June 14, 1928.

Miss Ida Tarbell,
132 E. 19th St.,
New York City.

Dear Miss Tarbell:

The enclosed presentation of the value of the delegalization of war made effective through the multilateral treaty, as an aid to the establishment and permanence of peace between the nations, has received the signed approval of the governors and former governors of important states, former cabinet members, major generals commanding American forces in the late war, university presidents, eminent religious leaders, statesmen and leaders in the political, financial and business world who have already endorsed it. It will be presented to Secretary Kellogg by Major General Henry T. Allen and Bishop McDowell.

Its supporters desiring to give the largest possible weight to the approval, would much appreciate your consent to add the influence of your name among those who are signatory to the approving note attached to it.

This is a letter of such importance to the large interests of our race, as to deserve the earnest support of every man of large influence. We hope you will aid it by attaching your name to the form of consent at the foot of this letter and mail it to this committee.

If for any reason you cannot comply with this request, may we ask that you write your personal letter to Secretary Kellogg in favor of making the treaty the actual delegalization of war?

Yours very truly
George Gordon Battle
Secretary

CONSENT TO USE OF NAME

To Committee on Educational Publicity:

I hereby consent to the use of my name among many others as signatory to the note of approval of Samuel Colcord's letter to the Hon. Frank B. Kellogg, Secretary of State, which is attached to the copy of said letter received from you.
