OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

January 4, 1929

My dear Miss Tarbell:

Dr. Raub has shown me your introduction for the Lincoln-Douglas debate book which we are having prepared. This is exactly the sort of thing that I hoped you would write. The point it makes and the spirit in which it makes it gives us the proper beginning.

In the January Alumnus we are making special mention of your work here, covering it from a number of points of view. This is not merely for the purpose of saying kind words about our pleasant visitor, but by way of showing our alumni what a real outstanding event this is. It occurs to me that you may want to send a copy of this magazine to some of your friends who may perhaps have wondered where you were hiding during all these weeks. Some of them, I am sure, will want to know of the different kind of work you have been doing - different from your usual occupation. If you could have names and addresses sent us I would be glad to have mailed any copies you wish sent.

I begin to feel like an old settler again, having been home nearly two weeks. However, it will soon be time for me to fare forth again, so I am enjoying the comforts of home while I may.

Mrs. Britt joins in greetings.

Cordially yours,

Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
120 East 19th Street,
New York City.
