BLUE AND GOLD SQUAD DEFEATS NIAGARA 39-0

Coach McCracken's Men Display Strong Defense in Opening Home Game

Streaks of Blue and Gold played up and down Montgomery Field last Saturday afternoon as Allegheny triumphed over the Niagara University eleven, 39-0, in the initial home contest of this season. Ideal weather conditions prevailed, with the result that motor parties from Erie, Greenville, Grove City, and other surrounding towns helped to swell the already large crowd of students and Meadville rooters.

Niagara won the toss and elected to defend the east goal. Byham caught the kick-off and fumbled but succeeded in falling on the ball. In comparatively few plays Miller, Dahl and Hanlon advanced the ball to within striking distance of the New Yorker's goal, and Dahl bucked the line for the first touchdown before the game was five minutes old. Again, in the second quarter, a second score followed some pretty running by Miller after he had returned a Niagara punt 20 yards. On another occasion when the ball was on the 20 yard line Dahl was called upon to push it over and succeeded in doing so a moment later. At the end of first half the score read, Allegheny 12; Niagara 0.

With the opening of the third quarter, Coach McCracken substituted a number of second string men in order to save his regulars for the crucial tilt with Grove City next Saturday. These men continued the good work, and the Empire State representatives were forced to punt quite frequently. Loomis, early in the quarter, broke through and blocked a punt on the 20 yard line and thus paved the way for another Blue and Gold counter. It was at this juncture that the prettiest play of the afternoon was executed, Miller's sensational dash across the line on a reverse double pass which completely baffled the opposing eleven. On the try for the extra point after this goal "Hoppy" succeeded in booting a placement between the posts. Niagara received the kick-off, and they were forced again to resort to punting, since the local defense was exceptionally strong. In the latter part of the quarter Miller furnished another thrill when he took a short punt out of the air and raced down the field forty yards before he was downed. Dahl scored on the next play. Shortly after this touchdown Logan was substituted for Dahl and succeeded in adding six points to our total after the ball had been returned to the visitors' territory. On more than one occasion the local team was in a position to score but lacked the punch to push the pigskin over the line. Twice they did cross the line, but in both cases

Y. M. C. A. Hears Inspiring Address

PRESIDENT HIXSON TALKS ON "CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES"

"Principles a Christian Man Should Stand For," was the theme of President Hixson's address to the Y. M. C. A. at the meeting last Wednesday evening, in the chapel.

Dr. Hixson emphasized the need of aggressive Christianity in contrast to the negative and passive stand which many Christians take. Rather than being an effeminate creature, a Christian man is a bundle of positive possibilities. Some of the things a Christian man should stand for are: Clean living, honesty, prayer and living the belief in God.

"The most powerful testimony for Christ," said the President, "is a man who lives a Christ-like life."

Another test of a Christian man is his attitude towards womankind. Dr. Hixson expressed his belief that a co-educational institution such as Allegheny encourages a fine regard and respect for women, and discourages a boorish and ungentle attitude.

Mr. J. E. Larson, who is acting for President Boynton in the latter's absence, had charge of the meeting, and called a cabinet meeting of the officers which met directly after the services. Dr. Henke led the prayer, and Mr. Chase Gage directed the singing. The benedictory prayer was offered by Dr. Beller.

FAMOUS ARTISTS APPEAR IN CONCERT SERIES

CLARENCE WHITEHILL WILL GIVE FIRST NUMBERS ON FRIDAY EVENING

An excellent series has been booked for the second season of the Allegheny College concerts opening this Friday, October 20, with Clarence Whitehill. It is without doubt one of the finest concert programs to be given in any city in this vicinity this season. Many well known artists are to be brought to the college through the efforts of Dr. H. W. Church, secretary and local representative of the management. While the concert series has never been a money making proposition it does furnish entertainment of the better class for those lovers of good music.

Last season such artists as Charles Wakefield Cadman, Olive Kline, Mill-red Dilling, Guy Mair, Lee Pattison and Theo Karle visited the college and gave delightful programs. As the first season was such a grand success and so well supported by the townspeople as well as the college students, little trouble was experienced this year in bringing world famed artists to Meadville and Allegheny.

The concerts will again be given in Ford Memorial Chapel which is especially adapted for this purpose. The chapel, however will only hold a limited number and as over half the seats were subscribed for at the last concert of last season there are but a few desirable ones left at this date. If at any concert the concert-goers exceed the number of seats, arrangements have been made whereby that number may be given in the gymnasium; this will undoubtedly be the case in the Mme. Schuman-Heink concert.

Clarence Whitehill, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera company, of New York City will appear on the first number, Friday, October 20, Mr. Whitehill is especially well known and many have heard his voice on Victor records. He has spent six seasons with the Chicago Opera company and seven with the Metropolitan Opera. He

ALLEGHENY ALUMNUS ADDRESSES STUDENTS

REED SPEAKS AT CHAPEL

"College days are the happiest moments in one's life," said Mr. E. D. Reed, of the class of '94, in chapel Thursday morning.

Mr. Reed is connected with the Chattanooga Railway and Light Company, Chattanooga, Tennessee. Every year he returns to his Alma Mater to see the many improvements which are made from time to time. This is the first time that Mr. Reed has addressed the student body.

Mr. Reed said that after leaving college he looked back and wished that he had it all to do over again, not necessarily because he had done anything to be ashamed of, but because it was then that he realized his college days were perhaps the most enjoyable times of his life.

In closing Mr. Reed stated that it was good to enjoy one's self during the college years, but be ready to grasp the opportunity when it came to make the very best of the time spent in college.

Classes Elect Officers for Year

MEETING OF EACH CLASS HELD LAST WEEK

College "poles" were opened and election of officers begun when the Senior class held its elections Tuesday, October 3. The meetings were all held in Alden Hall "voting booth" and one class followed the other beginning with the Seniors.

SENIOR CLASS

In addition to the regular class officers, and historian was also elected at the meeting of the Senior class. Vernon L. Wise was chosen as the best man to lead the class on its final lap at Allegheny, and was therefore given the dignified title of "president." As his able assistant, the class elected Linnie Loudon, to fill the position of vice-president. Helen Lucile Leffingwell was elected to the office of secretary, and Charles E. Kinney was the "people's choice" for treasurer. The historian was given to a very witty and able speaker, Helen Bowman.

JUNIOR CLASS

The first meeting of the Junior class was held Wednesday, October 4. In the absence of the president, the meeting was called to order by vice-president Jeane Bowser. In a well conducted and snappy meeting the class officers for 1922-23 were elected.

Samuel Alter was, first and last, the juniors' choice for the presidency. As his co-worker, Sara McQuiston was put in the vice-president's chair. Margaret Quinlon was elected to the office of secretary. Willard Tannehill was selected as the logical person to look after the financial interests of the class and his office was termed "treasurer."

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomore class at a meeting in Alden Hall on October 5, elected its class officers. The following were considered the most efficient and chosen without much trouble: President, F. M. Reed; vice-president, Irene Colbert; secretary, Frances Goodnough; and treasurer, M. H. Cadwell.

FRESHMEN CLASS

The Freshmen class had the most difficulty in selecting its leaders as most of the members were unknown to each other. So it was after considerable debate and a "warm session" that DeWane Weston was elected president, Dorothy Field, vice-president, W. R. Merrill, treasurer, and Mary Murphy, secretary.

SOPHOMORES WIN ANNUAL FIELD MEET

TUG-OF-WAR AND TIE-UP FEATURE ACTIVITIES

Sophomores made a clean sweep of the events in the annual field day exercises which were held last Saturday as they defeated the Freshmen in every number on the program. Many of the contests were close however, and the Fresh in general gave a fair account of themselves.

The first event, the tug-of-war proved to be an affair of genuine excitement. The Fresh won the first pull but the 1925 boys had things easy in the next. The deciding trial was better than the two preceding ones and the Fresh tried hard but in vain to win it. The relay race went to the Sophs by a fair margin. "Strategy" gave the sack race to 1925. The obstacle race was fairly close but the ability of Bliss to meet the obstructions with agility resulted in a licking for the pebes.

The 220 yard dash between Brew, the diminutive Soph and "Hub" Walker, the lanky Fresh was as close as it was humorous. Brew took the lead and though his rival spurred at the finish nevertheless 1925 won again. Due to the fact that it was quite late the inter-class boxing and wrestling matches were omitted. Finally everything was ready for the feature event of the meet, the tie-up. For twenty minutes the rival lower classes fought furiously. The Sophomores had every Fresh but Weston, the class president tied at the end of the time limit. Only a couple of Sophs were tied and carried back of the line and these succeeded in making an escape.

MEN'S FRATERNITIES COMPLETE RUSHING SEASON

Seventy-five Pledges Are Announced by the Eight Organizations

With the pledging of seventy-five new men, the eight Greek-letter fraternities of Allegheny have closed a period of successful, but strenuous, rushing. The open rushing rules were observed in a most satisfactory manner; they were in effect from the first week of the college year.

An average of nine men were pledged by each fraternity, the exact number varying from five to twelve. The following pledges are announced by the various fraternities:

Penn Beta Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi Announces the pledging of Harold Miliken, New Brighton, Pa.; Wm. Dolde, Sewickley, Pa.; Boyd Miller, Erie; James Culbertson, Erie; Wm. Weaver, Erie; Chas. Severn, Renton, Pa., all of Class of '26.

PI DELTA EPSILON ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

FOUR MEN ARE CHOSEN BY HONORARY SOCIETY

New members were elected to Pi Delta Epsilon and plans for the coming college year were outlined at the first meeting of the fraternity held last Wednesday evening. Pi Delta Epsilon is the foremost national honorary journalistic fraternity in the country. The local chapter was instituted last spring so this is really the first year for the national fraternity on the Allegheny Campus.

Four men, one senior and three juniors, who had at least two years' experience in college journalistic work were elected. John Edwin Larson, '23; Courtney M. Dale, '24; Charles W. Havice, '24 and Theodore A. Siedle, '24 are the pledges. The active chapter at present consists of Jerome Hixson; W. Melville Jones, Editor-in-Chief of the Campus; Frank Jolly, associate editor of the Kaldron; Kenneth Fry, business manager of the Literary Monthly and a member of the Kaldron staff, and Charles Bolinger, Editor-in-Chief of the Kaldron.

The four men elected have had an active part in the journalistic world at Allegheny, and are highly deserving of the honor conferred upon them by the local chapter.

J. E. Larson has written considerable material for the Literary Monthly. He was business manager of the Lit. his junior year and was the business manager of the Student's Manual published by the Y. M. C. A. this year.

Courtney Dale earned his place on the Campus his freshman year. His second year at Allegheny found him on both the Campus and Kaldron. This year he is athletic editor of the Campus.

In his first year, Charles Havice made his place on the weekly publication, the Campus. Last year he was a member of the Campus staff and also the Kaldron staff. He edited the Student's Manual, is one of the editors of the Campus and is working on the Kaldron this year.

Theodore Siedle began competing for a position on the Campus his freshman year and in June 1921, when the staff was announced, his name was among those who had won a place. His sophomore year he was a member of the Campus staff and one of the art editors of the Kaldron. This year he is news editor of the Campus and is doing work on the Kaldron.

Pi Delta Epsilon was formed to honor college journalists for their work in collegiate publications, and to furnish social and semi-professional unity in colleges having a chapter. The fraternity encourages undergraduates to compete for positions on the collegiate publications, awarding them with membership upon the completion of two years' work on these publications, if they are found worthy of that membership.

Pa.; Arthur Dahl, Warren, Pa., all of Class of '26.

OCTOBER ISSUE OF LITERARY MONTHLY APPEARS

Evidently it is the intention of the newly-organized staff of the Literary Monthly to inject originality and novel features into the publication. Even the cover design as well as the size and quality of the paper has been greatly changed. This is a good beginning.

The Ida M. Tarbell number, as this current issue has been called, not only contains a half-tone cut of this splendid Alleghenian, but also a most interesting article by her. Miss Tarbell has entitled her contribution "Old Times at Allegheny," and in it are to be found intensely interesting and de-

The Publications Board introduces to the students of Allegheny as editor-in-chief of the Campus this year, W. Melville Jones. The new editor is not new to the readers of the Campus, as he has been connected with college journalism during his entire college course. He is qualified for this important position and the Board ventures the hope that he will have the backing of the entire student body. With him is an excellent staff of assistants who will help make the Campus what the students want it to be—a paper that is representative of the best interests of Allegheny.

J. R. SCHULTZ, Chairman.

Owing to difficulties arising in connection with the printing of the paper and to changes made in the Staff organization the first issue of the Campus appears somewhat later than in former years. A general survey of all College news has been included in this issue. The Campus staff has been arranged into three departments, with an editor at the head of each division. The editors will be assisted by reporters and competitors.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

Next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, in the seminar room of the library, the History and Political Science Club will hold their first meeting of the present term. At this meeting the new members will be elected. Plans are already under way for the club to visit Erie and view the historical points of that city.

The secretary of the organization is corresponding with Miss Beatrice Sanbourn of New York City, general secretary of the Affiliated International Relations Club, in regard to speakers. It is certain that at least two speakers of international repute will speak before the club.

DUTTON SOCIETY OF APPLIED SCIENCE

While no meeting of the Dutton Society of Applied Science has been held to date, it was announced by one of the members of the executive committee of last year that an elaborate and active program would be arranged for the coming year.

The election of officers, election of a new executive committee, and the making of detailed plans will be the purpose of the first meeting, which is to be held Tuesday, October 24.

PHILO-FRANKLIN FORUM

Holding the second meeting of the year, the Philo-Franklin Forum elected their officers for the ensuing year as follows: Speaker, Mr. Demmler; Speaker pro-tem, Mr. Quinn; Secretary, Mr. Tefft; Sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Cummings.

Mr. Leeper and Mr. Ross were given the decision in the debate "Resolved, That the Honor System should be re-instated at Allegheny College," against Mr. Larson and Mr. Demmler, who upheld the negative side of the question.

Following the meeting, Messrs. Bartlett, Severn, Cummings, Harrison, Lee, Fitzpatrick and Palmer were initiated into the Forum.

MODERN PROBLEMS CLUB

Beginning with their first monthly meeting, Tuesday, October 24, the Modern Problems Club will inaugurate an entirely new program of study. Throughout the year several very prominent business men from this section will speak before the club. The members will also take active part in the meetings by presenting papers on the most important issues of the nation today.

The following officers, elected at the final meeting of last year, will serve during 1922-23. President, J. E. Larson; Vice President, P. W. Clarke; Secretary and Treasurer, C. A. Bollinger.

Officers of the club feel confident that the coming year will be one of the most successful the organization has yet enjoyed.

FROSH ARE BEATEN IN POSTER SCRAP

TREE NEAR WILCOX HALL IS THE SITE OF ANNUAL BATTLE

It was with the annual Poster Scrap between the two lower classes on the night of September 27 and the morning of September 28, that the men of the class of 1926 were given their first intimate glimpse of one phase of college life. The Poster Scrap has long been an institution at Allegheny, and as in practically all the former fights the sophomores emerged victorious. After ten minutes of real fighting the poster of the second year men was still intact. The identical spot that the Sophs selected last year was defended by the men of '25. The old tree in the rear of Wilcox Hall has now been the scene of two such scraps and perhaps this recent one will be the last for the old tree, as it is rumored that it will soon be removed.

The freshmen were herded in Montgomery field from 9 o'clock until time for them to begin their search for the poster. Much excitement was prevalent among the Frosh and their un- easiness could still be seen when they left the field at 12:30 to find the sophs and their poster. The Sophomores gathered around the old tree about 12:15 and were wholly prepared for the freshman attack.

Little trouble was experienced by the Frosh in finding the sophomores, for apparently they were led directly to the "slaughter." Coming from the athletic field, down the driveway and past old Bentley Hall, the Freshmen in a long line formation looked to be sure winners if numbers meant anything, for they outnumbered the second year men at least two to one.

The upper classmen and the members of the Men's Senate acted in the capacity of judges, referees, stretch-bearers, timekeepers and other officials to see that the fight was conducted in a gentlemanly manner. As in other years the football men were not allowed to participate in the scrap.

No serious injuries resulted from the scrap. It was a good class fight in every way, for the sophs had their poster and the freshmen had the experience of a life time.

Many townspeople, the entire student body and the girls, from their point of vantage in Hulings Hall, directly across from the scene of battle, witnessed this annual tilt between the two lower classes.

PROF. H. L. BARNES WILL DIRECT GLEE CLUB DURING COMING SEASON

At a meeting of the Men's Glee Club on Thursday afternoon, it was definitely announced that Prof. H. L. Barnes, the newly elected head of the Pennsylvania College of Music, would be the director for the 1922-23 season.

The meeting on Thursday was the first for the year and was devoted to a general and informal discussion of plans for the coming season. The election of a manager and complete organization will take place very shortly, and the club will then immediately begin work on a program which promises a most successful year for the organization.

FRESHMEN RULES ENFORCED BY SOPHS

Freshmen are now a familiar sight on the beautiful campus, contaminating it with their miserable presence and their "little frosh lids." The caps and rules were distributed and both officially took effect last week. The "pea green" freshman is now not only conspicuous by his shy and humble manner becoming of his lowly station, but also by the little Blue and Gold felt hat which is topped with a green button and has a green visor.

As the frosh come from their 9:10 classes to chapel they are subjected to the ridicule and criticism of the entire student body, with special attention from the sophomores. The familiar cries of "Where's your cap," "Cap off Frosh," or "Get inside and make it snappy," are again to be heard as the poor, miserable freshman enters Ford Memorial Chapel.

At the close of the chapel exercises and after the seniors and juniors have left in order, the sophomores and freshmen rise simultaneously, but the lowly frosh is again squelched by howls of "Down, Frosh; sit down," from the sophomores and any lingering upper classman.

Again, outside the chapel the freshmen are confronted by the howling mob of seniors, juniors and sophomores. The demand of "Speech, Frosh," is now the keynote, and some unlucky individual is hauled out of the whole lot and compelled to give his speech on the traditions of the college and his reasons for coming to the institution. Many ridiculous things are demanded of the new man, and seldom is he given half a chance. Should he have any books under his arm when called to give his speech he is commanded to drop them and sometimes to stand upon them. If his delivery of the speech is excellent or exceedingly poor someone will always demand for a repetition of some sentence, or another will call "Louder, Frosh," all of course to make the poor little fellow nervous. Some very novel stunts have been added this year, the most attractive one being that of the "fairy dance," which when properly executed is both attractive and humorous.

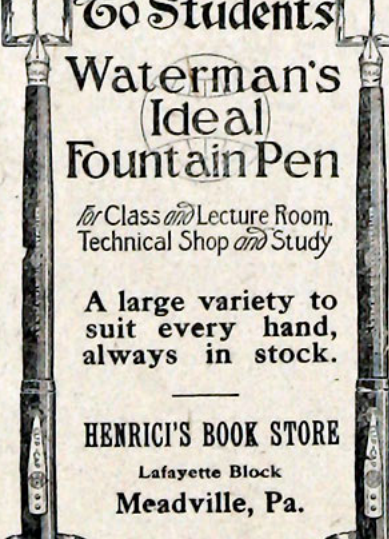

The rules that the freshmen are governed by are laid down by the Student Senate and are enforced by the Sophomore men of the college. The rules this year are the same as they have been in past years.

So far no hair cutting has been performed and if the resolutions of the Student Senate are obeyed by the sophomores, none will be done, but no one is responsible for the actions of the sophs except themselves. With the sophomores continually looking for some small slip on the part of the freshmen, there is little happiness in the life of the first year men, and little hopes of any until after February 22, 1923.

THOBURN CLUB

The Thoburn Club will hold its first regular meeting this Thursday evening at 6:45 in the oratory of the chapel. Mr. George Braun, the president, will be in charge of the meeting. All freshmen who are looking forward to the ministry or to Christian service are urged to be present and identify themselves with this organization.

PHYSICAL TRAINING
COURSE IS REVISEDCREDIT WILL BE GIVEN TOWARD GRADUATION

Plans for one of the most extensive gymnastic seasons that Allegheny College has ever known are being completed at the present time and if they all materialize it would not be surprising to see the 1922-23 school year be a banner one in the history of the college, credits towards graduation will be given for gym work. This will do much to promote interest in the course, and together with the elaborate program mapped out by Director C. E. Hammett, it can readily be seen that Allegheny's physical training curriculum will take an important aspect this season.

Forty-five Freshmen have elected to take this course this year and together with the same number of Sophomores and with a few members of the two upper classes, nearly a hundred men will be at work in this branch of training. The Sophomore gymnastic exercises are rather advanced in nature and include chest bar work, a vaulting bar series and tumbling. The course of the Freshmen is composed of setting up exercises, basketball, indoor baseball, volleyball and cage ball. Later in the season there will be contests in the mentioned sports between picked teams of the different divisions. This will add much zest to the regular routine of exercises and some hot competition should be the result.

The regular gymnasium classes meet twice a week. This is the "lab" work of the course and counts as an hour of credit. Another hour of credit is given in the important lecture course which is also conducted by Director Hammett. One lecture a week will be given continuing throughout the first semester. Two things will be considered. First the subject of practical care of the body, second, the physiology of exercise.

WHERE STUDENTS MEET

SECTIONAL RIVALS WILL CLASH AT GROVE CITY

ENTIRE STUDENT BODY PLAN TO ATTEND CONTEST

With the Niagara game a thing of the past everything is centered on the Grove City clash next Saturday. The importance of this game is recognized by both sides, as a win for either team would give them somewhat of an edge on the Tri-State race.

While Allegheny was amassing 39 points against Niagara, Grove City was falling before the flashy attack of Katy Easterday's Bethany squad. However, the Crimson exhibited great scoring power the previous week when Thiel was sent home on the short end of a 26-0 score.

Comparative scores cannot be relied upon and Coach McCracken is not inclined to be optimistic over the outcome of this crucial contest. Figuratively speaking it will be a case of "Greek meeting Greek," as Chalky Williamson, crimson mentor, is also a protegee of "Pop" Warner. Both teams are well versed in the Warner style of play and a battle royal is anticipated when they meet on College Field, Grove City this week end.

Intense but friendly rivalry between the institutions will make this a sectional tilt of no little importance. With the completion of another link of the Perry Highway, large numbers of football enthusiasts will be attracted from every section of northwestern Pennsylvania. One of the largest crowds in the local football history is predicted, with possibly a special train to carry the Blue and Gold rooters to the scene of the clash. With this colorful background only unfavorable weather can mar the successful culmination of this intercollegiate classic.

Members of the Blue and Gold squad emerged from the Niagara game in good condition. Jimmie Hanlon was the only member to suffer a serious injury; that being a twisted ankle. Wright and Wolz, regulars who were injured at Colgate the previous week, will be ready for Grove City; thus adding considerable strength to the local forward defense.

FOOTBALL CHATTER

The giant Bethany eleven defeated Grove City 14-0 last Saturday. By reason of this defeat Allegheny's hopes for victory next Saturday are materially strengthened.

Waynesburg, by reason of her triumph over Duquesne, promises a more serious engagement for the Blue and Gold squad than was expected.

Carnegie Tech displayed her strength by holding the clever W. and J. aggregation to a 7-7 tie.

Rochester University had difficulty in defeating Westminster 7-0, while Thiel showed strength by giving Buffalo a 15-0 beating.

COLGATE DEFEATS ALLEGHENY TEAM

LOCAL TEAM MAKES HARD FIGHT AGAINST HEAVY NEW YORKERS

Allegheny lost the first game of the year 19 to 0 to Colgate at Hamilton, N. Y., Saturday, October 7. This brief statement does not, however, give the local team the credit due them. The line was a stone wall on the defense and only the lucky breaks of football gave Colgate the game. Colgate registered twelve first downs, while Allegheny chalked up seven against the New Yorkers. Colgate's victory can not be admitted as technically impressive. The Empire State boys have more than their team to thank for the victory over Allegheny. Several times inexcusable errors by the headlinesmen gave Colgate a few unearned yards, and the decision of the referee were questionable in some instances.

Favorably judged, the Blue and Gold's defeat in their first game of the season was due more to hard luck than to any lack of ability or fight on the part of our players. Captain Loomis, Fuller and Dahls played a fine defensive game and the whole team fought an excellent battle.

THIRTY MEN COMPETE FOR CROSS COUNTRY

TRIANGULAR MEET PLANED FOR NOVEMBER 25

A growing interest in cross-country work is being exhibited throughout college circles, and Allegheny is right on the job as usual with a fine squad of thirty men.

This branch of sport is being pushed for two reasons. First, that Allegheny may be represented in action; second, that good distance runners for the regular track team may be discovered and stamina developed in them.

Last year's team ran in a triangular meet with Carnegie Tech and the University of West Virginia, in which they finished second, a most creditable showing considering the calibre of their competitors. As five men were awarded minor A's from last season's work, the chances are good for new material to receive that award this year. The manager of the team has arranged for a triangular meet with Tech and West Virginia again on the 25th of November. He is also doing his best to arrange a home meet on the earliest possible date.

The men, under the direction of Homer Bliss are running daily in preparation for the coming contest.

PRE-SEASON TRAINING FOR BASKET BALL OPENS

Under the able direction of Coach Hammett and "Rink" Kofford, '23, a promising squad of 36 men are working out in pre-season basket-ball practice. Although the weather is a bit warm yet, the men are being put through a strenuous drill in shooting, dribbling, whirling and all the tricks of "inside basket-ball." This work gives the men a chance to show their calibre, and at the same time to learn the game from every angle.

Three letter men, Wise, Kofford and Capt. Miller have returned to college, while several good second string men including Judd, Braun, Brownell, Cole, Devney and Bates have put in their appearance. There are, however, several freshmen who show promise, and varsity berths will no doubt be hotly contested.

Regular pre-season workouts will be held three days a week until Thanksgiving. At that time the squad will be cut to fifteen or twenty men, and the real grind for the varsity will begin.

LITERARY MONTHLY REVIEW

lightful reminiscences of Allegheny of yesteryear. The Lit is fortunate in having Miss Tarbell as one of its contributors.

In conjunction with Miss Tarbell's article, Miss Tobin, '23 has quite appropriately given us a part biography and character sketch of "one of the twelve greatest women living in the United States."

There is certainly something exhilarating in the "Barber of Meadville," written by Bernard Scrawll, and edited by Jerome C. Hixson. The editor's note is especially witty.

"Further Adventures of Alice," is the title given to a character and to a setting which may easily be ours. At any rate, we can readily sympathize with poor tired Alice, and we think she should keep more regular hours. "Bim" is placed in a somewhat stern and unrelenting position, but we are sure Alice does not think of him thusly when she is more fully awake. "Patsy Laird" is a clever "homme de plume," but we hope the coming installment of this continued story will bear a name more familiar.

Miss Bowman has written another very interesting story in her "What the Vintners Buy." Not only is there fine technique in this work, but the story itself can be enjoyed by the most critical reader. It is possible that most Alleghenians prefer a short story which they can hastily read before delving into the complexities of psychological reflexes?

We take our bowl of corn flakes and cup of coffee more kindly since reading "The Ideal Breakfast." Perhaps we are fortunate at that.

"Campus Chatter" could be a clever department, and we are optimistic enough to believe it will be better after it has received its initiation.

We welcome "Book Reviews." Its mission is to give busy Allegheny students at least a browsing acquaintance with a few of the latest books. We hope that "short and snappy" will be the key words of these reviews.

"Tom Finney's Goat" is at least worthy of an author's name. Anonymous articles usually go into the editor's waste basket. This one does not deserve such an end.

"Success" expresses a noble sentiment, a sentiment which will appeal strongly to us when things go wrong. We regret that the absence of Miss Halderman will mean no more contributions from her pen.

The latter part of the Lit resembles a theatre programme with its many conspicuous advertisements. Perhaps finances make the conglomeration necessary, but we cannot say that their abundance adds to the artistic appeal of the publication.

Y. M. C. A. HOLDS STAG PARTY

Between two and three hundred men of the college were present at the Y. M. C. A. stag party held in the gym on Friday, September 29. The first get-together of the year was a decided success, all classes, clubs and fraternities being represented.

Brief addresses of welcome were made by C. T. Boynton, president of the Y. M. C. A., and Dr. Henke of the advisory board, who urged all the freshmen to take advantage of the good fellowship offered by the Association.

College songs and yells led by Hafer, took up the remainder of the evening. It goes without saying that a keg of cider and a couple of bags of peanuts were not the least of the able features which added to the success of the Y. M. C. A. stag party.

around work. The sensational performance of Miller stamps him as one of the best open field runners ever seen on Montgomery Field. Dahl was also a very dependable ground gainer; "Hud" Wills barked out the signals and contributed otherwise to the large score which is the greatest total amassed by an Allegheny team for some years.

FAMOUS ARTISTS APPEAR

comes to Allegheny as one of the notable attractions on the course and has made his mark not only in opera but in concert and oratorio. Many tributes upon his fine ability as a recital singer have been written by the country's most able critics, and it is safe to say that the American baritone stands at the head of America's male singers. The thousands on two continents who have been impressed by the singing of Mr. Whitehill are probably unaware of the fact that the now famous baritone used to "punch cattle" on the plains of Iowa. Clarence Whitehill is a big man, six feet tall, and at first glance one knows that he is an athlete and used to the open air. His cowboy days ended when he was eighteen and at that stage of his career he seriously thought of joining the ranks of professional baseball. Altogether he is a typical American sport enthusiast; he is a good boxer, a fine swimmer and plays a capital game of golf.

On Friday, November 24, Mme. Schumann-Heink, the world's greatest contralto, who is known in every American home, will present the second number of the season. Mme. Schumann-Heink is so well known that she needs no introduction to the music lovers, for her voice has been heard by practically everyone. After more than forty years of vocal service, the tones still pour from her incomparable throat in golden streams, a veritable treasure of warmth, color and emotional expression. The beautiful voice with its great organ notes as well as its caressing soft higher tones is still present.

One of the finest ensemble organizations in America in the form of The Letz String Quartette will appear with the new year and as the third number on Thursday, January 18, 1923.

Gutia Casini, a Russian cellist, has been secured for the fourth number to be given on Thursday, February 8, 1923.

The last concert, but by far not the least, will be given by Suzanne Keener, on Friday, March 16, 1923. Little is known of Miss Keener except that she is now coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co. She is engaged to sing during the season of grams with Ruffo, Gigli, DeLuca and 1922-23 in recitals and also on other celebrated artists.

This excellent program of five concerts representing the country's best artists in various fields of music will be enjoyed by the students of the college this fall and winter.

PHI BETA KAPPA FOR GETTYSBURG

Charter Granted at Recent Convention of National Council.

On September 12th at the triennial convention of the national council of Phi Beta Kappa, a charter was granted for a chapter at Gettysburg College. Dr. Granville met with the convention, which was held in Cleveland, and urged the establishment of a chapter at Gettysburg.

Since the organization of Phi Beta Kappa at William and Mary College in 1776, ninety-nine chapters have been established. Six charters were granted this year. Gettysburg being the only eastern college to receive the honor. Gettysburg is one of the eight institutions in Pennsylvania which have succeeded in securing Phi Beta Kappa charters, and is the only Lutheran college in the United States which will have "Phi Beta" men on the campus.
