WAKEFIELD ORATION CONTEST TO BE CONDUCTED UNDER REVISED RULES DECEMBER 3

The Wakefield Oration Contest will be held Thursday, December 3, under the revised rules formulated by the Committee on Debate and Oratory last year. The contest is open to the men of the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes.

The first prize of $40 was awarded last year to Howard Plate for his oration, "News Stand Brains." A $15 second prize was won by James B. Hamilton for his speech on "The Road's End." William E. Roos won the third prize of $10 for his oration, "Fortune's Inequalities."

Only six persons will be permitted to enter the contest. If more than this number of men submit orations, the Committee on Debate and Oratory will choose the six who will be allowed to participate in the contest. The orations are to be original works containing not more than 1800 words.

From among the three prize winners, the committee is to select for competition at the National Intercollegiate Forensic Meet the man who by May has developed the best speech. This national contest will be held this year at Allegheny.

Each contestant must hand in three typed copies of his oration to the committee on Debate and Oratory not later than Wednesday, November 25. The rules for this year follow:

1. The Wakefield Oration Contest will be held on Thursday evening, December 3, 1931.

2. The contest is open to the men of the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes.

3. A winner of a previous contest is not, for that reason, debarred from competing again.

4. The orations are to be original work of the students entering the contest.

5. No oration should exceed 1,800 words in length.

6. Three typed copies of each oration should be in the hands of the Committee on Debate and Oratory not later than Wednesday, November 25.

7. If more than six orations are submitted, the Committee reserves the right to eliminate all but six. The basis of choice is to be the quality of the written oration.

8. A first prize of $40.00 will be awarded the winner of the Contest; a second prize of $15.00 will be awarded the contestant giving the second best oration; a third prize of $10.00 will be awarded the third best oration.

9. The Debate and Oratory Committee will choose Allegheny's representative in the Civic Oratorical Contest from one of the first three orations. This choice will depend upon which of the three prize winners has developed the best oration by the time of the intercollegiate contest which is held in May at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa.

Phi Delta Theta Will Entertain Convention Here

Extensive preparations are already under way among the members of the local chapter of Phi Delta Theta for the fraternity's annual Tri-Province Convention, which meets this year in Meadville. The first week-end after Thanksgiving Recess was selected as a suitable date, and visiting delegates will be entertained at the chapter house on December 4, 5 and 6.

The chief social function in honor of the conference will be a banquet and dance held on Saturday, December 5. The celebration will serve, with such additional arrangements as the presence of so many guests will necessitate, as the Phi Delta Theta Fall Party. Committees are at work on further details of the three-day assembly.

The Tri-Province Convention embraces representatives from a dozen chapters of the fraternity, all from Pennsylvania except two: West Virginia Alpha and Maryland Alpha. The groups in this state are:

Pennsylvania Alpha, at Lafayette College; Pennsylvania Beta, at Gettysburg College; Pennsylvania Gamma, at Washington & Jefferson College; Pennsylvania Delta, at Allegheny College; Pennsylvania Epsilon, at Dickinson College; Pennsylvania Zeta, at the University of Pennsylvania; Pennsylvania Eta, at Lehigh University; Pennsylvania Theta, at Pennsylvania State College; Pennsylvania Iota, at the University of Pittsburgh; and Pennsylvania Kappa, at Swarthmore College.

While the president of the sophomore class at M. I. T. was in the dining hall, the freshman class surrounded the building, captured the sophomore president, and threw him in a nearby lake.

Press Misinterprets Allegheny's Refusal to Schedule Games

Despite the numerous articles that have appeared in the Tri-State district newspapers on the additions to Allegheny's athletic policy, Dr. H. W. Church, chairman of the faculty committee on athletics, announces that the program is the same as when it was formulated last Spring.

Several weeks ago the managers of the neighboring college football teams wrote to Allegheny officials in hopes of scheduling games for next season. Immediately the report was sent back that the amateur policy would be followed explicitly and that none but non-subsidizing colleges would be included on next year's card. Then sports editors of all the papers announced that Allegheny had formulated a new athletic policy when in reality it is merely adhering to the plans of last year against the fears of former rivals.

Dr. Church announces that unusual progress may be reported for next year and that an excellent schedule is in progress of arrangement. The complete card will probably be announced in an early edition of The Campus.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SPONSORS SOCIAL

The College Epworth League sponsored a musical and social on Thursday evening, October fifteenth at 8 P. M., at the home of Virginia Charlton, 204 Spring Street. Entertainment consisted of a cornet solo by Grace Lemon and readings by Grace Bunner. Tom Mansell, Ernest Rossell and Dave Whitsett sang, and a quartette composed of Charles Hartung, Arthur Crawford, Paul Teamon and Tom Mansell and a girls' trio with Florence Green, Lois Gardner and Winifred Ober, accompanied by Grace Greer, were among the entertainers. A social hour followed the program.

FRESHMEN DEBATERS IN ORGANIZATION MEETING

Delta Sigma Rho held an informal meeting of all men interested in freshman debating at the Phi Delta Theta house last Friday. Those who attended were: Jeral Angove, Richard Bail, Charles Bartberger, Donald Bortz, John Corcoran, Clair Cowles, Rodney DeVore, Earl Green, Homer Kuney, Victor Lucatorti, Wesley Miller, Norman Olson, and Harold Rowe. Paul Cares, freshman coach, presided at the meeting.

Prof. H. R. Anderson briefly outlined the debating policy of the College for the coming year. From those who try out for the debating team, a group of about ten men will be selected to constitute a freshman squad. The team will be chosen from this squad at a later date. The freshmen will use the same question as the varsity team—"Resolved: that capitalism as a system of economic organization is unsound in principle."

No arrangements with other schools have been made as yet, but it is expected that the freshman group will engage in a dual meet with the frosh team of a near-by college. The contest will probably take place in January or February of next year.

The benefits of participation in college debating were discussed by Dr. Swartley. He showed how debating, more than any other subject, helps to aid the student in the development of logical thinking and sound reasoning. "The appearance in a public debate is also very beneficial to the student who desires to acquire skill in public speaking," said Dr. Swartley in his talk.

Dr. Julian L. Ross concluded the speaking part of the program by commenting on the fun that is derived from college debating. "There is nothing," said Dr. Ross, "that is more fascinating and that gives more pleasure than playing with ideas."

Tryouts for positions on the squad were held last night in the Chapel. Each man spoke for three minutes on any subject which he desired. The results will be published in the next issue of The Campus.

WOMEN'S SPEAKING CONTEST OCTOBER 23

Women to Compete for Delta Sigma Rho Cup for Second Time

The sororities and the non-sorority group have chosen their representatives to compete in the Intersorority Extemporaneous Speaking Contest. This contest is sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho, and will be held on Friday, October 23. The representatives are as follows: Jean Holman, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Charlotte Merwin, Kappa Alpha Theta; Dorothy Holsinger, Alpha Chi Omega; Isabel Stamm, Alpha Gamma Delta; Grace Bunner, Alpha Xi Delta; Virginia Slacum, Theta Upsilon; Elinore Page, Delta Alpha Theta; and Edith Fox, Non-Sorority.

Competition in this field of forensics is comparatively new at Allegheny College, for it was innovated in 1930, when the barriers to women's participation were broken down by an action of the national organization of Delta Sigma Rho. In the contest last year, Miss Adele Ely, representing Alpha Chi Omega, carried off the honors. This year Alpha Chi Omega will be striving to obtain a second leg on the cup, as it must be won three years by one chapter before it becomes a permanent possession.

Last year, because of inexperience in public address, the women were allowed twenty minutes longer than the men in which to prepare their speeches. This year, however, no discrimination will be shown, and the women will compete under the same regulations as the men. These rules are as follows:

1. The Delta Sigma Rho Extemporaneous Speaking Contest is open to one representative of each sorority and one representative of the ungrouped women.

2. Any student elected to Delta Sigma Rho, whether initiated or not, is by virtue of such election barred from participation.

3. Previous winners of the contest are barred from participation.

4. A cup will be awarded to the winner of the contest.

5. The speeches shall be three (3) minutes in length.

One hour before the contest begins, each competitor will draw for her place of speaking and for her specific topic. These topics are provided by the faculty members of Delta Sigma Rho, and are all concerned with campus problems. Following the drawing of topics, each contestant will prepare her speech in a room where only writing materials are available. All reading and other research work must be done before the specific topics are announced. As it is practically impossible to make a comprehensive study of the general topic, the talks are quite truly extemporaneous.

Publications Board Votes to Authorize $1.50 Subscriptions

A meeting of the Publications Board was held Wednesday, October 14, at which time problems concerning The Campus, The Kaldron, and The Literary Magazine were discussed.

The question of Campus subscriptions was one of the main problems under discussion. Since the former custom of furnishing The Campus free of charge to all alumni had been discontinued, the Circulation Manager was instructed to write to all alumni in order to obtain their subscriptions. The price is $1.50 per year and $2.00 for foreign subscriptions.

The amateur policy and the method of getting competitors for the publications were also discussed by those who attended the meeting. It was decided, since no definite policy had been announced by the president, that this matter should be laid aside until such an announcement was made.

The members of the Board decided to continue the sending of The Campus to other schools and the sending of certain complimentary copies. The General Manager was authorized to purchase silver and gold keys which will be awarded at a future chapel service to men working for the publications.

The contract for the printing of The Campus and The Literary Magazine was renewed with the Fred O. & M. M. Dean Printing Co. There was some controversy concerning the expenses of The Kaldron, but it was finally decided to hold this matter over to a later meeting.

Article from West Chester Daily News: "The first Haverford haircut made its appearance in this borough. It makes the wearer look like a German soldier, an escaped convict, a Russian moujik, or a sufferer from the mange."

At the University of Maryland measures are being taken to reduce class cuts. Students are fined $3.00 every time they cut a class.

PSYCHOLOGY DEP'T ATTENDS MEETINGS

Conferences in Warren and Harrisburg Draw Attention of Students and Faculty

Students and faculty members in the department of Psychology and Education spent a busy week-end attending various meetings in Warren and Harrisburg.

Friday and Saturday, October 16 and 17, Dr. Henke represented Allegheny College at the meeting of the Northwestern District of the Pennsylvania State Education Association held in Warren, Pa. Dr. Henke attended the Kappa Phi Kappa dinner Friday evening, where he heard Superintendent P. D. Blair, of Meadville, and Dr. J. Herbert Kelley, Executive-Secretary of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, who was the principal speaker.

At the same time Dr. Buckingham was representing the college at a meeting of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching held at Harrisburg, Pa., in a project involving more than forty-nine colleges in this state.

Saturday at noon Dr. Henke met Dr. Buckingham and a group of advanced psychology students, consisting of the Misses Bortz, Feazel, and Nelson, and the Messrs. Johnson and Hartman.

This group proceeded to the Warren State Hospital for a tour of inspection under the guidance of Dr. Eaton, pathologist at the institution. The first buildings visited were those devoted to Occupational Therapy. The men are occupied particularly with woodworking, painting, rug-making, and tailoring. The women make rugs and prepare linen for the hospital. There is an attempt made to have those that are mentally depressed work with bright colors and those that are neurotic and over-active work with the more somber colors. At the pathological laboratory Dr. Eaton displayed and explained specimen brains removed from patients who had suffered from particular mental disorders. Then the wards were inspected and different types of insanity and mental derangement were observed. Some of the individuals were of particular interest. One very pleasant old lady insists she is the Empress of Russia, Austria, and Germany. The Stone building was the last unit visited. This is the newest building of the group and contains the bulk of their most valuable equipment. It has a modern operating room, an excellent X-ray machine with which one can see his own bones, a fever producing machine, etc. Dr. Eaton ended the afternoon's activities with a motion picture he had taken of the equipment and methods used at the Hospital. All of the members of the group had a most interesting time and are extremely thankful to Dr. Eaton for giving them an unforgetable experience at the expense of his own time.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA PLANS INITIATIONS

Plans for initiation of new members were made at an important meeting of Alpha Chi Sigma, professional chemical fraternity, which was held in Carnegie Hall on Tuesday, October 13. New members are to be initiated on Tuesday, November 10, followed by an initiation banquet on November 17. New members, however, will not be chosen until sometime within the next few weeks.

The list of Alpha Chi Sigma officials is headed by James Vensel president. Hasson Rockey is filling the post of vice-president, while Homer Moody serves in the capacity of treasurer. The secretary is Harold Sankey, and the reporter is Thomas Lawry. George Johnson is master of ceremonies, and Mr. Harley Morris is alumni secretary.

Alpha Chi Sigma has forty-six active chapters. The chapter at Allegheny was founded in 1915, and the first chapter was started in 1902 at the University of Wisconsin.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA MET LAST WEDNESDAY

"Securing Teaching Positions" was the subject of an open forum conducted by Professors Henke and Buckingham at last Wednesday's meeting of Kappa Phi Kappa, professional educational fraternity, held at the Beta Kappa house.

New members were discussed, and it was decided that the next meeting will be in the form of an initiation. This meeting will be at Ruter Hall on Wednesday, October 28. The list of new members is not yet available for publication.

Norman Ish, Harold Aikins, and Thomas Knorr were appointed as a committee to make arrangements for holding a banquet in November. Negotiations are now under way for securing a prominent speaker for the occasion.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL TAKES ACTION ON SEVERAL OUTSTANDING QUESTIONS

The meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Council was held at the Beta Upsilon house, with Hasson Rockey, senior member from this fraternity, presiding. Several business matters were discussed and acted upon.

It was agreed that no more favors should be given at the Spring or Fall parties, this ruling to go in effect at the beginning of next semester.

A motion was passed that a $10 tax, for running expenses of the Inter-Fraternity Council, be levied on each fraternity.

An amendment was proposed whereby each fraternity, to seat its representatives, must deposit $100 with the treasurer, the interest on this deposit to be payable to the fraternity at 3% or more, if earned. This deposit or any portion thereof will be forfeited if any fine imposed is not paid within thirty days. If the fine is not paid within the period of one year, the full $100 will be forfeited. Failure to maintain the deposit will automatically unseat a representative.

To go into effect, this amendment must be approved by three-fourths of the fraternities by a simple majority vote.

It is hoped that with the $10 tax for running expenses and the $100 bond, the Council will be strengthened and better able to fulfill its purpose.

Dr. and Mrs. Ling Feted by Faculty on 25th Anniversary

Seventy members of the Allegheny College faculty and their wives honored Dr. and Mrs. Ling with a dinner in Cochran Hall on Monday evening, October 19, celebrating their twenty-five years of service to Allegheny College.

President Tolley, as toastmaster, read messages of congratulations from President-Emeritus William H. Crawford, and from the fraternities on the hill, all expressing appreciation of what the Lings had meant to the life of the college.

Mrs. Church sang a group of three charming French songs, accompanied on the piano by Dr. Church, after which Dr. Stanley S. Swartley was introduced as the speaker of the evening. Because of long and intimate acquaintance, the speaker was able to convey the congratulations of the group in words of sincere admiration surcharged with warm personal regard. He contrasted the Allegheny of today with the college of a quarter-century ago, when Dr. and Mrs. Ling arrived, and spoke of the hundreds of students who, during these years, have felt the influence of their lives. Telegrams of congratulation from some of Dr. Ling's former students who have attained distinction in the field of physics were read and, as a fitting climax, a handsome watch was presented to Dr. Ling on behalf of the faculty.

Mrs. Beiler was next introduced to express the greetings of the faculty to Mrs. Ling, and to present her with twenty-five roses in token of her 25 years of gracious living at Allegheny.

This memorable occasion was rendered more happy for the honored guests by the presence of their only son, Mr. Ernest Ling, Allegheny '16, of Corning, New York.

DELTA SIGMA RHO ELECTS MEMBERS

Three new members to Delta Sigma Rho were chosen at a meeting held a short time ago. Harry Thomson, Martha Fell, and Clare Skinner were the students selected. Choice of the new members was made on the basis of the general requirement that initiates must have participated in an intercollegiate debate and have shown an active interest in debate work. Initiation will occur within the next few weeks.

Delta Sigma Rho has an interesting history. The original chapter was founded at the University of Chicago in 1906. Some years later, in 1915, the Allegheny chapter was begun. There are sixty active chapters at the present time.

Co-eds at Northwestern were advised by one of their profs to take up pipe smoking in place of cigarettes.

College to Continue to Send Speakers to Surrounding Towns

Sometime in the near future a folder will be sent to various institutions of Meadville and surrounding towns, in an effort to procure a schedule of extension debates for the "Allegheny Speakers." This folder will tell who the "Allegheny Speakers" are; what they are studying; and the questions on which they will debate.

"The Allegheny Speakers" are a group of Allegheny's most able students who are trained to debate current questions before public groups of all kinds.

Last year their schedule took them to such towns as Titusville, Warren, New Castle, Cambridge Springs, Mercer, Oil City, Franklin, Youngstown, Corry, and Meadville, where they debated for various Rotary and Kiwanis groups, and for high schools and churches.

This year, by sending out their folder the "Speakers" intend to procure a similar schedule, and in preparation for the engagements which they are confident of getting, they are studying, under faculty supervision, such topics as Soup Kitchens, Bread Lines, Hungry Children, Overproduction, Food Rotting, Bank Failure, Riots, Unemployment, and Depressing Poverty, in their relation to "Our Capitalistic System." They will debate on the following two subjects:

1. Resolved: that capitalism as a system of economic organization is unsound in principle.

2. Resolved: that the states should adopt a system of compulsory unemployment insurance.

Harmon H. Gilbert is going to direct this extension work.

Professor H. R. Anderson, instructor in English Language and Debate, is at present organizing an intercollegiate schedule which promises to give plenty of work and competition to our local debaters.

QUILL CLUB WILL SPONSOR BOOK CLUB

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of Quill Club, it was decided to continue the organization's customary sponsorship of the "Quill Club Book Club." An active campaign for members is now under way, with a promising response reported.

The Book Club is open to all students upon the payment of a small fee. The total of these charges for fifty or sixty members is, however, sufficient to permit the purchase at wholesale prices of perhaps seventy of the latest books, carefully selected by members of the faculty. Specific requests of members are also urged. Those in the Club are entitled to read any of the books thus secured.

STUDENT PLAYSHOP IS BUSY WITH SHAW PLAY

The Student Playshop is hard at work at the present time in an effort to have "Arms and the Man" ready for presentation about the middle of November. A tentative cast has been selected and daily rehearsals are being conducted. The following is the cast that has been chosen, although Miss Spalding has intimated that there may be some changes before the end of the week:

Raina	Jane Blair
Katherine	Jean Holman
Louka	Virginia Slacum
Nicola	Louis Haberman
Bluntschli	Earl Kohn
Petkoff	L. Bramer Carlson
Sergius	Jack Fallon

The role of a police officer remains to be cast. This selection will probably be made within the next week, and the cast will be complete.

A production staff has been appointed, and is now engaged in the construction of the sets. Mr. Harry Hill will act in the capacity of Production Manager, and Mr. Donald Clark is designing the sets. The Misses Ruth Staples and Rosanna Riordan have been appointed Assistants to the Director. Model sets have been built for each of the scenes, and the construction of the actual sets is under way. An unusual amount of effort and ability has been brought out already this year, especially along the lines of production, and should this interest increase proportionately as time progresses, Allegheny's Student Playshop will rank extremely high among similar organizations in the collegiate world.

AN ABSURDITY

An incident occurred within the past few days which brought to light rather forcefully the absurdity of most of the rules which govern the women students of Allegheny College. It has never been the policy of The Campus to meddle in the governmental affairs of the women of the College, but when something so ridiculously foolish as that which has just occurred presents itself The Campus cannot help but call it to the attention of the student body and the faculty.

Two young ladies, both members of the Freshman class, attended church services last Sunday morning. At the conclusion of the services they began their walk up the hill and during this process were met by two college men, also members of the Freshman Class, who accompanied them the remainder of the way to the College campus. Anything wrong with the story so far? For this outrageous and unseemly conduct both young ladies were "campused" for a period of two weeks.

This penalty was probably within the rules and powers of the governing body, but it is just there that the absurdity makes itself manifest. The Campus fully recognizes the necessity of having stringent regulations governing the conduct of women students, but it also calls upon anyone to justify the infliction of penalties for an "offense" such as that mentioned above.

ALLEGHENY'S BIG CHANCE

For the second year in a row, Allegheny College has been represented by a football team that has drawn attention from sports writers throughout the district. This year, we firmly believe, we have a group of players that exceed any for the last several years. With four glorious victories recorded, every student and player is looking forward eagerly to a season unmarred by any defeat.

There should be no doubt that this feat can be achieved. It is true that our hardest games are yet to come, but when one views the smooth working of the Allegheny eleven, he is contented that every other opponent will meet a fate similar to that of Westminster, Thiel, and others.

Now we know how trite and well-worn are editorials on the much used "School Spirit," but we feel that some plea is necessary if our team is to function at its best. And furthermore it is well known that the spirit at Allegheny has suffered a serious malady in the past two years. Whose fault it is, we do not know, but we do feel that after the splendid showing made at the Homecoming game the cheerleaders are more than willing to do their share in reviving that famous "pep" of years ago.

If the students evidence more than a passing interest in the success of the Alligators, then our battle is won. If the students talk more about the games and assure the players that they are behind the team to a man, our problem is solved. Why shouldn't you be interested? You gain considerable satisfaction out of a victory, your college is being advertised in an unsurpassed manner, and you can feel that Allegheny is excelling over other colleges in every department. There is an opportunity for Allegheny to be crowned the champions of the Tri-State district. We must do our share in helping the team realize its ideal of years past. It will be a long time before Allegheny can send a team like this one out on the field again. This is our big chance if we ever had one.

TO DR. LING

On Monday the college faculty paid tribute to one of their best-loved associates, Dr. Ling, in a celebration in honor of his twenty-fifth year at Allegheny. In behalf of the undergraduates, we, too, extend our congratulations to our respected advisor and friend.

THE SCRUBBING BRUSH

We were overwhelmed by our public's comment last Wednesday, which is much better than being overwhelmed by our public. One coy young Hulingsite, upon delving into our literary feast for the intelligentsia, is said to have hissed, in her best staccato, "And they executed commands!"

* * *

Talk about overwhelming, the inauguration of our new president was just that. It made the Grand Canyon just another big impression in comparison.

* * *

Say, those new booths in the library are going to be a fine place to take our studies. Or is it steadies?

* * *

Chapel attendance seems to be dropping off this year. But remember last spring when the whole shelf nearly dropped off?

* * *

We are all in school. I presume, so that some day we may sit in ... seat of the learned. But if it is to be anything like those seats in the chapel semi-circle, no, thanks. It is bad enough to be the head of a department, and lose sleep on that account, let alone being forced to try to get one's extra winks in those straight-jacket benches. I guess that the poor Docs will just have to suffer, that's all. Too bad, fellows. You can't flunk out a prexy.

* * *

I think that the attraction above the stage in chapel had best be removed or some one of the profs will be catching a piece of plaster in his mouth while watching it during the exercises.

* * *

Truth is stranger than what one's fraternity brothers will tell him. Hotononoschcorthologas—or something like that—is a play by Fielding. If you don't believe me, ask Doc. Schultz. He's good on throwing light on the subject. Especially the dancing subjects.

CAMPUS CLIPPINGS

Robbers invaded the fraternity houses at Carnegie Tech, taking about three hundred dollars in cash and personal effects. The houses entered were: Theta Xi, Delta Upsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Kappa Delta Rho.

Sixty former college athletic heroes are now presidents of colleges and universities in the United States.

At Akron University an official "blood squad" is organized, students on the squad being available as donors in blood transfusions.

Sir James Irvine, vice-chancellor of St. Andrew's University in Scotland, says that men do not begin to think until they are twenty-four years old at least, and usually not until they are twenty-eight.

According to an estimate just made by the Department of Education in the National Catholic Welfare Conference, there are 114,000 students in 167 Catholic Colleges in the United States.

Pennsylvania Delta chapter of Theta Kappa Nu has been suspended by Pitt officials because of its unsatisfactory financial condition. Jimmy Rooney, Luby DeMeolo, and Ed Schultz are former members.

Plans for the creating of a "university city" for housing students developed by the regents of the University of Michigan were turned down by the last legislature because of a "lobby" of rooming-house owners.

It is great to see the football men crash through for the alumni. It would be greater still to see the alumni crash through for the football team.

Allegheny in Athletics

ALLIGATORS SHOW POWER IN DEFEATING THIEL; 20-0

Ending a football relationship that dates back into the dark ages of the gridiron sport, a powerful Allegheny Alligator conquered a fighting Thiel eleven, 20 to 0, last Saturday at Greenville. The field was a veritable sea of mud, and an intermittent downpour of rain made playing conditions anything but desirable.

It was anybody's game in the first quarter; both teams promptly punted when they gained possession of the ball. It was a matter of playing safe and waiting for breaks. But in the second quarter both outfits made serious attempts to get a successful offensive organized. In the middle of that period Berger returned a punt to the Thiel 38 yard line from where he and Garbark advanced the ball to the immediate vicinity of the Thiel goal line. From there Garbark took the mud-laden ball and crashed into a mass of grimy players for Allegheny's first score. Later, however, Thiel came back with a scoring threat of their own and carried the oval inside of the Allegheny 35 yard mark, but the Alligators tightened up and the Greenville boys were stopped.

The Alligators pushed across two more touchdowns before the second half was a few minutes old. The first was made on a forward pass from Berger to Garbark; the second was the result of a series of line plunges with Berger, Garbark and Varano carrying the pigskin. Berger was credited with the touchdown when he drove over the line of scrimmage and across the goal, closing the scoring for the day. With the game rapidly drawing to a close, Thiel made a furious attempt to break through the stauch 'Gator forward wall by steady pounding, and tried to cross up the Allegheny backs by tossing an occasional forward pass, but could not get deep into Allegheny territory.

ADRIAN WILL BE MET HERE THIS SATURDAY

Little Known of Strength of Visiting Michigan Aggregation

This Saturday on Montgomery Field Allegheny's Blue and Gold Alligators will play Adrian. Although there are practically no scores available which could be used to compare the strength of the two teams, there is little doubt as to the outcome of the game.

Last year Allegheny and Adrian clashed for the first time on Montgomery field. The game was a walkaway for Allegheny, the final score being 31-0. During the second half of the game Coach Crum sent in most of the second squad. However, Adrian may present a much stronger team this year, and give the 'Gators a real fight.

At present Allegheny is well on the way to an undefeated season. The 'Gators already have four games under their belt, every game being won with at least a comfortable margin. Two of the games, Thiel and Westminster, were sufficient to show that Allegheny has a winning team. Following Adrian comes that time-honored rival, Grove City. The team will need the wholehearted backing of the student body to come through that game and the games to follow with a clean slate.

Freshman Athletic Schedules Being Arranged for 1932

Notable among the changes attendant upon the obliteration of subsidized athletics at Allegheny College will be a three-year varsity rule which in turn will necessitate the forming of a branch of athletics for Freshmen.

Since all Freshmen will be ineligible for varsity competition, they will devote their time and energy to the various freshman teams, including football, basketball, and track. Schedules with other schools of like standing are now being arranged in these sports, and if the predictions of Coach Way and his staff hold true, the Freshmen are going to be a very important factor in Allegheny's athletic regime next year.

WEATHER INTERFERES WITH WOMEN'S TENNIS

A Tennis Tournament among the girls of Allegheny College has been in progress for about three weeks, but due to bad weather, the first round has not yet been completed. To date, October 21st, the winners are: Agnes Stephens, Dorothy Demmler, Mary Pharmer, Cleo Duffield, Jean Tiffany, Marion Sleeman, and Sara Young. The first round will be finished this week if the weather permits.

A "Cinema Club" has been organized at the University of Southern California for students and alumni interested in the motion picture industry.

THIS AND THAT

Last Saturday Grove City defeated Westminster 14-0. This score does not look very large compared to Allegheny's 39-7 score. There is at least one comparison that gives the 'Gators a distinct advantage.

* * *

Although Geneva was outplayed during most of the game, they came through with the only touchdown of the game to defeat Boston U. 7-0. In the last minutes of the game Geneva started another drive, and were within scoring distance when the final whistle sounded. Sauer, Geneva halfback, made the only touchdown of the game.

* * *

This week's game should give the Blue and Gold a breathing spell. After that little rest will come four of the hardest games of the year. They are Grove City, St. Bonaventure, Geneva, and West Virginia Wesleyan.

Freshmen and Sophs to Wage Bitter Grid Battle November 2nd

For the past four weeks a group of freshmen men have been toiling during their regular gym hours on the practice field behind Arter Hall in order to gain a little knowledge about the rudiments of football, and an equally hard-working group of sophomore men have been doing the same thing for the same period of time. In a little over one week, on November 2 to be exact, all this effort will reach a climax out on Montgomery field when a freshman team and a sophomore team will clash on the gridiron.

Both squads have been receiving a rather intensive training in the fundamentals of the game under the capable supervision of Coach Way and Mr. Daniels, and from now to the eventful day each squad will be drilled in a different system of offensive play. Uniforms are being given out this week to the most promising candidates, which means that they will be given an opportunity to put into practical application all the principles of football which they have been learning.

Chalk talks will also be a regular part of their training and will be held twice each week for each squad separately, for the purpose of learning plays and some of the finer points of football strategy. The sophs held their first session last Monday evening, with around twenty-five men present, and the frosh met the next evening with an attendance of thirty.

There is a great amount of enthusiastic rivalry between the two squads; so the game is sure of drawing practically the entire student body. There may not be very much skill shown in the game, but the fight and determination of the players will more than make up for that deficiency.

While some of the men have been practicing football, another group has been training regularly for the annual Turkey Race, which will take place Friday afternoon. Last year this race was one of the most popular of the intra-mural sports, and it is expected there will be a large crowd to witness the start and finish of the race. Following the custom established last year, the winning fraternity will be given a turkey. The race will be run over a course approximately two miles in length. The race will start promptly at 4 o'clock from Montgomery Field, with the runners covering part of the regular cross country course and returning to finish on Highland Avenue.

WHY LET ANYONE COMMERCIALIZE YOUR THRESHOLD?

The Door Bell rings and you are confronted by the person who states "we don't sell through the stores!". No, and don't pay taxes, rent, insurance, interest, on borrowed money, wages to clerks or cash to anyone in the community, but does a thriving business on the doorsteps of the town, has an article for sale which many merchants can duplicate for less money and then save enough to help local institutions and the poor. In this year of depression, why not stick to standardized established merchants whom you can trust to give you a square deal? College-trained engineers revisit the athletic field

Night photograph of Temple Stadium, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, floodlighted with G-E projectors

ON more than a hundred floodlighted fields, football is being played and practiced in the evening hours, before larger audiences than ever before—with fewer injuries and in better conformity with classroom duties.

This constructive revolution in athletics is largely the work of college-trained engineers—young men personally familiar with the needs of college and school. They are dedicating the technical experience gained in the General Electric Test Department to the practical service of undergraduate athletics—designing and installing floodlighting equipment for virtually every sport—football, baseball, hockey, tennis, and track.

Other college men in the General Electric organization have specialized in street-lighting and floodlighting projects, or in the electrical equipment of industries and mines or of immense power stations; some are designing and applying electric apparatus to propel ocean liners and locomotives. All are engaged in the planning, production, or distribution of G-E products and so are performing a work of national betterment and creating for themselves recognized spheres of personal influence.

CARLSON WINNER IN SPEAKING CONTEST

Phi Delta Theta First to Win Trophy for Second Time.

Drawing as his subject, "What Is the Value of Intra-Mural Athletics?" Bramer Carlson in the Interfraternity Extemporaneous Speaking Contest last Friday won first place for Phi Delta Theta. He presented his subject in a very clear and concise manner, saying in part:

"It is the people outside the colleges —business people, professional people —who have built up the desire for professional sports. They would be satisfied if it were purely commercial; but the presence of college atmosphere, traditions, cheers, banners, add a tingle and sparkle to such as football. Thus these men give their financial support to college men, upholding that they are helping a worthy young man to attain an education. Now, we as a group representing Allegheny maintain that such a policy is malicious. What can the college student do to help tear it down? Intra-mural athletics is a very plausible answer. Within the institution itself we can assist in destroying this commercialism by ignoring the demands of the commercialist. We can establish an athletic policy in our interests, not in theirs, and even leave for them such personalities as Red Grange for their amusement. Thus intramurals will play an important part in destroying an athletic system which must come to an end.

"We come to Allegheny as free people, but we are soon buttoned down and moulded into fraternity men, consequently confining our friendships in a degree to a certain group. Any football man will tell you that the group of athletes because of their activities on Montgomery field have established many unceasing friendships which neither they themselves, nor their fraternity would otherwise have found for them. Athletics have a power to create genuine friendships in a mysterious way. Therefore instead of having only thirty or forty men play football each year, and a fewer number playing basketball, intramurals will give every man in school an opportunity to take an active part in whichever sport he is interested."

In conclusion he summed up the value of intramural athletics under three factors. First, it breaks down the gloating for subsidized athletics; secondly, it fosters a better friendship between fraternities; and lastly, it develops more men physically.

The other speakers in the order of their appearance were as follows:

Charles Shaw, Phi Gamma Delta, on the subject, "Can the Faculty and Students Be Better Friends?" George Johnson, Alpha Chi Rho, on the subject "Is Deferred Rushing Desirable?" Donald Williams, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, on the subject "Is Allegheny a Social Center or a College?" Arthur Crawford, Beta Upsilon, on the subject "The Function of a College Newspaper." Frank Helfrich, Delta Tau Delta, on "The Value of the Interfraternity Council." Jack Worrall, Beta Kappa, on the subject, "What is an Honorary Fraternity Worth?" Paul Teamon, Non-Fraternity, on "What Kind of Student Government Should Allegheny Have?"

The contest was sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity. The rules governing the contest are that each Greek-letter group and the non-fraternity group is limited to one representative, who must not be a member of Delta Sigma Rho. One hour before the contest, each competitor was given his exact topic, all of which were concerned with local campus problems. After one hour's preparation in a room where only writing materials were available, each contestant was permitted to speak for three minutes.

George Washington University uses green examination books to relieve eye strain.

Society

Social events at school were continued at a fast pace by the sororities during the past week. Theta Upsilon and Alpha Xi Delta presented their first chapter parties Friday night, and Kappa Alpha Theta gave their chapter party on Saturday night. Guests were few this week-end as the football game was played away from home.

THETA UPSILON

Eta Chapter of Theta Upsilon held a pledge dance on Friday evening, October 16, in the gymnasium of Hulings Hall, with Professor and Mrs. L. D. McClean as chaperones. Music was furnished by Kress and his Olympians. Guests of the chapter were: the Misses Betty Downe, Tarentum; Winifred Connelly, Ludlow; Vera Dawson, Bakerstown; Clara Shoenfeld, Butler; Dorothy Lose, Tonawanda, N. Y.; Sally Goldsmith, Ruth Bowden, Betty Henry, Peggy Herr, Helen Hopkins, and Georgia Buckham.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Alpha Rho Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta entertained its pledges at a theatre-supper party, Friday, October 16. Twenty-seven couples attended the showing of "Five Star Final" at the Park Theatre, after which a light supper and dancing were enjoyed at the Park Cafeteria. The chaperones were Dr. Spann and Mr. McDermott. Alumnae guests were the Misses Marjorie Brown, Mina French, Mary Cunningham, Minnie White, and Mrs. Kenyon.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Mu chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta entertained its pledges at a dance in Hulings Hall gymnasium on Saturday evening, October 17. Music was furnished by "Dutch" Kress and his Olympians. Mr. and Mrs. Daniels acted as chaperones. Guests included the Misses Helen Hopkins and Grace Greer and the Messrs. Warner Peterson and Joseph Stirling.

PI DELTS INITIATE THREE MEN TONIGHT

Oliver Turner, Doyle Wallace, and William Grow were given bids to membership in Pi Delta Epsilon at a meeting after last Monday's chapel, at which time they were presented with green and white pledge ribbons. They will be initiated at a banquet tonight. Pi Delta Epsilon is an honorary journalism fraternity.

PHI SIGMA IOTA INITIATES EIGHT

Eight new members were initiated into Phi Sigma Iota last Wednesday, October 14. The initiates were: Mrs. Elizabeth Spann, Jack Hartman, Ross Brown, Dorothy Sherman, Helen Hopkins, Catherine Earnest, Margaret Evans, and Charlotte Merwin. Phi Sigma Iota is an honorary romance language fraternity.

The initiation meeting was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Church. Miss Doris Potter, assistant professor of romance languages, read a paper which dealt with the situation in Spain today. Refreshments were served.

In order to qualify for membership in Phi Sigma Iota a student must be taking his third year in a romance language and must have a hight scholastic average in all courses.

The Alpha Chapter of Phi Sigma Iota was founded at Allegheny in 1922 by Dr. Church, and there are now sixteen active chapters. Besides founding the Alpha Chapter, Dr. Church carried the organization over into the national field, becoming the national president, an office which he has held ever since.

The officers of the Alpha Chapter are: Dr. H. W. Church, President; Mr. G. B. Roessing, Vice-President; Catherine Earnest, Secretary; and Thomas Knorr, Treasurer.

Mu chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta announces the initiation of Sally Goldsmith of Dunkirk, N. Y.

Are they as good as when the ruffles came down to the ankles?

GOOD? . . . You bet they are! Maybe the girls are even better. Anyhow, cigarettes are a whole lot better. No doubt about that.

They used to be made by hand—
Now it's machines; no hand but yours ever touches them.

They used to be packed in expensive, highfalutin' cardboard boxes—
Now the quality is in the cigarettes.

The U. S. Revenue Tax used to be a penny a package of twenty—
Now it's six cents a package of twenty.

Tobacco used to be dried by air—
Now Liggett & Myers alone has thirty-five drying machines of the latest type, with a daily capacity of over 2,000,000 pounds—and over four miles of warehouses for tobacco storage.

BETTER—they're miles better! Everything used in the manufacture of Chesterfield cigarettes is the best that money can buy or that Science knows about.

CHESTERFIELD TOBACCOS—both Turkish and Domestic—are mild and ripe, the best that money can buy.

AND THE WAY Chesterfield tobaccos are blended and cross-blended is like making a new and better-tasting kind of tobacco, with greater smoothness, more mildness and a more pleasing aroma—a fragrance and flavor not to be found in any other cigarette.

CHESTERFIELD gives you the benefit of all the world knows about the production of better cigarettes. Nobody smokes a better cigarette than Chesterfield.
