Allegheny Selected As Test Center For Draft Deferment And Law School Exams

Allegheny College is one of 1000 testing centers throughout the country where the Selective Service College Qualification Tests will be administered on Thursday, December 4, 1952, and on April 23, 1953. In addition, the Law School Admission Test, required of applicants to a number of law schools, will be given here on February 21, 1953.

In announcing the dates of the third series of the Selective Service Tests, Major General Lewis B. Hershey said that 413,395 students have already taken the test. There are at present about 190,000 students deferred on the basis of their test scores or their standings in their academic classes.

Applications for the December 4 test must be postmarked not later than November 1, 1952. Applications forms may be obtained by students either from their home draft boards or from the Meadville selective service board.

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score (70) on the Selective Service College Qualification Test or the attainment of specified rank in class (upper half of the male freshman class, upper two-thirds of the male sophomore class, or upper three-fourths of the male junior class). It is, however, not mandatory for local boards to follow the criteria, since increased demands for manpower may necessitate the drafting of students exempted at present.

According to the Educational Testing Service, of Princeton, New Jersey, which prepares and administers the test for the Selective Service

North Concert Tonight Opens Public Series

Mr. and Mrs. Wright North will open the Allegheny College public concert series this evening at 8:15 p.m. in Ford Memorial Chapel. No admission will be charged for the concert.

Their combined program includes the Handel solo cantata, "Away from Love's Battle," which has been made available in modern edition and translated from the original Italian by Mr. North. Also on the program will be a song cycle, "The Animals," by Poulenc; three songs by Johannes Brahms; the aria "It is Enough" from Mendelssohn's oratorio, Elijah; and "La Calunnia" ("Slander's Whisper"), from Rossini's opera, The Barber of Seville.

System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once, regardless of the testing date he selects. The results will be reported to the student's local Selective Service board for use in considering his deferment as a student.

Dean of Students Charles W. McCracken, in discussing the test, said, "All male students who have not previously taken the test are urged to submit their applications, regardless of whether or not they are enrolled in the Reserve Officers Training Corps program."

The Law School Admission Test, likewise prepared and administered by the Educational Testing Service, is reported to consist of objective questions measuring verbal aptitudes and reasoning ability rather than acquired information. Sample questions and information regarding registration for and administration of the test are given in a bulletin of information.

Applications for this test must be completed within two weeks before the test date, February 21. Students interested in taking the test should contact the Student Personnel Office for further information.

Students To Contribute To Annual Chest Drive

The student Community Chest committee met last Thursday with Mr. G. Stewart Hoffman, chairman of the educational division of the drive, Mr. Richard Tuttle, executive director of the Community Chest in Meadville, and Mr. Raymond P. Shafer, general chairman of the drive.

"We want to express the appreciation of the community for the support you are giving the drive this year," Shafer told the group. "It is not very often that we find students busy in college willing to take time out for such a purpose. We are very glad that the students have decided on their own that they want to assist in this program since they are members of the community."

He described the work of the charitable and character-building Community Chest agencies, such as the Boy and Girl Scouts and the Children's Aid Society.

Literature, posters, and envelopes for individual contributions and reports were distributed at the meeting. Plans were made to report the progress of the student drive at the Report Luncheon tomorrow and at the Victory Dinner on October 15.

Chairman Rita Lanza announced the following committee heads for the drive: fraternity solicitation, Jerry Cotton and Bob Ozmun; freshman women, Sheila Confer; freshman men, Gus Halupczynski, upperclass women, Sally Erickson and Nancy Eberhardt; publicity, Marcia Lambrecht.

Independent men will be solicited by mail. Boxes for their contributions have been placed at Brooks desk, in the College Union, and in the cooperative dining room at the former Commons Club.

Frosh Cabinet Elected; Erickson Named Prexy

Carl Erickson was elected president and Sheila Confer was named secretary of the Freshman Cabinet at the first meeting of the group last week. At the second meeting, scheduled for tonight at 8 p.m. in the College Union, the twenty-one members of the cabinet will work on organization.

The members representing freshmen dormitories and Caffisch sections are Dorothy Graham and Doris Jones, Section 1; Katie White and Nancy Fullerton, Section 2; Sheila Confer, Section 3; Renny Smucker and Dorothea Swart, Section 4; Sally Kloppman and Cora Walter, Section 5; Kay Cudzil, Dick Bender, and Bob Thurston, town representatives; William Bowser, Nomer's; Gus Halupczynski, Klie's Bill Foley, Bolard's; John Johnson, Patton's; Chuck Thorne, Joslin's; Joseph Shapiro, Beebe; Clyde Metzger and Ted Tafel, Tarbell; and Bill Regan, Carl Erickson, and Gene Zwillinger, Cochran.

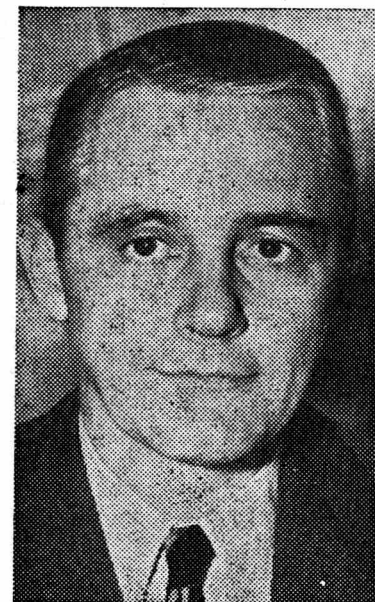

Red Cross Chest Exam Set For October 14, 15

The Red Cross Chest X-Ray mobile unit will be stationed in Brooks Circle on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, October 14 and 15. The staff will be on duty from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m.

All college students are required to be x-rayed at this time, according to Dr. Samuel J. Hoke, college physician. He also urged that any members of the faculty, administration, or service groups who wish x-rays report to the unit.

Dilworth Speaks Tomorrow Evening; Duff Attacks Present Administration

Mr. Richardson Dilworth, Democratic District Attorney of Philadelphia, will present the second in a series of political addresses tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Ford Chapel under the joint sponsorship of the G8 course, Problems of the Modern World, and the Public Events Committee of the college. On Saturday he will lead two open question and answer periods at 9 and 10 a.m. in the Playshop. All students are invited to attend.

Mr. Richardson Dilworth

Preceding his Friday address Dilworth is to conduct a discussion period with the Political Science 3, American Politics, class.

A breakfast will be held Saturday morning at 8:15 in honor of Dilworth. At the conclusion of his Saturday discussions he will leave for Erie, where he is scheduled to speak at noon.

In 1949 Dilworth was elected treasurer of the city of Philadelphia. In 1947 he had been defeated for the post of mayor of the city, and in 1950 lost the governorship of the state of Pennsylvania to Republican John Fine.

Duff Opens Series

The honorable James H. Duff, junior Republican senator from Pennsylvania, addressed a standing-room-only audience in Ford Memorial Chapel on Tuesday afternoon in the first of the series of G-8 lectures.

Duff cited the renewed interest in politics which has evidenced itself throughout the country and said, "We are living in a time when a tremendous new power has arisen—the power of fanatical belief in a theory of government which is in complete opposition to our own."

He criticized the present national administration in three areas, the violation of security with regard to atomic secrets, dishonesty which he charged was rampant in government, and foreign policy.

Negligence Charged

In the matter of atomic energy, he charged the government with negligence in not recognizing and dealing with the dangers of espionage and sabotage before too late. "The secrets of atomic energy would not have been lost," he said, "if not for infiltration in the most high and most secret places of government. We have delivered into the hands of the most vicious opponent of our way of life the very (Continued on page 5)

Playshop To Present 'The Glass Menagerie'

The Glass Menagerie, by Tennessee Williams, will be presented by the Allegheny Playshop Friday and Saturday, October 17 and 18. The same cast which appeared in last summer's Penn Playhouse production of the play will take part in the pre-season performances.

Jean Holman Carlson and Philip Wiseman, both Allegheny alumni, will portray the mother and the son, respectively, while Mary Ellen Darling and Stephen Wolfson will play the daughter and the gentleman caller.

Student tickets for the Friday performance, scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m., will be on sale at the Playshop at the rate of 75 cents each. Reservations must be made in advance.

Tentative Plans For Homecoming Set; Bonfire, Pep Rally To Start Weekend

Dean of Instruction Julian L. Ross will address the Homecoming Convocation on the topic "All of a Piece" at 11:20 a.m. on Friday, October 18. Arrangements for the convocation, the opening event of Homecoming weekend, are being made by the College Assembly Committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Henry Pommer.

Gordie Black, chairman of the student Homecoming committee has announced tentative plans for a pep rally and bonfire Friday evening, October 16.

Saturday's program begins with the judging of the fraternity house and dormitory decoration contest at 10 a.m. There is no over-all theme for the contest this year, and the judges for the event have not yet been selected, Black said. Winners will be announced at half-time of the football game that afternoon.

Also scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday is the meeting of the Board of Trustees in Reis Library for the purpose of electing officers. The trustees will also be asked to approve the formal entry of Allegheny into the Pennsylvania Foundation for Independent Colleges, Inc.

An informal luncheon for returning alumni will be held in Brooks Hall dining room at 12 noon. Price of tickets is $1 each.

The Allegheny - Carnegie Tech football game will begin at 2:15 p.m. at College Field. Reserved seats for alumni will cost $1.50 each. The Alumni Association will sponsor a cider and doughnut party immediately after the game in Montgomery Gymnasium, with members of the Block A Club in charge.

Tommy Carlyn and his orchestra, of Pittsburgh, will provide the music for the Homecoming Dance, scheduled to be held from 9 to 12 p.m. in Brooks. Women will have 12:30 permissions.

The Homecoming play, "The Glass Menagerie," will be presented at 9 p.m. in the Playshop.

The Reverend Bruce Middaugh, '27, will be the speaker for the Sunday morning chapel service at 11 a.m. in Ford Memorial Chapel.

Members of the Homecoming committee, in addition to chairman Black, are Barbara Cooper, Bob Digel, in charge of the decoration contest, and Ed Snyder, in charge of the post-game cider and doughnut party.

Band

All was not as black as it looked last Saturday at College Field. Rather than look at the statistics on the sports page, cast a backward glance on the performance of the band. No strings attached, it was excellent. Band director Varicchio has done a commendable job in getting the organization in shape for a field demonstration and has promised a good show for the Homecoming game. This prediction he bases on the spirit of the members already practicing.

Two things he asks, however: that more regular attendance at rehearsals be in the offing so that the future performances will be even better; and a fill-the-gap campaign to balance the sections of the band. Specifically the band needs more trumpet players to offset the large quantity of Benny Goodmans already playing. Not that we don't appreciate our enthusiastic clarinetists, but not all music is written for the wood solos.

A week from Saturday, 1952 Homecoming will be passing rapidly into the annals of history. We would like to see and hear an impressive band help the returning Alums cheer the team to victory over Tech.

On the upbeat, now. One, two . . .

Chest Drive

The Community Chest Drive is on at Allegheny. An army of student solicitors is out to put the touch on you for whatever you can afford for the cause. This is not a signal for you to hunt for cover but rather an appeal for you to look into your heart and your pocketbook and to act accordingly.

The editors of The Campus urge you to consider carefully the merits of this campaign. Funds collected in this drive go to support many worthwhile organizations and welfare agencies in the community. Few people would deny the real contributions made to America by such organizations as the Boy Scouts, the Young Christian Associations, and the Salvation Army. Such organizations as these are the foundations of America's strength and stability.

We spend four years of our life in Meadville. We are greatly indebted for the support which the people of Meadville give to the college. Perhaps we can help make the college recipient of an even greater and more whole-hearted support. It isn't that we are buying them off with our money—it's just that we are showing them that we are part of the community and feel a responsibility towards it.

Food Note

Wonder of all wonders! A miracle has come to pass. It is almost enjoyable to eat in the college dining rooms this year. After years of hearing nothing but complaints about the food in Brooks and Cochran, we have heard compliments these last few weeks. The ministrone soup brought praises; the desserts have been acclaimed time and time again; and last Sunday night at Brooks we heard cries of ecstasy over the never-before-seen BLT's.

All of this makes us comment that things have changed very favorably among the culinary masters here at Allegheny. We like the variety of the meals that have been offered this year; it is obvious that a lot of imagination has gone into their preparation.

With the high costs of food that make our board bills seem a bit out of range, it is mollifying to feel that we are getting our money's worth by way of getting good meals well presented.

But why all this jabber? Let's go eat!

Faculty Profile

Dr. Samuel Hoke, the new Director of the Health Center at Allegheny College this year, is a man whom most of us, at one time or another, will get to know.

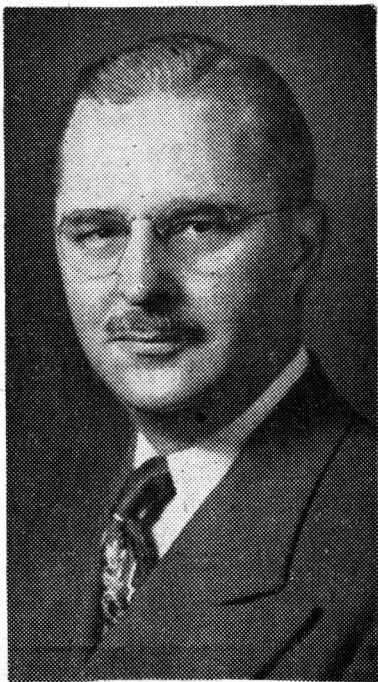

Seated in his small, bright office, slowly smoking his pipe, Dr. Hoke gave the impression of having all the time in the world. This, however, is far from correct.

Besides his work at the infirmary, he is employed by the American Viscose Corporation. Piano-tuning is another side-line.

When asked about his sports interests, he wistfully mentioned a liking for fishing and hunting. "A liking, but very little actual participation, I'm afraid," he said.

An aspiring musician, the doctor has played in his home-town band, and a dance trio "in some stages of past existence." He plays a variety of instruments—trumpet, baritone and violin being his favorites. A small but carefully chosen record collection ties up his hobby.

Dr. Hoke is deeply engrossed in his profession. He said, "My chief interest is in the field of preventive medicine, not in the curing. I really believe that my work here at Allegheny can further my chances of achievement."

Pins 'n Sins

It was a shame we lost the pep rally last Friday night—better luck next time, kiddos.

Weekend successes: Delt and Phi Delt teas, the newly reorganized college band, the Kappa Delta Epsilon Dance, and nine boys from Brooklyn!

Cwen Veep Mary Jane Curry failed her first solo flight while soaring from the second story of Brooks. Forget about flying, M. J., it's strictly for the birdies.

. . . . And best wishes to Byron Dretzler for a speedy recovery.

The case of the roaming pin: are fraternity pins appearing on the backs of sweaters nowadays, or was the sweater on backwards?

Speaking of sweaters, several were recently adorned with glitter. Lella "Casey" Chase was pinned to Bob Seibel (Penn State); Ann Archbold to Dick Wasserman; Janie Parsons to Bill Dale; and Joyce Melvin to Jack Hill.

Those with the altar in view are Marla Schneider and Jim McMahon ('51, Penn State); Pixie Boyer and Charles Hubbell (University of Michigan); Joan Banyard and George Mitchell (Syracuse); Mary Ellen English and Bob Drach; and Joan Dickie, '52, and Jim Connley (University of Pittsburgh).

Faux pas of the week: Pins 'n Sins reporting a girl to the Jack Mitchells last week. Jack tells us his son has no sister yet. Sorry.

Here's an official Hello to a new canine member of the Allegheny family—the Chi Rho's seven-month-old German police dog, Shane.

Seems the primary objective of one sophomore girl is to see her picture hanging over the Delt fireplace.

Bang, Bang, you're dead . . . Who-dunit?

Letters to the Editors

To the Editor:

We find it hard to agree with the comment in the last issue of The Campus that the overall impression of the four fraternity teas last Sunday was "Smashing!"

We feel that the two fraternities on the hill could take a lesson in etiquette from the two smaller fraternities that held teas that afternoon. These two hill-top fraternities were so involved greeting and showing freshmen through their houses that they had little time even to greet other guests. From talking to other students, we do not believe we are the only ones who hold this opinion.

If fraternities are going to have teas, they should realize and accept the responsibilities toward their guests.

Names withheld upon request

To the Editor:

We would like to register our annoyance at the disgraceful conduct that took place in Brooks dining hall last Thursday at dinner. Can it be that Allegheny students have reached the point where they cannot be trusted to behave themselves in a refined manner unless some member of the faculty watches over them like a warden?

Yet it seems that these same students are the ones who wish to establish an honor system in the college. How could the honor system possibly be a success at Allegheny when some of the students cannot be placed on their honor to behave themselves at one meal? The honor system, if established, must hold for all the students, not just for part of them.

Some of the students who made the most disturbance in the dining hall were those very persons who have done the most complaining about the abolishment of cottage week. Yet, instead of putting the blame where it belongs, squarely upon themselves, they persist in blaming the faculty.

We think it is time that this faction of the student body takes a good look at its own actions instead of conveniently blaming the faculty for everything they don't like about Allegheny. Those who behave like adults will be treated as such. Allegheny will be just what we make it. It's all up to us.

Lithographs By Orozco Displayed In Current Library Art Exhibit

Lithographs by Jose Clemente Orozco, one of the leaders of twentieth century Mexican art, are now on display in the Octagon Room of Reis Library. The prints in the exhibition have been lent without charge to the college by the Weyhe Gallery of New York City. They will be displayed until October 25 and are for sale to the public.

Orozco is best known for his large mural projects. Another facet of his art is shown by the graphic work represented by the lithographs on exhibition.

The next art display is to be a group of "Studies for 'Guernica'" by Picasso. The exhibit will run from November 9 through 29.

College Manner South Of The Border Differs From Allegheny Way—Susana

It's spring now in Susana Franchi's native land of Argentina, and while a cold wetness prevailed outside the confines of the Grill, we talked for a while with Susana about colleges, customs, and Argentines and Americans in general.

Susana, a native of Cordoba, has studied for two years at the University of Cordoba. It's a rather large city, with a population of about one-half million, situated in the interior of the country about 500 miles directly west of Buenos Aires. The university is similar to our own large-city schools. "There's no real campus to speak of," explained Susana, "and there are no dormitories." The students live in lodging houses around the city, and are naturally free of the restrictions which we have, living on campus.

There are very few organizations of any kind, and no school newspaper, the university's function being strictly academic. Student-faculty relationships are, as a result, much more formal than they are here. Susana was surprised to find students here yawning and slumped down in their seats before the professor. She also commented, "To see the President at Cordoba you have to be very lucky."

What are the most striking differences between North and South America? Susana has a list a mile long covering categories starting with architecture and ending with what time supper is served (9 p.m. in Argentina, with tea at 5). Dates are after supper, usually start between 9 and 10 p.m.

Then there are the inevitable social differences. Dates in Argentina are double, never single, but overtures are a bit less formal. When a pretty girl passes on the street the Latin American boy isn't a bit shy about proclaiming the girl's beauties in as poetic a manner as he knows how. Here a long whistle suffices, and even that is often not forthcoming. A long look does the trick. At any rate, we understand that the silence is disturbing to a senorita with any charm.

Susana doesn't quite fit the stereotyped American idea of a senorita, though. Her hair is light, and her eyes are . . . well, a grayish-hazel. That description isn't quite enough, though. They really have a lot more than just color. —C.F.E.

Washington Semester Application Deadline

All junior students interested in applying for the Washington Semester at The American University in Washington, D.C. are reminded that all applications must be handed in by Monday, October 20.

Information and application blanks for the specialized study may be secured from either Mr. Paul Giddens or Mr. Paul Cares, Arter 103.

IFC Sponsors Round Robin For Freshmen This Sunday Evening

The freshman men have been divided into seven sections for the tour and will visit each fraternity house for one-half hour. There are to be no planned programs, speeches, nor entertainment of freshman men during the tour. No refreshments are to be served. However, cigarettes may be offered touring guests by fraternity men.

The freshmen dormitories have been divided as follows:

- Group I—Joslin and Prospect
- Group II—Tarbell
- Group III—Cochran, Section I
- Group IV—Beebe and Patton
- Group V—Cochran, Section II
- Group VI—Commuters
- Group VII—Batton, Klie, and Nomer

Transportation will be provided by fraternity members to each of the houses.

Seniors To Register With Placement Bureau

Director of Placement Robert T. Sherman has requested that all seniors register with the Placement Bureau during the week of October 13. Registration forms can be obtained in the Admissions Office in Bentley Hall and should be returned to that office as soon as they are completed.

He announced that representatives of several business concerns are planning to visit Allegheny within the next few weeks for the purpose of interviewing job applicants, and suggested that men students especially make initial contacts now rather than waiting until after fulfilling possible service commitments.

Questions concerning placement should be referred to Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Young, or Mr. Sherman.

Week's Chapel Program Released By Chaplain

Chaplain Herbert Picht will speak on the topic "The Marks of a Christian" at the regular Sunday chapel service at 11 p.m. on October 12 in Ford Chapel.

"Talking Back to the Chaplain" is the title of the evening ACA program scheduled for 7 p.m. in the chapel. Following a synopsis of Dr. Picht's morning sermon, the meeting will be open for discussion.

The Thoburn Club will be in charge of the regular Wednesday chapel service at 10 a.m. on October 15. Bob Klein, president of the club, will speak on the topic "Fifty-Fifty", and freshmen Britt Poulson and Phil Lang will take part in the program.

Anderson To Present Darling Lecture On October 16 In Chapel

Dr. Edgar Anderson, assistant director of the Missouri Botanical Garden and Englemann Professor of Botany at Washington University in St. Louis, will deliver an illustrated lecture, "What is a Species and Why Bother?", at 8:15 p.m. on Thursday, October 16, in Ford Chapel. Dr. Anderson is the Darling Lecturer for 1952-53.

Speakers sponsored by the Darling Lectureship fund are selected by the Public Events Committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Henry Pommer, in consultation with members of the departments of science.

Friends Sponsor Weekend Retreat At Allegany Park

The American Friends Service Committee will sponsor a weekend retreat Friday through Sunday, October 24 through 26, at Allegany State Park, New York. Purpose of the retreat is to bring together college students who are interested in the philosophy and practice of pacifism for discussion of the pacifist movement.

Discussion leader will be Harrop Freeman, professor of law at Cornell University. Mr. Freeman is author of "Coercion of States in International Organizations" and "Peace Is the Victory". He attended the discussions on disarmament at the Sixth General Assembly of the United Nations in Paris and helped prepare the pamphlet "Towards Security Through Disarmament." Dr. Henry Pommer will be chairman, and Mrs. Pommer will be hostess for the retreat.

Complete costs for the weekend are $11.50. Students interested in attending should contact Dr. Pommer in Arter Hall or at his home by tomorrow for further details.

Football Team Tastes First Defeat; Allegheny Lacks Defensive Backfield

by Tom Ballish

Last Saturday afternoon saw a well-coached but out-fought Allegheny team taste its first defeat of the season. Dickinson always has been a tough opponent for Allegheny, and this year was no exception.

The Red Devils of Dickinson came here on the rebound from a 21-0 thumping at the hands of a strong Trinity College, just spoiling for a taste of victory. There is much to be said about a team's being psychologically ready for a game, as Dickinson certainly was. Not to say that the Gators expected an easy afternoon, but just that the Red Devils were really "up" for the game.

At any rate, we did see a strong Hilltopper team on the field and the score (18-0) is certainly not a true indication of the football that we played. I feel that if we had scored when we got the breaks in the first quarter, it could have been an entirely different game. Then we would not only have had seven points but a tremendous boost to our morale and an opposite effect on a powerful Dickinson defensive platoon. As it turned out, the failure to score seemed to discourage the Gators and to encourage the Red Devils.

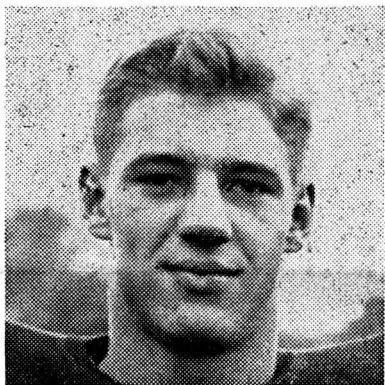

Why do I say we saw a well-coached team? In the first place, for the better part of the game most of the blocking was good, with the exception of a few key blocks being missed. These blocks, if made, would have been sure touchdowns for the Gators. Other significant encouraging features were the hard running of our backs, some sharp tackling, and a hard-charging defensive line.

However, the lack of a good solid defensive backfield was evident for a second week in a row. Key passes by Dickinson were what really beat us. The factor here is apparent, our pass defense. This must be improved upon if we expect to win many games.

A bit of extra praise and credit must go to several players for a good job on Saturday. With the "old pro" Dave McMahon showing the way, we saw hard running by our backs. Don Barron, although not extremely fast, makes up for it in hard driving and elusiveness. Alex "Chop-em-off" O'Connell, a pint-sized lad, showed what he could do when he got the opportunity, as he proved to be the leading ground-gainer of the afternoon. Credit is also due to our defensive line led by Jim Henne, center line-backer, and to our tackles Oehmler and Rickard.

Editor's Note: Tom Ballish, a member of the class of 1951, was a stalwart at end for four years for the Blue and Gold.

Know Your Gators

Hub Ocamb

"Whispering Hub" Ocamb hails from Strong-Vincent high school in Erie, where he was second team all-city guard in his senior year. Coming out for football at Allegheny, he suffered a shoulder separation and a broken arm which kept him out of play his freshman and junior years. He won one letter in football in his sophomore year at a guard position. He also went out for track, and holds the field, school, and district records in the javelin-throw.

This year he has been playing

Grove City Opponent For Blue and Gold; Lineup Undecided

With only three days of soccer practice left before the opening game on Tuesday with Grove City, coach Bill Hanson's team is very slowly rounding into shape. The game will be played at College Field and will be a good indication of what can be expected from the booters for the remaining portion of the season.

The starting lineup is at present undecided but several freshmen will undoubtedly see considerable action as there are few experienced upper-classmen, with the exception of lettermen Al Eckstrom, Bob Buck, George Culberson, John Gow, Dane Hannum, and Rodger Hemer. The first team will probably not be definitely decided upon until shortly before game time.

Nothing is known of this year's opening opponent except that Allegheny defeated them last year 4-1. This is no indication of what to expect this year, as many key men from last year's Gator squad have graduated. The loss will be noticed most in the line where two good shooters are missing at the inside positions.

If the Gators can beat Grove City in their opener, there is a good chance that they will have a successful season, winning more than they lose, as Grove City again appears on the schedule later in the season. Western Reserve of Cleveland also went down to defeat last year, but Oberlin and Slippery Rock can be counted on to do their usual fine job of running the Gators ragged with their top-notch brand of ball.

Intramural Schedule

Fighting desperately to survive the rain and ROTC drills the intramural football schedule battled through three games last week. The scores were as follows:

Independents 18 — Delts 0.
Chi Rhos 13 — Theta Chis 12.
Phi Psis 24 — Phi Gams 12.
Games this week are:
Today —Phi Psis — Phi Delts
Independents — Chi Rhos
Monday—Delts — Theta Chis
Phi Gams — Sigs

guard on offense, and has held down the place-kicking job, booting four extra points against Oberlin in the opener. Standing six feet and tipping the scales at 190, Hub seems to be off to a good start in this, his senior year.

Gators Meet Statesman On Saturday; Teams Both Have 1-1 Season Records

The Golden Gators will be gunning for their second win of the season when they meet the Statesmen of Hobart College this Saturday at Geneva, N.Y. The teams have identical records, and scouting reports indicate that they are pretty evenly matched.

Hobart started their season off with a 48-12 win over Brooklyn College. They showed offensive strength in this first test, but went down to defeat last Saturday at the hands of a rugged Trinity team 34-0.

The Statesmen run from a split-winged-T formation, and employ the two platoon system. They have four very good hard-running backs, and what passing they do is centered around Butler, an end, and their fullback and captain, Michaels, as receivers. In the second half of the Brooklyn game they tried Sinnock, a freshman, at halfback, and the scouts feel that he was the best back on the field.

The Maroon and Orange line charge hard, but on the whole seem to equal that of the Hilltoppers. The team is young, and lacks experience, but by Saturday they will be entering their third game together and this inexperience may not be too big a factor.

Baker Out

The Gators will go into the Hobart game in pretty good physical shape on the whole. Definitely lost to the team as a result of the Dickinson tilt, however, is fullback Bob Baker, an important cog in the offensive machine. Time and the results of heat treatments will be the determining factors in whether he is back in action at an early date. Alex O'Connell took over at his position late in the game Saturday and did very well, averaging almost eight yards per try.

At this writing there are no important changes in the lineup, and the group that has been playing the last two games will probably see

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

The campus is still resounding to the cheers and enthusiasm which attended the appearance of the honorable James Duff. Without wishing to cast a sour note upon the proceedings, I would like to consider several things the senator said. Like many of those who listened, Republicans and Democrats alike, I was somewhat bowled over by the force of the Senator's personality. I have since had occasion to ponder two points which the senator dealt with at length.

Two things which the senator said bother me. In the first place, he raised the issue of corruption in government, and secondly, he charged the Democratic administration with failure to weed out Communists in government.

Concerning the first point, I have the distinct recollection, which I will attempt to verify, that in a "Meet the Press" type of radio interview before the Republican National Convention, the Senator said, in answer to a query, that he didn't believe corruption would be a major issue." He explained at the time that every administration has to expect to find a few "rotten apples" in the barrel. I remember this particularly because I was at the time very much impressed by the Senator's honesty and broadmindedness.

In the second place, the Senator attempted to lay the entire blame of Communists in government on the Democratic administration. It occurs to me that the Republicans should share in the blame for this condition, if it exists as they claim. It would seem to me that the irresponsible charges made by Senator Joseph McCarthy were an important factor. This Senator made so many irresponsible charges—cried wolf so many times—that it is no wonder Alger Hiss and his ilk were dismissed as "red herrings." At the same time, McCarthy's "methods" have had the effect of undermining, to a considerable extent, many people's faith in democratic processes and have thus provided food for Communist propaganda so that many people suspect every honest investigation of being just another "witch hunt".

I submit that in the first place, the senator is being very inconsistent with his earlier view, and that in the second, he should admit that the Republican party must bear part of the responsibility for any Communists in the government.

implements to destroy us . . . There is not the remotest doubt that the Russians have the kind of planes and the type of bombs capable of wholesale destruction of American cities."

Quoting Thomas Jefferson's statement that "The whole art of government is honesty," Duff maintained, "I charge this administration with being the most corrupt administration on a national basis in this nation's history." He cited "crookedness in the Internal Revenue Department", inefficiency and waste in the construction of air bases, and scandals in veterans' housing projects.

"Everyplace that there has been a serious investigation, there has been found evidence of corruption," he stated. "The fact is that there is a mess in Washington."

Referring to his previous quotation from Jefferson, he said, ". . . (Truman's) administration has lost the art of government, and that in itself is sufficient reason to kick him out."

With regard to foreign policy, he said, "I think you've got to stop Communism wherever it rears its head. I also believe that the government of the United States, set up on certain Constitutional procedures, must be adhered to."

He criticized our actions in Korea, claiming that our withdrawal of troops in 1950 was a "direct invitation to Russia to intervene." He stated that war was begun in Korea without proper Constitutional procedures, since Congress has never been asked to approve a formal declaration of war, the fighting being termed a "police action."

Following the speech there was a 15-minute question and answer period in the Chapel. The group then moved to the Pine Room of Brooks Hall for another discussion period, lasting 20 minutes.

President Louis T. Benezet introduced the speaker and acted as chairman of the discussion sessions.

After leaving the campus, Duff spoke to a group of Republicans at a dinner held Tuesday evening in Meadville.

Ditch Digging To Prevent Floods During Future Meadville Monsoons

by Barbara Walck

Weird ideas have been cropping up concerning the ditch-digging which extends from in back of Arter down to Bentley Hall. A blushing co-ed declares, "They're piping in some more water to go under the Rustic Bridge! Isn't that romantic?" Peering out from under his dink, one of the freshmen timidly ventures the guess that it's an underground subway connecting classroom buildings for student transportation on rainy days! A geology major emphatically states that it's "unquestionably an amateurish attempt at open-pit coal mining!"

Actually, this construction is only a drainage system continuing down from Meadow Street. It seems that during the Meadville monsoons, water used to gush down a natural ravine, in the midst of which college officials inconsiderately placed Arter Hall, and, as an added obstacle, Brooks Drive. As a result, the Playshop periodically filled with three or four feet of water, and Park Avenue became a vertiable river. This might conceivably be the reason why every student must pass the Red Cross swimming test before graduation.

The new pipeline will exert a tremendous influence on campus life. No longer will Mr. Hulburt have to slosh around the Playshop in rubber hip-boots. No longer will would-be thespians doggie-paddle on and off the stage in their water-proof makeup and rubberized costumes. Even the boys in Beebe House will permanently dock their canoes as they watch Park Avenue River slowly dry up. Freshman letters will no longer be addressed to Catfish, Hall, Mudville, Pa." We of Allegheny College are on the eve of a great new era!

Pre-Med Students Meet In Wilcox Hall Tuesday

All sophomore and junior pre-medical students, and any sophomores or juniors considering the study of medicine, are to meet with the faculty Pre-Medical Advisory Committee on Tuesday, October 14, at 7:15 p.m., in Wilcox Hall.

"This is a very important meeting for all pre-medical students," Mr. Philip M. Benjamin, chairman of the committee, stated today. "We want to make sure that every pre-medical student is properly scheduled on requirements for medical school."

The Pre-Medical Advisory Committee has already met with pre-medical students in the freshman and senior classes. According to Mr. Benjamin, senior applications and recommendations are now being prepared.

Mr. Benjamin emphasized that sophomores and juniors who have not as yet registered with the Pre-Medical Committee should do so at once, stating, "Failure to register will be considered an indication that the student is not interested in the study of medicine." Registration blanks can be obtained at Mr. Benjamin's office in Reis Library.
