M.U.C. Asks Open Houses For Sundays

Afternoon Dating In Greek Houses Urged By Group

A petition asking fraternity open-houses each Sunday afternoon and evening has been drawn up this week and circulated on the campus by the Men's Undergraduate council, under the leadership of Dale Byers, '42.

Petitions were presented to each fraternity on the campus early in the week, and are due to be submitted to the faculty sometime today.

The petition provides that fraternities be permitted to hold open-houses each Sunday from 12:30 p. m. till 10:30 p. m. The fraternities agree that only the social rooms on the first floor will be used and that all social amenities will be observed.

In commenting on the proposed change, Byers said, "A fraternity house is a college man's home and should, among other things, be used for the entertainment of guests."

Byers continued that certain responsibilities are given to and accepted by the fraternities and there is no reason why this additional responsibility could not be borne by fraternities.

"The obvious impossibility of imposing upon chaperones for this length of time is recognized, and, as we feel we are capable of good conduct, we ask that their official presence not be required," Byers added. He went on to say that this would in no manner interfere with the present system of chaperoning at social affairs.

The petition:

We, the students of Allegheny college, through the Men's Undergraduate council, respectfully submit this following petition:

That fraternities be permitted to hold open house on Sundays from 12:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. The fraternities agree that only the social rooms on the first floor shall be used, and that all social amenities be observed.

We ask that this petition be granted for the following reasons:

1. A fraternity house is a college man's home and should, among other things, be used for the entertainment of guests.
2. Certain definite responsibilities are given to and accepted by fraternities, and there is no reason why this additional re-

Speakers Begin Year

Programs Feature Defense Topics

Beginning its fifth year of service to the community, the college Speakers' Bureau will continue with debates and individual speakers' topics, arranged to fill programs for clubs and other groups in the contributing area of the college.

The bureau's brochure lists three debate subjects and five individual speaking programs for use by these organizations. As in the past, the bureau offers to send special speakers to discuss requested topics, although these topics may not be part of the regular programs.

The debates are concerned with matters closely connected with national defense; one, treating strikes; another, the suppression of civil liberties in time of crisis; and another, the sending of an American expeditionary force outside the western hemisphere.

Individual speakers and topics are:

Marian Mumford, whose discussion is entitled "After the War, what?"

Verla McDuffy, again presenting her readings of Negro poetry.

Janet Anne Smith, who presents a program of humorous readings.

Esther Lee, who talks "Across the Good-Neighbor Fence."

Eleanor Kay Hutchison, who reads various pieces.

Not including intercollegiate debates, the bureau has presented 210 programs before a total audience of 85,000 during the last four years.

The service has been called one of the best among colleges throughout the country.

Singers Start Year's Schedule This Month

Presentation of a concert this Sunday afternoon at 5:00 p. m., in the Epworth Methodist church of Jamestown, N. Y., and the annual Christmas concert, Sunday, December 14, are features of the Singers' program this month.

The Jamestown concert is a part of a program marking the fiftieth anniversary of the Epworth church.

Two presentations of the Christmas concert will be given in the chapel at 4:30 for faculty members and town people, and at 7:30 for Allegheny students.

Tickets at $.50 for the afternoon concert may be obtained from Mr. Edward Johe, Mr. Morten J. Luvaas, from Miss Marjorie Sheasley's office in Bentley, and from Wirt's Drug stores.

The chapel will be lighted by candles and the Cwens will be the ushers for the evening presentation.

Astronomer Speaks Here Tomorrow

Phi Beta Kappa Sponsors Harvard Professor's Address

Harlow Shapley, one of the world's famous astronomers, will discuss "Stars and Galaxies" before a student audience tomorrow evening in the Playshop at 8:00 p. m. Shapley is brought to the campus by the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity.

Shapley, director of the Harvard observatory and former head of the Mount Wilson observatory, is one of the best-known authorities in the field, both here and abroad.

Author of four volumes on the heavens, Shapley is the holder of many medals from scientific societies for distinguished work. He is a member of many astronomical groups and has been often lauded for his discoveries.

This year, for the first time, the Phi Beta Kappa address is being held in mid-year, it being believed that a larger audience of students would be present if the lecture were brought forward from its previous commencement position.

The address will follow the annual initiation dinner of the fraternity at which time newly-elected members Charlotte Miller, Jane Lewis, Virginia Kirk and Marian Mumford will be admitted to the society.

The dinner will be held in Cochran hall at 6:00 p. m., with Chapter President Wilbur Ufford presiding.

No activities cards will be needed for admission to the lecture.

14 Students Named For 'Who's Who'

Publication Carries Biographies From Country's Students

Biographies of fourteen students of the college will appear in the 1941-42 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, according to a release from that publication received recently.

The publication, edited independently and through the cooperation of American colleges and universities, attempts to list outstanding leaders on the various campuses throughout the country.

The students selected are:

Helen L. Shaffer, '42, Kappa Alpha Theta, Outing club, Chemii, Women's Athletic board, chemistry assistantship.

Dale R. Byers, '42, president of M. U. C., Alpha Chi Rho, Outing club, A. U. C., Singers.

W. Robert Brossman, '42, Phi Delta Theta, editor of Campus, A. U. C., Phi Sigma Iota.

Arthur J. Diskin, '42, Delta Tau Delta, Philo-Franklin union, Debate.

P. Ralph Marasco, '42, Delta Tau Delta, A. U. C., president of Block A, captain of football team.

Nancy L. Martin, '42, Kappa Alpha Theta, A. U. C., Philo-Franklin union, Senior Court.

Robert B. Miller, '42, Phi Gamma Delta, president of A.U.C., basketball manager.

Robert J. Welday, '42, Phi Delta Theta, President of senior class, A. U. C., Singers, Soccer.

Wilmah L. Beck, '43, Kappa Kappa Gamma, A. U. C., Women's Senate.

Edward F. Conlin, '43, Phi Kappa Psi, football, Phi Beta Phi.

Ruth E. Gelbach, '43, Kappa Kappa Gamma, secretary of junior class, Outing club.

Paul Edward Jones, '43, Phi Delta Theta, editor of Kaldron.

Helen L. McClester, '43, Kappa Alpha Theta, Women's Senate, Kappa Delta Epsilon, Outing club, Kaldron.

"Lower Draft Age" Town Meeting Topic

Student request brings the controversial subject "Shall We Lower the Draft Age to 18?" to Allegheny's Town hall this Thursday. The national Town hall broadcast will be ignored for the evening in favor of this student preference, Mr. DeLisle Crawford said.

President Tolley will represent the college administration and Dean Emeritus C. F. Ross, as a member of the local draft board, will represent the federal government. Student member of the panel is Campus editor, Robert Brossman, '42.

The meeting will be in room 15 of Arter hall, at 9 o'clock, directly following the religious program in the playshop.

Young Pianist Appears Here

Nineteen-year-old Leo Smit Will Present Recital in Chapel Tuesday Under Auspices of Civic Music

Leo Smit, nineteen-year-old pianist, whose career has been aided by the great Jose Iturbi and Josef Hofmann, and who already occupies a brilliant place among the younger virtuosi, will come here for a recital on Tuesday at 11:55 a. m., in Ford chapel, under auspices of the Meadville Civic Music Association.

Young Artist

Twenty year old Leo Smit, guest recitalist Tuesday noon in Ford chapel.

The recital, exclusively for students, will take place during the regular chapel period with lunch being set back to 12:45. Smit will also appear in concert the previous evening, but students will be accomodated only after members of the association have been seated. Students should not appear before 8:15 as they will not be admitted before that time.

Iturbi personally assisted in launching young Smit on his career at Carnegie Hall February 17, 1939. Five years prior to that Iturbi had heard him play and offered to become his teacher. Smit is the great pianist's first and only pupil.

Born in Philadelphia, Leo Smit began the study of music with his father, who at that time, was a violinist in the Philadelphia Orchestra and who now plays under Toscanini with the NBC Symphony Orchestra. At nine, the boy played for Josef Hofmann, who was so impressed that he immediately arranged for a two-year scholarship at the Curtis institute. Since then Iturbi has taught and guided him.

When Smit made his Carnegie hall debut in 1938 the New York Post reported: "It was an auspicious debut, for it brought to the attention of the public a pianist of the virtuoso type. The young man was authoritative, even brilliant—working up to artistic engrossing heights. His tone had nobility and depth."

Said the New York Times: "Formidable is the word for the audience that filled Carnegie hall last night. Not often does an unheralded young pianist play his first New York recital before such a turnout. They were amply rewarded. For Mr. Smit was a pianist, like his audience, formidable. He played with an assurance that bespoke an affinity for the piano."

Play Ends A.C.C. Week

Playshop, Singers Stage Program

Observance of Religious Emphasis Week will close tonight with the presentation of a one-act play, "Dust of the Road," sponsored jointly by the Playshop and the Singers. The play, which will begin at 8:15, will be free to college students, faculty members and townspeople.

Tonight's performance terminates a week-long program under the guidance of the Allegheny Christian Council of talks and discussions led by Dr. Henry H. Crane, prominent Methodist minister from Detroit, Michigan.

The jointly sponsored program tonight will be the first such combination of the talents of the Singers and Playshop groups ever attempted at Allegheny, and should increase the effectiveness of the presentation. Under the supervision of John W. Hulburt of the Drama

Outing Club Re-organizes

Set-up Changed for Group Efficiency

The Allegheny Outing club announces extensive changes in its organization structure in order to improve the efficiency of the group, as the result of special committee activity and a meeting of the entire club since Thanksgiving vacation.

Chief change was the elimination of the old executive committee, consisting of two representatives from each class, in addition to the president, secretary, and treasurer of the club. Replacing the old committee is a new executive council, composed of the seven committee chairmen, in addition to the president and treasurer. The secretary of the club holds a joint position as chairman of the special trips committee and so is represented in the council.

Committees were consolidated and dissolved in an attempt to "streamline" the organization. The new committees and newly elected chairmen are as follows: Heelers, Robert MacPherson, '43; transportation, John Foster, '43; Week-end, Virginia Kiser, '42, and Marjorie Jenkins, '44; maintenance, John Petre, '43; Winter sports, Lawrence McCluskey, '43; special trips, Ruth Godley, '42, and social committee, Robert Spears, '42.

Alfred Werner of the physical education department, was elected to serve as faculty advisor to the group.

Members should inform Bruce Campbell, '42, president of the Outing club, as to the committee on which they wish to serve.

Construction of the shelter for the ski run is scheduled to begin this Saturday and members of the club are urged to spend the day at Bousson in order that a good start may be made.

STILL CHAMPION

Kalfayan Shows Heart, Outruns Two Blondes

A fleet-footed descendant of Paavo Nurmi hooked up in an epic race recently with two blondes, giving the week's news an unusually dramatic aspect.

Dwarfing developments in the African war theatre and the increasing German threat on Moscow was the thrilling story of the return to the track wars of Armen Kalfayan to accept and beat down a determined challenge by two young sprinters.

Kalfayan, well-known in Europe as a champion fifteen-yard sprinter, and highly touted in Arter hall as the greatest runner Meadow street has ever produced, came out of retirement for one last race to indicate to skeptics that the years had not taken their toll and that over a short distance he could still keep up with the best of them.

The challengers, well-known sprinters in their own right, were the famous Gold Dust sprint pair, B. B. Hansen and Mildred Ludwig, who, convinced of their ability, offered to meet the incumbent champion for the romance language departmental trophy.

The champion, by profession a teacher of French who now serves as chairman of the department of humanities, accepted with alacrity and the fleet trio junketed to Montgomery field for the competition.

After having settled a few technicalities about distance and handicaps, the athletes were ready. They were off as Kalfayan's cigarette hit the ground with a bang.

As they set out toward the east goal posts they were bunched, and for a time it looked as if the master had met his match. They thundered over the turf.

His pride wounded at seeing himself hard-pressed, Paavo Kalfayan martialed his fighting heart and lagging legs and barely nosed over the line a winner. Ludwig and Hansen followed in that order, the latter a rather poor third.

And thus a great runner, one who was thought to have lost his taste for competition along with his wind, came out of retirement to show youth that age and a fighting heart are formidable opponents.

Interviewed in his office where he sat limp in a chair as satellites fanned his face with a towel, the old champion was a happy man.

"I beat them by ten feet," he said smiling. "I've still got a few races left in my system, haven't I?" He reached for a cigarette.

"Don't Push Your Luck"

ADEQUATE medical protection for women students in the dormitories was the subject of a petition circulated during the past week. It might also have been a petition for more adequate protection for the men. At any rate, the fact is now brought into the open that college medical supervision of students is lax enough to make for a hazardous situation.

At present the personnel of the health department is inadequate, to say the least.

The women have a resident nurse, qualified only to minister to minor ailments. The men, and women too, are permitted to visit the college physician daily during the briet hour he spends on the campus. That is all—and it is not enough.

In case of serious illness the women are at the mercy of the nurse, whose word is law. They have a difficult time gaining admittance to the hospital without her sanction. The men have no one close at hand and must either send for a physician or trust to the inexperienced judgment of the all-knowing pre-medical students whose information is gratis and often accepted.

A case in point illustrates the manner in which amateur diagnosis might possibly have led to serious results. Two years ago a student was afflicted with severe stomach pains. Having no doctor handy, he turned to a pre-medical student with whom he roomed. The latter passed his hands quickly over the victim's abdomen and diagnosed the complaint as a simple stomach ache. The student went back to bed, reassured. Later in the evening he walked down town to a doctor. Ten minutes later he was in the hospital and in another ten minutes he was on the operating table for a timely appendectomy. Blind luck prevented a calamity.

Another illustration serves to further point up the inadequacy of the medical protection. A freshman football player, three years ago, was allowed to lie painfully injured for three hours while the college physician was being located.

The incident which served as impetus for the women's petition is another case in point. A girl resident of a college dormitory was told to go to bed when she appeared for treatment for a painfully injured foot.

Such a condition is a serious menace to the health of students, who, not having much money, will hesitate to summon a physician. They will certainly not return for similar unsympathetic treatment from the nurse. With amateur diagnosis and treatment, accidents are bound to occur.

Other colleges of similar size maintain full-time physicians whose duties are simply to care for the health of the students. They are on call at all hours. Contrast that with the situation here in which a sick student takes his chances on seeing the "college physician" during his short daily stay on the campus.

There is merit in the old admonition that you musn't "push your luck." Luck has been on the right side so far, but there is no indication it will continue so. We have men who work at all hours to keep the college and grounds in good shape, but relatively little attention is paid to care of the students. All too seldom are students concerned with their health. When they are, they should be helped.

A Step in the Right Direction

WE could call the Men's Undergraduate council's petition asking for Sunday afternoon dating in fraternity houses a step in the right direction. With the advance toward progressive education, recognizing maturity of students, some of the taboos that hang on with the years should be dropped.

Perhaps the petition will be rejected, but it is certain that the permission asked will be granted in the none too distant future. The fraternity is the man's home. He should be allowed to entertain at home—with or without chaperon.

Pilot Course Needs Score

Attempt to Fill Local Quota Now

Ten students will be accepted for the primary flight training and ten others will be given the opportunity to take the advanced flying course with the beginning of the second semester, according to announcement made yesterday by Dale Thomas, local administrator for the national civilian pilot training authority.

The primary course will consist of 72 class hours of ground school instruction with 35-50 hours of flight training, and the advanced course will entail 108 hours of class work and 40-50 hours of flying.

Upon completion of the primary course, students will be given private pilots' licenses; while with the completion of the advanced course, the pilot will be given an advanced rating.

According to Thomas, an abundance of well-paid flight instruction jobs exists for students who complete the two courses.

Costs will be $29.20 and $31.60 for the respective courses, covering physical examination and insurance, in addition to the college fee.

In an effort to fill the local quota before the Christmas vacation, Thomas has called a meeting of all interested students for Tuesday evening at 7:00 o'clock in Alden room 17.

The primary course, now in its third year here, has graduated more than 100 students. Forty have been given the advanced training since its beginning last year.

Letters . . .

November 27, 1941.

Editor of the Campus:

On November 12 at eight o'clock in the evening, Mr. James Young gave a lecture in chapel. Mr. Young is a newspaper man long resident in Japan and, therefore, able to give insights into the Far Eastern situation based on long intimacy with it. The Far Eastern situation is of great immediate importance to our country.

Mr. Young's address was very effectively publicized by the Campus and also was announced in chapel on the day it occurred. It cost the Allegheny undergraduates $150 to bring him here.

Since the chapel will not seat all the undergraduate body at best, and since the speaker was brought here at the expense of the students, it was thought right to reserve the entire chapel for them. Consequently, the event was given no previous publicity in the town papers, and our friends in town were not invited to attend.

Approximately 200 Allegheny undergraduates appeared for the talk. The chapel could have been filled with townspeople.

If a more elaborate ballyhoo of these events is necessary in order to arouse student interest, something can probably be done about it. If, on the other hand, student interest is really no greater than is indicated by the size of the audience on November 12, it will be unfortunate to continue to exclude townspeople who would be glad to come.

The committee would appreciate student comment on this matter.

J. E. CAVELTI.

There will be a meeting of all students who belong to the Episcopal church, Sunday, December 7th, at 8:00 p. m., in the parish house, Walnut street entrance.

The Social Whirl

by Peggy Laley

This week's social spotlight is focused on fall formals with their festive air and on initiations for fraternity women. Fifty-eight college women became active members of the various social groups during the last three weeks. The fall formal season, which opened last Friday night, reaches its height this week-end when five formals are scheduled.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA's fall formal last Friday was backgrounded by candle light and pine decoration at the Phi Delta Theta house. The Music Makers played and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Werner were chaperones for the dance. Jean Swan was in charge of decorating.

Recently initiated Thetas are Ellen Boyd, Betty Bugbee, Caroline Dawson, Ruth Hammon, Elizabeth Hart, Peggy Kinney, Ann Rinehart, Unis Stewart, Betsy Strouse, Ann Thoburn and Mary Ann Whitehouse.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA's new members after last Monday night's initiation services include Virginia Bennett, Joan Bliss, Marilyn Braniger, Esther Campbell, Caroline Emerson, Eleanor Evans, Marjorie Hickey, Nancy Konstanzer, Laura Robinett, Charlotte Snell, Nancy Sutton and De Lana Taft.

Alumni who were present for the initiation were Kay Drury, Helen Bennett, Florence Sells, Georgia Seitz, Mrs. Ralph Miller, Mrs. J. Blair Sutton and Mrs. Raymond D. Evans.

The Kappa's have started a knitting project for British war relief.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA members will be entertained by Miss Gertrude Dee Thomas, their alumni advisor, at a tea at her home this Saturday afternoon from three until five.

Alpha Chi initiates are Mary Elise Brownell, Jean De Haven, Mary Ellen Fuller, Jane Heibel, Mary Helene Hillstrom, Dedra Marshall, Jean Merrill and Jean Nelson.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA last Friday night initiated Emily Jane Gould, Marjorie Jenkins, Bertha Jane Keller, Caroline Klein, Betty Jane Lamb, Barbara Lumpkin, Alice Kay Matthews, Rose Miller, Fern Newton, Dorothy Schuman and Mildred Wright.

The initiates transformed the Alpha Gam rooms into a camp for the Bohemian party they gave for their big sisters last Sunday evening.

ALPHA XI DELTA's initiation banquet next Monday evening will honor Joan Breakstone, Mary Edith DeArment, Jean Flanagan, Esther Lee, Jane Sinclair, Doris Traub and Bettymae McComb, who were initiated November 14.

The Alpha Xi's used a Christmas theme—red candles with green pine to decorate the Alpha Chi Rho house for their fall formal. Music was by Frank Corby's orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cares chaperoned and Miss Laila Skinner was invited as a guest.

THETA UPSILON had Herbie Johnson's orchestra play for its fall formal, held at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house last Friday. Their sophomore class used candles and rainbows to decorate the house. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Seely and Mr. John Hulburt chaperoned.

Last Thursday evening, the T.U.'s held initiation for Dorothy Connors, Esther Ebenhoe and Elizabeth Fleming, all of '43, and for sophomores Marjorie Brown, Sally Eggeman, Arlene Fegley, Jeanette Hoskinson, Betsy Kinney, Nancy Lawrence, Mary Pierce and Dorothy Pomel.

Jean Chamberlain, Joyce Schaftmeister and Patty Ann Green were in charge of serving supper in the rooms after initiation.

PHI KAPPA PSI's fall formal is scheduled for Saturday night at Balizet's. The Music Makers will play and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Long and Mr. DeLisle Crawford and Miss Elfrid Ives have been asked to chaperone. Mr. Cavelti and his family were guests of the Phi Psis for dinner last Tuesday.

PHI GAMMA DELTA is having its fall formal, with music by Buddy Lee and his orchestra in Cochran this Saturday. A. E. D. Ogilvie will chaperone.

Guests at the Phi Gam house last week-end were James Nichols, '39, Robert Shane, '40, and Fred Lichtenfels, '40.

DELTA TAU DELTA's pledge dance last Saturday night was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Lee McClean and Mr. and Mrs. John Cavelti.

PHI DELTA THETA is having tis Christmas dance this Saturday night, to be followed by Sunday dinner. Wick Macky's orchestra will play for the dance and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cares are going to chaperone.

Last evening the Sigs were guests of the Phi Delts for a smoker. Walter Klingensmith and Ray Petererson were in charge of arrangements.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON is having Jack Kennedy's orchestra play for its fall formal tomorrow night. Mr. and Mrs. Hurst Anderson will chaperone and the guests invited are Dean and Mrs. John Shultz and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Murray.

ALPHA CHI RHO held a radio party last Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Cares and Mr. and Mrs. Werner were chaperones. Mr. Cares was a dinner guest of the Chi Rho's last Thursday and Mr. Ogilvie will be their guest this evening.

BETA KAPPA's second annual "Orchid Ball," their fall formal at which each girl is given an orchid, is scheduled for tomorrow night at their house. The Music Makers will play for the dance which is to be chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Irvin and Mr. Crawford and Miss Blair Hansen.

Miss Alice Kennedy was chaperone at a radio party planned by the B.K. pledges last Saturday. Charles Bayless and James Olds, both ex '43, were week-end guests.

38 Freshmen Announced On Proctor's List

Thirty-eight freshman men have been named to the first proctors' list as the result of the mid-semester report of grades, according to Philip M. Benjamin, chief proctor. To be eligible for the list, a freshman must have no delinquent grades.

The freshmen are:

Murray Anderson, Richard Anderson, Donald Bare, Richard Benson, Gilbert Black, August Blomquist, James Brooks, James Brown, Forman Bullock, Alfred Cohen, Harry Conroy, Emmett Corrigan, Robert Craig, Douglas Dunbar.

Harry Falck, William Feisley, Donald Forbeck, Stanford Foultz, Robert Frey, Charles Gibbs, Wilbur Hansen, Chester Hardenburg, John Houserman, Bertram Kaufman, Lee Kerstein, Clark Knierman.

Freshmen Start Voice Recordings

Freshmen recordings for Speech 1 will be made beginning today and extending through Wednesday, December 18.

The recording will be done in rooms 14 and 15 of Arter hall, between 4:00 and 5:30 p. m., of the days scheduled. All students must get their records at the bookstore before their recording date. A fine of one dollar will be levied on any student who fails to appear at the time set for his recording.

The recording schedule is as follows:

Sec.	Instructor	Recording Date
1.	Crawford	Thurs., Dec. 4
2.	Lavely	Fri., Dec. 5
3.	Irvin	Mon., Dec. 8
4.	Anderson	Tues., Dec. 9
5.	Irvin	Wed., Dec. 10
6.	Murray	Thurs., Dec. 11
7.	Irvin	Fri., Dec. 12
8.	Crawford	Mon., Dec. 15

Debaters Journey To Westminster

Four Allegheny debaters will go to Westminster college at New Wilmington Saturday to participate in the Westminster tournament. Approximately 20 schools will be represented at this meet.

The question: Resolved that the United States Should Regulate All Labor Unions will be upheld in both the affirmative and the negative by the two teams being sent from Allegheny. Esther Lee, '44, and Arthur Diskin, '42, comprise the affirmative viewpoint and Marion Mumford, '42, and Haskel Hoffenberg, '44, the negative side.

This debate marks Allegheny's first entrance into this particular tournament and is the first tournament representative in 14 years. For the past five years there have been no decision debates excepting in 1938 when the Juniata men debated the Allegheny women on the subject of the National Labor Relations board. Allegheny women won at this time by a two to one decision.

Saturday's four rounds of debating will be a pre-season debate enabling Allegheny debaters to gather considerable material on the question of labor union regulation. The debate will begin at 1 p. m.

GATOR SPORTS

DECEMBER 4, 1941 THE CAMPUS OF ALLEGHENY COLLEGE PAGE THREE

Montgomery Musings

by JIM JENKINS

VERSATILE COACH:

The best basketball player at Allegheny—that's the distinction we would give to Al Werner, Gator grid mentor. Al, former Springfield College cager, is the star of the Werner, White, Gratz, Dennison, Pardee combination which scrimmages the varsity several times a week.

THE "DREAM" TEAM:

Roddy Flint reports that his "dream" team, although hard hit by the loss of Max Westerman, will be in there driving, twisting, turning, etc., during the last two minutes of every game. The theme song this year will be "The Dream Team, the Dream Team," to the tune of that Sunday School ballad, "A Sunbeam, a Sunbeam." Captain Flint is also planning a few antics to entertain the crowd between halves.

New Faces on the basketball scene: Bill Present—

Bill comes from Jamestown, New York, where he completed two years' varsity service. An exponent of the hook shot, lanky Bill scored 18 points in his first high school start.

Bob Todd—

Bob played his pre-collegiate ball at Taylor-Allerdice High School of Pittsburgh. He is 6 feet 2 inches and quite naturally a center.

Walt Stanton—

A new face on the varsity squad is that of Walt Stanton. "Frewsburg" was the mainstay of the Beta Kappa team last year. His advancement to the varsity causes his intramural opponents to heave a sigh of relief.

Speaking of intramural basketball, we'll stick out our neck right now and pick the Phi Psi's to cop the pennant. Three members of last year's freshman squad, Weller, Newson and Cramer, plus several capable freshmen, should give the Phi Psi's a distinct advantage.

INTRAMURAL VOLLEYBALL:

Here are the results of the first intramural volleyball games.

League A:—
SAE crushed DTD, 15-11, 15-5.
Phi Psi defeated DTD, 15-12, 15-11.

League B:—
Phi Gamma Delta defeated BK, 15-2, 14-16, 15-6.
Phi Delta Theta swamped the Alden Men, 15-8, 15-6.
BK defeated Phi Delta Theta, 16-14-, 13-15, 15-10.

Send 'Em In!

Requests for dates for group and fraternity functions must be in the A. U. C. mailbox in Cochran hall by tomorrow afternoon.

Priorities on dates will be given to groups whose replies are sent in on time.

Swimmers Train For First Meet

Detwiler Captains Large Squad of Returning Mermen

Allegheny's varsity tankmen swung into their fourth week of practices on Monday in an effort to reach early season form before their first meet with Fenn on January 10. The Clevelanders will open the Gator's season in the Montgomery pool just five days after the holiday vacation.

Practices have been held daily at 4:00-5:30 p. m., and have been largely devoted thus far to conditioning activities. Coach Werner has also worked with the tankers in ironing out strokes and in improving form in these early workouts.

Since a relatively long training period is required by the sport the mermen still have a long way to go before they will be ready for their initial encounter. Coach Werner indicated that he planned to rehearse his squad as much as possible in the few weeks ahead.

This year's squad is led by Captain Willard "Moe" Detwiler, senior and holder of the college backstroke record. Other members of the squad include Seniors Fauver, Marcy, King and Arentzen; Juniors Petre and Leuthner; and Sophomores Newton, Pulakos, Robertson, Present, Hooper, Ash, Rice, Ferguson and Luse. Gardner and Petroni are managers.

Last year's varsity squad won two, both from Edinboro, and lost six, once to Buffalo State, Slippery Rock, Westminster, Oberlin, and twice to Grove City. The sophomores, who are filling the gaps left by last year's graduates, scored one victory, over Slippery Rock, and dropped two contests, to Oberlin and Edinboro, as last year's frosh team.

This year's swimming schedules are:

Varsity.

Jan 10—Fenn at Meadville.
Jan. 14—Edinboro at Meadville.
Jan. 17—Slippery Rock at Slippery Rock.
Feb. 11—Westminster at Meadville.
Feb. 14—Edinboro at Edinboro.
Feb. 18—Grove City at Meadville.
Feb. 21—Carnegie Tech at Meadville.
Feb. 25—Grove City at Grove City.
Feb. 28—Indiana State Teachers College at Meadville.

Freshmen.

Feb. 10—Fenn (Medley relay and 400-yard relay.)
Feb. 17—Slippery Rock at Slippery Rock.
Feb. 20 — Oberlin (telegraphic meet.)
(Two or three other February meets pending.)

Klein, Pierce To Captain Soccer, Grid Teams in 1942

Allegheny's 1941 soccer and football teams each met for the last time last week for the purpose of electing captains for the 1942 season.

Bill Pierce, '43, gridiron stand-out, was named to pilot Coach Werner's football forces next year, while Walter Klein, '43, high-scoring center of Coach Way's soccer team won out in the balloting for captain of the 1942 booters.

Pierce rounded out three years of freshman and varsity football experience this season, holding down the tailback position in the Gator backfield and proving himself a stalwart on both the offense and defense.

Pierce succeeds Ralph Marasco in the captaincy of the gridders, Marasco having played his last game here a few weeks ago as a senior against Kenyon.

The Gators' new field general has been known as a hard, highly-competitive, team-minded player in all his gridiron showings to date. A hard worker, a sixty minute man, and far from the "temperamental sort," Pierce is definitely the "football player's player."

Walter Klein, elected to captain next year's soccer team, became the star of the booters overnight this season when he hung up a couple of all-time scoring records. Against Alliance College early in November, Klein netted five goals, a phenomenal total for one player in one soccer game. Over the entire season he scored a total of eight which also goes down in the records as the best any individual has done since soccer was instituted at Allegheny in 1934.

Besides being a high scorer, Klein has proved himself a worthy team player during the past season. Leader of the team's offense from his center position, he has been aggressive enough and steady enough under the toughest going to prove a spark plug in his own team's organization and a thorn in the side of the opposition.

In addition, like Pierce, Klein possesses those qualities of congeniality and tact which should make him a good team captain.

department, the play will be enacted by three members of the student body: Stanley Johnson, '43, Esther Ebenhoe, '43, and Walter Morris, '42. James Aiken, '42, will direct the play.

The Singers will present three numbers, two preceding and one following the play. Numbers included are "Sing Unto Him," Luvaas, "O Savior Throw the Heavens Wide," Brahms, and "O Sacred Head Now Wounded," Hassler.

Dorothy Ketcham, '43, president of the council, made the arrangements for Religious Emphasis Week. Assisting her in the planning are Louise Schweitzer, '45, Henry Leitzel, '42, Jane Austin, '43, Robert Leuthner, '43, Betty Bugbee, '44, and Harold Miller, '44.

Cagers Ready For Season's Opener

New Coach, 'Bunk' McGeever, Appears Optimistic for Good Year With Return of Six Former Lettermen

With the opening game of Allegheny's basketball season only eight days away, the Gator courtmen are rapidly rounding into playing form under their new coach, William "Bunk" McGeever, former Duquesne All-American star.

New Coach

Bunk McGeever, new Gator floor coach, whose squad is drilling hard for the season opener eight days away.

Allegheny's prospects appear very favorable, as six of last year's lettermen, Dick Nichols, Nova MacMillan, "Hank" Frye, Bill Chapman, Frank McKnight and Roger Flint are returning to the court wars. Nichols, MacMillan and Frye were varsity regulars last season and form an experienced nucleus for this year's five.

Besides Frye and McKnight, the only other senior on the squad is "Hank" Leitzel. Other squad members are juniors John Foster, Bill Lavely, Ray Peterson, Walter Stanton, Walter Levinsky, Don Turk; and sophomores Jim Jenkins, George Smith and Charlie Foye.

Coach McGeever has been drilling his charges intensively for the past three weeks in preparation for their first appearance on the home court December 12th against Oberlin university's veteran cagers. The Gators are showing gaining momentum as they are becoming used to their new style of offense known as the "eastern type of offense" or as the "eastern pin wheel" offense.

The defense is progressing, although it is quite difficult to change from the zone defense, which was in use last year, to the man-for-man defense which will be employed freely this season. According to Coach McGeever chances for a successful season appear "very good." McGeever struck an optimistic note when he said, "Regardless of whomever we play, they'll know they've been in a ball game."

The players are confident that they will have a winning combination and are working with a zest towards this goal. Coach McGeever reflected the mutual confidence and cooperation which has been shown between the players and coach when he commented, "I really enjoy working with these boys and feel that the spirit shown thus far warrants a bright outlook for the Gator floormen."

Of the list of opponents on the year's schedule none are new except Carnegie Tech's deflated Plaid which makes its first appearance on Allegheny's card in many years. The schedule, running from December 12th to March 3rd, is as follows:

Dec. 12—Oberlin at Meadville.
Dec. 17—Fenn at Cleveland.
Jan. 9—Thiel at Meadville.
Jan. 13—Grove City at Grove City.
Jan. 16—University of Rochester at Meadville.
Feb. 10—Carnegie Tech at Meadville.
Feb. 14—Grove City at Meadville.
Feb. 17—Thiel at Greenville.
Feb. 21—Hiram at Hiram.
Feb. 24—Alfred at Meadville.
March 3—University of Buffalo at Buffalo.

Have you a "College Special"

For Your Trip Home at Christmas

Even if you don't have a return portion of a College Special Reduced Fare ticket . . . you can go home by train on a definite schedule, safely and economically. Fares are low!

HERE'S HOW YOU, TOO, CAN TRAVEL ON "COLLEGE SPECIAL"

REDUCED ROUND TRIP FARES

Students and teachers travel from and to their homes at great savings on these College Special tickets. To make this saving, all you have to do is purchase one from your hometown railroad ticket agent before returning from the Christmas holidays. The cost is amazingly low—liberal return limits fit your school program—you can make stop-overs, too! There are reduced round trip Pullman rates, also. When Spring holidays come you can use the return coupon to travel home again or use it at close of school.

IMPORTANT—It is expected that on account of a heavy volume of Military furlough travel, as well as civilian holiday traffic, passenger travel during the forthcoming Christmas-New Year's Holiday period will be extremely heavy this year. If it can possibly be arranged for students to leave school December 17th or before and return to school January 7th or later, it is urged they do so. It will also be found easier to make reservations and more comfortable to travel on or before December 17, 1941, and on or after January 7, 1942.

Hallzapoppin

That Phi Gam blasphemous one-o'clock blast last Saturday was justifiable by mathematical logic. One pin hung—one normal detonation, but three pins! Something greater, louder, seemed due, somehow. The Fijis came up to it. So did Meadville cops.

The Cochran girls aren't good sports. Each time the Phi Gams stopped for breath, you could hear snatches of Sig songs quavering over from Cochran and other noises equally ribald to the Phi Gams. Sour grape stuff. And what was "Mike" doing that her name should be called out repeatedly and loudly enough for the Viscose workers to hear?

Putsches and purges are in this week. Among others, we have the Caflisch affair. Seven fine young men are now without roofs (or rooves). And all because the college doesn't provide recreational facilities. Without a swimming pool in Caflisch, what would any ingenious American boy do but dam up part of the building and play his water polo right there?

What appeared to be another Putsch Sunday turned out as nothing. Shortly after eleven a lonely man with head bent in dejection stood waiting at the old Hulings portal. After sometime the door was opened and the man entered. Visible then was a hallway crammed with straight-faced young ladies, all silent as so many little tombs. WHO was this man? WHY were the girls silent? Ah! The man was merely telephone-operator Farkley's spouse. And the silent ladies? The Kappa pledges who, having spent the time previous in individual silence, had now gathered together for one last burst of community silence.

This is a tale of moral degeneration and the awful punishment thereof. Saturday noon Lee Strong and Pulakos set out via thumb for Cleveland and the fleshy delights of Burlesque. They got there in time for the ugly exhibition, saw, then set out to return. The just force of Morality, however, stepped in, cursed the miscreants with Hitchhikers Complaint and at ten-thirty Sunday morning they called from Conneaut, begging for some one to rescue them. At this writing, they are still in bed.

In a discussion of the five-to-eleven jam sessions about Brooks' entrance Nancy Colwell morosely stated that she and Mim Parsons picked out their room last year with great care to insure a box seat at these sessions. Her tragic tone wasn't due to boredom at watching these goings-on but rather she and Mim chose their room right above the old Hulings entrance.

Buzzie Butt of Beebe is very persuasive with her pleasing brogue or dialect or accent, but she couldn't quite convince Dale Byers that he was a junior. For a long time she insisted, and for conclusive proof, she offered to show Dale his name listed, right in print mind you, under "Junior." And she'd show it to him, too—right in last year's College Bulletin.

Vieing for honors with, nay, surpassing Buzzie B. is E. K. Hutchinson. With others in the Playshop, she had just finished reading G. B. Shaw's "Arms and the Man." "Dizzy" Traub, who knows a good thing when she reads it, turned to E. K. starry-eyed in admiration.

"Oh, I like this! It's wonderful!"

E. K., unruffled by admiration, took it in her stride, smiled indulgently and said, "Thank you."

At the Phi Psi dance Bob Pearson was the object of no little admiring observation. He chews gum in rhythm to the band. So interested became terpischore-teachin' Foye that he requested the band to do. a little Samerican tune where they use these here hand-rattle things. The effect was all that might have been wished.

Al Werner is a man to inspire confidence as any of his coachees will admit. But the effect on one freshman was appalling. At the frosh swim try-outs, a lad leaped into the water as directed by Al—flayed the water and air courageously and managed to get out before number three down. It's a bitter pill to take but even if Al says "Jump in and swim," if you've never swum (swam) before you just can't swim.

That wonderful gate of ours is going up mighty, mighty slow. But you know what the Bible says about "The ways of the Lord."

sponsibility could not be borne by fraternities in a manner that would cause no just criticism.

3. Although new facilities have recently been added to the college for dating purposes, it does not, and cannot breed the atmosphere of friendliness that is found in fraternity houses.
4. The obvious impossibility of imposing upon chaperones for this length of time is recognized, and, as we feel we are capable of good conduct, we ask that their official presence not be required. This will in no way interfere with the present system of chaperoning at social affairs when more favorable circumstances permit them to come, and also allow the social groups a better chance to entertain them.
