BYERS ELECTED NEW A. U. C. PRESIDENT

Receives Large Plurality Of Votes Cast On Friday

Robertson Will Address Senior Banquet Tonight

Mr. Andrew Robertson, president of the Allegheny board of trustees, will be guest speaker at the Senior Class Dinner to be held this evening at Cochran Hall.

Festivities will be under the leadership of Phil Jacobus who will deliver a toast to the faculty. This will be answered by Dr. J. R. Schultz in a toast to the students. A girls' quartette and a boys' quartette as well as group singing will furnish further entertainment. Guests present will include Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Tolley, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harre, and Dr. Evelyn Miller.

Announcement will be made at the banquet of commencement activities. Senior Farewell to buildings will be held Saturday, June 6, at 11 o'clock.

The annual addresses will be delivered by William Hyde, who will speak for Bentley Hall; Chapel, by Robert Dennis; the gymnasium by William Osbourne; Alden Hall by Helena Mumaw; Reis Library by Dake Gull; Arter Hall by Frank Bailey; and Hulings Hall by Ed Carney.

This last visitation by undergraduates will be followed by Class Day Exercises which will take place on the Rustic Bridge at 2:15 Saturday afternoon.

The Class Salutatorian will be Frank Baily and the Historian Annabelle Broomall. Richard Horn will deliver the ladder trophy to Charles Miller who will make the junior response.

Announcement of the class prophet has not as yet been made.

College Players For 1936 Listed By Miss Spalding

Miss Alice H. Spalding, director of the Allegheny Play Shop, announced Monday the final list of the Players for 1936. Citation in this group is based upon service in the Playshop. Included are a number of students who, having worked on only one play, have not yet fulfilled the requirements, but will be eligible next year.

The present membership in the Allegheny Players includes forty-six students:

Beyer Africa, Frank Bailey, Myra June Bankin, Charles Barkley, John Barkley, Dale Beatty, William Dun-Lany, Helen Edmundson, Dorothy Ely, Phyllis Freeland, Valerie Fullerton, Helen Hahn, Sara Henry, William Osborne.

Ruth Pratt, Wayne Knight, Merton Post, John Jones, Phillip Jacobus, Martha Keefe, Romayne Lawrie, Joseph Macedo, Marian McCardell, Helena Mumaw, Mariam Parsons, Joseph Philippbar, Kenneth Powell, Betsy Robinson.

Allegheny Rises To Sixth Place Out Of 266 Colleges

On the basis of American Council of Education psychological examinations given to incoming freshmen last fall, Allegheny College spurted from sixteenth to sixth place among the 266 colleges contributing scores in the nation-wide survey.

Allegheny College's rating was based on the scoring of 218 freshmen, included in a total of 58,402 freshmen students taking the exam.

Although the psychological examinations are issued yearly by the Council, Allegheny was not represented last year. Confusion due to administering some tests on high school day and others in the fall was the cause.

In the comparison of scores two years ago, Allegheny placed sixteenth among the colleges contributing scores to the Council.

In the opinion of foremost educators, these psychological examinations are invaluable indicators of the potentialities inherent in the freshman classes. In a majority of cases, they forecast high calibre accomplishments during the college career.

Caren New Professor From Ohio State U. To Relieve Giddens

Henry Caren, who will receive his doctor's degree at Ohio State University this June. has been added to the staff of the History and Political Science department of the college.

Mr. Caren will temporarily replace Dr. Paul H. Giddens, who has received a leave of absence for the ensuing Summer School session and the first semester of the coming school year. Doctor Giddens will aid Miss Ida Tarbell, noted alumnus, in compiling a history of Oil Creek.

Mr. Caren comes to Allegheny highly recommended by Ohio State for his outstanding work at that institution. He completed much of his undergraduate work at Yale University, but transferred to Ohio State where he obtained his A.B. and M.A. degrees.

For the last two years he has held the position of graduate assistant under Carl F. Wittke, chairman of the department of history at Ohio State University, and as a result he is well equipped to take over his duties.

Mr. Caren will take over the regularly announced courses of Dr. Giddens in both the Summer School session and the first semester of next year.

The present personnel of the history department will be supplemented with the return of Professor Warner F. Woodring next fall. Professor Woodring, on sabbatic leave, has been doing research work at the British Museum in London.

Paul B. Cares, of the history department, is expected to have charge of Doctor Giddens' political science in European governments.

Allegheny Singers Will Appear Before Organists In June

At the invitation of the National Guild of Organists, the Allegheny Singers of Allegheny College will present a concert at the annual convention of that organization in Pittsburgh June 26th.

The Allegheny Singers have the signal honor of being the only choral group invited to participate in the organist's convention. To present their program, members of the choir will return from six states where they will be spending their summer vacation following the close of the school year June 8th.

Recently the Allegheny Singers returned from a two weeks' concert tour where their efforts were acclaimed in the larger cities of the east including Washington, D. C.; Columbus, O.; Cleveland, O.; Buffalo, N. Y.; and Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Singers will present a concert for over an hour from 11:15 to 12-30 in the morning.

In addition to the Singer's program, Professor Morton J. Luvaas, director of the Allegheny Singers who has gained nation-wide recognition for his accomplishments in the field of choir training, will participate in a symposium on "Choir Training". His subject will be "Adult Choirs."

Myers And Prof. Benjamin Present Musical Recital

Miss Ruth Myers, '37, and Professor Philip M. Benjamin presented a musical recital in chapel on Friday.

Haydn's Symphony No. 4 in D. Minor was presented in a four-hand arrangement for one piano. The symphony, known to music lovers as the "Clock Symphony", consists of four movements: Adagio-Presto, the Andante, from which the work derives its name, Minuetto, and finishes with the Vivace.

The presentation marks Miss Ruth Myers first appearance as concert pianist on the chapel platform. With Professor Benjamin she presented the difficult work with a skill which won student acclamation.

Beisel Heads Local Safety Traffic Drive

Professor Benjamin Beisel, of the mathematics department, has been appointed acting president of Meadville Safety Council which this week is engaging in an energetic campaign to make the city safety conscious.

Mayor Fred Kiebort selected Professor Beisel to direct the project, sponsored by 20 local fraternal and civic organizations.

Participating in a traffic safety contest under the auspices of the National Safety Council, the local committee has mobilized publicity and educative programs to combat the rising total of traffic fatalities.

A loud-speaking device, installed at Park and Chestnut streets, booms courteous instructions to motorists and pedestrians with a view toward improving their traffic habits. Passersby are urged to attend a safety program at the Meadville High School.

A second meeting of the school for safety will be held in the local high school auditorium Friday at 8 p. m. John C. Davis, of City hospital, will discuss "First Aid to the Injured."

Lieutenant A. J. Oldham, acting captain of the Meadville police force is scheduled to outline "Equipment Requirements and Inspections."

The safety program, which is free to the public, will include two cinematic offerings: "Farther, Faster, and Safer," and "Remember Jimmy."

A significant reason for such an adult safety campaign was revealed in last year's traffic toll. Statistics indicate that, while children's fatalities have diminished, the adult accident mortality has risen alarmingly.

Philo-Franklin Union Hears Local Attorney At Banquet Last Week

"I certainly would defend a man who told me he committed murder!" Thus F. Joseph Thomas, Meadville attorney, answered this old question at the annual banquet held by the Philo-Franklin Union at the Venango Inn Thursday evening.

It was announced during the course of the evening that Marion Henry, '39, Betty Brady, '39, and Seymour Smith, '38, have been elected members of that society. William Hyde, '36, received an honorary membership as a result of his outstanding work in debate this year.

Mr. Thomas spoke on "The relation Between Public Speaking and the Practice of Law". In justifying his stand on the previous statement, he said that he "would never argue that his client was not guilty, but would certainly make the State prove that the person was guilty". Continuing on his subject he said, "I am constantly called upon to apply traits that I developed in Public Speaking. An attorney must use these essentials in a closing address to the jury, namely, introduction, argument, refutation, and appeal".

Mr. Thomas closed his speech to the 31 persons present by stating that "the person who can either speak or write well has a decided advantage over those who do neither well".

Beiler Selects Lit Staff For Next Year

Selection of the staff of the Literary Magazine was completed by Ross Beiler, the new editor for 1936-37.

Five of the last year's staff were retained to fill the following positions: Betty Elliott, '37, associate editor; Janet Fishel, '38, assistant editor; Eileen Rockenbach, '38, contributing editor; Mishell George, '37, book reviews; and Miriam Parsons, '38, art editor.

Betty Krimmel, '39, has been selected to assist the art editor. Members of the editorial staff are Sam Ziskind, '38; Robert F. Miner, '39; Ruth Pratt, '39; and Kathryn Rogers, '39.

Dr. S. S. Swartley will continue as faculty advisor.

Reis Exhibition Shows Hobby In Telegram Blanks

The as yet undeveloped possibilities of a hobby open to every one are revealed in a collection of telegram blanks now on display at the Reis Library, Allegheny College. The collection includes hundreds of telegram blanks and was assembled by Western Union as an educational and historical feature. It not only contains telegrams from many countries of the world but also examples of blanks from American companies no longer in existence, many of them dating to the 1840's.

Even a cursory examination of the Western Union collection reveals that telegram blanks like stamps contain innumerable differences according to Manager Jeunet of the telegraph company, who made arrangements with her New York offices for the present display. Many of the differences Mrs. Jeunet points out are immediately apparent to the layman but many can only be recognized by the expert.

The scope of this hobby is quickly apparent to those who realize that at one time there were more than 700 telegraph companies in the United States alone, each of which issued separate blanks from year to year and that present day companies throughout the world issue new blanks almost annually. Although the collection of telegram blanks is a new hobby there are still thousands of old blanks waiting to be discovered by the alert collector.

Smith Wins Senior Library Contest, Ferris Is Second

Robert Smith was awarded first prize of $25 in books in the senior library contest which closed May 4. Charles Ferris was given second prize of $15 in books, while David Taylor won third prize of $10 in books. The announcement of the awards was made by Pres. W. P. Tolley in chapel, Friday, May 15.

Smith's library included books on mathematics, physics, languages, literature, music, and various reference works. In his collection were volumes printed in English, German, French, Italian, Rumanian, Greek, and Chinese.

The most distinctive feature of Smith's library were the many advanced scientific works in German, English, and French.

Biography, fiction, drama, poetry. science, history, social sciences, and philosophy were among the general fields included in Charles Ferris' library. Collections of Ibsen, Galsworthy, Shaw, O'Neill, Coward, Shakespeare, and Catallus, as well as outstanding works of Nietzsche, Proust, Conrad, and Sigrid Undset were among the many excellent books.

One of the most interesting sections of Ferris' library was the group of old books purchased in the Huidekoper sale in 1933. The group contained among others a six volume set of German plays, published in 1801, and Perrin's Fables, published in 1832.

Taylor's collection comprised works of fiction, biography, poetry, drama, music, essays, social sciences, religion, psychology, natural history, and geography.

In addition to these three prize-winners, four other seniors entered their personal libraries in the contest. The judging was done by a faculty committee, while undergraduate opinion on the libraries was reflected in the student vote which corresponded to the committee decision.

WORK CARDS

Work cards must be in the registrar's office by May 26. Any cards after that will be considered late registration.

New Council Makes Plans to Supervise Affairs.

Polling 140 of the 278 votes cast, Robert Byers was elected the first president of the Allegheny Undergraduate Council in the election held in chapel Friday, May 15. Archie Tate, running second in the presidential race, received 60 votes. The remaining ballots were scattered among the other candidates, Mishell George, Walter Jacobson, and Joe Macedo.

Byers will assume his office immediately, and the A. U. C. will begin making plans for the carrying out of its numerous duties. Heretofore, the Council members have met informally to deal with what situations that arose such as High School Day and Moving Up Day.

Taking charge of Moving Up Day, the A. U. C. secured as class speakers, John Jones, freshman; Sam Ziskind, sophomore; Betty Elliott, junior; Arthur Vangeli and Philip Jacobus, seniors.

Before Commencement, the A. U. C. plans to appoint several standing committees to carry out its work. These committees, headed by Council members and working with other undergraduates, will plan their year's activitiess during the summer.

Five women and six men have thus far been elected to the Council, with the representative of the men's student government organization and the representative of the men's athletic acvities during the summer.

Students Should Consider Their Future Says Anderson

"To live a life in conformity with the world is not a full life, but to live creatively is to enjoy life." Thus Professor Hurst Anderson urged the students to consider their future in Monday Chapel.

In illustrating his point, Professor Anderson cited the case of two acquaintances. One of these college men adopted a conformative attitude toward the world; the second was a "practical idealist". Ten years later the lives of these two individuals were contrasted. The latter student had left school and led a happy, creative life. The former, on the other hand, was unhappy, and still dissatisfied with life in general.

Further examples were found in the contrasting lives of Senator Lodge, who is an excellent illustration of the conformity type of individual, and Toyohiko Kagawa who has probably achieved more for the destitute people of Japan than any other man in that country.

In concluding, Professor Anderson asked students to remember that the "creative way of living is the full way and the significant way."

Three Alleghenians To Tour Part Of Europe This Summer

Professor Philip M. Benjamin, Robert Byers, '37, and William Cappe, '38, will sail June 9 on the S. S. Columbus to spend the summer in Europe.

After a week in Paris, they plan to spend a month in Germany, visiting Munich, Dresden, and Berlin.

July will be spent on a walking tour of the mountains and fjords of Norway. During the month of August they expect to visit England, returning to this country September 4 on the S. S. Bremen.

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church
Session of 1936
The Auditorium—Columbus, Ohio—May 9, 1936

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church assembled at Columbus, Ohio, incorporated in the Journal today a resolution expressing a token of affectionate esteem and remembrance of Dr. William Arthur Elliott.

His passing suddenly on August 27, 1935, caused sorrow throughout the Church. For so many years he has been a beloved and distinguished teacher and leader, and the influence of his life reaches out to the youth of our land.

John W. Arters
Secretary of the Conference

Office of the Secretary

BEST WISHES TO THE A. U. C.

Congratulations are in order for the Allegheny Undergraduate Council and its newly elected president. Judging from the large plurality he polled, as well as his enthusiastic support within the Council, he may truly be considered the president of the Allegheny student body. We wish him much success.

As for the Council, it is evident that now, having a quorum to work with and officers to head the organization, they intend to begin their work in earnest. With Moving Up Day a thing of the past, the chief interest of the A. U. C. for the rest of this semester is planning its work for next year. Already plans are under way for Freshman Week activities.

In order to carry out the many functions designated in the constitution, the Council intends to appoint standing committees which will act on specific projects. These committees will plan their work during the summer. In the fall they will draw their members from the student body, and consequently many undergraduates, though not members of the A. U. C. will be actively engaged in carrying out its work.

Thus, Alleghenians can make definite steps toward self-government. Only through the cooperation and the interest of the students can the Council function effectively and bring about on our campus a true student government.

TO THE SENIORS

As the one hundred and seventeenth graduation exercise of Allegheny draws near, our thoughts turn to the Seniors. Being the first class under the new curriculum, it has been their lot to be the explorers in new theories of education here at Allegheny.

For four years now they have been upon the campus, soon to leave. Their leadership, scholarship, and interest in college life is one that should be kept in mind by the underclasses.

May the Seniors do as well in life as they have done here at Allegheny.

ALLEGHENY'S VOTE OF 1932

Four years ago, in November, a mock national election was held here upon the campus. The results are most interesting for they reveal the traditionally conservative political attitude of the Allegheny student body.

Out of 387 votes (63 per cent of the student body), 235 voted for Herbert Hoover; 90 for Norman Thomas; 38 for Franklin D. Roosevelt; and 15 for William Z. Foster.

In the faculty poll, the liberal spirit of the school was to be found. Out of 34 members voting (60 per cent of the faculty), 19 were for Norman Thomas; 13 for Herbert Hoover; and 2 for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

If a poll were taken now, it is safe to say that the same reactionary attitude would be displayed by the students. No one need fear "red" radicalism here at Allegheny!

Final Examination Schedule

May 25-June 5

All examinations will be held in the Gymnasium except as indicated.

Students will not be admitted to examination more than ten minutes late except by authorization of the Supervisor of Examinations, Dr. G. E. Buckingham.

Students leaving the examination room may not return unless accompanied by a proctor.

Students may not bring papers or books into the examination.

If a student is absent from the regular examination it will be necessary to obtain an excuse from the Dean before a permit can be issued by the Registrar's Office to take the missed examination. A fee of $2.00 is charged for each permit. Time for taking the makeup must be arranged for with the Supervisor of Examinations if taken during the period of examinations.

Conflicts in examinations should be reported to Dr. Buckingham, who will make arrangements.

Gymkhana Proves Skill And Ability Of Women Riders

Allegheny women riders had a chance to display their equestrian skill at the Gymkhana, which was held Friday afternoon in the field behind Arter.

A balloon race, with its object the puncturing of an opponent's balloon, was won by Betty Rhetmeyer.

A medley relay followed in which the riders first walked the horses, then trotted them. The team consisting of Betty Krimmel, Betty Jean Gray, and Jane Godard finished first.

A most hazardous event was the potato race—the object being to ride from one end of the field to the other, dismount, pick up a potato, and take the potato to the starting point. This had to be done three times. Polly Ann Dewey was the winner.

The old clothes event left the spectators in hysterics. Riding to one end of the field, the entrants dismounted, donned all the wearing apparel which appeared in paper sacks assigned to them. The winning costume, worn by Virginia Johns, consisted of a yellow skirt, a red sweater, pink gloves and a feathered hat.

Climaxing the Gymkhana was an event called musical chair, in which the riders went around in a circle until, at the sound of a whistle, they dismounted and sat in chairs. Each time one person was eliminated until Betsy Robinson succeeded in retaining the last chair. Dean Schultz's small daughter was a rider in this event.

Allegheny Netters Take Over Tartans After Hard Tussle

Allegheny's tennis team proved to be the only team able to defeat Carnegie Tech last Saturday, winning 5-4. This was the sixth victory for the netters, against one defeat and one tie. The team this year is the best that Allegheny has had for several years and will be the only team to finish the season on the right side of the ledge.

Three games remain to be played this week with Westminster, Slippery Rock, and Grove City. All of these matches should prove to be victories for the Allegheny team.

The summary:

Nevins, All., defeated Games, Tech; 5-7, 6-4, 6-3.

Manness, All., defeated Hess, Tech; 6-0, 6-1.

Goodman, Tech, defeated Johnson, All; 7-5, 6-3.

Meyer, Tech, defeated Wellons, All.; 6-3, 1-6, 6-4.

Lightcap, Tech, defeated Dennis, All.; 6-4, 6-4.

Landeberg, Tech, defeated Tate, All.; 2-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Nevins - Manness, All., defeated Games-Goodman, Tech; 7-5, 6-3.

Wellons-McVey, All., defeated Hess-Meyer, Tech; 6-3, 2-6, 8-6.

Johnson-Taylor, All., defeated Lightcap-Wagg, Tech; 8-6, 6-2.

THE SCRUBBING BRUSH

It is said that two sides are necessary for a debate. How about that language debate in the Lit.?

As the time comes for me to close, I shall offer the following letter to prove that my column is read.

Dear Carl:

You are undoubtedly the best columnist in the world. It is with great interest that I read your column every week; I can hardly wait for each issue of The Campus. You have the wit, flow of words, style and cleverness of all of the columnists of the world and that makes you the best.

Yours forever,
Your Mother.

TECH DOWNS 'GATORS, 70-56

Heavy Scoring in Field Events Wins Saturday's Meet for Carnegie Tech; Allegheny Strong in Running Events Only.

Top-heavy scoring on the field carried Carnegie Tech to a 70-56 track victory over Allegheny College on Montgomery Field Saturday.

The Tartans accounted for 43 points in six field events, limiting the Meadville Methodists to 11, and eight of Allegheny's field points were scored in one event, the broad jump.

On the cinder path, the Tartans could gain no more than two first places, but added a number of seconds and thirds to keep their lead intact. Allegheny held a clear edge on the track, 45 to 27, but failure to win even a few scattered points in the weights kept the 'Gators from a more even finish.

The highlight of the meet was the 100-yard dash in which Allegheny took all three places, Nye, Post and Robinson finishing in that order. Gamboler, the Tartan who showed his heels to the pack in last year's meet was able to do no more than fourth, being nosed out by Robinson in the last yard.

DeLoss, running the two mile against McMahon, of Tech, showed the best form in the distance events. Both men tagged each other until the last lap when DeLoss opened up and took the race easily, turning in his best time of the year.

Nye proved to be the best of the sprinters by taking the 220 as well as the 100. He won both races with comparative ease.

In the field the best performance for the 'Gators was turned in by Swanson, winning the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet 3½ inches for the only first place scored by the home team in the field.

100-yard dash—Won by Nye, Allegheny; Post, Allegheny, second; Robinson, Allegheny, third. Time—:10.4.

220-yard dash—Won by Nye, Allegheny; Conner, Tech, second; Post, Allegheny, third. Time—:23.3.

440-yard dash—Won by Beall, Tech; Vereeke and Swanson, Allegheny, tied for second. Time—:52.8.

880-yard run—Won by Rinkerton, Tech; Beall, Tech, second; White, Allegheny, third. Time—2:03.3.

Mile run—Won by White, Allegheny; McMahon, Tech, second; Grow, Allegheny, third. Time—4:43.7.

Two-mile run—Won by DeLoss, Allegheny; Lyngheim, Tech, second; Vereeke, Allegheny, third. Time—10:22.2.

S. A. E. Pronounced Intramural Champ For Past Season

Intramural championship for 1935-36 was won by Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The outstanding feature of this year's competition was the distribution of the individual championships as all but two of the organizations represented in the competition won at least one tournament. Alpha Chi Rho and Beta Kappa were the two missing out on championships. Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the plaque with six championships, tennis, swimming, basketball, handball, boxing and track. Phi Kappa Psi, in the runner-up position, carried off the laurels in golf, and touch football. Phi Gamma Delta won the wrestling cup; Phi Delta Theta, bowling; Independents, cross country; Delta Tau Delta, volleyball.

Intramurals interested more men on the campus this year than ever before. At mid-semester there had been over 200 men entered in the various competitions.

The final standings:

Alpha Chi Rho	510
Beta Kappa	375
Delta Tau Delta	620
Independents	615
Phi Delta Theta	610
Phi Gamma Delta	650
Phi Kappa Psi	765
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	980

Athletic Program Ends On Saturday

Saturday will mark the finish of inter-collegiate competition for 1936. Grove City will play host to the track, tennis and golf teams.

The tennis and golf teams should have little trouble in winning their matches, but the track team will be up against stiffer competition. In comparing the scores of the Grove City-Carnegie Tech and the Allegheny-Tech meets it seems that Allegheny should beat the Grovers but inasmuch as the hammer throw and the 220 low hurdles are to be included in Saturday's meet the 'Gators chances are lessened considerably. The big races of the day will be the dashes, in which Haffman, of Grove City, will be running against Nye and Post, the aces of the 'Gator squad. He has been running the 100 in 10 seconds, this will tax our men to the utmost. In the field the 'Gators will undoubtedly be stronger than they have been in previous meets. The men have been working hard this week and all through the season they have been showing decided improvement each week. It is hoped that they will reach their peak for Saturday's meet.

Allegheny Loses Close Golf Match To Tartans

Victories in two matches on the 18th hole gave Carnegie Tech a 7-5 victory over the Allegheny golf team Saturday. The match was played over the Conneaut Lake Park course.

Tech's Pollay brothers gained victories on the final hole, defeating Clark and Booher, to swing the match in favor of the Tartans. N. Pollay turned in the best medal score of the day, a 77.

Independents Down Sigs Twice To Take Mushball

Defeating the Sigs in two successive games the Independents won the mushball trophy for 1936. Behind the steady pitching of Barackman, the non-fraternity men were able to defeat the Sigs with ease, 18-11 and 22-5.

Both games were featured by their free hitting and good fielding on the part of both teams. The Sigs were beaten from the first inning in the first game but came back and started the second game by jumping into the lead in the first inning. However, the Independents soon overcame the lead and went on scoring at will.

This is the third year that the Independents have won the mushball title.

SOCIETY

KITTY AND I

Kitty and I had been preparing for this week-end as long as the girls in the Halls—after all, seven spring formals in two evenings requires a lot of stamina, stomping, and whatnot. And so the week-end came with the Friday night breezes blowing clear and cool for three parties. We followed a little black coupe out to the lake and found ourselves parking near Hotel Conneaut. Soon we were gliding along the floor of the dining room to the enticing rhythms of Barney Knapp's Melody Weavers where the charming THETA UPSILON girls were having their spring formal. Barney's music is of the best and we whirled and dipped so much that Kitty thought she had been riding Rolly Coaster instead of dancing. Nevertheless I did see that the girls all looked radiant—particularly glad to see Winny back, and Madge and Bob whirled around as they used to do. I looked for the chaperones and there found Dr. and Mrs. Julian L. Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Seely playing cards in the lobby—keeping "tap" on the Audubon Society members visiting at the hotel.

When I had worn Kitty out I thought she needed a change so we tripped gaily down the hall—following the strains of The Treymore Club's lively swing band. There were the ALPHA CHI OMEGA girls looking quite lovely in their soft, cool-looking spring formals—skimming across the floor to clever arrangements of Hal Kemp's numbers. Dr. and Mrs. Akers and Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Miller we saw chatting along the sidelines. Everybody looked so lively and gay that we knew it must have been just the best party ever. Then we wandered to the balcony and couldn't resist the lure of the lights across the lake at the Oakland Pier where KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA was having its spring formal. We thought at first we were in a bower in Japan with the colorful lanterns lighting the room, and when one of the girls danced by in a lovely Japanese ensemble—well, we wondered. Then we were greeted by so many familiar faces—lovely Laura all in white, Dick and Annabel, Dr. and Mrs. Long and Mr. and Mrs. Harre—we knew then that we were still at Conneaut Lake. The sophisticated melodies played by the High Hatters was quite in contrast to the cheering of the Phi Gam and Sig boys who seemed to predominate there that evening. The setting was so charming that we were reluctant to leave, but Kitty said I had ruined her evening by stepping on her big toe, so we nosed our little car back toward Meadville, and rested up for the next big evening.

Then dawned Saturday—the sun rose, the sun paled—we were riding merrily out to Riverside Hotel to a dinner dance given by ALPHA CHI RHO. I always believe in dancing on a full stomach—not literally of course—so you can well imagine how I enjoyed the delicious meal served to us. Bruce Fye's Alleghenian's provided the music for dancing afterwards. Digel and Cloyes and other alumni danced by making it seem like old times. The many balconies afforded a pleasant diversion for many couples, but Kitty wouldn't go out with me, for she was interested in leaving and spending all that money (that I didn't have) in the beautiful purse that was a favor.

We turned away from Cambridge and found ourselves back at the lake again, so we stopped at the Oakland Pier for the party of PHI KAPPA PSI. Chick Farell and his orchestra were playing typically swing music and the crowd seemed to be enjoying the fast rhythms immensely. Kitty wanted one of the lovely necklaces given as favors, and though they were attractive I wouldn't let her collect favors every place she went that evening. We saw Dr. and Mrs. Long again, as well as Bat and Mary Ag and other old grads who were glad to be back again. Time was fleeting, though, so we left here and drove to Hotel Conneaut.

In the Crystal Ballroom PHI DELTA THETA was holding forth, the couples swaying to Jimmy Bray's popular band. When we entered they were playing "Gloomy Sunday", but there certainly wasn't any gloom there. The returning alumni were being given such a rousing welcome that any bit of gloom just wouldn't have a chance to live in that environment. The soft lights dimmed the ballroom with a glow that blended becomingly with the girls' lovely gowns. Mr. and Mrs. Harre chaperoned the party. They showed us their lovely white compacts. I felt I should get Kitty one of them before she would steal one, so we left this lively atmosphere to go to the SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON dance in the dining room of the Hotel and here the spirit of rhythm reigned. Ken Morris' band played fast rhythms that gave the party sparkle and dash—the spirit of it keeping in tempo with the music.

Kitty and I were tearing around the floor getting every bit as much fun out of it, as if we'd not been to three other dances that evening. The cheering after every piece buoyed every one up, and we thought it was one of the liveliest parties we'd ever seen. Just as we were going to speak to the chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Hurst Anderson, Kitty spied one of the S.A.E. compacts, and I tried to use all the methods of persuasive speaking that I knew to get her to leave the party with me, and minus a gold compact. After five minutes we left the party together—a very tired boy and a very stubborn girl plus one gold compact.

Phi Gamma Delta.

On Saturday, May 16, the Phi Gam's had their mothers as guests for the week-end. Mrs. C. A. Darling entertained the women at a tea at her home in the afternoon. This was followed by a banquet in the evening. Jack McFarland welcomed the mothers, and Mrs. Darling responded for the mothers. Mrs. Osborne presented the chapter with a song which she had written for them. The boys gave their mothers an informal serenade later that evening.

The following mothers were guests: Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Repman, Mrs. Ralston, Mrs. Leydic, Mrs. Gilmore, Mrs. Osbourne, Mrs. Hoeveler, Mrs. Ransford, Mrs. McCleary, Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Muir, Mrs. Darling, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. John C. Barkley, Mrs. John W. Barkley, Mrs. J. D. Sedwick, Mrs. Andrew Sedwick, Mrs. Ferris, Mrs. Miller, and Mrs. Horn.

Alpha Gamma Delta.

About Saturday noon, carloads of Alpha Gam mothers began to pull up before the Hall, for they were invited by their daughters to live "college life" for the week-end. Saturday afternoon the girls gave their mothers a tea in the sorority rooms, followed in the evening by a Mother's Day Banquet at Venango Inn. Sunday morning the freshman girls served breakfast, and accompanied their mothers to church.

The following mothers were guests: Mrs. Geeseman, Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Heath, Mrs. Wickline, Mrs. Bracken, Mrs. Grove, Mrs. Casanova, Mrs. Piper, Mrs. Washburn, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Nagay, Mrs. Dennis, Mrs. Rall, Mrs. McKee, and Mrs. Brown.
