ALLEGHENY OUTCLASSED.

A POOR SHOWING AGAINST STATE.

Defeat Due to Lightness and Lack of Experience—Coach Rickey Not Satisfied.

Not since the landslide of the fall of '99 when the Allegheny foot ball team returned with a score of sixty points against them, has a more dejected and discouraged lot of athletes arrived in town than those comprising the team which suffered such a signal defeat at the hands of the State College team on Saturday afternoon. Their humiliation was all the more keen because of the high spirit and great hopes with which they departed. Saddest and most dejected of all was the coach, who had labored so hard and diligently to get the men into good playing form. To him the defeat was the more crushing because of the failure of the team to play up to its standard.

According to the accounts of the older players the State College team was the stiffest proposition they have ever been up against. It is a much faster and a much heavier team than the one they played last year, facts which well account for the difference in the scores. Besides the advantages of speed and weight, the State team played with a snap and daring that surprised even their own supporters. The rapidity and precision with which he back field executed their various plays caused the Allegheny men to stand back in amazement. Their tandem tanks were simply irresistible and the way they played through the line was the most discouraging. The interference of the State men was a revelation to the locals, who found themselves practically up against a strong wall. Again and again they would form on the kick off and all that Allegheny men could do was to hurl themselves vainly against an irresistible mass. To further amaze the locals, the State men used the trick plays that worked so successfully against Pennsylvania the week previous.

The long, tiresome railroad journey also tended to render the players un-

BIBLE STUDY RALLY.

A Large and Enthusiastic Meeting—Dr. Lockwood Delivered an Able Address on the Bible and Its Use—Two Bible Study Classes Organized.

On Saturday evening, October 1, at a very well attended meeting of the Y. M. C. A., the annual Bible study rally was held. The meeting was conducted by Claude Dye.

Dr. Lockwood gave an interesting talk on the Bible and its use. He alluded to the Bible as being the most important of all books. He spoke of its value as a piece of literature and quoted many famous men who have spoken the praises of this great book. He said that the greatest works of art have been suggested by the stories of the Bible. The greatest pieces of fiction are those which portray the life of the matchless Jesus.

In speaking of the purpose of the Bible, he said it was a love letter to mankind to teach us concerning the interests of our souls. He gave four methods of Bible study; first, the topical method; second, the biographical method; third, the literary and historical method; and fourth and most important, the devotional study of the Bible, the purpose of which is divine guidance and spiritual blessing.

A large number of students were enrolled in Bible study classes. Two classes were organized, one to be conducted by Prof. Davis, of the Preparatory School, and the other by Prof. Bernstorff, of the College.

Call For Meeting.

A meeting of the Campus editorial staff is called for at 3 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon in the Library.

Annual Reception.

Christian Associations Give Delightful Affair.

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. held a joint reception on the gymnasium floor last evening which was a grand success.

At the door was a reception committee, Mr. Morrison, Miss Dewey, Mr. Wood, Miss Cousins and Dr. and Mrs. Breed, who gave everyone a hearty welcome. To facilitate introduction each young man and woman had his or her name pinned on him. The decorations consisted of college colors, old gold and cadet blue, hung from the center of the ceiling to the running track, and American flags draped upon the walls. Ice cream and cake were served in one corner of the room which was partitioned off by screens, while punch was in the opposite corner.

The following program was presented:

Song—"While I Have You".....

.....Glee Club Quartet

Messrs. Lick, Hyskel, Giesy, Ferry.

Solo—"Come When the Lindens Bloom"

Encore—"Every Night My Prayers I Say"

Dr. Wells.

Address of Welcome.....Dr. Crawford

Song—"Po Little Lamb".....

.....Glee Club Quartet

Address.....Dr. Lucius H. Bugbee

Solo—"Der Asra".....Dr. Wells

College songs.

Dr. Crawford's address was full of humor. He said in part:

There were two things brought to the minds of these present; first, that there are many nice things to be said of the two organizations and, secondly, that students who think the Y. M. C. A. men a saintly lot isolated by themselves err greatly, for they are found in every activity of the college. Both societies are all inclusive organizations of the college.

Dr. Bugbee said that college people when they joined the great army of bread earners had special privileges because of their culture and education. During your time in college you have been unproductive and have been guests at the world's banquet. Society gives you this advantage in order that you may assume greater responsibilities in life. You, therefore, owe society a great debt and they expect this sacrifice for you to be repaid by good citizenship and culture.

FRESHMAN ELECTION.

Get Ready for "Soph's"—Now for the Cane Rush—Lively Times in Sight.

A meeting of the Freshman class was held at the gymnasium Saturday, October 1, at 4 o'clock. As the Freshman class of this year is the largest in the history of the college, every seat in the hall was filled, and class spirit was at a high pitch.

With Mr. Chas. W. Ferry as temporary chairman, the following officers were elected:

President, Mr. Maxwell J. Lick.

Vice President, Mr. Fred B. Cooley.

Secretary, Miss Ailene Miller.

Treasurer, Mr. Simpson W. Horner, Jr.

The offices of historian and poet were left vacant for the present.

No doubt this was one of the most hotly contested elections ever held, as, in several cases, the vote of the chairman decided the ballot.

Committees were appointed to submit yells and colors, and definite action was taken concerning the cane rush, in which the Freshmen are confident of "wiping the ground with the 'poor Sophs.'" As the meeting adjourned the yells of the Freshmen for '08 resounded across the campus and the "Soph's" immediately "took to the woods."

Allegheny has reached a goal far ahead of the wildest dreams of young Alden, who gave the best he had for the struggling little institution. Is it not probable that she will surpass our fondest hopes in the next ninety years?

DEATH TAKES TRUSTEE

JOHN G. HOLMES DIED AT SEA.

Allegheny Has Lost a Warm Friend and a Faithful Trustee, and the World at Large Has Lost a Noble Citizen.

Mr. John G. Holmes, a trustee of Allegheny College, died September 4, while on his way to Europe on the steamer Teutonic. So far as the public knew, he had departed from home in good health, intending to spend a few months abroad with his wife and two children. The remains were transferred at Queenstown to the first available steamer and sent back to New York. The news of his death was a great shock to all of Mr. Holmes' friends and to the business community in general.

Mr. Holmes was widely known as a business man. He was the head of the banking firm of N. Holmes & Son, the oldest institution of its kind west of the Allegheny Mountains.

He was a life-long Methodist. For many years he was superintendent of the Sunday school of Christ church and a member of the board of trustees of that church. For years he has been the secretary and treasurer of the Centenary Fund Society, which handles all the invested funds of the Pittsburgh Conference, and to this cause he has given the most careful attention. The conference and the church are largely indebted to him for the success which has attended this business. His place will be hard to fill.

He was a man of modest and retiring disposition, warm in his friendships, and pure and honorable in all things. He was a strong, manly, high minded, consistent Christian gentleman, and he will be sadly missed by all.

In the death of Mr. Holmes, Allegheny College sustains a great loss. He was a most active member of the board of trustees, and took great interest in seeing the institution grow. He also gave ten thousand dollars toward the present endowment fund.

The funeral was held from his late residence, East End, Pittsburgh, Pa. The services were conducted by Dr. Daniel Dorchester, pastor of Christ church. Allegheny College was represented at the funeral by President Crawford.

It is interesting to note that Mrs. Holmes is a sister of Mr. Durbin Horne, the president of the board of trustees of Allegheny College.

GUILMANT RECITAL.

THE GREATEST LIVING ORGANIST

Will Give a Recital in Ford Memorial Chapel—One of the Big Events of the Year—Excursions Will be Run From Franklin and Oil City.

On Saturday morning President Crawford announced in chapel that Alexander Guilmant, of Paris, who has been known for years as the greatest living organist, will give a recital in Ford Memorial Chapel on Monday evening, November 7.

Our good fortune in securing this great master is due to the fact that Mr. W. C. Carroll, who opened the college organ, was so well pleased with the instrument and with his reception here that he used all his influence to aid the college in securing Guilmant for one night. That we are especially favored is shown by the fact that almost every college in the United States is making great efforts to secure him.

Prof. Guilmant is now at St. Louis giving daily concerts in Festival Hall, and will give a limited number of concerts on his return to New York. He has been in America only twice before, and this will probably be his last appearance here.

This will be one of the greatest events of the college year, and no student can afford to miss the opportunity of hearing such a master. Arrangements are being made to run excursions from Oil City and Franklin.

MASS MEETING.

IN COLEGE CHAPEL.

Effort to Create More Enthusiasm for Athletics—Systematic Rooting—Financial Plans.

During the coming week, a special effort will be made at a mass meeting of the students to stir up a little enthusiasm for athletics.

Thus far, the interest of the student-body in the cause of the athlete has not been very much in evidence. Although a hundred and fifty students were present at the first game, the only demonstration on the field was that of the coach in his efforts to urge on the players, and a few shrieks from a crowd of urchins who thus manifested their delight when half a dozen players were hurled headlong into the great pools of water that stood about the field.

For the encouragement of the team, and, incidentally, that the new students who are not familiar with college rooting, may get a few ideas concerning that phase of student life, an effort will be made to organize a band for systematic rooting. This is one of the practices that has brought college athletics to the notice of outsiders and, in the large universities, it is responsible, to a great extent, for the immense crowds that patronize the games.

At a meeting of the athletic board, which will be held during the week, the question as to the price of admission to the games for the remainder of the season will be decided. In the present case, the board is confronted by the item of expense, which is much greater this year than ever before. In his effort to satisfy the demand of the students for first class foot ball the manager of the team has made up a schedule of the best teams playing within a radius of a hundred miles. In some instances, the teams are obliged to travel distances that require the expenditure of considerable money. And that is not the only item of expense, for, in order to get the teams at all, special inducements had to be offered. As the students have demanded attractions of this class, they will likely be asked to pay a little more than in former years. A proposition that has met with general approval where it is known is to offer to every person who joins the Athletic Association a season ticket admitting the holder to the remaining five games for one dollar and twenty-five cents. Through this arrangement, the price of admission to the Case and Thanksgiving Day game, which otherwise would be fifty cents, will be at the rate of twenty-five cents each. It should be remembered by students that these tickets will be sold only to persons holding membership in the Athletic Association. Others will be admitted at a higher uniform rate not yet decided on.

Some eighty years ago a student wrote home, "We have three students in our Freshman class," and then with praiseworthy loyalty added, "we have one of the greatest colleges in the world." Can you not afford to feel proud of our growth?

We have received a copy of the Reading Evening Herald, of which J. Gayle Nelson is city editor. Mr. Nelson was for two years editor-in-chief of the Campus, and set a standard which placed our publication among the front rank of college weeklies.

On the third page of the Herald, there appears a two column account by Mr. Nelson of a Republican rally and banquet, at which Senators Bairbanks and Foraker were the leading speakers. The article is written in Mr. Nelson's best style and is full of clever allusions and sarcastic witticisms.

The first meeting of the Quill Club for the present year will occur on Thursday evening, October 13. During the several years of the existence of this club, it has taken an important place among the various college organizations. While primarily literary in its character, it also aims to cultivate the social side of student life.

The influences of the Quill Club are as wide as the life of Allegheny. In fact every healthy college enterprise has felt its influence. Our publications, our athletics, our oratory, our debating, and that subtle something called college spirit, all have been stimulated by the Quill Club. This one thing alone, the originating of our annual Washington's Birthday Dinner, deserves to make the Quill Club for ever remembered by those who love the name of Allegheny.

Now, after our defeat at the hands of State, are you going to let your foot ball enthusiasm abate? Let everyone realize two facts, first, that one week ago Saturday State played one of the "big four" teams to a standstill, and second, that Coach Rickey has had and still has a herculean task before him. Of last year's team, Lockwood, H. Turner, McCartney, Hayes, Mook and Mat Turner are not in college. That means that a new back field, new ends, and several new line men must be developed.

Our team must depend on speed and skill to win games rather than on weight and strength. To develop speed and skill with an almost wholly new team requires time and a large squad to select from. To keep a large squad on the practice field requires college spirit and foot ball enthusiasm. Coach Rickey cannot supply it all. He needs the moral support of every student and every member of the faculty. With such support a team can be developed which, before the end of the season, will have a different story to tell than that of the State game. Don't be faint hearted. Remember: that the foot ball season does not close until Thanksgiving Day.

Fifty years ago, almost every student who entered college had in view either the law or the ministry. For this class of students, the Classical Course was, and still is, the foundation of success. To-day not even a majority of those who enter college have one of the professions in view. In fact the millennium has come so near that it is beginning to be felt that a thorough preparation for any walk in life requires a college education. The extreme tendency in this line was expressed by Chancellor Day when he stated that, if his son were planning to be a mule driver, he would give him a college training.

No doubt a classical education, followed by special preparation for one's life work, is the ideal which should be maintained for those who have time and taste for such a course. But in the case of a very large number of college students there must always be more or less of the practical mixed with their collegiate training. Neither time nor means will allow them to spend more than four years in preparation, after they have left the High School.

The busy, work-a-day world would have to stop and wait, if all the young brains should take time to pursue both college and university courses. This is an industrial age, and a majority of our young men must, of necessity, follow industrial lines. The demands of this age are for scientific men and the colleges must supply this demand.

This college is, and has been pre-eminently a classical college. We do not in anywise favor the breaking away from these traditions of the past. But neither do we believe that a more progressive spirit in regard to scientific work is at all inconsistent with the maintenance of those traditions.

What we do believe is that, if Allegheny is to keep her place in the front rank of small colleges, she must have better scientific and engineering equipment. Not only is this an advisable thing in itself, but it is absolutely necessary to any permanent development.

We wish it to be clearly understood that we are in no way criticising the instructors in these departments. They are as strong and efficient men as can be found in any college in the United States, but they are handicapped by the lack of a modern, up-to-date building, large enough to accommodate the increasing number of students who are pursuing these courses. Wilcox Hall of Science undoubtedly met the needs of the "Old Allegheny," but for the "New Allegheny," standing on the threshold of a new era, it is utterly inadequate.

We shall not go into the specific needs of the various departments here, reserving that for future issues. It was merely our purpose at this time to set forth the subject in a general way, and to call the attention of the friends of the college to the fact that the facilities for scientific research need and deserve enlargement.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Cards are out for the marriage on October 10th, of R. N. Merrell, '04, of Laundale, Pa., to Miss Agnes Espy, of Fredonia, N. Y.

A. C. Saxman, '04, is preaching in a mission at East End, Pittsburg, Pa.

R. N. Taylor, '02, left Tuesday for Cambridge, Mass. He will enter Harvard University, where he will pursue a course leading to the degree of Ph. D.

Margaret Hempstead and Mr. Benjamin Freeman Kingsley were married in June. They are living at No. 4 South avenue, Ithaca, N. Y.

Mrs. Williams, wife of the late Dr. W. G. Williams '75, a former president of Allegheny College, has lately moved to Meadville. She is living on North street with her two sons. The elder son is in the Preparatory School of Allegheny College, and the younger is attending one of the Meadville ward schools.

Dr. Crawford, while in Rochester recently, called at the home of George W. Loomis, '71, but found he had just gone to Carlsbad, Germany. Mr. Loomis is in poor health and is traveling abroad for the purpose of bettering his condition.

J. E. Kelley, '03, and R. M. Ray, '99, are in the coal business at Manitowish, Wisconsin.

Dr. W. A. Womer, '00, is a practicing physician in Sharon, Pa.

L. S. Fawcette, '71, is an attorney in Holdenville, Indian Territory.

S. E. Fetter, '83, formerly of Minneapolis, is now an attorney in Ennis, Wyoming.

Caleb McCune, '03, is a medical student in the University of Pennsylvania.

Chinichiro Okada, '00, who has been teaching in Tokio, Japan, in the Anglo-Japanese College, was among those who were called to the front in the Russo-Japanese war. He now holds a captaincy in the Japanese army.

Norman P. Champlin, '00, was appointed in March to the pastorate of the First M. E. church, West Orange, N. J.

Exchange Department

Wittenberg College was the scene of a big class fight between Sophomores and Freshmen last week. The Sophomores issued rules of conduct for the guidance of the Freshmen and the latter in retaliation constructed an effigy of the Sophomore class and placed it upon the campus. A fight ensued lasting all night. When morning came the Freshmen had not been dislodged from their position. The scrap was stopped by the faculty.

Rose, the Michigan athlete, has made up his mind that he can whip Jim Jeffries in a pugilistic combat. From all indications Jeffries could reach out in any direction and land on Rose's head. But then he's a Sophomore and what could be expected of him in the way of natural and innate modesty. A dispatch from Rose is said to have recently been received in New York in which he emphatically denies the report of his willingness to meet Jeffries.

Basket ball practice has been started at Syracuse University. Redline, the star player of the German Y. M. C. A., is a candidate for the team.

Harvard conferred degrees upon a larger total number of men last commencement than at any other time in the history of the institution. There were 470 degrees in the department of arts alone. It was announced that the gifts and bequests to the University, last year, had amounted to $1,188,000.

President Schurman, of Cornell, in his annual report, announces that, with the exception of the department of medicine and science, all the Colleges of Cornell University have shown an increased attendance.

Syracuse University has started a weekly series of college songs.

The men of Syracuse University are holding a series of after-chapel talks in the interests of college spirit. The first talk of the year was given by Captain Robert Park, of the foot ball team. Mr. Park spoke on one's duty to his college in relation to foot ball. He closed his speech by giving this as a motto for this year's foot ball team: "What eight men can do on the water, eleven men can do on the land."

President Thompson, of Ohio State University, in his annual address before the students of the institution, gave an extended discussion of the advantages of a college education, and what reasonable expectations a man might have of realizing upon the time and money expended. He said that life is not merely a succession of acquisitions, but also of inspirations. A college is a great organized opportunity for making acquisitions and for getting inspirations. Hidden therein is the key to the solution of nearly all the problems of life.

GYM. NOTES.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR ALL TEAMS.

Many Candidates Already in Sight—Improvements in Equipment—Annual Exhibition.

While the regular gymnasium classes have not yet been organized, nevertheless many students are making daily use of the gymnasium for physical training. During the past two weeks Physical Director Lewis has been busy with the office work preliminary to organizing regular classes. Already about seventy-five physical examinations have been made, and Director Lewis reports that the average physical condition of those entering college this year is very much above that of previous years. This fact is especially noticeable among those who are candidates for the foot ball team. In fact, the outlook now is that there will be more good material available for all the teams than ever before. Already promising candidates are in sight for the basket ball, base ball and track teams, and the prospects for all these teams are very bright.

So far as is now known, the most likely candidates for the basket ball team are Tyrrell, of last year's Fredonia Normal team; Hugh Nelson, of the Kane Y. M. C. A. team, and Clinton Russell.

In base ball there will be a large number of new candidates for the various places, and, no doubt, several good pitchers will develop.

In track athletics, Sturtevant will train for the running broad jump and the high jump; Jelbart, Secrist, and Lytle are promising sprinters; Robinson puts the shot and throws the hammer; while Kearney will enter for the pole vault.

Regular gymnasium classes will begin on Monday, October 10, at 2 o'clock. The gymnasium will be open for men every forenoon except on Monday and every afternoon except on Thursday. The attention of new students is called to the fact that all men are required to take three gymnasium classes a week, no cuts being allowed.

On Monday, October 10, a call will be made for candidates for the track team. Besides those of last year's team, physical director Lewis already has his eye on several new men who will doubtless make the team. Mahaffee, Clinton Russell, Carney and Chalinor are strong candidates for places. The regular annual gymnasium exhibition will be given some time during the second week in December, and Director Lewis hopes, with the co-operation of the students, to make this the most successful exhibition that has ever been given.

Improvements have been made in the gymnasium that will add greatly to the comfort of the students. A new water heater has been installed, and, with three good shower baths in operation, there ought to be ample opportunity for bathing.

In the past, the foot ball men have been greatly inconvenienced by the lack of a suitable place to dry their suits. This has been remedied by the opening of a properly equipped room in the basement of Bentley Hall. This room has been fitted with suitable racks and benches, a water heater has been installed, and facilities provided for sponge baths. Foot ball men will have access to this room daily from 3 to 6 p. m., except on days of games, when special hours will be arranged for the getting of suits.

Allegheny's athletic equipment is going steadily forward, and that new athletic field will soon be a reality.

LITERARY SOCIETIES ON THE MOVE.

Philo-Franklin Now Organized—Program for the First Meeting Will Consist of Great Political Debate.

With the opening of the fall term, the literary societies of the college begin work again for another successful year in one of the most important departments of college activities. The Philo-Franklin Society has already organized with the following officers:

President, Clifford Scott.

Vice President, A. D. P. Miller.

Secretary, Claude Dye.

It will hold its first meeting Monday evening, October 10 to which all students of the college are cordially invited. The program will consist of a grand political rally.

Three prominent politicians will present the great issues of the present campaign. The Republican issues will be presented by Soupcott; the Democratic by C. Scott; and the Prohibition by N. Phillips. All come and hear the great problems of the day discussed.

The hour is 7:30 p. m. on Monday evening. The place is in Bentley Hall, third floor.

All students of the college should be members of one of the literary societies. The benefit derived from the work done here cannot be over-estimated. The training received will be of unestimable value in the coming years. It means much for a man to be able to speak in a clear, direct and forcible manner. There is no better place to gain this ability than in the literary societies. Some may say they have no time for this work. To be sure college life is a busy one, but in the hurry of these passing days, let us not forget that one of the most important things for which we come to college is to learn to write and speak good English. In the societies, drill is given in debating, impromptu speaking, essay writing and all other phases of literary work. Every effort is put forth to make the meetings both helpful and instructive. All students are urged to join at once.

Old Allegheny is again in line—and so are we with the most up-to-date line of

COLLEGE ENROLLMENT

STATISTICS FROM REGISTRAR'S OFFICE.

Large Freshman Class Necessitates a Change in Chapel Seating—New Students from Eight Different States.

On Tuesday last, the registrar assigned to the college students their chapel seats for the coming year. The large Freshman class necessitated a re-arrangement of the classes. Last year the preparatory students occupied the whole section on the south side of the chapel; this year they had to vacate for the Juniors and the Specials and take seats in the gallery. The entire section in the north side of the chapel, formerly occupied by the Juniors and the Freshmen is this year occupied by the Freshmen alone.

The total enrollment in the college up to date is two hundred forty-six and this number will be increased by six or seven before the end of the term. The total enrollment in the Preparatory School is one hundred and thirty. There are at present one hundred and three members in the Freshman class, representing eight states, as follows: New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Michigan, Arizona, New York and Indiana.

The following students were formerly in college but were absent last year:

Philip C. Herring, Kent, O.
Charles W. Gill, Ronald.
Ethel A. Andrews, Meadville.
Elsie E. Ball, Oil City.

The complete list of students entering the college for the first time follows: (Those whose names are starred entered from the Preparatory School.)

fit for a hard game. They did not reach Lock Haven until 1 a. m., the morning of the game. In order to make connections for State College they were obliged to rise early and then lie around the depot for some time at Bellefonte.

The coach is not at all pleased with the work of the team and will likely make some changes during the coming week. Saturday's game was far below the standard displayed by the men in practice. While some played gamely and to the best of their ability, others were afflicted more or less with stage fright and made a very poor showing. The most brilliant work was that of Ginn, who several times smashed up the interference of the backs as they tried to round his end. Jelbert, Scott, Comfort and Davenport also played good ball.

ALLEGHENY LITERARY SOCIETY.

Her Record in the Past—An Appeal for the Future.

Regular work in Allegheny Literary Society will begin at 7:30 p. m., October 10th. The society urges its old members to be present at this first meeting and extends a cordial invitation to all new men who are interested in Literary Society work. It is needless to mention the value of such work. It is a recognized fact that oratorical work of this sort is one of the valuable factors in the make-up of a college training. The new student who will soon be a representative product of this old college, cannot afford to lose the rounding out that he will receive in the Literary Society halls.

Allegheny Literary Society may well be proud of her past record. Her decided leading in the Inter-Society contests means something in regard to her standard of work. It is desired that this may be the banner year of her history. Will you not help to make it so by adding your support and enthusiasm?

Self-respect is the cornerstone of all virtue.—Sir John Herschel.

Fortune makes him a fool, whom she makes her darling.—Bacon.

What the unhappy have most at heart they generally believe.—Seneca.

What truly disgraces a man is a punishment which he has deserved.—Phaedrus.

What is remote and difficult of success we are apt to overrate; what is really best for us lies always within our reach, though often overlooked.—Longfellow.

That's The Place Where College Boys

LIKE TO BUY THEIR Clothing and Furnishings, and they do buy them there.

This place has been the college boy's store and it is more popular than ever this season—for many reasons. First, because they are used as they like to be used; because we make a specialty of Clothing and Furnishings for Young Men and College Men; because we have extra style if you want it.

Here is what we've done since college closed last term: We've taken the second floor of the block and remodeled it and now have as well a clothing place as you'll find in any city, and this improvement gives us four times the room that we had last term. We have four times the stock of clothing and fixings that we had

There's no use of talking so much about it to you in the paper; come in and see what we're like.

Any of the fellows will tell you about us, and the kind of goods we have.

We'll be glad to meet you here.

Allegheny College Students Have Always Made the Most Money Working for the KEYSTONE VIEW COMPANY. One of their number cleared over $400.00 in four months last year. We have graduates and former students of Allegheny College with us who are at present clearing above all expenses from $150.00 to $250.00 per month. All cannot accomplish the same, but some are and many can do as well as those referred to. Will you be one of them? We have recently added a fine line of views from China, Japan, Korea, the beautiful island of Ceylon, the Hawaiian Islands, Porto Rico, the Netherlands, Belgium, Sweden, Colorado and South Africa. Our views of the Paris Exposition and Boer War will continue to be good sellers, and our new set of views of Switzerland is acknowledged by all as being superior to anything they have seen. We have also added largely to our already fine collection of Childhood and comic views, and our views of Alaska, Palestine, Egypt, Mexico, United States and other parts of the world, continue to hold first place with the public. Our motto is quality first and quantity afterwards, although we are in position to offer both. We have a large force of photographers, who have won numerous medals, working for us exclusively in new fields of interest, and will always be in position to offer you the LATEST and BEST. Students who value their time should consider our work before making other engagements for their mid-summer vacation.

WE LEAD—LET OTHERS FOLLOW.

We have the only all-finished and perfect 'scope. We have the only perfectly finished original views. We have the only views that give clear and perfect detail.

We have the only artistic Hand Painted views. We have the only views which focus perfectly. We have the only views on which are printed an historical sketch.

Our Library Sets are acknowledged to be superior to all others, and our salesmen are making phenomenal records in the sale of the same.

Our new Aluminum 'Scope is the best in its line. A large number of the students of Allegheny College work for us every vacation. Make it a point to see our goods and we will leave the rest to your judgment.

BACK THE FELLOWS.

You need not be a full-back,
Nor a man along the line.
Just help the fellows win each game,
And be there every time.

You may not love athletics,
And love books better too.
Come! Help the fellows win each
game,
And root the whole game through.

You think you do not do much,
Just ask him in the line!
Come! Help the fellows win each
game,
By rooting all the time.

Play a heady game while you are at college.

There are lots of things we did not learn at college.

Get into Allegheny's spirit just as soon as you can.

There is some excellent material for the gymnasium team this year.

The spirit of our coach makes us all wish to be able to take a hand in the game.

There ought to be more Allegheny pennants shown at the College's athletic contests.

The quickest way to get into college spirit here is to watch our coach and the fellows practice.

We are pleased to report that although it is an uphill fight, Mrs. Dr.
Elliot is better this week.

"Prexy" told the fellows to fight but to fight in a gentlemanly manner. Get busy, boys, the tether is loose.

Last week the Biological Department received a live scorpion from Texas, sent by Miss Peterson, '03.

There are several new men who play foot ball that ought to be out. We want the best foot ball team possible.

The Phi Delta Theta fraternity pledged Stidger, Heines and Gur, and initiated Minor Jones and Perry, Friday evening.

On Sunday, President Crawford Crawford preached both morning and evening, at the First M. E. church of Franklin.

There is to be published, in the near future, a new edition of college songs.
This is an excellent move and will supply a long-felt want.

Have you been conscious of the breathless stillness that has prevailed thus far before the battle? The struggle of the Yalu river will dwindle into insignificance after a week or so.

The local department begs to correct a mistake that occurred in last week's issue. The Farrelly Club is—contrary to publication—still in commission with the large membership of twenty-seven. The Campus was wrongly informed.

Those interested in missions will find two well-illustrated and powerful articles in The Missionary Review of the World for September, bearing on Belgian treatment of Kongo natives.

This article will also interest every man who loves justice, and hates tyranny, and there is no American who does not.

The seventeenth national convention of the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity was held with Theta Chapter at the University of Missouri from August 23rd to 30th. Gamma Rho, the home chapter, was represented by Miss Phyllinda Gaston, '06, and Miss Helen McClintock, '04, of this city, and Miss Sarah Breene, '04, of Corry, Pa.

Last Friday evening a social was held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Park avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Webb, of the College, gave several duets on the bells. Mrs. Charles E. Smith sang to the delight of all. Messrs. Hyskell, Lick, Giesey and Ferry rendered excellently the quartets and Mr. Burke pleased everybody with his rich baritone voice.

Mission Study Class Re-organized.
Missions was the subject under consideration at the Y. W. C. A. on Sunday evening. The study this year will be especially interesting as it is under the direction of Miss Beebe, who has had some experience in the work.

Dr. Smith, who will again have charge of the class, addressed the meeting. After giving a summary of last year's work, he urged the association to turn its attention to India, and suggested as book for study, "India and Christian Opportunity." This book, edited by Harland Beach, is considered to be the most ideal of missionary literature and should awaken
a new enthusiasm for missions.
