

August 1, 1924

Mr. Jesse W. Weik,
153 Locust Avenue,
New Rochelle, N.Y.

My dear Mr. Weik:

I have been very slow in keeping my promise to send you copies of the letters which Mr. Tracy sent me just before his death. I wanted to compare them with the copies before I sent them, but I am sorry to say that I have not had a chance to do that, so busy have I been. Also I wanted to do what I have not had time to do and that was to assure myself that they had not appeared in any Lincoln collection. I think it quite probable that you will find that some of them have been published.

I am sorry enough to say that I cannot find the extra copy of the Tracy letters which I am sure that I have somewhere. I think it possible that I may have loaned it and it has not been returned. If you would like my own copy for a short time I should be glad to let you have it, though I could not spare it very long.

It was such a pleasure to see you and your daughter the other day. I am hoping that before you go back West we can have another visit.

Sincerely yours,