome to our community, as well as the United States. Several have not returned here for reasons which we do not know, but we urge the student body to become more than acquainted with these people and their lands.

Presidential Interviews

We have been informed that President Pelletier spent some time meeting all of the freshmen individually, although only for a short while. We might footnote this by adding that he will be teaching in addition to his many other labors.

With as many new students as there are enrolled at Allegheny this fall, we cite this as quite a task and worthy of high praise to be recognized by the entire College Community. It is certainly no secret that the President is the busiest man on campus, and the well spent time is appreciated.

Thus, there seems to be an indication of a desire on the part of the administration to become more familiar with the students; this is what Allegheny has been thriving on in the past: familiarity and informality among students, faculty and administration.

If we are correct in drawing this conclusion based on an assumption drawn from observation pertaining towards more improvement in the relations between Bentley and the student, then we of the Campus would like to see more of the students take advantage of it and this feeling will be further promoted throughout the entire Allegheny College Community.

Orientation Week

To those who participated in the various Orientation Week activities, the Class of '61 owes a great deal, for we believe that this fall's Orientation Week was the best at Allegheny in a college generation.

The fatigue on the parts of the new students was matched by those of the faculty, administration and students who aided in many ways. The College Union Staff undoubtedly deserves mention. On one occasion Bill Cooper's staff invited the freshmen to the CU for an informal get-acquainted dance at which Bill Wharton introduced to the frosh a song written by him entitled, "Go, Gators Go!" which will appear in the next issue of the Campus. This is simply one of many examples can be cited.

The only event that was foiled was the Bousson Picnic, rain being the spoiler. But the freshmen found and easily made use of the Field House.

A Word to the Freshmen

The primary purpose of coming to Allegheny is to seek an education. We believe there are several ways of being educated, both in class and out of class.

The out of class education may be obtained by participation in extra-curricular activities, aside from the dormitory sessions. Although we are all concerned about grades it has been said that, for example, the football team's grades are better during the season than during the off-season. A member of the tennis varsity was a member of Phi Beta Kappa last year.

All of these and general education coursed are part of one's liberal arts education. We are grateful for this opportunity to learn. We hope that they will use it. It might be mentioned that the grades of the freshmen, as a class, have been consistently the lowest in the school. We hope that this class will be able to make use of the out-of-class facilities as well as in the class. One, we believe, is no good without the other, but both are necessary for an education, if a liberal arts education is to be meaningful.

If there are problems that occur, and there will be, it is worthwhile to gain help from faculty and student advisors, and Bill Wharton at the Counseling Center. These people are at their posts to aid the students in any way possible. We think that this is an excellent way to begin the college career.

New Magazine

We are glad that a potentially fine substitute for the Kaldron and Lit Mag has, at last, come into being. We think that under the competent editorship of Jim Sandford the magagine and the Community will benefit.

When AUC announced the final tabulation of the acceptance of the magazine, which was 400 for and 220 against, there was some disappointment that a little over the majority of the student population had taken part in the all-college referendum held last Spring. We hope that the implying apathy will not reign in the future at Allegheny.

The Copenhagen newspapers were enthusiastic in their reviews of the recital.

The program will include two compositions by contemporary composers, one Danish and one American. There will be a major work of Bach and pieces by the Baroque composers, Diderik Buztehude and Francis Couperin. # School Journals Three Editors

BY ARLENE BUSSE

The new appointments to the positions of authority in the campus publications read as follows: editor of the new campus magazine which is to replace the Kaldron and Lit Magazine is Jim Sandford and the co-editors of the Campus this year are Beverly Wilkinson and Bob Silberfarb.

Jim Sandford, a senior, has a background of experience on the Literary Magazine having had several of his pieces published in it. An English major, he has also served on the Campus staff. Of the new addition to campus publications, he says, "Criticism of the new magazine is founded largely on sentiment for the past, but any break with tradition, leading to more constructive employment of thought and talent seems to be justified regardless of contrary opinion."

An elementary education major, Bev Wilkinson has served on the Campus for two years filling the position of News Editor last year. Bev is a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority and hails from Pittsburgh. "The first responsibility and prime purpose of a student newspaper, I believe, is to report the news with as high a degree of accuracy and objectivity as possible so that the paper will be a reliable source of information. Also, we as editors must be well-informed on the background of all campus happenings. In this way misinterpretations so easily made can be avoided and campus situations can be analyzed intelligently. This will enable us to offer constructive criticism when we fell that it is necessary.

"Another of our most important goals, in addition to those above, is to give fair representation to all aspects of the college community. Then the newspaper can serve as a link which ties together the entire college community. With student, faculty, and administrative support, and with our goals in mind at all times, we hope to print a successful newspaper."

Co-editor, Bob Silberfarb, a senior and Social Member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, has served as News Editor and Assistant Editor on the Campus and was a member of the Publications Board in his three years on the staff. A resident of New York City, Bob is a psychology major. Commenting on Newspapers and newspaper reporting, Bob said, "The most important function of a responsible newspaper is to report the news objectively and accurately. Opinions may be reserved for the Editorial page unless otherwise designated, in order that the reader shall not be misled. Thus the newspaper may be a driving force and leading participant of any community, Allegheny's being no exception. Ex-Editor Levitt's path seemed to be leading us in this direction. I believe it would be to the Campus' advantage, and thus that of the Allegheny College community's to follow it."

The planning committee for the dance includes: Chairman Sally Stewart, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Mary Wible, Alpha Chi Omega; Ruth Jenkins, Alpha Gamma Delta; Suzie Graff, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Sally Jewel, Alpha Xi Delta.

Challenge Of Unknown And Untried Clearly Seen In New Allegheny Mag

BY JIM SANDFORD, EDITOR

The challenge of the unknown and the untried is not a new call to alert college students, but in my three years at Allegheny this call has not manifested itself so clearly and concretely as it has in the idea of a new college publication.

It is a dynamic concept in contrast to the more or less static Lit.-Mag. and Kaldron of thinking. Each of these past publications fulfilled one or two functions well. The Lit-Mag was an outlet for narrative talent; the Kaldron was a college record of statistics and popular photographs. The synthesis of these two publications—the new college magazine—reasonably fulfills both of these functions and adds a host of others; each function as part of a working dynamic whole. For instance, in what previous publication has a student been able to learn the intricacies involved in the use of extensive original layout work, combined with feature writing and creative photography.

When the first issue comes out, sometime after Christmas Recess, the major objections will be the lack of statistics and popular group photographs. This objection will "carry water" only if the contents of the magazine does live up to the concept behind it. If a magazine is a success in the sense that it lived up to the expectations of the students who created it, the objection will be empty. A principal of good policy might be: no one deserves to have his picture printed simply because he exists in an institution, and no institution deserves to have its members recognized merely because it is an institution. Fraternities will be recognized in the magazine as they contribute to college life, not because they are fraternities.

If the magazine is to have a fighting chance in its trial issues, it cannot be typed or hampered by conditions set upon it by an outside body of students, and if a condition such as having all fraternity or sorority group pictures included in two issues is met, the magazine is typed before it gets into print.

The largest feature in the issue will be on fraternities, and over a period of four years, eight issues, all the fraternities will get adequate coverage. But they will be covered on the basis of merit, and fraternity groups will not dominate the magazine any more than will groups such as the freshman class or the faculty or the administration.

This is a touchy point, since the magazine was originally committed orally to the A.U.C. stipulation that fraternity group pictures be included. The publications board, which voted for the magazine could have gone on with the ideas without A.U.C. approval. But that isn't the reason for taking this stand. We have limited funds and therefore limited magazine space. If we are to get out a quality magazine, the power to make magazine policy must rest in the hands of the editors and the faculty advisors.

The editors and advisors are:

Our next meeting will be held Wednesday, October 8, 7:30 p.m. in Conference Room A of the College Union. Anyone interested is welcome to come.

Singers, Choir Get Additional Voices

During orientation week, approximately seventy freshman women tried out for the Chapel Choir. Of this number thirty-six have been tentatively accepted. However, their final acceptance will depend on how many sophomore women will remain in the Choir.

Mr. North, the director of the Chapel Choir, had this to say about the new group, "I'm very enthusiastic about the new bunch of singers I have to work with. They seem to have lots of spirit."

The new Choir will make its first appearance in Chapel on October 13.

Fifty upper class women and seventy men tried out for the Allegheny Singers to fill a limited number of vacancies. The Singers are under the direction of Dr. Luvaas.

The members in both the Singers and the Choir are tentative. It will be another week or two before a definite list is made for each group.

The Sinfonietta, directed by Mr. Neurath, has begun rehearsing for its appearances this fall and winter. According to Mr. North, "They played the best first rehearsal that I have heard them play in years."

All three organizations are starting right in on work for their Christmas concerts which will be held early in December.

New Dean

be of value to the college, we contribute to them and, in turn, benefit from what they contribute to us. It also serves as a good opportunity to exchange ideas with other institutions.

First Love is Teaching

Working at the present time on his doctorate dissertation on "The History of Wells College," Dean McKean's first love is teaching. As Dean of Students, McKean remarked that he is actually teaching, but on a more individual bases. He would like to teach a class sometime, though, in addition to his regular duties.

The new Dean is a native of Cortland, N.Y., and is married to the former Ruth Elaine MacDonald, a graduate of Farmington State Teacher's College in Maine.

At William and Mary McKean was a member of the Intra-Mural Council, the International Relations Club, and was Make-up Editor of the college newspaper.

McKean Sports-Minded

Following graduation he became administrative assistant at Mt. Vernon, Va., but left for a teaching post at Landon School in Washington, D.C. He also taught for two years at Central School in Homer, N.Y. At both schools he was closely connected with the athletic program as a coach.

McKean has continued his interest in athletics since then and is presently a member of the International Association of Approved Basketball Officials and the New York State Baseball Umpires Association.

Campus Clashes

With the advent of Fall, college campuses throughout the nation burst into life once again and, in the transition, the focal point of the students' attention is changed from summer interests to intellectual endeavors and gridiron aspirations. Nowhere is this better exemplified than here on the Allegheny campus with the complete varsity and intramural program outlined by the athletic department.

Football has stepped fully into the lime light with the varsity opener at Geneva, New York and the opening intramural contests Tuesday. Tennis and golf, switched from their normally Spring place in the intramural program, assume supporting roles on the sports scene within the week. Throughout the year the respective fraternities will compete in a variety of sports that will be included in this column as they happen.

Phi Gams, Phi Psis Win Openers

Tuesday saw the first action in football with the Phi Gams rolling over the Chi Rhos 34-0, and the Phi Psis edging the Sigs 6-0. The Phi Gams, defending intramural champs, were led by John Hankins and Dal Matthews with two touchdowns apiece, Jerry Gilbert with one, and Bob Cebula with two safeties to his credit. Joe Shoemaker of the Phi Gams was injured in the first half.

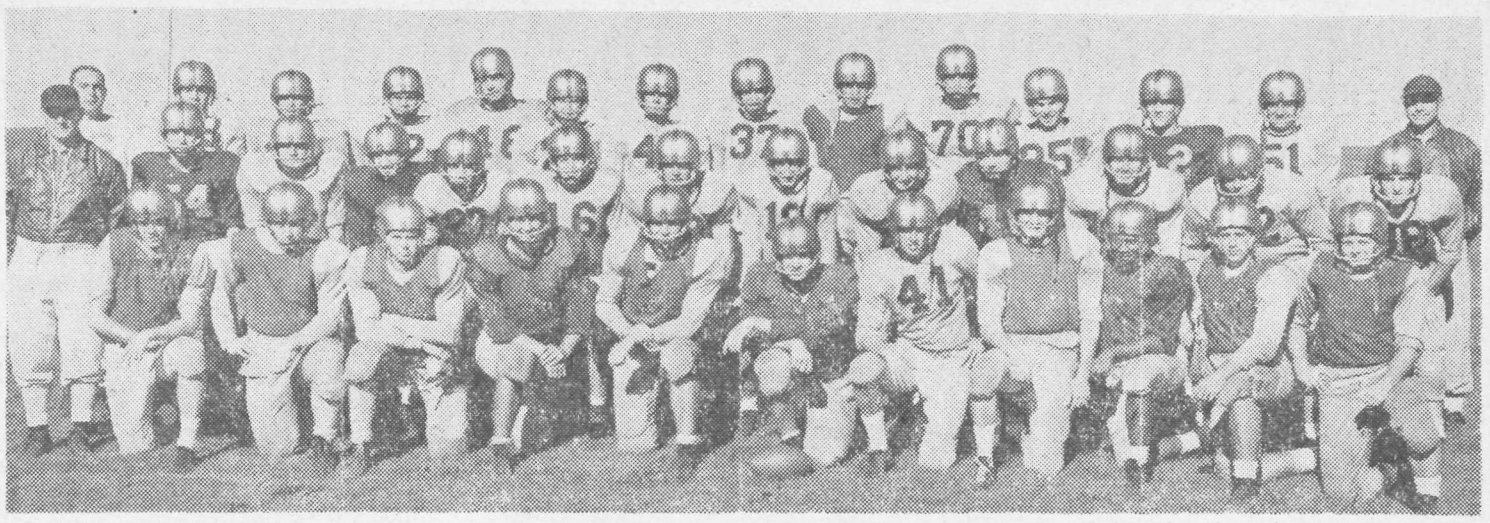

In the closely contested game between the Phi Psis and Sigs, a sudden death had to be played to decide the winner. The Phi Psis, lead offensively by Tom Fleming and Marv Beatty were declared the winners. Defense was very evident on the part of both teams; both teams should be tough in the remainder of the season.

(Ed. Note—When intramural football games are played to a tie, the winner is declared after four downs are played by each team from the fifty yard-line. The team to move the ball the most distence into enemy territory is declared the winner.)

1957 Grid Entry In Home Debut

Red Moore's football squad which, after dropping its opener to Hobart, 26-7, encounters W. & J. in the season's home curtain-raiser Saturday.

Allegheny Line Strong In Opener Offensive Stronger For W&J Tilt

BY DON ANDERSON, SPORTS EDITOR

Hobart's Statesmen spoiled Coach Moore's bid to win his first opening game by overpowering the Gators 26-7 at Geneva, New York. Hobart's Art Lambert was the big difference as he led the All Star Hobart backfield with a brilliant passing attack that scored one Hobart touchdown and set up two others.

Allegheny's only score came in the last two seconds of the game when Little All-American Jim Villa crashed over from the two-yard line against an eight-man Hobart line. Baranowski converted to give the Gators their seven points.

The Allegheny forward wall looked impressive as they slowed the Hobart ground game for almost the entire first quarter when a pass interception set up the first Statesmen score. Jack Royton intercepted a Baranowski pass on the Hobart 40 and ran it to the Allegheny 36. Royston then led a drive that ended when Lambert carried over the goal from the one.

— Gator Fumble Costly —

Hobart cashed in on an Allegheny fumble early in the second quarter for their second score. Jim Villa took Don Dahowsky's kickoff to the Allegheny 38 and fumbled with Gary Mendez falling on the ball. Lambert then connected for three straight passes, the last being for 17 yards to Gary Mendez in the end zone for a 13-0 lead.

Late in the third quarter Lambert went to the air again to lead a 71-yard Statesmen drive. Three Lambert passes and a drive by Mendez set the ball on the Allegheny seven where Jack Royston sliced through the line for the third Hobart touchdown. Dahansky boo-booed his third try for the extra point.

The Allegheny line stalled a fourth Hobart drive within the twenty-yard line by breaking up a Lambert pass intended for Dahansky, However, the Gator offensive couldn't get moving and Baranowski was forced to punt while standing in his own end zone. Ernie Lisi picked it up on the Allegheny 28 and nearly went the distance for the score but left the honors to Don Dahowsky two plays later on a pitchout from Mendez. Dahowsky converted for the 26th Hobart point with thirteen minutes remaining.

Gators Stall on Hobart Four

Chauncey Mann and Tony Baranowski teamed up to lead the first Gator thrust inside the Hobart twenty. Chauncey carried the Hobart kickoff to the Allegheny 45 from the 15. Mann then went for a first down to the Hobart 39 in three plays. A Baranowski pass to Donodeo and another Mann run gave the Gators another first down on the Hobart 25. Two running plays by Smith and another Baranowski pass to Donodeo set the ball on the 13. The Statesmen defense tightened and stalled the Gator drive four yards short of the goal line.

— Gators Score in Last Seconds —

Dave Benedict broke into the clear for 49 yards to the Allegheny 48 but Russell fumbled for the Statesmen. Paul Morrison fell on the ball on the Allegheny 43 to give the Gators their last and only successful scoring chance. Baranowski flipped to Todd for 36 yards to the Hobart 21. Jim Villa then tried the line for nine yards to the 12. Two plays set the ball on the two where "Poncho" crashed over for the only Allegheny touchdown with two seconds remaining.

— Face Presidents Saturday —

Saturday the little Presidents from W. & J. invade College Field for the Gator home opener. The Presidents suffer from inexperience — there are only two seniors on the squad and they have only ten returning lettermen. They have a good running backfield, centered around Ray Simms and Ed Lonchiek at the halfback positions. Walker fills in the fullback duties and Ed Peterson, a junior, quarterbacks the team. Peterson throws good accurate passes and hit for some yardage against Grove City in their encounter last Saturday.

Possibly the Presidents may use a 5-4-2 defense centered around Ray Johnston at one of the linebacker positions. Johnston, one of the best linebackers in the district, spoiled many of the Grove City plays and could be troublesome to the Gator ground offense. W. & J. offense will probably be centered around the passing of Ed Peterson and the running of Ray Simms and Ed Lonchiek. Screen passes and drop passes seem to be Peterson's specialty in loosening up the defense. The Gator ground defense should be able to keep the W. & J. backs in check. The aerials will be the big difference in the ball game.

Allegheny Enters Athletic League

BY BOB ULLOM

Allegheny College, following a path laid by several larger colleges, has moved into a football and basketball league with its entry to the Presidents' Athletic Conference.

The Gators, along with Washing and Jefferson and Bethany colleges, were admitted to the conference last August on an experimental basis ending with the 1961-62 academic year. The addition of the three new schools has enlarged the league to seven members. Other members include Western Reserve, John Carroll, and Case, all of Cleveland, and Wayne University of Detroit.

P.A.C. To Be Divided

The conference was formed three years ago to stress de-emphasis of athletics. Announcement of the addition of Allegheny was made by conference President Clarence B. Hilberry, who is also president of Wayne University. Under the new set up, the conference will be divided into an estern and western division. The Gators will be in the eastern division, along with Bethany and W & J. Under conference rules, Allegheny must schedule two games with each division. It will comply with this ruling in 1958 when it plays W & J, Bethany, John Carroll, and Case in football.

Traditional Allegheny Opponents May Be Dropped

Entry into the PAC may mean Allegheny may have to drop some of its traditional opponents because the conference is set up to handle an eventual seven-game football schedule. Four of the seven teams would be conference rivals. Basketball scheduling is not yet fully defined by the Conference.

$ 3.00 for failure to put registration sticker on car.

$ 5.00 for going wrong way up Brooks Driveway.

$ 5.00 for failure to obtain Temporary Automobile Registration from the Traffic Committee.

The above fines do not preclude other actions which may be taken by any college courts.

C.U. Corner

Last Saturday evening the first section-sponsored dance of the school year was held at the C.U. The job of planning the decorations and arranging for entertainment and refreshments was taken over by the girls of Section Two of Caflisch Hall. Music for the evening was provided by a local combo. The theme of the dance was in connection with honoring the football team in their first game of the season.

The Outing Club held its first event of the season last Saturday. The plans for the afternoon consisted of a trip to Bousson, where the members amused themselves playing volleyball and taking short hikes.

The C.U. has been the center of many club organizational meetings the past week. All the meetings are posted on the bulletin board in the main lobby, so be sure not to miss the meeting time of your favorite organization.

Fraternities

on the afternoon of Sunday, October 13, will be Delta Tau Delta. Under the chairmanship of alumni Donald Munroe, the Delts are soliciting funds toward construction of a new fraternity house. Over $15,000 has been pledged or donated thus far.

While the freshman women were being serenaded last Thursday by Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the freshman men were meeting with members of the Inter-Fraternity Council, consisting of the president of each fraternity and headed by President Ed Fredricks, in an effort to learn its purpose and the why and wherefores of a fraternity in general.

Due to the remodeling of its house, Phi Delta Theta has suspended its calendar of events. At the same time, the Theta Chis have moved into their new house,

The Alpha Chi Rhos and Phi Kappa Psis, it is alleged, had teas for the freshman women last Sunday.

Booters Workout For First Game

BY STEFAN WILLIAM

The entire squad consists of only twenty-eight men, eight of whom are freshmen. Bill McAtter and Tom Bastian have had previous experience at their respective high schools. The upperclass squad members include Bruce Bell, Chuck Hawkins, Darrell Kennedy, Dave McKee, Don Pettler, Eli Silverman, and Dave Wetzel who will probably see action this year.

Coach Hanson lauded the good spirit of the team. He felt the team would be well prepared for the season opener with Western Reserve Tuesday afternoon at College Field. The Gators lost some good material through graduation last year but the spirit and enthusiasm of the 1957 entry should help make up the difference in personnel.
