Five Students To Study In Washington

Speech Contest Won By Chi Rho Representative

Francis Richmond, '47, Alpha Chi Rho fraternity representative, Richard Hughes, '48, Phi Delta Theta contestant, and Donald Horton, '49, representing the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity won first, second and third prizes respectively in the annual men's speaking contest sponsored by the Philo-Franklin Union, on December 12.

Renee Binder, '48, chairman, Miss Mildred Ann Ditty, Maxine Taylor, '48, and Charles Gibbs, '47, chose the questions which the nine members of the speech and debating society were to discuss. The general topic under discussion was "What Should Be America's Foreign Policy"; and the specific questions were chosen by the participants one hour and 15 minutes before the presentation of the first orator.

The winning speech topic delivered by Mr. Richmond was "Do you agree with the United States foreign policy in occupied Germany?" Mr. Hughes' subject was " Do you think the United States should adopt a 'get tough' policy with Russia?" and Mr. Horton answered the question of "What should United States foreign policy be in reference to Palestine?"

Other speakers were: Robert Tidmarsh, '47, Alden Men; William Seidel, '48, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; William Lortz, '49, Delta Tau Delta; Guy Brock, '49, Phi Kappa Psi; and George Hartung, '49, Theta Chi.

Dorothy Hobbs Has Painting In The Youngstown Exhibit

"Christ on the Mount of Olives", an oil painting by Miss Barbara Hobbs, art department, will be included this year in the twelfth annual New Year's Show at the Butler Art Institute, Youngstown, Ohio.

Over 1300 paintings were submitted by residents and former residents of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Virginia, and West Virginia, and of these 208 were accepted for exhibition. The show, which began on January 1, will run until the 26th of this month, and $1045 in cash prizes will be awarded.

Library Displays Works of Noted Artist Paul Cadmus

Paul Cadmus' works are now on exhibit in the library and will continue for most of the rest of this month. The exhibit includes both prints and original drawings, two color sketches for ballet costumes, landscapes, nudes and drawings from the artist's sketchbook. There are two preliminary drawings and the final sketching of "To the Lynching". A print of one of his more famous works, "Shore Leave", is also being shown. The pictures are for sale.

Mr. Cadmus was born in New York City in 1904. His family encouraged him in his art work and he studied in America and Europe. He remained an unknown until in 1934 he painted a picture entitled "The Fleet's In" for the government under the Public Work's of Art project. Under the pressure of the Navy Department's howling disapproval the painting was not hung, thus bringing fame to its artist. Mr. Cadmus' personality is retiring and retrospective, quite in contrast to his paintings which are lusty, and, to some, rather shocking. Some of his famous paintings are the before mentioned "The Fleet's In!", "Coney Island" and "Gilding the Acrobats".

February Class Of Graduates Has Twenty-two Members

Twenty-two students will graduate this February. There are nineteen men and three women. The men are: J. Behrnad Berlowe, Wallace Borger, George Cardozo, Raymond Carper, Donald Hellman, William Hoover, William Karns, John Kuentz, Earl Leland, Wilfred Owen, Gordon Petrie, Robert Plyler, Allan Reece, Donald Reed, Frank Ritenberg, Robert Shryock, Joseph Sorce, Donald Spitzer, George Winkler. The women are: Jean Hollingshead, Georgene Sumpter, Thea White.

Mr. Hung Describes Life In Prison

"Only through obedience to God can great things be accomplished in the future", Professor William Hung, dean of the graduate school at Yenching university, Peiping, China, told Allegheny students in assembly last week.

Professor Hung, in this country to deliver a series of lectures at Harvard university, spoke of his experiences while in a military jail for 141 days. He recollected the intense cold, hunger, and the great number of vermin that swarmed over the men. The men, he explained, were placed in one room and made to sit facing the wall with their noses one and one half feet away from it. No communication whatsoever was permitted. The inmates, he said, invented a code by which they lettered parts of the body and, by scratching them one at a time, they spelled out different words.

This greatly annoyed the captors, Professor Hung continued, and so the professors were placed in solitary confinement. After some time, one of the men tried to end his life, but since this was "not obeying the rules", the Japanese punished him by putting him in a frame in which he could move a muscle.

The noted Chinese educator said, "For a time I thought I would surely lose my mind— then I began praying to God." He received peace of mind and from then on spent his time thinking how industry and education could be improved.

Professor Hung, who was on the campus from Wednesday through Sunday to speak before classes and informal groups, is a graduate of Anglo-Chinese college, Foochow, and Ohio Wesleyan. He was awarded the Stanislaus Julien prize for sinological publication by l'-Academic des Inscriptions et Belles Lettres, Paris, in 1937.

The brilliant speaker, who received graduate degrees from Columbia university and Union Theological Seminary, discussed the general theme "the political and social ideals of a Chinese Christian."

Rooming Rules Are Announced For Women Students

Anne Hartman, '47, president of A.W.S., has announced the following rooming rules which women students must observe during the examination period:

1. Rooming begins the evening before the examination period.
2. All women students must be in their rooms from 7:30 until 10:00 and from 10:30 on.
3. Women students may obtain permission to study in rooms other than their own from the Senate member or quiet proctor in the section. No more than three students may study in a room.
4. Women students may leave the dormitory if they are out by 7:30 and do not return until 10:00. They may come in from 10:00 to 10:30 and at 11:00.
5. All women students may leave the dormitory at 10:00 and stay until 10:30 without signing out.
6. Students may study in the library if they leave the dormitory before 7:30 and return at the designated hours. (rule 4.)
7. Women students not having examinations on the following day may take free 11:00 permissions.
8. No twelve o'clock permissions may be taken. Blanket 12:00's will be given on Saturday night.
9. Regular "minutes late" for the semester may not be used after rooming begins— not even for the free 12 o'clock on Saturday night.
10. The penalty for minutes late during the examination period is twenty-five cents a minute. Any student who feels that her tardiness was unavoidable may submit her case to the Senior court.
11. No telephone calls are put through during quiet hours nor is the dial phone to be used.
12. No hairdryers may be run during quiet hours.
13. Typing must be done away from the living quarters.
14. Radios and phonographs may not be played during quiet hours.
15. Second-semester senior women receive 12 o'clock permissions after their individual examinations are over.

Fraternity Rushing Begins February Third

Official rush week for men students will begin at 9:00 on Monday, February 3, and will end at 12 noon on Saturday, February 8. On Monday and Tuesday evening from 8:00 to 12:00, all of the fraternities will hold open houses, to which the freshmen are invited to come voluntarily. Freshmen are urged to visit any of the fraternity houses they choose on either of these nights. No definite engagements will be made for any time during Monday and Tuesday. Beginning at 9:00 on Monday morning, fraternities may make definite engagements with individual freshmen for any occasion on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. All engagements between fraternity men and freshmen terminate at 12 midnight each night.

A period of silence shall be observed from 12 noon on Saturday, February 8, until 12 noon Sunday, February 9, during which time there shall be no discussion whatsoever between fraternity men and freshmen of fraternity matters.

The method of preferential bidding will be used in extending invitations to the freshmen. The procedure for this is as follows:

(A) Each fraternity will turn in to Mr. Philip Benjamin at the college library between 11:00 and 12:00 on Sunday morning, February 9, a list of men whom they are willing to invite to join their fraternity, arranged in order of their preference. On this sheet the fraternity will state the maximum number of men they wish to invite.

(B) Each freshman eligible to be pledged will hand in to Mr. Benjamin at the college library between 11:00 and 12:00 Sunday, February 9, a list of the fraternities from which he is willing to accept an invitation, in the order of his preference.

(C) The Dean of Men's office will furnish to the fraternities the form on which the list can be submitted, and to the freshmen, cards on which they can indicate their preference.

A student who has passed 12 hours of work and has a semester average of 70 is eligible to be pledged and initiated. A student who is reported as having an incomplete grade in any course, can not be included on the list of men eligible for pledging. A list of the men who are eligible to be pledged will be submitted to the fraternities at the earliest possible moment, not later than 9:00 Monday morning, February 3. Freshmen who are eligible for pledging will be notified by the Dean of Men.

In the finals they defeated Margaret Fatkin and Sam Hazlebart. Ten teams started the tournament.

Six Colleges Will Take Part In Semester's Program

Reed Stormer, '48, Marjorie Fox, '48, Richard Shanor, '48, Alice Koklauner, '49, and Stephen Miller, '48, have been selected to take part in the Washington semester, program of honors study for undergraduate students in the School of Social Sciences and Public Affairs of American university, Washington, D. C.

Twenty-three students from six colleges and universities will begin their studies in the nation's capital on February 7. The institutions cooperating are Oberlin, Allegheny, Hiram, Westminster, Missouri, Wooster, and American. The students will represent eight states.

These students will take together in Washington as residence courses a program of studies planned to give them opportunity for individual growth and insight into the obligations of citizenship.

While the students have large freedom, they carry courses ejuivalent to 15 hours of academic study. Basic in the program is a seminar course known as "the governmental process." Within this seminar under the leadership of Professor Thomas O. Marshall of American university and Professor Whitney E. Stoneburner of the college of Wooster, the students organized into specialized groups directed by experts in the various fields. The divisions of the seminar this year will fall into five general fields, each with subdivisions: utilization of resources, individuals and groups in democracy, procedures of government in action, American problems in world affairs and problems of world organization.

The group selected from Allegheny feel that the work will be of great value to them. Said Reed Stormer, "It's a wonderful opportunity. Something, I think, that is extremely worthwhile for the college to offer." Marjorie Fox and Stephen Miller consider it an excellent experience for the type of work in which they are interested. Alice Koklauner stated that she is particularly thrilled at such a chance since she is only a sophomore. Richard Shanor, who declared the opportunity "a big responsibility", said, "I think it a real privilege to be able to go there for Allegheny College."

The students will live together in the Lou Rooer house on the campus of the American university with their professors. The program is directed by an academic committee composed of representatives of the various colleges, with Professor Paul H. Giddens representing Allegheny.

Civil War Books Are First Topic of New Reading Hours

Plans for resumption of the popular Craig room "reading hours" were announced today by Librarian Philip M. Benjamin.

The series of nine programs will begin February 9 with a discussion of Civil War books by Dr. Robert J. Byers and conclude with a student presentation marking the ninth anniversary of the dedication of the browsing room.

With "reading for recreation" as a theme, the series has drawn its participants from local residents who make a hobby of books, Professor Benjamin said. Among the speakers are a biologist, physician, maintenance engineer, chemist and dentist.

The programs, set in the Craig room, Reis library, are scheduled for Sunday afternoons and begin at 3:00. The schedule is as follows:

February 9— "Four Score and Seven Years Ago", a discussion of Civil War books, by Dr. Robert J. Byers.

February 16— "Arms and the Man", the development of firearms, Mr. Wilber G. Kraft.

February 23 — "Mark Twain, American", Mr. John E. Cavelti.

March 2— "Words and Music", dealing with books about music, Dr. Robert H. Ellsworth.

March 9— "Murder at $2.50 a Crime", the art of the detective story, Miss Helen Rose Adams.

March 16—"Books in the Running Brooks", Mr. Chester A. Darling.

March 23— Stefan Zweig's "The Invisible Collection", a reading, Mrs. F. F. Seely.

March 30 — "Collecting Robert Frost", Mr. Martin K. Howes.

May 4— Craig room anniversary program, Alfred Kern, '49, in charge.

Unit Residents Discuss Homes in Campus Community

"We're very comfortable and are glad it's so convenient to the college. It's a very friendly little community," says Mrs. Hubert Cordier of Number 2, Arter Terrace. Mr. and Mrs. Cordier and their 3 year old son, Gary, are three of the many residents of the college housing project, Arter Terrace.

The project consists of sixteen apartments, each of which has four rooms, kitchen, living-dining room, two bedrooms, and a bath. The walls are plastered and painted cream and the floors are finished, which is much nicer than some of the housing projects from which a few of the residents came. A gas heater furnishes the heat, and each kitchen is equipped with a gas stove, four burner apartment size.

One of the apartment's main assets is their convenience to the college. For many of the couples, this is their first experience at housekeeping since they have been separated by the war and have been living with relatives.

"We're awfully glad to have a place to live. We appreciated Bousson, but it got a little nasty," was the remark of Mr. Robert Johnson, who, with his wife and 4-year-old son, Bobby, were the first to move in.

Two couples were caught in the midst of moving in.

"I think it's going to be wonderful once we get settled", was Mrs. Russell Perry's comment. Mrs. Perry is the secretary at Old Stone Church. Mr. Perry is a pre-ministerial student.

"It certainly is a mess," was Mr. Charles Ritter's comment when asked how he liked his new home.

"If we ever get settled, it will be wonderful," added Mrs. Ritter. The couple, with their dog, one of the many in th eproject, formerly lived in Cozy Court, Meadville housing project. Mr. Ritter, a sophomore, is an Economics major.

"I'm very happy and satisfied with it. It's much nicer than I expected and I'm glad Teddy has playmates," was the enthusiastic reply of Mrs. George Hill, when asked how she liked her new home. Teddy is 3½ years old, and the Hill family was recently increased to four by the addition of George, Jr., age 2½ months. When interviewed, Mrs.

PRACTICAL LEARNING

Five Allegheny students, three boys and two girls, are having an opportunity next semester such as comes to a very few. They have been chosen along with 18 other students from five other colleges to go to the nation's capital for half a year's study.

They will be able to see much of the inner workings of the United States government. They will do independent work in social and political science. They will meet students from other institutions in Ohio, Missouri, and the District of Columbia.

We congratulate these Alleghenians and wish them luck. May their life in Washington be a busy and interesting one.

Interinstitutional programs such as this one seem to be becoming more popular. They are, we believe, a definite addition to the educational program in America. First hand information such as these students will receive is invaluable. We applaud the administration for making such a semester possible.

Newspapers and magazines have contained articles of late also that tell of the widening opportunities for foreign study. Allegheny men students may apply for Rhodes scholarships. Perhaps in the near future more similar scholarships and fellowships will be available— and for women students too.

We feel education is really progressing when such plans as the Washington semester can be instigated.

DIS GUY'S Discourse

What this country needs is a good five cent nickel. We bought firecrackers (in good southern style) and had a shopping boom all our own. This is not to be confused with a serenade.

Before Christmas, prices were so high that the floorwalkers stamped about on stilts. Store managers did not know when to stop raising prices and the customers didn't know when to stop raising questions and eyebrows. Values were slashed on 2 Jan. though and prices stopped their ascent. The faces of our floorwalking (respects to Andy Williams) friends of the department stores never dropped their impassive features to turn red from shame. Anyone nowadays knows that the only thing that turns red when it is time to stop are stoplights.

The Democrats are the minority party now. This two party system is so good that we went to five during vacation. Nobody questioned our minority either.

An aunt we know received a dozen roses for Christmas. Her husband only received one-third, but he soon got into the spirit of things.

Not to change the subject (there isn't any) have you noticed the number of receding hair lines lately? We recently conducted a survey and found that, except for the flatheads, a large percentage of the men on the hill could get a job in a pool room doubling as a cue ball. We have noticed that some of the above mentioned are taking their affliction in stride by making no attempt to conceal the fact that they are hairless. Others have gone to great length to cover up by employing various methods of camouflage. The "forward pompadour" is very popular among those with high foreheads. For those with naked tops, the "side reverse" is frequently used. This is accomplished by allowing the hair just above the ear to grow at least ten inches and then comb it up over the top. For those who's hair is extremely thin, the "carelessly careless' method is brought into play. This method makes use of many incongruent curls and ringlets held in place by a mixture of six parts water and two parts axle grease. While not always practical, the "John L. Lewis swirl" can be used. This is done by cultivating long eyebrows and combing them straight back over the forehead.

THEY DO SAY

This week your Campus reporter went hither and yon finding how Alleghenians felt about the social program and this is what he found.

Cicely Lawrence, '49— The social activities as they are now are all right, but why does Allegheny have to be an exception about allowing girls in fraternity houses 'til 10 or 11 Saturday and Sunday nights? When you've seen the shows Meadville has to offer where can you go on a Sunday night?

Robert Havich, '49— Too limited and too regulater— there's no place to go in town except the movies on a date. The only way to get to know anyone around here is by formal introduction.

Leeke Bevil, '48— As an observer and not a participant, the social life on this campus is dampened by originating and being supervised by the faculty instead of the students. Why not an all student activity committee and have the faculty just approve their suggestions?

Jodie Borger, '48— Too much emphasis is placed on social activities. We seem to have lost the real aim of education.

Ray Smith, '48— We should have more inter-fraternity functions.

Rick Meyer, '50— Rules and regulations for girls are childish. Too many restrictions hold them down preventing them from gaining full value of college social life.

In general all planned affairs are successful, but could be improved by leniency of old college traditions such as the attitude towards drinking.

Kenny Shick, '49— More all college activities.

John Burgess, '49— Frustrating!

Wayne Gordon, '49— There isn't enough variety of activities. There should be more informal dances and 2:00 permissions for big dances.

Pete Meyer, '47— If sororities and fraternities were abolished, social life would revolve around the school and not the separate cliques. Allegheny is too much of a country club. The students don't apply themselves to their studies for worrying about who they're going to pledge or who they're going to take to the spring formal.

Clarice Williams, '50— I think it's perfectly adequate.

Dave Roese, '48— It's here to stay.

Dave Zurbrick, '50— There should be more all-college dances where everyone can get together.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

To anyone visiting for a few days on this campus, Allegheny would probably appear to be a modern, up-to-date school. It has a Grill in which people can spend their leisure moments during the day; good looking rooms for reading in the library; and the attractive Pine and Green rooms in Brooks hall for entertaining.

But if a visitor stayed here long enough, he'd soon find out that there is no place for a student to go for any privacy. Why must everyone be kept together in one spot? Our parents believed in us enough to send us away to school on our own, why can't the college trust us?

And why, if the fraternities have house mothers, can't the girls be allowed to enter the living rooms on dates? Other colleges permit it— why can't this one?

It's also hard on the students with dates to have to go outside the dorms into the cold at 11:00 p.m. And there doesn't seem to be any good reason for this. With the vic turned off, people talking certainly wouldn't disturb any of the girls in their rooms. If there is an epidemic of colds and flu here, maybe our parents will begin to wonder whether Allegheny was the right place to send their offspring after all.

Can't some of the age-ole traditions, like no girls in fraternity houses except for parties and all men out of the girls' dorms by 11:00, be done away with? Can't the students be thought of a little as being individuals and given more consideration? If Allegheny is going to appear up-to-date, it should be that way.

—Susie from Allegheny.

Dear Editor:

We realize how fortunately we are in having a branch post office here on the campus, but we feel that it could be run more efficiently and capably. Since there are only two hours during the morning and two and a half in the afternoon when the post office is open, it seems to us a little unreasonable that over half this time is devoted to sorting mail so that the students aren't adequately taken care of. Also, as we understand it, service is supposed to be available until 4 o'clock p.m. but we have yet to find this so.

We suggest that either an additional person be hired to sort the mail or that the time allotted to service to students be specifically stated. In other words, let the post office open when scheduled and close only when scheduled.

Yours for service with a smile,

—Four Disgruntled Seniors.

THE WOMAN'S SIDE

by Foster and Brewster

Winter is come,
The grass is friz,
We wonder where the snowfalls is.

Beautiful winter we are having, isn't it? If this keeps up everyone is going to get discouraged and sell their skates, skiis, sleds, etc. But we did hear that there was some good ice out at Bousson last week--hope someone got to enjoy it.

From among the 35 or more girls who played in the badminton tournament, Mary Louise (Punchy) Fulton won the singles championship from Cari Williams by 11-9, 11-8 scores. In the doubles finals Nancy Fulton and Mary Lee Smith will play Elaine Nelson and Jean Foster to decide the champions.

An intramural basketball tournament will start soon after semesters. All those interested should sign up on the bulletin board now. There can be more than one team from each class.

Also in the basketball department we hear tell of a game between the freshmen and upperclassmen. Still haven't figured out whether the freshmen challenged the upperclassmen or vica versa, anyhow it seems both sides are willing to fight it out tomorrow night in Montgomery gym.

Since there is now snow to run around and get cold in why not go swimming? The pool will be open for recreational swimming—tonight, January 15, Monday, January 20, and Tuesday, January 21.

P. S. Don't let us scare you. It really isn't as cold as it sounds. brr.

Outing Club To Hold Special Meeting Saturday

This Saturday at 1:15 p.m. a meeting of the Outing club will be held in the Green room to elect a president pro tem.

A tentative schedule for next semester was set up by the executive board in their meeting last Sunday afternoon. The annual All-college Winter Carnival sponsored by the Outing club will be held February 22. Saturday's activities will be held at Bousson and will include skiing, skating, tobogganing, snow sculpturing, and a supper.

Other plans for the semester include: February 8, 9, Outing club-Heelers week-end; February 15, Outing club-Heelers afternoon to prepare for carnival; February 22, 1:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m. Annual Winter Carnival.

Sports Captains Chosen For Fall

A quartet of ex-servicemen has been named to lead three athletic teams next year.

Tackle Bob Stanton, the 1946 captain, and halfback Bob Carman, both Meadville sophomores, were elected co-captains of the 1947 Gator eleven.

Senior Sam Barco of Meadville will lead the soccer team for the third straight year.

Senior Charles Hileman of Jeannette, Pa., last year's No. 1 man, was named to head the tennis team for the second successive campaign.

Athletic Director H. Paul Way disclosed that 1946 season letters will be awarded to 13 football players, 14 soccer men.

The football lettermen: Carman, Bill Miller, Lynn Snyder, Stanton, Guy Tiffany, Ray Lysowski, Jim Betz and Don Hamilton, Meadville; Dan Morse and Art Waterman, Erie; Frank Pollard, McKeesport, Pa.; Dave Zurbrick, Youngstown, Ohio; Ed Filer, Greenville, Pa.

The soccer lettermen: Barco, Ralph Roberts, Roger Bailey and Steve Miller, Meadville; Sumner Nichols, Bill Stunder, Marlen Matthews and Barney Radov (mgr.), Erie; Roy James, Warren, Ohio; Vern Reed, Slippery Rock; Wilson Strong, Woodbridge, Conn.; Frank Ferraraccio, DuBois; Robert Leech, Mt. Lebanon, Pa.; Joe McMillan, Avalon, Pa.

Football Schedule For '47 Is Announced

Allegheny's lone football victim since 1941 is missing from the 1947 Gator gridiron card released by Athletic Director H. Paul Way.

Earlham, of Richmond, Indiana, the club which provided the only Allegheny victories in the 1942 and 1946 seasons, is absent from the schedule because of a conflict in dates but will return in 1948.

The Indiana college is replaced by Susquehanna university, featuring the new family coaching family of A. A. Stagg and son, in the only change from last fall's listing.

Of the seven games, four will be played here. The schedule:

October 4, Oberlin; 11, Dickinson at Carlisle; 18, Westminster at New Wilmington; 25, Grove City.

November 1, Thiel; 8, Mt. Union at Alliance, O.; 15, Susquehanna.

GATOR GREATS

by John Towns '49

One of the bright spots in Allegheny's sport world today is basketball captain Joe McMillan, 5" 7" guard from Avalon, Pa. There is no doubt that Coach Al Werner was pleased to see "Little Joe", as he is nicknamed, report for his second season at Allegheny, for Joe is noted for his scrappy type of play and for his ability to "hit the hoop" when his team needs the points most.

Joe learned his basketball at Avonworth high school where he played for three years. He climaxed his high school career by being chosen co-captain as a senior. However, the war intervened and Joe spent 27 months in the navy V-5 program. He returned last year in time to put in a full season with the Gators and to be picked as the Most Valuable Player of the squad. When the season's statistics were compiled McMillan turned up with 121 points, which ranked him third behind Bill Kirkpatricks and Lee Donaldson.

This fall Joe proved that he had a touch of all-round athletic ability when he played on the soccer squad and shared the starting outside left position of the starting team with another mighty mite, Pat Hughes. Here, too, he demonstrated his fieryness and competitive spirit that makes him a real basketball player.

On campus Joe is a member of the Block A club and Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity.

Gators Win Over St. Vincent

by Bill Wylie, '49

A favored Allegheny five encountered an inspired St. Vincent quintet Saturday night in Montgomery gym and had a battle on their hands from the time the opening gun was fired until Joe McMillan sunk the final free throw that proved to be the winning point in the contest. The local boys started the game with a good first quarter and ran into some trouble in the last portion of the first half. When the boys from Latrobe found themselves ahead in the ball game they played spirited ball and compiled a total of twenty-four points to the Gators' seventeen in the first half.

Until late in the contest, the Allegheny five had to come from behind to tie the score many times, but they didn't possess sufficient offensive punch to surge into the lead and hold down the St. Vincent boys in the scoring column. Allegheny found it very difficult to penetrate their opponents' zone defense, and had to resort to several shots from the middle of the floor. Many tallies came for the home team as a result of following up shots and making tip-ins.

Feisley dominated the play in the game and it was his scoring ability that contributed much to a victory for the home team. By swishing seven of the Gators' fifteen field goals and making three free throws he was high point man for the night with a total of seventeen.

Norm Baker made his appearance in the game and played three quarters in his debut to varsity basketball at Allegheny. He was impressive as an accurate shot from places on the floor distant from the hoop. With practice he should develop into an accomplished guard and prove valuable to the Gator combination.

Allegheny didn't seem to have anyone who could work pivot against a zone defense which would have been an advantage over St. Vincent. Feisley was the only man who continually entered the foul circle to receive passes from the bcak court.

In the last six games Allegheny has presented a defense that is relatively weak. Their ability to score is sufficiently good that they should be able to win games, but their defense has permitted other opposing teams to compile large totals in the scoring column. Invariably the opposing team is able to shake a man free and enable him to have a good shot at the basket. The dominating factor in accounting for the four losses that are found in their record of two and four is poor defensive play.

Feiley and Kahl are the two high point men for the six games that have been played. Kahl's play thus far has been of merit and he is proving himself a dangerous offensive man and a shrewd defensive player.

Thursday night the Gator quintet ran into a high scoring Slippery Rock college and were beaten 65 to 38. Johnson accounted for twenty-five of the Rockets' points in a contest that was dominated by the Gators' opponents all the way. The Rockets made almost every shot they took and were never seriously in danger of losing the game. Kahl had eleven points and Feisley made ten.

The Gators met Thiel in Montgomery gym last night. They will move to Grove City for one of the

Mr. A. Kidd was a special dinner guest of the chapter on Sunday afternoon.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon held a sleighride on Friday evening, after which refreshments were served at the house. Chaperons for the event were Miss Hope Ayrault, Miss Marjorie Kirk, Miss Barbara Morse, and Miss Barbara Hobbs.

Sunday dinner guests of the chapter were Miss Laila Skinner and Miss M. J. Holz.

Unit Residents

Hill was in the midst of baking a pie, her first, and taking care of both children.

"Most of the people living here were at school when George and I were, so we already knew them," she added.

The only problem the residents of Arter Terrace seemed to face was having a place to hang clothes. The lack of cellar is very noticeable on washing day, but other than that, the residents are glad to have such comfortable living juarters at a reasonable cost.

John Kelly, 49— We should have Saturday evening informal dances where dates are not necessary and get a chance to meet people. There is not enough of the right kind of activities. If you get a date in the middle of the week, what are you going to do? Either go to the movies or stay in Brooks. On the weekends a semi-formal dance constitutes the activities of Allegheny college. We should have more things like last year's carnival.

Bob Muckley, '49—The social life is sufficient, but it's up to the individual to budget his time.

Announcements

Membership for Wings and Props is now open. Those students interested in any phase of aviation who wish to join should submit their names to either Mary Ethel Schell, '47, or Frank Rosen, '49, before exams.

Photographs for any issue of the Campus must be in by the preceding Thursday as the cuts are made in Sharon. There will be no issue until February 12 due to exams.

All college bills must be paid before final examinations. Examination permits certifying that all bills have been paid may be obtained at Montgomery gymnasium on January 16, 17, and 18. No student will be admitted to final examinations without a permit.

Students are requested not to call the Registrar's office for grade reports. Students who receive failing grades will be notified by mail as soon as possible after such grades are received at the office. All other grades will be issued at the Registrar's office on Wednesday, February 5, from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Miss Laila Skinner would like to meet with all students who are considering entering St. Luke's School of Nurses, in Cleveland. The meeting will take place after dinner tomorrow.

Nancy Zenn, '49— I think social life is over-emphasized because it interferes with the academic. Many people won't consider attending Allegheny because of its social reputation.

Sallie Lou Connor, '48— Permissions based on academic standing defeats its own purpose. I think the fraternities and sororities do a good job holding up their own end of the social life.

GATORS WIN

two annual tilts with the traditional rival tomorrow.

To date the hardwood quintet has won two of their six games, having both won and lost by a single point. The season's opener provided an inspiring start as Werner's men defeated Oberlin's Yeomen 52-48 to partially regain the prestige lost in the football clash last fall. However the trip to Ohio proved damaging to the records as well as the morale as Wooster won by a 51-22 score and on the following night Kent State overpowered the Gators and they left on the low end of a 42-36 margin. During Christmas the team reported here on the 26th of December to resume practice in preparation for the Buffalo State game on the 28th. This was the lone point defeat as the game in Buffalo ended with the New Yorkers a single notch ahead as the gun went off.

Allegheny's junior varsity has seen action in only two games so far. They went down in the curtain raiser with Oberlin with the final score reading 37-35 although they evened the score several times. In the last quarter the juniors dropped in 16 points to Oberlin's 8 but the drive fell short of final victory. Rog Christopherson and Don McKay led the scoring with 11 and 8 points respectively. Last week the j. v.'s traveled with the varsity to Slippery Rock where a low scoring game again found the Blue and Gold on the short end. The score was 33-21 and high point man was Bob Larson with nine points.

Swimmers Top Buffalo Group In Swim Meet

by Don Magill, '49

Montgomery swimming pool saw action for the first time in five years last Friday when Coach Bill Hansen's aggregation outpointed and outswam the Buffalo State squad by a 39 to 26 margin. A capacity crowd witnessed an action-packed meet coupled with a fine display of spirit by both the sjuad and the spectators.

Buffalo State took an early lead by downing Allegheny in the 300 yard medley relay but Kenny Smith and Jim Root of Allegheny came back by capturing a first and third despectively in the 220 yard free style. Virg Sayre, the outstanding swimmer of the contest, took the next two races— the 60 yard and 100 yard free styles— with comparative ease.

In the back stroke Jack Marshall thrilled the crowd by catching Solat of Buffalo and pulling ahead in the last half lap of the race to win by inches. Jim Hurst also drew a third spot in the back stroke. Buffalo finally attained a first when Hochuk won the 200 yard breast stroke. G. Davis and Waldo Baker clinched the second and third places for the Gators.

Allegheny immediately jumped right back when Hulse took a first in the 440 yard free style with Jack Mitchell bringing up the third place position. Then with the chips down Allegheny spurted ahead to win the 400 yard free style.

The last relay was to determine the winner of the meet as the winning team received seven points and the score read: Allegheny 32, Buffalo State 26. If Buffalo had won, the final score would have been 33-32 in favor of the New Yorkers. Ken Smith and LeRoy Paul narrowed the lead the initial Buffalo swimmer had attained, and Virg Sayre swam the final laps with apparent ease to win by ten yards.

The statistics were as follows:

300 yard medley relay— Buffalo State (Darnell, Hochuk, Farley 342.3.

220 yard free style— Smith, Fenwick (B.), Root 2:40.7.

60 yard free style—Sayre, Schmitt (B.) 32.5.

100 yard free style—Sayre, Schmitt (B.), Fenwick (B.) 1:02.

140 yard back stroke— Marshall, Solax (B.), Hurst 2:04.

200 yard breast stroke— Hochuk (B.), Davis, Baker 2:38.3.

440 yard free style— Hulse, Schloerb (B.), Mitchell,6:35.8.

400 yard free style relay— Allegheny (Baker, Smith, Paul, Sayre) 4:11.
