NOTED AUTHOR IS GUEST OF COLLEGE

STANLEY HIGH ADDRESSES THE STUDENT BODY IN FOUR LECTURES

Last Thursday and Friday Allegheny College had as a guest Stanley High, a well known lecturer and author. Mr. High, author of "The Revolt of Youth," and "China's Place in the Sun," is a graduate of Boston Theological School and since his graduation at that institution has traveled practically all over the world studying the problems of the various races and nationalities.

Each day that Mr. High was here he spoke at the regular chapel service, and also at evening services in Ford Memorial Chapel.

At the first of his series of lectures, Mr. High addressed the students of the college on the topic "White Man's Chickens." In opening, the speaker contended that in the past generation there has been a wide-spread decline of docility in the world. The colored races are learning to dispense with the white man and, although they may still bow and scrape with their bodies, they no longer bow and scrape with their spirits. Mr. High continued, "Their minds are no longer for sale, but they are dreaming and thinking of the time when their bodies will be as free as their minds and spirits are now. The white man's chickens are coming home to roost."

Mr. High told of the way in which the white man forced himself upon these countries and dominated them by the whip. A free-booter tradition was set up, but things are now changing and the "booted" is becoming the "booter." The colored people, composing two thirds of the human race, are no longer content to be trampled by the dominance of the white race and are turning toward a destination of their own choosing. We cannot stop this change; the only thing in our power is to help set the direction. This great movement is now under way and it is only in our powers to determine whether these peoples shall purchase self-government with our co-operation, or at our expense.

In this second lecture, which he delivered Thursday evening, Mr. High spoke on "Youth Rampant." His main point in this lecture was, as he expressed it, that the cards are stacked for a war with Europe. The greater part of the evening was devoted to answering questions, in the form of an informal discussion. Those present asked questions on various subjects, and Mr. High answered them very clearly and precisely.

Mr. High spoke again in chapel on Friday. His subject was "Gods and Glass Houses." He discussed the alternatives that confronted the new world that is in the process of making. He asserted that the colored peoples, coming up under the leadership of an awakened youth, had arrived at the great cross-roads of decision. Upon this decision that they are being forced to make rests the fate of this earth.

"Plenty of Gods and plenty of gospels are being preached to these peoples today, and by our complacency we stand to lose our chance to make this world the kind of place that we would want to see it. All won't go well unless more people take an active part in making this world a more decent and a more Christian-like place in which to live."

"Because of their numbers, it is important that, in every sense of the word, all these colored peoples have risen up and are asserting their rights to choose their own destinies. We say that we are going to the orient to teach them, but in a great many respects (Continued on Page 2)

NUMEROUS REPAIRS MADE IN LIBRARY AND WILCOX

Since before Christmas men have been at work repairing the library. Numerous repairs have been made where the plaster was off and the whole building has been re-decorated. The club rooms have all been painted and in some instances additions have been made to the furnishings. The library rooms themselves have been painted and new shades have been secured for the windows. The work has been completed in the library and the men are now at work in Wilcox Hall. The plaster is especially bad in this building and it will be several months before the work is completed. The building will be painted and other repairs similar to those made in the library will be made.

IMPORTANT

There will be a meeting of all men interested in tennis, and in organizing of the tennis team for the coming season, in the Oratory of the Chapel, on next Monday at 12:30.

Daisy Jean Presents A Varied Program In Concert Series

Miss Daisy Jean appeared as the fourth number on the Allegheny College Concert series at Ford Memorial Chapel Tuesday evening, February 14. Before a very attentive audience, Miss Jean played the 'cello, accompanied by Miss Ann Truesdale at the piano, and sang, accompanying herself on the harp. Her songs, sung very beautifully, were in French and Italian.

Miss Jean was born in France and her musical career began at the age of six. She studied at the Conservatory in Brussels and Antwerp, for which she has been called the Belgian Artist, and later played in an orchestra under the leadership of the famous composer, Saint-Saens. Daisy Jean came to America during the World War, when her studies were interrupted in Belgium, and has been giving concerts throughout the United States, having appeared in forty-four different states. In less than eight months' time she has given more than a hundred concerts, all together covering 2500 miles. When not traveling, Miss Jean practices five hours on the 'cello and three hours on the harp every day.

DOCTOR BEEBE SPEAKS ON "A FINER ALLEGHENY"

PRESIDENT GIVES REPORT ON COLLEGE AT MEETING OF TRUSTEES

An excerpt from the report of President James A. Beebe to the Board of Trustees at their mid-year meeting held in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, January 19, 1928.

I cannot conclude this report without expressing my gratitude to the trustees, individually and collectively, for unfailing sympathy and co-operation in the work of administering the College the past two years. Particularly do I record my appreciation of their generous gifts of time, counsel, and money during the last three months. Such devotion on the part of the governing body must result in a finer Allegheny.

From the standpoint of equipment, this finer Allegheny requires at once two new buildings—Arter Recitation Hall and a Residence Hall for Freshmen Men—in addition to an enlarged library. It requires also a larger teaching staff.

But more numbers of teachers and buildings never made any school fine or great. That is a question of atmosphere and spirit. This finer spirit should be characterized by complete educational sincerity. For example, we cannot publish one standard of admission in our catalogue and practice a lower one in admitting students to classes. We cannot announce high-sounding courses of study in order to attract students and put the conduct of those courses into the hands of incompetent boys and girls. "Neither the sermons preached to students nor the quality of the official college piety can be accepted as an excuse for educational unrighteousness."

Furthermore, this finer spirit will be characterized by increased devotion to the liberal ideal in education as distinguished from the vocational ideal. Let us emphasize the doctrine that knowledge may be an end in itself and not merely an instrument to some other end. Let us ask students to come to Allegheny, not for the sake primarily of the economic value of a college education, but for the deeper understanding of the world of things and men that it develops.

Again, that finer spirit will recognize that the supreme end of education is better men and women and it will make a large place for religion as the great instrument for securing morality. This has little to do with sec-

VOLLEY BALL STARTS WITH FOUR GAMES

The annual Inter-Fraternity Volley Ball tournament got off to a flying start last night with four games being played in the gym. The season is far too young yet to make any predictions as to the ultimate winner and from early indications it looks as though there will be a hard fight all the way. Four more games will be played next Wednesday night, February 22. The schedule is as follows:

League A
Faculty vs. Phi Deltas.
S. A. E. vs. Beta Upsilon.

League B
Deltas vs. Psi.
Non Frats vs. Beta Kappa.
Chi Rho and Phi Gamma drew byes and will furnish referees.

VICTORY FINALLY PAYS VISIT TO CAMP OF BASKETBALL TEAM

Success of Bakermen Comes as Climax to Long Period of Court Defeats

Ringling for the first time in nearly a year to celebrate an athletic triumph, the bell of Old Bentley pealed forth its glad notes last Saturday night to announce to the college and town that the Blue and Gold had triumphed over the championship-aspiring W. & J. basketball team. A thrilling last minute drive resulted in a 29-27 victory for a persistent Allegheny team that has never ceased to fight in the face of nine straight defeats. It was a glorious victory, hard-fought and well-earned, that greeted five tired blue-clad players as they walked off the floor after forty minutes of thrilling basketball.

The victory was a brilliant one, coming as a climax to several weeks of steady improvement on the part of the Allegheny team. The game was of the sort which constantly keeps the crowd on edge. It was a battle between a fast, smoothly-working Allegheny team and a brilliant, but somewhat erratic W. & J. team, with the odds against us 100 to 1.

From the first tip-off it could be easily seen that a real battle was in store. Elchmy scored first on a foul and was followed by Bair, who sank a basket after a pretty dribble. Then Kirkman broke the ice for W. & J. with a long shot, and Robinson and Sanders elevated the score to 5-1 in favor of the visitors. Bair came back to score twice from the foul line, putting his team once again in the lead. The advantage was not long maintained, for twice before the period ended, the Presidents tallied from the floor, giving them a 10-4 lead. Gilchrist opened the second quarter by caging both possibilities from the foul line that were awarded him, but that ended his team's scoring that stanza.

Book Club Donates Twenty-eight New Books To Library

The Quill Club Book Club, organized last February, gave the library a new selection of modern fiction. These books have been used exclusively by the club's members during the past year. In the future, books which are a year old will be given to the library. The Quill Club members have derived much pleasure and profit from these volumes, and they now can be used by the public. The books are as follows:

Dreams and Delight—L. A. Beck.
The Keys—Margaret Deland.
Show Boat—Edna Ferber.
The Silver Spoon—John Galsworthy.
Young Anarchy—Phillip Gibbs.
The Romantic Comedians—Ellen Glasgow.
Angel—Duboise Heyward.
Odalisque—L. M. Hussey.
Shoot—Suiji Pirandella.
None But the Brave—Arthur Schntzler.
The Crock of Gold—Joseph Stephens.
The Golden Key—Henry Van Dyke.
Farmer John—Hugh Walpole.
The Venetian Glass Nephew—Elinor Wylie.
Caponsacchi—Goodrich and Palmer.
Islanders—Helen R. Hull.
Mother Knows Best—Edna Ferber.
You Can't Win—Jack Black.
Darwin—Gamaliel Bradford.
New Hampshire—Henry Holt.
Which Way Parnassus—Percy Marks.
The Golden Day—Lewis Mumford.
Walter Camp—H. Powell, Jr.
Selected Poems—Lizetti W. Reese.
Words and Music—Sigmund Spaeth.
The Bugle Sounds—Zinovii Pechkoff.
George Washington—Rupert Hughes.
A Methodist Saint—Herbert Asbury.

EPWORTH LEAGUE WISHES STUDENTS' OLD CLOTHES

The Epworth League of Stone Church is conducting a campaign to aid the striking miners of Pennsylvania. They are sending representatives to each fraternity house for any old clothes that are at all wearable. All men who have anything of this nature are requested to donate them.

Gillies, Bair, and Nesbitt all came through for Allegheny, bringing the total score up to 13-10 as the half ended.

The third quarter witnessed a lull in the scoring. Bair's foul, and then one by Robinson for the visitors, followed by a basket by Gilchrist brought the score to a 14 all deadlock, but Jimmie Gillies succeeded in once again establishing Allegheny in the lead with a two-pointer before the period ended. Then came the final quarter, the fastest, most exciting, most offensive period of the whole game. The Baker-boys started off with a bang and before the time was half gone, things were looking pretty good for Allegheny, entrenched in the lead, 26-21. But then things happened in quick order. Two long shots by Robinson soon closed the gap to 26-25, and there were but two minutes and ten seconds left to go. Kirkman came through again to sink a long shot from the center of the floor, giving W. & J. a one-point lead. A minute passed and the fans were commencing to think that the game would end with Allegheny on the short end of the score, as usual, but this was not the case. Dribbling down the floor, Lane was fouled and awarded a free throw. That was the point that would tie the game, and the nifty forward came through with a perfect toss. The score was tied! Thirty seconds to go! Then (Continued on page 4)

Girls' Team Will Play Edinboro State Normal Here

Last spring the right of inter-collegiate sport was granted the Women's Athletic Association, with the result that Mildred Anderson, manager, has scheduled two basketball games with Edinboro. The Hulings Hall gym will be the scene of the first combat March 17, while the return match will take place at Edinboro a week later.

Miss Cora LeRoy, athletic director, has chosen the following team: Mildred Anderson and Beth Smiley, forwards; Agnes Williams, center and forward; Helen Taggart, side center and guard; Margaret Squires, guard and forward; Laura Byers and Leah Pettit, guards; Sara Dixon, side center; Marguerite Forbell, center.

On the squad, also, are the following members: Alice Luther, Louise Power, Vera Gilmore, Sara Key, Lorraine Weeks and Ruth Farquhar. Although there is unusually good material among the freshmen they are barred from the first team, but will be used as substitutes.

PLANS STARTED FOR 1928 SENIOR DANCE

A meeting was held Friday afternoon in the Chapel for the purpose of working out the details for the Senior Prom. It was definitely decided to hold the Prom in the gymnasium. It was also decided to use decorations profusely, to dispense with any favor, and to have it strictly formal. The matter of an orchestra was left undecided for the present. The committee in charge of the arrangements has as its members: Paul C. Reynolds, Phi Gamma Delta, chairman; Duff McGill, Delta Tau Delta; Alan S. Christner, Phi Delta Theta; James R. Cober, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Thomas G. Leffingwell, Phi Kappa Psi; Frederick Easton, Alpha Chi Rho; Herman Rogers, Beta Kappa; Sanford Chilcote, Beta Upsilon; Louis Pike, Non-Fraternity.

COLLEGE Y. W. WILL RAISE FUNDS TO MEET EXPENSES

The Allegheny Y. W. C. A. is engineering a campaign to raise necessary funds to meet the demands of the budget. Money obtained is used for national membership fees, the Isabelle Thoburn fund, and to defray the expenses of the delegate to the Eaglesmere conference.

Ruth Cramblett, vice president of the organization, has appointed Frances Greenawalt to take charge of the drive among the town women. The campaign in Hulings Hall is proceeding under the following committee: Marion Sternberg, Caroline Richards, Irene Andrews, Sara Frances Dixon, Mildred Van Dusen and Margaret Helmbold.

F. J. La Bounty Is To Take Up Work As Alumni Secretary

It has been announced that Mr. F. J. La Bounty '07, will soon arrive here and take up his work as Alumni Secretary of Allegheny College.

Mr. La Bounty is a man of impressive personality and of great gifts for business administration. Until recently, he has been advertising executive for the Genessee Pure Food Co., makers of Jello, at LeRoy, N. Y.

During the war, Mr. La Bounty served overseas as an officer in the Red Cross. Previous to that time, he taught at Edinboro State Normal School. Still previous to that he taught in the preparatory school that was attached to Allegheny College.

While a student, he developed an extraordinary interest in the history of Allegheny, and learning that the body of President Timothy Alden was resting in a neglected grave near Sharpsville, he was not content until he had arranged for the removal of the body to the beautiful college lot in Greendale Cemetery, Meadville.

Mr. La Bounty comes to his work among the alumni of the college from a wide range of experience in which he has been uniformly successful. His office will be located in Bentley Hall.

FAMOUS STONE CHURCH WILL RE-OPEN APRIL 29

REDECORATED AUDITORIUM WILL HAVE ALLEGHENY COLLEGE WINDOW

The work of rebuilding the Stone Church is progressing rapidly. The cane stone work is nearly completed. A series of pillars extending along the outside aisles have already been placed. With the completion of this stone work the plastering of the walls will begin, followed by the placing of the wood work. This includes the beams and panels of the gallery and the chancel. The auditorium will be decorated in a unique design.

The work in Thoburn Chapel is also well advanced. The third floor of this part of the building will be devoted to the use of young people and college students. There will be a chapel which will seat one hundred and fifty people, classrooms for religious education, and a kitchenette. This suite of rooms will be for the disposal of any young people's organization. The decoration will be just as beautiful as that of the main auditorium.

The windows of the church will be put in on March 1. They will be an adaptation of the thirteenth century models of the Chartres Cathedral in France, depicting the relation of Christianity to life. In the first there will be a painting, "Youth;" in the second, "Dawn," and in the large one at the end, religious educational scenes, the story of Methodism, Allegheny's religious representative, the log cabin which was the beginning of Allegheny College, and the tower of Bentley Hall.

In the entire edifice there will be fifty-five individual class rooms, eight assembly rooms, three kitchens, a gymnasium, bowling alleys, and a recreation hall with stage equipment for dramatics and moving pictures. This church will be dedicated April 29, and on April 30 there will be a banquet for the college students and the young people of Meadville.

Southwest Review Offers Award For Best College Poem

The "Southwest Review" has announced a poetry contest open to any undergraduate student in an American college. The terms under which the award will be made are as follows:

1. One prize, of one hundred dollars, is offered.
2. All manuscripts should be addressed to the "Southwest Review," care of Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas.
3. Three typewritten copies of every manuscript must be included.
4. The poem or group of poems submitted must not exceed one hundred lines in length.
5. There is no restriction upon form or subject.
6. Manuscripts must be in the hands of the editors of the "Review" before May 1, 1928.
7. The poem given first place by the judges will be published in the summer number of the "Review." The editors reserve the right to publish any other poem submitted upon payment of the usual rates.
8. The names of the judges will be announced in the spring number of the "Review."

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA IS INSTALLED HERE

COCHRAN HALL IS SCENE OF THE INSTALLATION CEREMONIES

The first meeting of the Psi chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa was held at Cochran Hall on Wednesday evening, February 15, at 6:30 o'clock. A tempting dinner was served in a private room to twenty-two members, including thirteen new initiates, Prof. G. L. Schramm, and several visitors. After dinner speeches were delivered by Prof. Schramm and Robert L. Kirkpatrick. Following the talks the regular installation services were held, led by Professor Schramm according to the Constitution. The officers of the new Psi circle are: President, David H. Behrhorst; Vice President, James R. Cober; Secretary and Treasurer, Paul C. Reynolds.

The membership of this organization shall consist of three classes: First, students, either graduate or undergraduate, of the institution in which the circle is located, as hereinafter provided; second, four members of the active faculty of the same institution, who shall be elected, one each year, for a term of four years; and third, not more than four alumni of the same circle who may be elected for a period of one year, provided that the total number of active alumni and faculty does not exceed forty per cent of the total active membership of the circle in question.

The associate members shall consist of all those who have been previously active members, but who shall have been retired from the actual membership list on account of their removal from the institution where the circle to which they belong is located, the expiration of their terms as active members, or other similar reasons.

Honorary members shall consist of all those not included in the active or associate membership, whether elected from the alumni of the institution or not.

Any man who shall have achieved honorable distinction in his chosen vocation may be elected to honorary membership in any circle of this organization, although he may have had no previous connection with the institution in which the circle is located.

Allegheny Will Meet Geneva and Westminster Titans

Allegheny's basketball team, up and coming, will endeavor to secure revenge for two early season defeats during the coming week. On Saturday night the team will travel to New Wilmington where they meet the Titans of Westminster College, and on Tuesday night they will tackle Geneva in a return engagement. Both games promise to be plenty hard for the Bakermen, and the Blue and Gold boys are anxious to make better showings against these teams than they did in the first contests with them.

To Westminster goes the credit for having given Allegheny one of the worst defeats that they have received in years. The six-footers from New Wilmington had things pretty much their own way in the first meeting between the two teams, their advantage being particularly in their height. With the way that Allegheny has been improving lately, it is hoped that there will be no repetition of the 44-11 game which featured the first meeting of the two teams.

Next Tuesday night will see Bo McMillan's men invading the territory of the Blue and Gold. Our team will put up a game fight in an attempt to wipe out the stigma of the defeat handed them by this aggregation on February 7 at Beaver Falls. The Allegheny men will have their hands full if they succeed in taking over this team, however.

KAPPAS AND ALPHA CHIS FAIL TO MEET OPPONENTS

The Inter-sorority basketball tournament started last week with games scheduled for Friday and Tuesday. Neither game was played, however, the Kappas failing to meet the Thetas, while the Alpha Chis forfeited the game to the Alpha Gamis.

The remaining two games of the first series will probably be played during the week.

TO THE ALUMNI

Believing that The Campus is a medium of liaison between the College and the Alumni, and that, as such, it should contain as much news of interest to the alumni as possible, we are trying to put that sort of news in this paper every week. Alumni notes, college news, student and faculty opinion, and news of other colleges which relates to Allegheny, will form the bulk of our reading matter.

However, please realize that we, at times, have a lack of such news and therefore cannot restrict ourselves entirely to news which will come under the foregoing categories. Again, news that has no direct interest to you, individually, may be of the utmost importance to others. We are trying our best to please the large number of Alumni who receive this paper, the Student Body, and the College Administration, and we are going to do it!

A MODEL

"Lives of great men all remind us, we can make our lives sublime." But the great men who are most frequently held up to the younger generation as models by our elders are usually those national heroes who seem far beyond the reach of most of us. Would it not be more practical if we were given a more possible, more attainable working standard? Stanley High, a recent visitor at Allegheny, is illustrative of the type of man who would make a fine ideal and standard for the youth of today to pattern after. He is still a youth himself, but a very famous one. Although he has not yet reached thirty years of age, he has written several books, best known of which is "The Revolt of Youth." Mr. High has traveled quite extensively and is rapidly attaining recognition as an authority on current questions. It is to men such as he that the youth of today might well look for inspiration. Mr. High combines a wide knowledge of facts with a pleasing personality and extensive versatility. Doctor Beebe tells us that his range of activities in college was quite extensive; many college students could well afford to extend the scope of their activities for their ultimate benefit. Stanley High has demonstrated to us what we, as youths, might do. Perhaps there are some of us at Allegheny who could, with an additional effort on our part, emulate him. "And departing leave behind us, footprints on the sands of time."

A CHALLENGE

"I'm going to work harder this semester and get better marks" is the same worn out saying that always heralds the end of examinations and the beginning of a new term of supposedly intense study. But how many of those who make this resolution stick to it and carry out their seemingly good intentions? How many, after the first few weeks of school, can still say that they are working harder and getting better marks than they did the former semester?

First, let us trace the cause of such a statement. We need but look back a few weeks to discover the cause. At that time everybody was cramming for the much dreaded exams and beginning to realize how little they knew, wishing that they had studied a bit more intensely during the previous weeks. Here we find the origin of that resolution. Then the exams themselves. How hard they seemed! Why? Because many tried to cram a whole semester's work into a few days and expected to be able to write an exam from the many jumbled facts within his brain. Here, a growing conviction that we ought to have studied harder comes upon us. Then, finally, the marks appear and bring forth a verbal utterance of a greater determination to work and strive for better grades.

Now, again, a new semester is starting. Now that resolution is just off our lips? Can you keep it? Will things be the same two, four, eight weeks from now? Can you be ready to face the next exams and know that you have worked hard and faithfully and have nothing to fear? Can you, when all is over say, "I have worked harder this semester and my marks are better?"

DEPARTMENT HEAD WILL CONDUCT TOUR OF EUROPE

TRIP WILL INCLUDE POINTS OF INTEREST IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

Prof. Grace M. Bacon of the Department of German has announced the plans of her European trip for the summer of 1928. In organizing her annual tour, Miss Bacon has outlined an attractive program to suit American travelers visiting Europe for the first time.

The party will sail from New York on the one-class Cunard steamship "Tuscania" June 15 and land at historic Plymouth June 23, to spend the first four weeks in England and Scotland. The itinerary will include the beautiful Devonshire coast (Lynmouth, Clovelly, the Lorna Doone country); Oxford University; Stratford-on-Avon and Shroton (Ann Hathaway's cottage); Warwick Castle and Kenilworth, by motor; the English Lakes; Carlisle Castle, Ayr (birthplace of Robert Burns), and Glasgow; the Trossachs and the Scottish Lakes by train, motor, coach, and steamer; Edinburgh, with motor trips to Abbotsford (Scott's home), Dryburgh and Melrose Abbeys. Turning southward, the party will visit the magnificent cathedral of Durham, combined Norman fortress and church, and the cathedrals of York, Lincoln, Peterborough, and Ely, studying the development of cathedral architecture; Cambridge University; London, where a complete program of sight-seeing will be carried out, including a trip to Windsor Castle, Eton, Stoke Poges; Canterbury with its great cathedral and its tiny Saxon church of St. Martin; finally Dover, for the Channel crossing to Ostende.

A few days will be spent in the quaint places of Belgium and Holland: Bruges, Ghent, Brussels, and Antwerp; Rotterdam, Delft, The Hague and Scheveningen (Holland's most famous watering-place on the North sea); Amsterdam (Excursions to Edam, Volendam, Island of Marken in the Zuider Zee); then to Germany, visiting first Cologne, then the Rhine towns and castles, with their old legends and their later A. E. F. associations; old Frankfurt (birthplace of Goethe); Heidelberg and its famous ruin and the University; Strasburg in Alsace; Freiburg (excursion into the heart of the Black Forest); then proceed to Switzerland, visiting Lucerne (trip by lake steamer and on foot through the Wilhelm Tell country); Interlaken, Lauterbrunnen, Grindelwald, Muerren, and ascent of the Jungfrau; by train and lake steamers to Montreux (Castle of Chillon); Geneva, Berne.

France: the battlefields and forts of Verdun; Rheims; Paris, with another complete program of sight-seeing, as in London, and time to shop.

The party will sail from Cherbourg September 1 on the Cunard Steamship "Aquitania," second cabin, due in New York September 7.

The price of Miss Bacon's trip is $1000 and includes, besides the usual tips and all traveling expenses, many extras, such as afternoon tea in England, theatre in London, and opera in Paris. Opportunities for speaking French and German are provided and instruction in both is freely given throughout the summer by the conductor.

May we recommend to all who have an understanding of French, the lecture which will be given tonight in the lecture room in Alden Hall? M. Champenois is a lecturer of no mean ability and his lecture will undoubtedly be of the greatest interest to all who attend. The subject which M. Champenois will take for his lecture, "Pleasures and Tasks in France in the Middle Ages," is one of which he has an excellent knowledge and which he will be able to treat in a manner that will make it interesting to everyone.

spects there is a great deal that we could learn from these orientals.

"The fact that many gospels and gods are being preached to them at these cross-roads is important. Old faiths are being brought out and dusted off. They are rebuilding to meet the modern conceptions of God and religion." An example that Mr. High gave of this, is that in Japan, Buddha has begun to rebuild from a modern viewpoint with the hope that this religion can stand at the cross-roads and point out the direction that the course of eastern civilization will take.

"We should be proud that something has happened to make these age-old religions rebuild, for they are being forced to modernize because of the competition given them by Christianity. "Militarism is another god that is at the cross-roads. Until they accepted this god, Japan could not force its way into the councils of the powers. They proceeded to build a navy, but it was not until after they had defeated Russia in a war that they gained entrance with any kind of equality among the powers."

The subject of Mr. High's last lecture, given Friday evening, was, "The Cure."

A FINER ALLEGHENY

tarian control or theological tests or even formal courses of study in religion. It implies the more important thing of interpreting all truth and life from Jesus' point of view—"laying claim in the name of Christ to all realms of culture—literature, history, philosophy, religion, science, and art—and exacting tribute from them all for the extension of Christ's reign of righteousness and good will." Still more important, it implies that all teachers—not only the teacher of Bible—shall seek to develop Christian attitudes in the students. Can that school be called Christian which encourages its students to think of education chiefly in terms of personal advantages? To seek education because it gives one a running start to success in business, politics, or a professional life? Can that be a Christian school whose courses in economics do not prepare a student to face intelligently the complex industrial life of today and help him think his way through to a Christian attitude toward it? And can that be a Christian school whose courses in history and political science do not help the student form a Christian opinion about the problems of government, diplomacy, and international relations? And can that be a Christian school whose extra-curricular life—whose fraternities, athletics, amusements—are not frankly controlled by Christian principles? To this end all factors in the college organization should strive together—the building of a spiritual structure of noble ideas, moods, and habits in those students who pay us the compliment of placing themselves under our tutelage.

Frank Wicks '27, who has returned to school to take graduate work in Education, was reported in last week's Campus as an ex-student. Apologies are herewith extended.

WEEKLY MEETING OF FORUM HELD IN BENTLEY

Philo-Franklin Forum held its weekly meeting in the Forum room of Bentley Hall on Friday, February 10, with Thomas Jones in the chair. A debate on the question, "Resolved, That the Youth of Today Has Degenerated from the Youth of Fifty Years Ago," was won by Paul Siple and Howard Plate defending the negative side, against James Weyand and Donald Knapp on the affirmative side. After a short discussion, the meeting adjourned.

The Forum, one of the oldest clubs on the campus, is taking steps to regain its former prestige. All the members are urged to attend the meetings, at which different members of the faculty are going to give talks. The new officers, which were elected for the second semester, have displayed a fine spirit in carrying out their work. They have arranged a very interesting program for the meeting to be held this Friday at 4:45 P. M. in the Forum room of Bentley Hall. All the members and students who are interested in oratory are asked to attend the meeting. The program for Friday consists of the following ten minute speeches: "Phi Beta Kappa Is a Farce," by Robert Rutherford; "The Colored Race Has Done Nothing to Deserve Recognition by the White Race," by George Moultrie; "President Wilson Was the First Man and Politician in the History of the United States," by Robert Wilson; "Jokes," by James Weyand.

BEILERS GIVE OXFORD CLUB BUFFET SUPPER

Dr. and Mrs. Beiler entertained the Oxford Club at a buffet supper at their home, Thursday evening, February 9. The regular bi-weekly meeting was held, with G. Warren Smucker presiding. Cecil Kelley led the club in devotions, after which various means of increasing the attendance at club meetings were discussed. It was decided that a paper should be presented at each meeting by a member. Norman Laffer volunteered to present one at the next meeting to be held Thursday, February 23, in the French room of the Library.

FIVE STUDENTS ELECTED TO PHI SIGMA IOTA

PHI SIGMA IOTA
Alpha Chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, national honorary romance language fraternity, held its regular meeting Monday evening, February 13, at the home of Miss Erica Meyer. After the reading of two papers, "Historical Background of French Romanticism" by Ruth Hannon and "Italian Romanticism" by Miss Bachofen, announcement was made of the election to Phi Sigma Iota of the following people: Edys Carpenter, Elizabeth Sherman, Frances Burke, Kathryn McIlvaine, and Mildred Gilmore. Election to membership in Phi Sigma Iota is entirely in the hands of the faculty members of the organization.

QUILL CLUB DISCUSSES THE ARTHURIAN LEGEND

At the meeting of the Quill Club held in the club room in the Library last Monday night, February 13, the development of King Arthur by various authors was discussed. Dr. J. L. Ross discussed the origin of the Arthuri legend and Joseph Lopushansky spoke on Mallory's interpretation of this famous king. Carol Moody told of Tennyson's idea of Arthur and Mary Butler explained the American version of the king as found in Mark Twain's works. The modern interpretation was seen in a discussion of John Erskine given by Wilmot Collins. At the close of these talks the meeting was thrown open for discussion.

TALK ON RUSSIA IS PRESENTED TO GIRLS

A most interesting talk was given before the Hulings Hall girls Monday evening by Miss Janet Speakman on the subject of her work in Russia. Miss Speakman, a graduate of the Meadville City Hospital, was one of the relief workers sent to Moscow in 1923 by the American Friend Society. With that city as a center, relief was brought to villages as far as a thousand miles distant.

In the quaint garb of the Russian peasant, Miss Speakman told of her travels and experiences, illustrating by Russian dolls and a sample of the native handiwork. At the end of her talk she delighted her audience by singing several Russian songs. Miss Speakman was introduced by Mrs. Akers.

Hugh K. Long '28, left last week for home. He has completed his work at Allegheny and will return in June to graduate with the rest of the class.

Dean Katherine L. Anderson had her mother as a visitor over the week-end of February 3.

Dr. W. A. Elliott left last Friday to spend the week-end with Mrs. Elliott who is recovering in the St. Francis Hospital in Pittsburgh from an operation. Latest reports bring the good news that she is improving rapidly.

Marten Beebe, son of President James A. Beebe, and a student in the College, who has been confined to the sick-room, is expected to be in school again this week. He was attacked with a very severe case of grippe soon after examinations and has been unable to attend college since that time.

Dr. William Armstrong '16, president of the Butler County Medical Society, was recently appointed to the state legislative committee of the medical society, and was re-appointed for service on the public relations committee. Dr. Armstrong recently attended a meeting of this committee in Harrisburg where a fund of $50,000.00 was recommended for the instruction of those mentally deficient or sub-normal.

GENEVA AND BUCKNELL ADD TO ALLEGHENY'S COURT LOSSES

Allegheny Holds Geneva to Six Point Margin While Bison Team Scores Eight Over Bakermen

GENEVA

With three of the regular players out of the lineup due to scholastic troubles, Allegheny was again forced to accept defeat, this time at the hands of Geneva, at Beaver Falls last Tuesday night. The Blue and Gold battled fiercely all the way, but in the end had to be content with a close score, 33-26. Perhaps if Coach Baker could have used his regular team, the long losing streak of the Blue and Gold would have been broken.

The Covenanters were forced to the limit to score the win over Allegheny. Although they took the lead near the first of the game and were never headed, yet the Blue and Gold passers were threatening continually and there was no let up during the game. Several times during the contest, the Bakermen reduced the Geneva margin of lead to a few points, but Bo McMillan's team had the stuff that enabled them to come back and remove the danger.

The Allegheny lineup had to be changed considerably for this game, due to the ineligibility of Moon, Lane, and Allison. At the forward positions were found Bair and Gillies, while Nesbitt was at center, with Eighthmy and Rowlingson at the guards. The play of this combination gave promise that, with more practice and experience, they would develop into a fairly good team.

BUCKNELL

Once again little Granny Bair led the Allegheny College team through a hectic struggle, this time in a wonderful battle with Bucknell. Although he alone scored 14 points, the team was forced to accept another defeat, the game ending 41-33. The made-over team fought gamely, however, throughout the struggle, but could not break their long losing streak.

Although Allegheny never had the lead during the game, they did not by any means permit the Bisons to run away with them. The game was close all the way, with Bucknell in the lead from the first but with the Blue and Gold close after them. The first quarter was the best for the visitors and the worst for the Bakermen. Bucknell scored first when Frable intercepted a pass and shortly added another point on a foul. Then Gillies sunk a basket from the side of the floor to tally Allegheny's first. During the first quarter the game took on the aspect of being a walk-away, the period ending 15-5.

The Blue and Gold came to life during the second stanza and threw a scare into Bucknell, outscoring them 9-6. Bair and Gillies added points for Allegheny, while Klosterman did all the scoring for the Bisons. In the third quarter Bucknell started off strong but the Bakermen got going late in the period and evened things up somewhat. The visitors' lead was 32-21 as the game went into the last quarter. In the final period, Nesbitt re-entered the game at forward and he and Bair went on a scoring spree which pepped the game up a good deal. The effort, however, fell short of a victory, although Allegheny scored 12 points to the Bisons' 9 in the last period.

Allegheny looked impressive towards the last of the second and fourth quarters. Bucknell's ability to play the banking board won the game for them. Once again the Blue and Gold fell down somewhat at the foul line, where their opponents showed a distinct superiority. The team as a whole played their best game up until that time this year. Bair, Nesbitt and Eighthmy were outstanding for Allegheny, while Klosterman and Seiler looked best for the visitors.

ALUMNI MIRROR

A former editor of The Campus, Rev. Paul M. Hillman '11, has recently been appointed as a member of the staff of the Daily Christian Advocate, a paper devoted exclusively to news of the churches. Reverend Hillman is now pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church at Grand Island, Neb. As a summer pastime, Reverend Hillman teaches Recreation at Epworth League Institutes. He also writes quite a few Christian-Educational pamphlets.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gibson made a very extended trip through the western states this summer, and on their way visited Mrs. Gibson's brother in California. Last June Mr. Gibson was honored with the degree of LL.D. by Westminster College in recognition of his earnest work in the Butler Public Schools. Mr. Gibson was graduated from Allegheny in '91.

Among the Erie Conference Delegates to the General Conference are J. E. Roberts '00, W. P. Murray '86, W. A. Elliott '89, W. A. Womer '00. From the Cleveland Conference are C. P. Lynch and F. L. Wells, both of the class of '86.

F. E. Kirkpatrick '19 is associated with his brothers in the men's clothing business formerly conducted by his father.

Personality can succeed without genius, but genius has a struggle without personality.

ALLEGHENY WINS

Nesbitt received a short pass from Bair and dribbled under the net to heave the basket which gave Allegheny its first victory of the season.

The faithful fans, who had little expected such a victory, were kept on edge throughout the game and when the final whistle blew they surged out on the floor as if a championship had been won. As usual, "Granny" Bair was one of the highlights of the game, being accountable for 14 of the 29 points. Ray Nesbitt, elevated to varsity center when Moon became ineligible, played a superb brand of basketball and scored four field goals. Also the defensive work of Eighthmy, Rowlingson, and Allison had much to do with the final score. Lane and Gillies, who alternated at forward, also deserve much credit for their fine work. The W. & J. team played brilliantly and scored some of the longest shots seen on the floor this season, but Allegheny was playing an undefeatable brand of basketball, one which it is hoped will be shown more often from now on.

Juniors and Sophs

Win In Inter-class Basketball League

Two close, exciting games advanced the Inter-class basketball tournament another round last Saturday. The Juniors continued the fast pace that they have been setting by coming from behind to win out over the Freshmen, 26-20; while the Sophomores proved that they could be the ones to give the Juniors a hard fight when they defeated the Seniors, 21-17. Both contests were somewhat rougher and faster than the opening games of the tournament were.

The Sophomores won the first game of the afternoon by virtue of a comfortable lead amassed during the first half. The second-year boys decidedly outplayed their opponents during the first stanza, at the end of which they were leading, 9-4. But in the second half, the Seniors staged somewhat of a comeback, and led by Tom Leffingwell, held their opponents about even, the scoring being 13-12 in favor of the Seniors. But the early lead of the Sophs was a little too much, and they carried off the game, 21-17. Leffingwell stood out for the Seniors, with Bugbee and Rutherford playing well for the Sophs.

The second game of the afternoon was just the reversal of the first. The Frosh started off well and it looked as though the Juniors were going to be topped. Led by Boylan and Hayes the Freshmen scored 13 points to their opponents' 9. But in the second half, Hughes got his cohorts to working smoothly and they completely smothered the freshmen. Hughes was the outstanding scorer for the Juniors and while the Frosh were gathering only 7 points, the third-year students were amassing 15, which was sufficient to give them the game. It looks as though the Juniors were heading for the championship, and it will make the third time that this outfit has won out, starting when they were freshmen, repeating last year as Sophs, and now heading towards triumph again.

Inter-fraternity

Bowling League

Matches Started

Inter-fraternity bowling was ushered in by the Phi Deltas and Non-frats on February 8, which resulted in a 2-1 victory for the Cochran Hall boys. Seven contests were run off during the past week and a good deal of interest is being shown in the tournament this year. The high point of the week was the bowling of the Non-fraternity boys against the B. U. team, for it was in this match that the high score of the week, 604, was made by the Non-frats. To them also goes the credit for the best team average turned in, their average of 531 for the three games of the above mentioned match being the best chalked up during the first week.

To Brad Booth goes credit for the best individual performance turned in during the week. In the match between the Phi Psis and the Phi Gams, Booth averaged 150 for the three games. The Non-frat boys, Phi Deltas, and B. K.'s are leading League B and the S. A. E. boys are at the top in League A, although they did not roll a single match, the Alpha Chi Rhos forfeiting to them.

The results:
Feb. 8—Non-Frats defeated Phi Deltas 2-1.
Feb. 9—Phi Psis defeated Phi Gams 2-1. Beta Kappa defeated Deltas 2-1.
Feb. 10—A. X. P. forfeited to S. A. E. 3-0. Non-Frats defeated B. U. 2-1.
Feb. 11—Phi Psis defeated Faculty 2-1. Phi Deltas defeated Deltas 3-0.
