BASKET BALL.

Team Hard at Work for the First Game—The Season's Schedule as Arranged so Far.

With the opening of college for the winter term our interests are again centered upon athletics. This time it is basket ball that calls for our attention, and for a few months the "gridiron" and "diamond" will give way to the basket ball "cage."

It is to be hoped that the basket ball team will be able to add to the long list of victories gained by our foot ball team during the fall term, and end the season with the college championship, as did the team of '99. Allegheny has always been well represented in the basket ball field, and this year should prove no exception. It is to be remembered that our champion team of '99 defeated every team played and lost but one game during the entire season, thus making the best record ever held by an athletic team at Allegheny and one seldom equaled by any college.

S. C. LAMPE,

Basket ball is the most popular of indoor sports and is rapidly becoming a rival of foot ball and base ball in many places. The reason for this is apparent, for in the making of the game its originator sought to eliminate the objectionable features of the other games and at the same time preserve their attractiveness. He took from base ball its skill and quickness and left behind the tediousness. From foot ball the strength and endurance were taken while the roughness and danger were thrown aside. By doing this he lost none of the interest or excitement of base ball or foot ball and at the same time many features were added which these two games did not possess. The growth of basket ball has been phenomenal. Seven years ago it was unknown outside of the Y. M. C. A. of the large cities. To-day there is scarcely a college or an athletic club in the country not represented by a basket ball team.

The prospects for a winning team for 1900 are very bright. Four of last years team, Borland, Lampe, Wolstoncroft and Taylor are in college, every member of the scrub team of last year is back and several players from other colleges entered at the beginning of the fall term. Lampe, '03, center of last years team and for three years a member of the Pittsburg High School team, will captain and play center this year. It is to be hoped his playing of last year will be an indication of what the team of 1900 will accomplish.

About thirty candidates reported for practice daily during the fall term and to these were added last week many of the foot ball squad. With five or more candidates for each position, there should be little or no trouble in securing a winning team. No coach has been secured nor is one likely to be secured. The style of play used by the team last year proved successful and will be followed by this year's team If at any time the team shows signs of weakening, a coach may then be brought in. It is too early to talk of our chances for the league championship, but it is not out of order to say that we are looked upon by both Westminster and Geneva, the other members of the league, as their most dangerous opponent.

Manager Masters has arranged an excellent schedule for the season, consisting entirely of games with school teams. One with Edinboro Normal School and the remainder with college teams. Six games are already scheduled to be played at home and three away from home. The first game is with Edinboro on Friday night, and a large crowd is expected. Until last year Edinboro was generally victorious in her games with Allegheny, but the tables were turned last year and Allegheny won the contest after one of the fastest played games of the year. Edinboro is confident of winning this year's game, but as Allegheny is just as certain, a close game can be expected.

Following is the schedule for the season:

Edinboro at Meadville, Friday, Jan. 12, at 8 p. m.

Grove City College at Meadville, Wednesday, Jan. 17, at 8 p. m.

*Geneva College at Meadville, Friday, Jan. 26, at 8 p. m.

*Westminster College at New Wilmington, Monday, Feb. 5.

Mt Union College at Meadville, Friday, Feb. 9, at 8 p. m.

*Geneva College at Beaver Falls, Pa., Monday, Feb 12.

Western Reserve University at Meadville, Saturday, Feb. 17, at 8 p m.

*Westminster College at Meadville, Thursday, Feb. 22, at 3 p. m.

Mt. Union College at Alliance, O, Monday, Feb. 26.

Other games being arranged to fill open dates.

*League games.

For the accommodation of patrons from town and others who wish to avoid the rush, fifty seats in front row in the running track will be reserved at ten cents a seat. On sale the afternoon of the day before the game at Ballinger & Siggins' drug store.

The Harvard-Princeton debate this year will be held in Cambridge on December 16th. The debate will be on the subject, "Resolved, That the English claims in the controversy with the South African Republic are justifiable." As Harvard chose the subject, Princeton will have the choice of sides which will be announced on November 12th.

Ohio State and Ohio Wesleyan will debate, "Resolved, That trusts are a justifiable factor in our economic progress." O. W. U. chooses sides.

ALLEGHENY JUBILEE.

Enthusiastic Meeting Hoped for on Washington's Birthday — Committee of Arrangements.

The following letter was recently sent to the presidents of the various classes by Prof. Munroe, secretary of the Quill Club. It will speak for itself:

"At a recent meeting, the Quill Club discussed a question that seems to be of general interest, and I was instructed to lay the matter before the college classes through their presidents.

The proposition is to have an enthusiastic Allegheny jubilee on the evening of Washington's Birthday. It is a rare thing for all the undergraduates to get together socially, and it is rarer still for all those directly interested in Allegheny to assemble to sing her praises and renew their pledges of loyalty to her. Such an occasion would be furnished by a dinner in the Gymnasium to which would sit down undergraduates, alumni, faculty and other friends of the college.

The proposition is for an inexpensive meal, a good toast list, representing all classes of Allegheny adherents, a lively competition in class and college yells, an enthusiastic rendering of college songs, and in short a general good time on the basis of our common love for "Old Allegheny."

Will you, therefore, kindly find out whether a majority of the class will agree to support such an enterprise, and if so provide a committee of two to join a similar committee from each of the other college classes and from the faculty and a delegate from the Preparatory School."

Every class promptly responded to the call. The following committees will serve from the classes: Senior, N. P. Champlin, Ruth Hay; Junior, R. G. English, A. J. May; Sophomore, J. E. Bird, H. A. Dunn; Freshman, E. M. Hall, Margaret Irwin; Preparatory Department, Chas. R. Hayes. The faculty will be represented upon the committee by Prof. Munroe and Prof. Morey. This committee will be divided into sub-committees, which will have in charge decorations, refreshments, toast list and all the details of the dinner. It is hoped that every student of the college will interest himself in the movement personally and do all he can to "push along a good thing."

Important!

The editors of The Literary Monthly wish to announce that there are a few copies of the December issue still on hand. That number contains several articles of interest, among them one on Modern France, by Prof. Smith. Copies may be had by applying to H. M. Young or to Norman P. Champlin.

The January number will be ready this week, and will be specially interesting. The leading article of the month will be by Dr. Montgomery. Orders may be left with either of the above mentioned members of the board.

The establishment of an Alumni Association in Cincinnati should be most gratifying to all who have the interest of the college at heart. Already the associations in New York and Chicago are in a flourishing condition and doing good work. The Cincinnati association will be just as advantageous to its members, just as helpful in giving the old college the name and rank that it deserves.

We furnish this week a complete financial report of the treasurer of the Athletic Board, Prof. Smallwood, for the foot ball season of 1899. Never before has the student body had an opportunity to examine the finances of a season, and every one should feel it his duty to look over the report. If it does nothing else, it will show the reader that the management of an athletic team is no small task.

Class and fraternity banquets have become established with us at Allegheny, but we have never had a gathering at which all the students, faculty, alumni and friends of the college could meet freely and informally and show their love and devotion to alma mater. If all goes well such an occasion will be offered in the gymnasium on the evening of February 22. On another page of this issue we have mentioned briefly the plans for a grand Allegheny College dinner. The features which the committee will strive to make most prominent in the affair will be a large attendance, a royal feast, a good toast list, an abundance of music and cheers and a complete overflow of Allegheny enthusiasm such as has never been thought possible here.

At first thought the scheme may seem impracticable, but this arises from the fact that the idea is new, that is, new in Allegheny. In other colleges an annual dinner has become the event of the year. It may just as easily be a day to look forward to with us.

All that is necessary to make it a complete success is that every person take a real interest in the movement. No half-hearted business will do. Every student ought to talk about it to his fellow students and to his friends, and be ready to do all in his power to make the occasion representative of the best that there is in Allegheny.

The Quill Club took up the work in order that the movement might have a responsible beginning. But now the matter has been turned over to a committee from the classes and the faculty. The committee has a vast amount of work before it, but all can help. Keep out mean partisan feeling. Class spirit should of course be stimulated. Perhaps one of the best ways to make the dinner a success is to get class pitted against class in friendly rivalry to see which will do most to make the thing a success.

The expense of the dinner will be but nominal, and there is no valid reason why any member of the student body should not attend.

Opening Day.

The college chapel was well crowded for the opening exercises on last Tuesday. Among the students were a goodly number of new faces for the opening of the winter term. The devotional exercises were conducted by Dr. Crawford, and when these were finished an interesting talk was given by Mr. Arthur L. Bates, a lawyer of this city, who graduated from Allegheny twenty years ago.

The opening of college this term was fully as auspicious as that of the fall term, new students having appeared to fill the places of those who did not return, and indications point to a remarkable year in every way for the college.

Debaters who represent Harvard against Yale or Princeton will hereafter be awarded black hat bands with crimson borders and black caps with a red "H" over crossed gavels.

The Empire of the South.

The editor is pleased to acknowledge the receipt of a copy of "The Empire of the South," a handsome book gotten out by the Southern Railway Company. It is devoted to the interests of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Kentucky and Tennessee, and treats fully of their resources, industries and resorts. Especial attention is given to the growth of manufacturing in the South, particularly the development of the iron industry. Agriculture and fruit growing, the cotton, sugar and timber interests are treated comprehensively. Although published by the Southern Railway, it contains no advertising, and is altogether the fullest and fairest treatment of the subject that we have seen. Mr. Frank Presbrey is the author of the book, which is a quarto of 184 pages, and contains over 500 illustrations, many of them full-page engravings of great beauty.

Cornell University has an enrollment of 3,000 students.

The bride is well known in this city, being a graduate of the Pennsylvania College of Music, class of '98. Mr. Dickey is a prominent attorney and member of the Crawford county bar.

While President Crawford was in Cincinnati a few weeks ago he made preliminary arrangements for the organization of a local alumni association. Allegheny has between 15 and 20 loyal sons and daughters in Cincinnati and vicinity. The oldest alumnus there is Dr. W. K. Brown, class of '63, former president of the Cincinnati Wesleyan College, and the youngest is Rev. David G. Latshaw, '95, who is the successful and popular pastor of the Methodist church at Westwood, one of Cincinnati's most beautiful suburbs. The Cincinnati Enquirer, in mentioning Dr. Crawford's visit, described him as "President of Allegheny College, Meadville, Pennsylvania, one of the oldest and best equipped Methodist institutions in the country."

The Boston Herald has published an All-American foot ball team, making its selections from the colleges of the Eastern and Middle States. The team is as follows: Left end, Campbell, of Harvard; left tackle, Hillebrand, of Princeton; center, Pierson, of Cornell; right guard, Hare, of Pennsylvania; right end, Poe, of Princeton; quarback, Daly, of Harvard; left half back, Sharpe, of Yale; right half back, Reiter, of Princeton; full back and captain, McBride, of Yale. This gives four players to Princeton, three to Yale, two to Harvard, and one each to Cornell and Pennsylvania.

The rank of the universities in size is as follows: Harvard, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Yale, Columbia, Chicago, Wisconsin, Johns Hopkins.

Princeton, Yale and Pennsylvania have rooms fitted up for the display of the trophies won in their intercollegiate contests, and Cornell is just about to establish one.

He who is born a man should, ought and can be nothing nobler, greater or better than a man, and it is well for him when he wishes to be neither more nor less.—Wieland.

The largest foot ball scores on record were made as follows: Harvard vs. Exeter, in 1886, 158-0; Princeton vs. Lafayette, in 1884, 140 0; Yale vs. Wesleyan, in 1886, 130-0.

A Pennsylvania merchant recently issued a card containing the following: "The war is over. The reason why the United States won is that she is strong as Sampson, Miles Long, Schley as a fox and has plenty of Merritt. What more Dewey want?"

Berlin University is celebrating the ninetieth anniversity of its foundation by Frederick William III., of Prussia. Although one of the youngest, it is now the foremost university of Germany, and the second in the world in the number of students and in progress.

A German physician says that all the senses do not slumber simultaneously. They fall into insensibility one after another. First the eyelids obscure sight, and the sense of taste is the next to lose susceptibility. Smelling, hearing and touch follow in the order named, touch being the lightest sleeper and the most easily aroused.

In the annual debate between Harvard and Princeton the former was declared victorious. The following question was discussed: "Resolved, That the English claims in the controversy with the South African Republic are justifiable." The Harvard team, selected from 52 candidates, supported the affirmative.

If an S and I and O and U,
With an X at the end spell su,
And an E and a Y and an E spell i,
Pray, what is a speller to do?
Then if also an S and I and G and H E D spell side.
There's not much left for a speller to do
But go and commit siouxeyesighed.

A SYMPHONY.

The bull-frog sat on the bank and said,
"Ker-chug, ker-chug. ker-chug!"
"I'll smash," the fighter fiercely said,
"Yer mug, yer mug, yer mug!"
"Delicious feast!" the jay-bird said,
"Er bug, er bub, er bug!"
"I'll have him yet," the copper said,
"Ther thug, ther thug, ther thug!"
"Fountain of life," the toper said,
"Be'r jug, be'r jug, be'r jug."
"My heart's desire," the Freshman said,
"Gir' hug, gir' hug, gir' hug!"

Prof. Charles Eliot Norton, of Harvard University, has confirmed a report that Mrs. Elizabeth Cary Agassiz, president of Radcliffe College, had resigned. He gave out the following statement: "Mrs. Agassiz recently resigned from the presidency of Radcliffe College, which position she has held from the beginning of the institution. The resignation was sent to the associates some weeks since, and though they feel the deepest regret that Mrs. Agassiz should find it necessary to leave the place which she has so long filled to the complete satisfaction of every friend of the college, yet they felt that her decision ought to be respected, but requested her to accept the position of honorary president, free from responsibility to any duties, but maintaining her close relations with the officers and students of the college. This she has consented to do, and her resignation from the active duties will make no difference in the regular order of affairs at the college."

The Bookman recently picked out a foot ball eleven to represent the Valhalla of fiction. As Andrew Lang had picked out a seraglio from the heroines of fiction, The Bookman thought it had an equal right to pick out a foot ball eleven from among the heroes. The eleven chosen were Pan Michael, Ivanhoe, The Black Knight, Pan Longin, Athos, D'Artagnan, John Ridd, Ursus, Porthos, Taffy Wynne and Aramis. Now comes a man from Pittsburg with a team which he wants to match against The Bookman's. He selects Umslopogaas, Sir Henry Curtis, Thor, Samson, Goliath, Ulysses, Cœur de Lion, Herakles, Kwasind, Siegfreid and Mowgli. The Bookman objects to Goliath and Samson, regarding them with the same disfavor, it says, as that with which some critics in the foot ball season just closed regarded Outland, of Pennsylvania; Walbridge, of Cornell, and Wilson, of Columbia. That is all very well, but what The Bookman seems to have overlooked entirely is the fact that the Pittsburg gentleman has stolen one of its own men, and has the Black Knight playing on the Pittsburg eleven as Cœur de Lion.—New York Press.
