NOTED PUBLICIST SPEAKS IN CHAPEL THIS EVENING

W. W. Ellsworth Lectures Today and Tomorrow on Moliere and Journalism

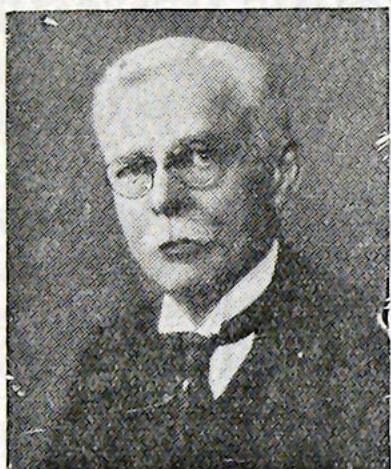

Paris in the time of Moliere will be virtually reproduced for students and townspeople when Mr. William Wadsworth Ellsworth gives an illustrated lecture on this subject in Ford Memorial Chapel this evening at eight o'clock. Tomorrow at Chapel and before some of the advanced English classes this well-known publisher and author will present some of the varying phases of writing and publishing.

His first lecture in Ford Chapel this evening concerns "Moliere and His Times," and it should prove interesting, for an added feature of the talk will be the showing of one hundred slides of actual scenes depicting Paris in the time of this famous dramatist.

On Wednesday, Mr. Ellsworth will speak to the students at Chapel on "Forty Years of Publishing" which is the story of a publisher's life and duties. Present day tendencies in literature will be contrasted with those of 1850.

The third lecture by Mr. Ellsworth will probably be addressed to several of the advanced classes in English. The subject is "The Writing Game," and in it he will tell of the advantage of a college education to the neophyte in journalism.

WILLIAM W. ELLSWORTH

Wednesday evening, at the Pi Delta Epsilon initiation banquet at Saegertown Inn, Mr. Ellsworth is expected to be the principal speaker. At this time he will talk informally on some phase of newspaper work. This noted publisher is being brought to Allegheny from California as the special guest of the English and Romance Language Departments. His appearance here has been made possible through the Sturtevant Foundation Fund.

PI DELTA EPSILON TO HAVE ANNUAL BANQUET AT SAEGER-TOWN INN

Pi Delta Epsilon, journalistic fraternity, will hold its initiation and annual banquet tomorrow evening at Saegertown Inn.

Seven men, all of whom have had at least two years experience in college journalistic work, will be initiated into the fraternity before the dinner at the Inn. They are Karl Riemer, J. Allison Rupert, John M. Pratt, Edgar C. Dehne, G. Alfred Palmer, Robert J. McCollum, and Howard P. Taylor.

The members of Pi Delta Epsilon are now collecting material to publish in the next number of the Literary Monthly which will be in charge of the fraternity.

TWENTY MEN COMPETE FOR PRIZES IN BLOC CONTEST

FIVE SELECTED ESSAYS ARE SENT TO COMMITTEE OF FINAL AWARD

Twenty papers have been submitted for the Bloc System Prize Essay Contest. Five essays have been selected from this number by a local committee composed of Dr. C. B. Coleman, Dr. C. F. Littell, and Professor Lee D. McLean, and forwarded to a final committee which will award the prizes for the two best essays.

Mr. Sterling G. McNees, Esq., of Harrisburg, is the donor of the two prizes of twenty-five and ten dollars, which will be awarded to the two students that write the best essays on the bloc system in Congress.

Considerable interest has been shown in this contest, especially by students in the courses in political science. The purpose of this generous gift of Mr. McNees is to stimulate original thinking in the political subjects before the people of today.

Prizes will be awarded on the following basis: one point for the historical introduction, one point for correct English composition, and four points for originality and argument. Announcement of the winners of this contest will be made early in June by the final committee composed of the Hon. Arthur L. Bates of Meadville, Professor F. G. Crawford of Syracuse, N. Y., and Mr. Sterling G. McNees of Harrisburg, Penna.

FRENCH PLAY DRAWS CAPACITY AUDIENCE

Brieux's Blanchette is Well Staged by Le Petit Salon Cast

Fidelity of character portrayal, and really interpretative acting characterized the presentation of "Blanchette," a drama in three acts by Eugene Brieux, given as the annual French play, before a large audience in Ford Memorial Chapel, last Tuesday night, by Le Petit Salon.

An element of tragedy, which makes the play more serious than similar previous productions have been, probably accounts for the fact that the audience did not give the presentation the fullest measure of appreciation that it merited.

The play is an excellent example of the modern naturalistic drama and is undoubtedly one of the most difficult productions of its kind that has ever been staged at Allegheny, for it is a comedy of character rather than of action. The theme of the play is the problem which confronts the educated French girl who finds that she cannot obtain the position for which she has fitted herself, and yet is not satisfied to live after the mode of her peasant parents.

The burden of the character portrayal fell on three principal actors, Miss Frances Anderson, who took the part of Blanchette, Miss Helen Jane Bowman, who took the role of Madame Rousset, and Mr. George F. Bowers, who played the part of Pere Rousset. All three roles were difficult because of their length and emotional scenes.

Miss Frances Anderson played skillfully the role of Blanchette, first as the educated and priggish girl, who felt herself superior to her friends, and later as the humbled and penitent daughter who had to accept her lot as the wife of a peasant.

Mr. George F. Bowers acted with much vigor and fine expression the

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED FOR ORATORICAL BOARD

RETIRING OFFICERS WILL PUBLISH FINANCIAL REPORT FOR YEAR JUST COMPLETED

As a result of the general election for next year's officers of the Allegheny Oratorical Association, held last Wednesday, May 7, Ralph H. Demmler, '25, was chosen as president, Doris Peterson, '25, as secretary, and G. Alfred Palmer, '26, as treasurer.

The results of the election showed close competition among the recently nominated candidates, and much is expected of the new officers.

The retiring officers, consisting of Charles W. Havice, president; Frances Anderson, secretary; and Ralph H. Demmler, treasurer, will compile a complete audit of the Association's books and will submit them for publication in the near future.

NEW INSTRUMENT ADDED TO NEWTON OBSERVATORY

TELESCOPE TO BE REMOUNTED AND SEVERAL NEW INSTRUMENTS INSTALLED

After present improvements on the Newton Observatory are completed, students of Allegheny will have the opportunity of observing the heavens through the nine-inch equatorially mounted telescope which is part of the equipment of this department of the College.

These improvements will enable the department to offer to the student work that is comparable with that of observatories having telescopes of like magnitude. Under the direction of Dr. Charles J. Ling the nine-inch telescope is being readjusted and remounted. Several new instruments are also being purchased of the Warner and Smith Company, of Cleveland, Ohio. It is contemplated to heat the building as soon as the new heating plant is installed.

When the improvements which are under way are completed, the astronomy classes will take up the systematic study of comets and asteroids. Definite nights will be set aside at which time the general public may visit the observatory.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB ATTAINS SUCCESS IN TITUSVILLE

CONTEMPLATE THREE MORE CONCERTS BEFORE CLOSING SEASON

Success marked the efforts of the Men's Glee Club, when under the directorship of Professor Lee Hess Barnes, the men sang before an audience of more than four hundred persons in the high school at Titusville, Pa., on Tuesday evening, May 6. A dance in honor of the Club followed the evening's program.

Only twenty-five men took the trip and participated in the concert. However, this deficit in numbers was overcome by the addition of an orchestra which greatly increased the pleasure brought by the program and helped bring success to the Club. It is expected that this may become a regular feature of the program.

Except for the orchestral selections the program was practically the same as that presented at the Franklin and Oil City concerts. Enthusiastic applause greeted many of the selections, and encores were necessary. Satisfaction with the efforts of the Club was freely expressed at the close of the entertainment. Prof. Barnes acted as director.

Titusville, determined upon doing things completely, honored the men with a dance in the Odd Fellows' Hall from ten to one. Most of the men returned to Meadville after the dance although a few remained with friends until the following day.

The future work of the Men's Glee Club this year includes an alumni concert in June, possibly a downtown concert, and finally a combined concert with the Girls' Glee Club to be given at Commencement time. No other out-of-town concerts are booked for the season.

COURBOIN TO RETURN FOR ORGAN RECITAL IN JUNE

PROGRAM FOR COMMENCEMENT WEEK PROVIDES ATTRACTIVE FEATURES

Practically all arrangements have been completed for the program covering Commencement Week. The fact that most of the events are scheduled for the week-end of June 13 has made it possible to have a better and more extensive program than ever before.

With the exception of the actual Commencement exercises, probably the event that holds the most interest for the greater number of alumni and students, is the organ recital of Charles M. Courboin which will be given in the Ford Memorial Chapel on Saturday afternoon, June 14.

M. Courboin is a comparatively well-known artist to Alleghenians. He was brought here to play one number of the College Concert Series in January, 1923, and made such an impression that he was prevailed upon to return for Commencement exercises last June.

M. Courboin is a Belgian by birth and while yet a boy became the organist of the Antwerp Cathedral, one of the largest places of religious worship in that part of Europe. By profession, he is a mechanical engineer and specializes in the designing and building of pipe organs. He is one of the very few organists who can successfully use an organ with which he is not familiar. This is an unusual accomplishment since no two organs are alike.

At present, Mr. Courboin is the organist of the largest church in Scranton, Pa. He is also guest soloist at the two Wanamaker auditoriums at New York and Philadelphia. This fact alone marks him as one of the outstanding organists in the country because the auditorium at Philadelphia contains the largest organ in the world.

DR. W. A. ELLIOTT CHOSEN OFFICER OF COMMITTEE

ALLEGHENIAN RECEIVES IMPORTANT POST AT CHURCH CONFERENCE

Dr. William A. Elliott was re-elected Secretary of the Committee on the State of the Church at the Quadrennial Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which is now meeting in Springfield, Massachusetts. This committee is composed of more than two hundred men and has before it at least three problems of general interest, the question of amusements; the attitude of the Church toward war; and the resolution concerning Fundamentalism.

REPRESENT ALLEGHENY AT Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE AT GENEVA

R. Russell Denison, and G. R. Archbold represented Allegheny College at the thirty-third annual conference of the officers of Pennsylvania student Y. M. C. A. at Geneva College, Beaver Falls, May 9, 10, and 11.

The program consisted of addresses by speakers of repute, followed by informal discussions of the representatives.

WILLIAM W. HENDERSON, EX '73, DIES

William W. Henderson, Esq., ex '73, died very suddenly on Thursday evening, May 8, at his home on East Chestnut Street. Mr. Henderson was born in Allegheny County, April 10, 1848. He removed to Meadville while still a small boy and has spent nearly seventy years of his life in this city. After completing his education he studied law, was admitted to the bar, and became well known as an attorney. Mr. Henderson is survived by two brothers, Superior Court Judge John J. Henderson, '62, and Captain Edward H. Henderson, '63. Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon and interment was made in Greendale Cemetery.

Mrs. Kirk Thompson (Aileen Hodgkinson, '19) is living in Cleveland where her husband is stationed for a year. Mrs. Thompson has been teaching in one of the Cleveland schools during the past year.

COLLEGE WOMEN CHOOSE SENATE FOR COMING YEAR

ELEANORE TAYLOR IS HEAD OF BODY—INSTALLATION TO BE HELD WITHIN TWO WEEKS

Annual elections for the Women's Student Senate were held last week. Eleanor Taylor was elected president of the board; Doris Peterson, vice-president; Frances Anderson, secretary-treasurer; Mary Alice Jackson, first junior member; Naomi Reischer, second junior member; and Mina French, sophomore member.

Installation will take place within the next two weeks, when the new members will assume office.

Philosophy and Education Club Postpones Open House

Philosophy and Education Club open-house has been changed to Wednesday, May 21, through courtesy to the W. W. Ellsworth lecture which has been set for tonight. Plans for the open-house have been completed. Each class in the Philosophy and Education departments, through its committee, has arranged some sketch or stunt to aid in the entertainment of the evening. To the class presenting the best act will be awarded some novel prize; so some clever performances should be forthcoming.

The evening of entertainment will be very appropriately brought to a conclusion by the serving of refreshments. The get-together is now scheduled for eight o'clock Wednesday, May 21, at Cochran Hall. Every one of the two hundred and fifty students taking subjects in the department should attend and enjoy the good time afforded by the hospitality of the Philosophy and Education Club.

The young ladies of the college are especially invited to attend the Tabernacle on Wednesday evening, at which time a special talk will be given to women only.

WESTMINSTER TRIUMPHS IN FIRST TENNIS MATCH

ALLEGHENY GOES DOWN TO 6-0 DEFEAT IN INITIAL CONTEST OF SEASON

The Allegheny tennis team was handed a 6-0 defeat in their first match of the season by the strong Westminster team, on Saturday, at New Wilmington. Evans was the only Alleghenian able to capture a set. The Allegheny team was forced to play without the services of three of their men: Piper, Dale, and McClurg. McClurg, who is laid up with a sprained ankle, may also be absent from the Grove City match today. The Blue and Gold racquetters were also greatly handicapped by lack of practice.

The matches scheduled for Thursday and Friday, with Thiel and Tech respectively, were postponed on account of inclement weather conditions. They will probably be played at a later date.

Although the College tournament had not been completed, it had advanced to the semi-finals which was far enough to permit the choosing of a team. The four semi-finalists are Mook, Bair, McClurg, and Piper.

The results of the Westminster match are as follows: Cummings defeated Pratt 6-0, 6-1; Osbourne defeated Bair 6-2, 6-3; McFait defeated Mook 6-3, 6-0; Crowe defeated Evans 4-6, 6-3, 6-3. In the doubles, Pratt and Bair were defeated by Osbourne and McFait 6-2, 6-1; Mook and Weyand were defeated by Cummings and Wilkinson 6-2, 6-1.

ALLEGHENY TO MEET ROCHESTER MAY 17

Only Home Track Tourney of Season Expected to Show Close Competition

Allegheny students will get their first and only glimpse of the Varsity track team in action this season when the University of Rochester squad appears on Montgomery Field, Saturday, for a dual meet with Coach C. E. Hammett's proteges.

The Rochester meet is undoubtedly the stiffest one on the Varsity track schedule this season. The New Yorkers are coming here with a fine team and one that is expected to be even stronger than the one that represented their University in 1923. Last spring, Rochester gave Allegheny the hardest dual meet in a decade, and it was not until the last event on the program that the Varsity was sure of its narrow-margined victory. One point was the difference between the scores of the two teams at the end of this meet.

Allegheny demonstrated that it had a well balanced squad when it met Tech at Pittsburgh. The Tartans won by a three point margin, but the showing that Coach Hammett's men made was more than satisfactory. The team exhibited unusual strength in the field events, and the runners all did as well as could be expected. While the Coach will not venture a prediction as to the outcome of the Rochester meet, nevertheless it is believed that if Allegheny can do as well against their visitors as they did against Tech, the chances for a win for the Blue and Gold are good.

Realizing the quality of their opposition, the Allegheny cinder path men have been practicing faithfully for the coming tilt with the New Yorkers. Coach Hammett is doing his best to develop a strong team.

AN OPPORTUNITY OF VALUE

One of the several advantages of a college education is the opportunity to hear men of note, who are brought to the campus from time to time. In bringing William Wadsworth Ellsworth before the student body, the College is giving to the undergraduate something which he could not receive except at considerable expense and inconvenience in ordinary life: the privilege of listening to one of the really distinguished publishers of the country.

Mr. Wadsworth comes to Allegheny through the Sturtevant Foundation, a fund provided for bringing eminent speakers to the College. He is a man of authority and experience. If the student at present fails to realize the opportunity offered him in this instance, when graduate days have come and true values have assumed their proper place over the superficial ones, he will realize what has been missed. But any future retrospection need only be happy, for the chapel is open to every student to hear Mr. Ellsworth today and tomorrow.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH OUR CHAPEL?

As periodic as the "Allegheny needs more college spirit" and "We have too many clubs" outbursts comes the equally ubiquitous one of "What's wrong with our Chapel?" Just as periodic are the solutions offered. In spite of them, our Allegheny, our clubs, and our Chapel remain unsolved.

The first of this formidable trine have wandered in and out this column, majestic and crestfallen. To neglect the third would be inequitable and iniquitous. Therefore:

"Lolly-Pops or Eye-Props?"

Chapel is a sad failure—as a place for entertainment. It never has a good number on the entire program. If there is any amusement, it must result from the ingenious students and faculty members themselves. At best, it cannot be anything more exciting than the aquatic sport of drowning out the speaker by chatter, chuckles, and shuffles. Until the college authorities (another straw to be borne by those handy and scape-goat words) see fit to feature "Cal, the Californian" six reels, "Majah, the Magician" performances, and some other attractions of de luxe, lolly-pops, apropos appeasers, remain the only panacea for our comatose Chapel.

HOSPITALITY

The one thing, more than anything else, that students can do to gain warm friends for Allegheny is to be hospitable and gracious in their entertainment of visitors to the College. The impression that high school students anticipating college, or alumni looking back to their own undergraduate days, gain of Allegheny depends in large measure upon the way in which the students treat them. A single impatient answer to a stranger's query may turn from the gates of this institution a man who might have been the leading student four years hence, while a cordial "Hello" might mean that some well-to-do philanthropist will write the College in his will for a bequest of fifty thousand dollars. Besides this, a habit of being friendly to everyone yields immeasurable inward satisfaction. Hospitality, like honesty, is the best policy.

A FLAG SHOULD WAVE ABOVE BENTLEY

An American flag should wave from the top of Bentley. Towering above the campus and visible from many parts of the city, this old colonial monument stands as a landmark of American life. Allegheny is more than a little community tucked away on a hill and circumscribed by its campus boundaries. It is an American college contributing in a very large way to national leadership and progress, an institution which sends men and women into all parts of our country to live and foster the spirit of Americanism.

Allegheny is not lacking in patriotism. What of the staunch citizens she has produced? What of the memorable war record her sons have made? But Allegheny has been careless in showing her colors. The flag of our country should be unfurled high above our campus.

OXFORD CLUB

The Thoburn Chapter of the Oxford Club of America held election of officers at their meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. room in Cochran Hall at 6:45 last Thursday evening. The officers chosen for the next term are: President, Robert W. Leeper; Vice-President, Lee E. Schaeffer; Secretary, Rowland O. Barber; Treasurer; Carl G. Steward.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, an open forum or round table discussion was held on the subject "Pacifism."

New Books on Our Shelf

"The center of Europe, prior to the attempt of the male members of the Hohenzollern family to corner the world and kick it brutally in the face, was occupied by the large and fretful combination of peoples known as the Austro-Hungarian Empire." This is the first sentence which attracts the eye of the reader to Kenneth L. Roberts' "Why Europe Leaves Home." Having read this, the reader will read on, and herein lies the popularity of Roberts' writing. It is fascinating and most readable. He is a journalist and has in full measure all those qualities which that profession can command to fascinate a reader: force, accuracy, clarity, and directness. Then, Roberts has a special knack of injecting humor adroitly; his very opening sentence bears this proof.

"Why Europe Leaves Home" is particularly worthwhile during these days of doubt over our European friends. Worthwhile because it is authentic. Authentic because he has gathered his information first-hand and depropagandized it. It is more than easy-chair opinion; it represents a thoroughgoing and intelligent investigation.

FRENCH PLAY

part of the vain and greedy cabaret keeper and was very effective as the tyrannical father, especially in his portrayal of anger. Madame Rousset, played by Miss Helen Bowman, was the typical drudging, subservient, peasant woman, patient with her daughter's superior attitude, except for one exasperated outburst of disgust for Blanchette's rebellion.

In the role of M. Galoux, the wealthy and influential neighbor of the Roussets, A. Boyd Miller depicted well the dignity and calm conservatism of the well-to-do Frenchman. The part of his daughter, Lucie, the bosom friend and schoolmate of Blanchette was played with sympathy by Miss Elinor Van Scoten.

The role of Pere Morillon, a farmer, was taken by Charles E. Hammet who exemplified well the rather stupid peasant. The impulsive and rather bashful love-making of his son, Auguste, who eventually married Blanchette, was cleverly acted by John M. Pratt. The only wholly comic part in the play was that of the road mender, Bonenfant, played by William Reichert.

E. Alexander Hill took the part of Georges Galoux, the brother of Lucie, and G. Alfred Palmer, and Edwin J. Schruers, appeared respectively as mailman and deliveryman.

The fact that this difficult play was so successfully presented gives evidence of the ability of Dr. J. L. Russo who coached the cast. It has been under his direction that really good French plays have been produced with a high standard of dramatic excellence at Allegheny.

The general atmosphere of the production was greatly enhanced by the lighting effects arranged by George L. Reid.

Campus Filings

1920.

Duzer Du presented "It Pays to Advertise" as its annual production. Many critics agreed that it was the best piece of work done by the club since its founding.

The astronomy class, under the direction of Dr. Ling, held an open house for the student body in the observatory. The guests were entertained with telescopic views of the planets.

Due chiefly to lack of training, the track team lost a closely contested meet to Geneva, 66 to 64.

Allegheny lost the first track meet of the year to Carnegie Tech. The score was 55 to 41. The team won only two firsts—the hurdles and the pole vault.

Shakespeare Week was observed in Meadville. Members of the faculty and student body assisted in several entertainments in honor of the great play writer.

The campaign for a half million dollar addition to the endowment fund of the College closed successfully. It was largely through the efforts of President Crawford that success was achieved. Many of the well known alumni contributed generous sums, while much of the balance was secured by popular subscription in the nearby towns and cities. The addition to the fund raises Allegheny to fifteenth place among the colleges of the country in regard to the size of endowments.

Plans were announced for the annual intercollegiate oratorical contest to be held in Ford Chapel. The winner of the state contests in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Indiana, North Carolina, and New York were to compete for prizes of $100 and $75.

The debating team, composed of Messrs. Sherwin, Fixel, and Sudger, defeated W. & J. at Washington. All of the fraternities sent telegrams of encouragement before the debate.

A Pan-Hellenic dinner was held in Cambridge Springs. According to the account, it was a "fairly clean affair."

The College was expectantly awaiting the big tri-state oratorical contest which was to be held in Ford Chapel. All the colleges in the district were to be represented.

Open Forum

To the Editor:

In a recent number of the Campus the editor suggested the publication of a memorial volume of the Great War, "containing biographical and historical sketches and records as related to Allegheny." The editor's idea was to make this volume a sequel to "A Century of Education," a book that now needs to be supplemented to bring it up to date. This suggestion is a good one; honor is due the sons and daughters of the institution who made a sacrifice for their country, especially those who made the supreme sacrifice.

The data for such a publication could be obtained quite readily from the alumni themselves and from the historians of each war organization, as complete records of the various units were required and were filed with the War Department. These records would furnish interesting material, and confirm our belief in the valor and loyalty of the graduates of Old Allegheny.

If the above plan is not feasible—and I believe it is—then I would suggest the erection on the campus of a memorial tablet on which would be placed the names of the alumni and students of the college who served their government during the war. Such a tablet would be a fitting companion to the War Boulder placed on the campus in 1915, and would be in line with memorials erected by many of our colleges in honor of their service men and women.

Signed,
C. W. W. ELKIN, M. D., '09.

Yellow Cab

QUICK RELIEF

When you're late for the train,
When you're caught in the rain,
When your troubles are making you
moan;
When the whole world seems blue,
When your friends leave you, too,
Get a YELLOW CAB by 'phone.

When you're out late at night,
When the walking's a fright,
There's one thing you always can rely on;
Though the prospects seem bad,
Quick relief may be had—
Just call up a YELLOW CAB.

THE POSEY SHOPERIE ACADEMY HIGH WINS
IN INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET*East High of Erie Draws Second—Beaver Falls Third—Five Records Broken

With a well-balanced team and a number of flashy individual performers, Academy High School of Erie, repeated its accomplishment of last year and won the Allegheny Interscholastic Track Meet for the second consecutive time. This, the Ninth Annual Meet, was run off before a crowd of about a thousand people, all enthusiastically cheering their favorites. The weather could not have been improved upon, and the condition of the track made good records possible. In the course of the strenuous competition, five old records were broken. The winners were hard pressed by their neighbors from Erie East High, and by Beaver Falls, which schools finished second and third, respectively, in the scoring column.

Following the preliminary heats in the high hurdles, the mile run, one of the prettiest races of the afternoon, was begun. Haskins of Corry, generally picked to win, started badly, but was soon in the van, where he remained until Devereaux of East High raced him for the honors on the home stretch and won out by about four yards. This same runner won the half-mile, beating a good field.

The first record to fall was the one in the 120-yard high hurdles. R. Bowen, of East High, won his heat in 16.2 seconds, shattering the old record by a second and a fifth. In the finals of this event, Bowen won in the time of 17.9 seconds. The low hurdles went to Owens of Academy High. The heats of the hurdle races were marked by numerous falls, none of them serious, however. Bowen, East High, led his heat in the 220 hurdles till a fall forced him out and possibly deprived him of the high point scorer's trophy.

Douds, another Academy runner, shattered the record in the 600 yard novice race by less than a second. Flick, of Academy, ran a beautiful 440, setting up a new mark of 52 seconds flat, exceptionally fast time. The century heats and finals were hotly contested and upsets in the dope occurred. Hausman, Academy star, was completely shut out of the finals, and R. Bowen, of East High, was forced to concede first place to Eckert of Franklin. The time was 10.1-5 seconds. The 220, run in heats, semi-finals and finals, was won by Hausman, who surprised by defeating both Bowen and Eckert in a great race.

Two records fell in the field events. Merriman, of Beaver Falls, threw the discus 115 feet, winning the event. After pole-vaulting all afternoon, T. Bowen, of East High, Tuuri, of Ashtabula Harbor, and Klepfer, of Youngstown South, all cleared the bar at the record breaking height of 10 feet 6 1/2 inches, and each missed in their attempt to go higher. The high jump was won by Wellendorf, of Youngstown South High, who went over at 5 feet 7 inches. Merriman, of Beaver Falls, took his second first place when he put the 12-lb. shot 42 feet 5 inches. Robbins, of Beaver Falls, took first in the broad jump when he leaped 19 feet, 9 inches.

Merriman, of Beaver Falls, copped high individual scoring honors, with two firsts and a third, giving him twelve points. He was followed closely by Bowen, East High, who took a first and two seconds, getting eleven points. Devereaux, of East High, was third with ten points. Academy's total was 31 points. East had 28.1-3, Beaver Falls 23, Youngstown South 17.1-3, Ashtabula Harbor 10.1-3. Eight schools divided the remaining points, only one school, Jamestown, N. Y., failing to score. The total number of athletes competing numbered over 150.
