Arts Film Series Shown Saturdays

'Three-Dimension' Experiment Relates Art, Music, Drama

A widely publicized experiment in "three-dimensional education" at Columbia college in which students of a course in "Contemporary Civilization" supplement class work through the medium of motion pictures is being adapted here by the art, music and drama departments in an attempt to bring the three fields into closer relation for study.

At Columbia, as here, the students gather to see motion pictures dealing with the topic under discussion at the moment. Another parallel between the two experiments is the fact that in each case attendance is voluntary. And, too, it is expected that, when finally worked out, the series will be used by both colleges as integral parts of the studies.

The Allegheny programs, already two weeks under way, are shown Saturday mornings at nine o'clock in the Playshop and attempt to fuse the three fields in order that their relation to each other may become more apparent to students.

Tickets to the Playshop's Monday evening film series will be honored at Saturday morning programs and, conversely, tickets for the arts series will be good for admittance at the other programs of films.

The tickets, at $1.00, may be procured from Professors John W. Hurlburt, Julius Miller or Morten J. Luvaas.

The programs for the first semester:

- Saturday—
"Colonial Architecture."
October 18—
"Churches and Cathedrals" (Part I).
"Ancient Cities of Southern France."
"Händel."
October 25—
"Modern Rome."
"A Day in Venice."
"Verdi."
"Venice the Magnificent."
November 1—
"Colonial Architecture."
"Deep River."
"Colonial Williamsburg."
"Centuries of Massachusetts" (Part I).
November 8—
"City Planning."
"The City."
November 15—
"Anitra's Dance."
"Bach's Air For G String."
"Paris Opera Ballet and Orchestra."
November 29—
"Lynd Ward At Work."
"Plaster Casting" (2 Parts).
December 13—
"The Mystic Lamb."
"Art and Life in Belgium."
December 20—
"Cartoonland Mysteries."
"Movies March On."

Football Victory Brings Celebration By Student Body

Allegheny's victory over American University last Saturday was reflected in a number of jubilant events which followed on the campus afterward.

Immediately after the game, practically the entire freshman class stormed Bentley hall to ring the victory bell, so long silent, in celebration of Allegheny's first win in the last 17 starts.

Sunday evening, the members of the football squad met at the grill to enjoy ice cream, furnished by Jim Oram, the proprietor, and cake, sent by Don Turk's sister, Barbara, from Cleveland for the occasion. Tables were set up in the center of the floor for the feast.

All Monday morning classes were called off due to Saturday's victory. A pep rally to honor the team was held in Ford chapel at 11:30. Several members of the team spoke, in addition to President Tolley. Classes were resumed in the afternoon.

Friday night before the game a Arter field in spite of the fact that successful pep rally was held at the bonfire was touched off before the time set for it. The rally was followed by the annual snake dance into town, led by Virginia Kiser, '42, head cheer leader, where the second show at the Park Theater was turned over to Allegheny students.

"Treat us like human beings and we'll all have a better time" was the lament of most faculty members when quizzed about the chaperoning problem early in the week.

The survey, undertaken by a staff writer, was the result of a rising cry of protest against uncourteous student behaviour at fraternity and all-college dances.

According to the findings, faculty members, required to attend such affairs under college regulations, are disgusted and embarrassed by the lack of courtesy shown them there.

"Every now and then," said one, "we are treated with decency; but, for the most part we are left to find ways to amuse ourselves. If we aren't shown better treatment in the future," he continued, "we'll be forced to turn down invitations to the parties."

Another was a bit more caustic and expressed his anger at the poor treatment. "Usually," he commented, "I am handed a dance program when I enter. Then I'm on my own. Quite often people don't show when we have dances traded with them," he complained.

"I dislike having to sit through an evening feeling like a leper," said a woman instructor. "This business of sticking chaperons in a corner and leaving them there isn't my idea of courtesy," she protested.

Cavelti Lists Programs

A variety of chapel programs have been arranged for the coming month, featuring guest speakers, members of the faculty and a concert pianist. Mr. John E. Cavelti, chairman of the chapel program committee, said it has been impossible to put into immediate effect the new arrangement for student chapels on Tuesday and Thursday religious chapels, but this will be done as soon as possible.

Nov. 4—Mr. Clarence H. Yarrow—on his experiences among the Missouri share-croppers during the past summer.

Nov. 6—Mr. Paul H. Giddens—speaking on South America.

Nov. 11—Armistice day speaker—to be announced later.

Nov. 13—Hugh Hodgeson—pianist.

Nov. 18—Mr. Julius A. Miller—art.

Nov. 20—Mr. Stanley S. Swartley—religious services.

Nov. 25—Dean J. R. Schultz—Thanksgiving program.

Congratulations!

Congratulations of another nature were in order last week for the Tolley family when Katryn Diane Tolley was born Thursday on the eve of the convocation.

Co-op Strong In Second Year

Membership Not Large Enough To Handle Work Pouring In; Group Calls For Recruits; Gratz Assumes Direction

Allegheny's Work Co-op, now in its second year of operation, and going strong under the direction of its new student head, Arthur Gratz, '40, is now mushrooming into a bigger and more successful organization at this stage than its founders ever conceived for it.

In any event, it appears that the Co-op has expanded so swiftly that its membership has failed to keep up with the demand for students to fill the jobs, which are many. The cold fact is, strangely enough, that Co-op chief Gratz just can't get enough people to fill all the jobs made available to him. Perhaps that's real prosperity, but it has become a cause of worry to Co-op officials who are finding it increasingly necessary to turn down attractive work opportunities.

Definitely, the Co-op's crying need at this time is for more people, more workers, both men and women. The Co-op organization is now firmly on its feet in Allegheny; it is more than an experiment. It is a strong, growing machine with tremendous potentialities. During its short period of existence, the Co-op has achieved the whole-hearted and enthusiastic support of the school authorities, and is now beginning to enjoy the ever-growing confidence and help of cooperative Meadville merchants, business men, and citizens. The Co-op has definitely made a hit with Meadville-ites. It has proven the capability of Allegheny students to perform any and all tasks to the satisfaction of town employers in the past year.

Thus, with everybody behind it, it appears strange that the Co-op is not now blossoming into the important, powerful, campus-wide organization that reasoning implies it should be. Of course, the one obstacle, as previously mentioned, is the lack of response on the part of Allegheny students in joining the Co-op and thereby benefitting from the possibilities for jobs it opens to them.

Certainly, no student in need of financial aid and wanting to work either part or full time should hesitate for any reason to join the organization. Director Gratz makes it clear that membership in the Co-op is open to all Allegheny students, whether men or women, who are willing to help themselves along by working. The organization finds the jobs for them and takes nothing whatever in return. The Co-op runs on a non-profitable basis as always, with the college supporting it financially. It takes no cut whatsoever from wages received and demands no dues from its members.

At this moment, the Co-op is confronted, as stated, with more jobs than it can fill, and several are remaining open upon the request of employers who are in genuine need of people to fill the openings. For instance, there is a demand for students to work in Meadville diners and restaurants part-time, especially on weekends. Likewise, there is an opening for a student to tend furnace in a private home this winter for board. Also in the novel category is the job that is open for a student with a sedan to drive students to and from school between the hours of 8:30-9:00 a. m. and 11:30-12:00 a. m. Then, there is a clerical job available for someone between 5:30 and 9:30 every evening. This would be a more or less steady job, paying good wages and continuing perhaps even through summer months.

In addition, there is always a demand for girls to tend children for a few hours at a time, do clerical work, do light house-cleaning, etc. Definitely there are plenty of jobs for those who want them.

Another strange fact about the present Co-op condition is that the organization has not yet even begun to solicit townspeople for jobs for the members. All openings thus far have been made voluntarily by the Meadville employers. There is no point in going out and getting even more job opportunities when all at present can't be filled. However, this fact is a strong indication of the boundless possibilities that are before the Allegheny Co-op in this, its second year of operation. It can be readily seen that this student organization could easily now

Chaperons Protest 'Uncourteous' Student Conduct

The teaching staff offered a concrete suggestion for the improvement of the condition. "My wife and I have found that we are most likely to have a dull evening when we are the only faculty members present," he said. "When there is another couple at the dance we are at least certain of having them to talk to," he added.

The most common objection to the practice of inviting people from the faculty as chaperons was that they were often embarrassed by the feeling that they were outsiders, having no place at the affair.

"There is no spontaneous display of friendship as a rule," opined a woman. "I always get the feeling that certain people have been delegated to 'entertain the chaps' and that the others are having a good laugh at their expense."

Another added that he didn't think it right for "one or two couples to have the feeling that they had to stay and talk to us, but," he felt, "the others ought to at least stop and say hello during the course of the evening."

Perhaps the most bitter comment came from an older professor who complained that "they don't inquire about our likes. They all take it for granted that we enjoy dancing. I don't," he said, "yet there is nothing else for us to do. So we dance."

"Let them get another couple who don't dance or don't enjoy dancing too much and let us play cards," he suggested. "Then no one's feelings are hurt," he finished.

According to the survey not all faculty members are strong friends of their colleagues as was evidenced by the comment of one from the ranks. "Of course," he said, "we can't all get along well together. If there's anything as bad as not being made to feel at home, it's being left in the company of someone whose interests are entirely different from your own."

Another, a woman, suggested that students were lax in giving information concerning time and dress for the dances. "If there's anything that makes a woman angry," she said, "it's to arrive in a short dress when the other women are wearing formal gowns."

One suggested that the chaperons be allowed to name the friends they would like to have attend with them. Others were of the opinion that they didn't want to be handed dance cards if the students were unwilling to have their names placed on them. And, of course, all were vehement that the courtesy shown them was atrocious.

"If the students will have a bit more regard for our feelings and will show us normal courtesy we'll enjoy their parties," said one, in presenting the whole case succinctly, "but, if this treatment continues, chaperons will be the scarcest thing in Meadville."

A Grand Weekend

PERHAPS no weekend at Allegheny will ever again achieve the heights reached by the recently past Homecoming. It's difficult to conceive of elation, pride, satisfaction reaching such a peak again.

First came the convocation as student enthusiasm soared. The dedication followed, and satisfaction at great progress same to the surface. And then came the football game.

"When you're down there's nowhere to look but up," goes the old saying. Up they looked and up they went.

To some of us hardened football experts a 14-0 deficit is nothing, so we weren't too much surprised when the locals came from behind to push the American Eagles unpatriotically around the field to win. When we saw the way the team blocked and tackled—cleanly this year—we knew that victory was coming our way. And don't forget the spirit; that, too, brought the win.

Maybe it's the coach, maybe the players, maybe the trainer or the uniforms—we don't know which. At least, there's something new this year. Something is there beside spirit that presages more victories—this season.

The victory showed something else too—that Alleghenians are not quite so lacking in enthusiasm as has been supposed. Congratulations to the team for bringing an odious streak to an end and for beginning a happier one!

We were made to feel even better as the local paper, reversing the usual practice, picked up our editorial and reprinted it in their editorial columns. It was a grand weekend!

You'll Get Them!

SOME fellow (we wish we could get our hands on him) opened the bundle and took one. Others followed. Soon Friday's edition of the "Campus" was all over the place. Now, we wouldn't have minded except that this issue was written for distribution following the convocation. A few hasty students spoiled the whole thing.

After this, students are requested not to ask for copies of the paper before chapel exercises have been concluded. Perhaps "request" is not quite strong enough. At any rate, the issue will not be distributed to anyone before chapel has been dismissed.

This is not completely our doing. In changing the student chapel from Thursday to Tuesday it was stipulated by the chapel committee that such a change could not be effected unless the "Campus" was withheld until "conclusion" of the services.

Even if this were not the case, no copies should get out. Students should know enough not to meddle in property which does not yet belong to them.

'Block A' Plans All-College Dance

The Block A Club, consisting of members of varsity athletic teams, will sponsor a dance to be held on November 15, according to Roger Flint, '42, chairman of the affair.

Chief feature of the dance, to be held the night of Allegheny's final football game of the 1941 season with Kenyon, will be the election of a football queen by members of the varsity eleven.

Plans are being made to secure a colored band for the dance, which will probably be held in the gymnasium.

'Unholy Three' In Playshop Monday

Third in the film series sponsored by the drama department will be "The Unholy Three," starring Lon Chaney. This picture, a silent film to be accompanied by organ music, will be shown in the Playshop next Monday evening at 8:30 p. m.

Mrs. Ruth Frazier of Erie is the organist for the silent films. Preceding "The Unholy Three" on the series were the Marx brothers in "Duck Soup" and "The Private Life of Henry VIII," with Charles Laughton. These films are open to the general public. Admission is $25 unless students hold season tickets.

Celebration Last Week A Success

Convocation For Tolley, Dedication Are Standouts

One of the outstanding week-ends in many years was celebrated last Friday and Saturday when convocation ceremonies were held, honoring Dr. William P. Tolley, and when alumni, faculty, and students saw the dedication of two new dormitory units and the first Allegheny football victory in three years.

Trustees, faculty, students, and official delegates from many colleges and universities joined in an impressive ceremony to honor Dr. Tolley on the completion of ten year's service as president of the college. Mr. Andrew W. Robertson introduced the speakers, President William H. Cowley, of Hamilton college, and Dr. Tolley. A convocation dinner was held in Brooks hall that evening, in which William P. Beazell of New York city was toastmaster.

A student rally was held Friday night before the Homecoming game with American university. From the rear porch of Arter Hall, in the light of a huge bonfire, short talks were given by members of the team and coach Alfred E. Werner. Then a spirited snake dance around the bonfire preceded the trek downtown to crash the Park Theatre.

The game with American university on the next afternoon was played before some two thousand spectators, and resulted in the first Allegheny victory in three years.

Two new dormitory units, Anna Cloyde Brooks hall and Walker hall were dedicated Saturday morning. Dr. Tolley presided over the ceremony, during which Constance Warren, president of Sarah Lawrence college, Bronxville, N. Y., gave the featured address. Brief remarks were also made by Dean Laila Skinner and Sara Anne Emerson, president of the women students.

A luncheon was held afterwards in Brooks hall for the returning alumni, and following the game a coffee hour was also given in Brooks hall.

Fraternities welcomed back their alumni with dinners at the various houses Saturday evening, and Independents held their banquet at the Kepler Hotel.

Later in the evening the final performance of "George Washington Slept Here" was given in the Playshop for the alumni. An all-college dance was given at the same time in Brooks hall to conclude the Homecoming activities.

Treymore Club Plays For Pan-Hellenic

Committees for the annual Freshman Pan-Hellenic dance have announced further plans for the event to be held Saturday, November 1, 1941, in Cochran hall, 9 p. m.-12 p. m. The orchestra will be the Treymore Club from Butler. Tickets are $1.50 each.

Freshman women are in charge of decorations and ticket sales in the freshman dormitories. The committee is composed of Helen Chaney, Beverly Rogers, Carolyn Morgan, Betty Raymond, Jean Stark, Dorothy Viets, Margaret Sullivan and Mary Ann Kocher. General chairman is Patty Ann Green, '42, assisted by these sorority women: Ruth Gelbach, '43, Marjorie Miller, '43, Jean Levine, '43, Helen McVicar, '43, Dorothy Ketcham, '43, Louise Bowman, '43, Miriam Lee, '42, Charlotte Zema, '42, Betty Ling, '42, Barbara Barnhart, '42, and Gloria Sherman, '42.

Chaperones will include Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dudley McClean and Dean Laila Skinner.

Exchange Dinners Next Wednesday

An exchange dinner for freshmen men and women will be held on Wednesday, November 5. Half of the freshman women will have dinner at Cochran hall, while half of the men will eat at Brooks hall.

Invitations will be sent to the men and women who will be exchanged, according to Naomi Lutz, '45, chairman of a committee for the affair. Included on the invitation will be the number of the table at which each student is to sit.

KDE in First Meeting Of Year Tuesday

Kappa Delta Epsilon has scheduled the first meeting of the year for Tuesday at 4 p. m., announced Mildred Hutchison, '42, president of the honorary educational fraternity.

A program of coming events will be discussed by the group. Members will meet this month in the Kappa Alpha Theta rooms.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

By Mary Stewart

The majority of last year's graduates of Kappa Alpha Theta returned for Homecoming. Also back were Mrs. Emerson, formerly Edith Greene, '09; Mrs. Miller—Francis Boone, '36; and Mrs. Robert R. Ralston—Dorothy Henderson, '37, of Butler. The actives were entertained with a real laugh-provoking skit in the rooms on Monday evening. The author of the skit was Margaret Kinney, '42. The entire pledge class participated. 55 people visited the Kappa Kappa Gamma rooms last Saturday. Next Monday night, November 3, the big sisters are taking the pledges to dinner at Gray's.

The actives of Alpha Chi Omega furnished the desert at the dinner given on Homecoming Day by the alumni. Mrs. John Lewis, Miss Betty Ellis, Mrs. A. L. Ballinger and Mrs. S. Frank Hazen were in charge of the affair; 55 attended. Next Monday night the pledges are providing the actives with a dinner. Miss Emmareth Knorr, Miss Jean Hubbell and Miss Katherine Wilson directed the week-end events for Alpha Gamma Delta. Sixty guests attended the dinner. On this coming Monday night the Alpha Gams are having the members of Alpha Xi Delta for a social hour. Their events for this coming week include a banquet given for the chapter by the seniors.

Last Saturday Mrs. Harriet Brydley Whitney presided at the alumni meeting of Theta Upsilon. Forty people visited the rooms and the group then dined at Gray's.

A large gathering of 125 people were present at the Independent dinner given Saturday at Hotel Bartlett, Cambridge Springs. Virginia Kiser, '42, spoke for the women and the President of Alden Men, Donald Modisher, '42, spoke in their behalf. Dr. Tolley addressed the group. Donald Wood, '45, sang several numbers.

About 30 alumni and 20 active members were present at the Alpha Chi Rho Homecoming Banquet. Bill Williams and his band will play for the Chi Rho Pledge Dance this Friday night. The dance will be in the form of a costume party.

The Delta Tau Delta Alumni Dinner was held on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Included among the week-end guests were Samuel Hazlett, George, G. O. McClurg, Warren Horton, William Mould and Thomas Beedle.

At the annual Homecoming Banquet of Sigma Alpha Epsilon 30 alumni were present. On Sunday there was a touch football game between the fraternity intramural team and the returning alumni. The alumni defeated the actives, 24 to 6.

The women's auxiliary sponsored a coffee hour held at the Phi Kappa Psi house on Saturday afternoon following the football game. 100 persons attended the buffet supper later in the evening. Many alumni returned, among those being Charles Rothrock, Burton McCullough, and Richard Caldwell. The fraternity is having a Halloween radio party on Friday night. The house will be appropriately decorated.

William P. Beazell and Dean Emeritus Clarence F. Ross were the speakers at the Phi Delta Theta house. Mr. and Mrs. Al Werner were among the many guests at the Sunday dinner.

Informal speeches were made by the actives and the alumni at the Phi Gamma Delta banquet at which approximately 50 alumni were present last week on Homecoming day. Faculty guests were Mr. Charles Miller, Paul Younger, Mr. Albert Ogilvie, David Roberts and Philip Benjamin.

Civic Music Dates Soon

Three programs made available by the Meadville Civic Music Association will be presented at neighboring towns in the near future.

Tomorrow night, the famous duopiano team of Josef and Rosina Lhevinne will present a program at Olean, N. Y.

The Don Cossack chorus, male singing group, will appear in Erie on Wednesday, Nov. 12. The chorus appeared in Meadville last year in the Civic Music series and was very favorably received.

On the same date, Suzanne Fischer, soprano, will sing in Canton, Ohio.

Mr. William Tongue, president of the organization, stated that transportation to these programs must be furnished by the students. Tickets for the out-of-town series may be obtained at the registrar's office in Bentley hall.

The first program in the local series will be presented in the Meadville high school auditorium on Nov. 24. This date has been tentatively set by Maurice M. Lord, conductor of the Meadville symphony orchestra, which will feature the program. College students will be admitted upon presentation of activities tickets.

Hallowe'en Dinner This Evening

Preparations have been virtually completed for tonight's annual Hallowe'en dinner. Over 220 girls have been busy devising costumes, decorating tables, and making ready the pumpkins and noisemakers which will reign supreme.

Prizes will be given for the most outstanding costumes at the dinner, it was announced. Judges for the evening will be Dean Laila Skinner, Blair Hanson, Mary Virginia Jones, Agnes Painter and Mildred Ludwig.

Immediately following the dinner the freshmen will present their skits in the recreation room. These will be followed by the story told preliminary to the Cwen Ghostwalk, feature event of the evening.

Mr. Charles E. Irvin announced this week that tryouts will be held for Freshmen Debating on Tuesday, November 4, in Arter hall, Room 15, from 4:00 to 5:30 p. m.

The frosh debate aspirants will prepare a three-minute speech on any argumentative subject for the occasion.

'Mum' Sale Nets $20 For Senior Class

Senior women headed by Dorothy French netted approximately $20 from the sale of chrysanthemums over the Homecoming weekend. This money will be contributed to the senior fund to be used for the purchase of a gift for the college.

Kiddies' Karnival Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow night the Kollege Kiddies' Karnival sponsored by the Independent women will be held in the former dining room of Hulings hall. Beginning at 8 p. m., a fish pond, fortune telling, bingo, dart game, penny pitch, squirt game, House of Horrors, and ball toss will be open to students with free general admission.

Refreshments will be sold throughout the evening while fun-seekers dance in Brooks recreation room.

General chairman for the event is Janet Anne Smith, '43, with Priscilla Camburn, '44, assisting her. Barbara Meyer, '44, and Virginia Brandt, '43, are in charge of supplies. Heading the publicity committee are Claire Nevins, '44, and Betty Pidgeon, '42. Lucille Muntz, '43, and Helen McNair, '43, will select the prizes to be offered. June Patterson, '44, will be floor manager.

'What is Real Threat' Town Meeting Topic

"What is the Real Threat to Democracy?" will be the title for discussion at tonight's edition of Town Meeting to be held in Arter 15 at 8:30. The chairman of the evening will be Marion Mumford and the speaker will be Mr. George Snyder, a representative for the Youth Committee against War. Mr. Snyder is a recent college graduate who is touring the country studying the attitude of the students in colleges and universities on the question of peace and war. He will talk about 25 minutes, leaving an hour for five discussions. The subject at the local meeting will again vary from the nation question—"Can We Check Rising Prices? How?"—because the committee feels that this topic is of more immediate interest.

Girls' Field Hockey Proves Popular Here

Girls' field hockey, introduced at Allegheny for the first time this year by Miss Gilchrist, new athletic instructor, has been enthusiastically received by the freshman and sophomore girls.

In the two or three weeks in which the girls have been playing the sport, most of their time has been spent in learning the essentials and fundamentals of the game. However, in spite of the fact that it is entirely new to the girls, the game has proven to be very popular and attendance at practices has been unusually good.

The ten minute walk to Eberhardt field has proved very invigorating and classes will continue to be held there as long as the weather permits.

The turnouts for practices have been large enough to have a number of teams and this week will probably see the girls playing their first real games. Later it is planned to have a game between the freshman and sophomore girls as a climax to the fall program.

Montgomery Musings

by
JIM JENKINS

Quiet hours definitely were not observed Saturday from two to five and for good reason. After a two-year victory famine, the crowd really whooped it up.

What impressed us most was the wide open style of play during the second half. The passing attack and those sure, snappy reverses were a revelation after years of line-bucking football.

Speaking of snappy plays, that spot pass from Don Turk to Marasco was a tribute to the football "savvy" of Captain "Rafe." America's fast charging line played into the Gator's hands as the play netted 35 yards.

You can't keep the freshmen out of the spotlight. That crowd in front of Brooks Sunday afternoon watched with mixed emotions as Murray Anderson rolled a potato from North Main street to the dorm with his nose. Anderson had picked Ohio State over Northwestern in a bet with Corrigan and was paying off as specified. Said Murray as he wiped off his tender proboscis after the long trek, "I wouldn't even bet on Ohio State against Pitt next Saturday!"

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL:

The standings including games of Monday, October 27:

	Won	Lost	Tie
Phi Delta Theta	4	0	1*
Phi Gamma Delta	5	1
S. A. E.	3	2
B. K.	2	2
Phi Kappa Psi	2	2	1
D. T. D.	1	3
A. X. P.	0	3
Alden Men	0	4

*One tie exists on the record. A final decision on the Phi Delt-Phi Psi game will be made at the next intramural committee meeting. Until then the game will be considered a tie.

In Monday's games, the hard charging Phi Delt easily downed S.A.E., 30-2, and the Phi Gams eked out a close win over the B.K.'s, 12-6.

Ray Peterson, Phi Delt backfield ace, and Carl Roemer, husky lineman, were the principal figures as the Phi Delt routed the Sigs. Cal Bartlett and Walt Gabel shone for the losing S.A.E. cause.

A wet ball and sloppy gridiron combined to hold down the score in the Phi Gam-B.K. game. The heads-up play of Petre and Carper, who were in on every play, kept the Fijis out in front.

Booters Win Over Tech Tuesday

Levinsky, Klein
Score Goals in
First Home Game

Coach Way's much improved Gator soccer team defeated the Tartans of Carnegie Tech, 3-1, on the sodden turf of new Eberhardt field Tuesday afternoon.

Postponed from the previous Thursday, the game was the first to take place on Allegheny's new athletic field and was played under the season's most adverse weather conditions. However, the swamp-like field, and a fine, misty rain interspersed with year's first snow, failed to hinder the driving Gator offense which carried the game to Tech all the way.

Functioning smoothly, Allegheny's goal-starved booters moved into Tartan territory from the opening whistle and remained there throughout most of the contest. Midway in the first quarter, "Bud" Klein, Gator center, pierced Tech's defense to score on a long, accurate shot, high in the corner of the cage, the goalie being unable to handle the drive. Tech was continually on the defense from that point as a coordinated Allegheny offensive line of Simonetta, Nast, Klein, Levinsky and Konstant kept the harried Tartan backs busy stemming a wave of advances. Seldom was the Gator goal threatened and never in the first half was goalie Nichols forced to make any kind of a save as Tech's occasional forward marches were in every instance broken up by the alert defensive play of fullbacks Doncaster and Blank and halfbacks Beebe, MacMillan, and Caravacci.

Allegheny scored again, midway in the second quarter when Walt Levinsky, advancing on the Tartan goal from his Inside Right position, rammed the ball hard into the net past the goalie from close in at the side of the cage, making the count 2-0 in favor of Allegheny. The smooth dribbling and passing of Nast and Simonetta on the line featured the play during the remainder of the first half as the Gators remained on the offense.

As the game resumed in the second half, snow began to fall which added to the already soggy condition of the field and the discomfort of players and spectators alike. Early in the third quarter, Gator center Klein, awarded a penalty shot, almost scored Allegheny's third goal as his drive caromed off the goalie to the top of the cage, to the ground, where it was cleared. In the succeeding minutes, Coach Way's booters were on the brink of scoring three or four times as the desperate Tartan goalie ward off drive after drive. The powerful kicking of Beebe and Caravacci contrived to keep Tech's backs on their heels.

In the fourth period, Levinsky scored again from the mouth of Tech's goal as the entire Allegheny line converged on the cage. Late in the quarter, Tech pushed across their only goal; "Pinky" Lees, Tartan forward, beating Gator goalie Nichols for the score and making the count 3-1, Allegheny.

Four Athletic Board Members at Meeting Of Co-ed Federation

Four members of Allegheny's Women's Athletic Board attended the annual convention of the Western Pennsylvania Division of the Athletic Federation of College Women held at California State Teachers College last weekend. Alleghenians attending the convention were Ruth Godley, '42, president of the Western Pennsylvania Division of A.F.C.W., Bettymae McComb, '43, president of the Allegheny W.A.A., Jeanne DeHaven, '44, and Patty Wright, '44.

The convention program began Thursday evening with registration and a social hour for the representatives. Friday morning panel discussions were held on various subjects and in the afternoon all of the visiting members were entertained at the college farm with a picnic supper and barn dance. The convention closed Saturday morning after the Finance, Nominating, and Ways and Means committee meetings were held. No decision was made by the group concerning next year's convention host.

Schools represented at the convention were: Carnegie Tech, Westminster, Lock Haven, Seton Hill, Grove City, Slippery Rock, Bethany, P.C.W., California, and Allegheny.

Gators, Rochester Tangle Saturday

New York Team Has Formidable Record; Gators Overcome 14 Point Deficit In Snapping 16-Game Victory Famine

Fired with new zeal and enthusiasm after their courageous and heart-warming triumph last Saturday over American University of Washington, D. C., by the score of 20-14, Allegheny College's Blue and Gold Gators invade central New York Saturday to do battle with Rochester University's powerful Rivermen.

A remarkable last half surge that was not to be denied simply overwhelmed American last Saturday, and now Coach Al Werner's fighting band of revitalized gridders are stepping into bigger time when they take on the Rochester Yellow Jackets. After bringing their winless streak of 16 games to an abrupt finish the Gators are now determined to stay on the right track and to increase their winning streak to two. A victory over Rochester would signalize to the gridiron world our return to pristine football glory, for the Rivermen field a very formidable eleven this year, witnessed by their season record to date of three wins and one loss. Saturday they conquered Hamilton, 19-7, and previously they had conquered Kenyon, the Gators' last opponent, 13-6, and lost to a strong Amherst eleven, 7-2.

Last Saturday a noisy, cheering Homecoming Day crowd of 2000 old grads and students watched with ever increasing amazement and joy as an underdog Allegheny college eleven surged from behind a 14-0 first half deficit and finally overcame American's Eagles, 20-14. Everybody except the players themselves thought that the Gators didn't have a chance, and when, midway through the second quarter, the Eagles were on the long end of a 14-0 count the spectators were settling back in the seats to watch the score mount, but Coach Werner's charges never heard of the word "quit" and they proceeded to exhibit some of the finest fight, courage, and determination ever witnessed on Montgomery Field.

The first quarter was nearly over when Don Turk's punt was blocked and recovered by American on the Gator 41, from where Atkinson, Eagle halfback, connecting with passes to quarterback Sarland which spelled an Eagle touchdown as Atkinson went the final five yards and Hoover booted the extra point.

Freshman Gridders Meet Alliance Here

The Freshman football team opens its season here this afternoon against Alliance college of Cambridge Springs. The frosh have been practicing several weeks and are now ready for their first tilt after scrimmaging both the varsity and freshman scrubs.

The team will take the field today against a heavy Alliance eleven that has been doing well in several games with smaller college varsities. Alliance is strong defensively and it will be a real tussel that they will put up this afternoon.

The starting team as picked by Coach Bob Garbark will include Present and Corrigan at the ends, Price and Pierson, tackles, A. Crawford and Guyot, guards, and Kirstein at center. The backfield will be made up of Todd, Muir, Andersen, with Kapusta calling the signals.

The return kickoff was fumbled by Allegheny and American recovered on the Gator 27. The quarter ended as the Eagles were driving to the three yard line from where a recovered fumble, two smeared line plays and a penalty shoved them back to the 15, where Atkinson shot a pass into the hands of end Potter in the end zone.

Hoover converted again and with the score 14-0 against them Allegheny's eleven seemed to be headed for defeat, but it was then that the Gators began their first touchdown march.

Don Turk got off a 68 yard boot into the end zone and the subsequent Eagle punt carried only to the 26 yard line. Bill Pierce, who was an outstanding back all afternoon, then flipped a pass to Captain Ralph Marasco on the five and on third down Bill Cramer passed to the rangy Turk, who was running all alone in the end zone. Bill Cramer then made the seventh point. When the Gators later stopped after another march, this one to the one-yard line, the half ended with American still ahead, 14-7.

As the third quarter opened, the Gators moved the ball to the Eagle 19 where they lost the ball on downs, but after gaining possession again they roared back, only to see Atkinson intercept an Allegheny pass on the five and run it back to the 16.

All afternoon Thatcher's punts had been nearly blocked by the fast charging Gator forwards and this time when he tried to punt he was smothered by a swarm of Alleghenians; Turk scooped up the loose ball on the 17 and dashed over for the score. Cramer's point try was just wide as a chorus of moans rose over the field and the final quarter got under way with Allegheny trailing 14-13.

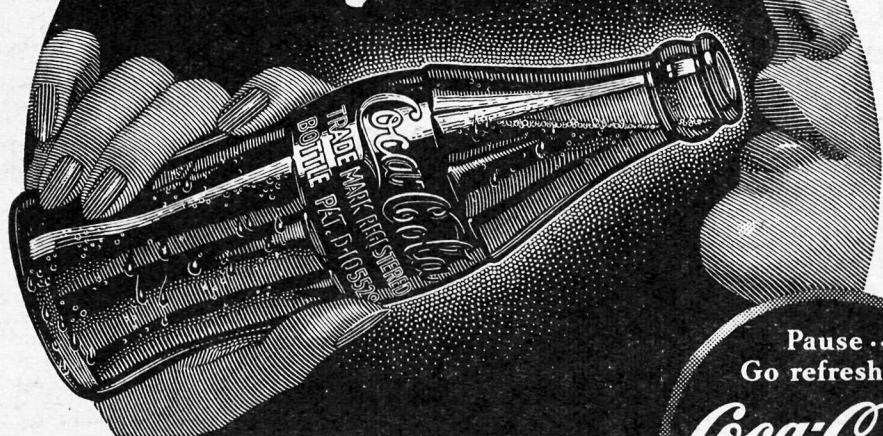

It was at this point that Allegheny's victory-starved eleven sensed their first triumph since 1938 and they were not denied.

Twice they swept within the Eagle 15 yard line only to loose the ball on downs, but the third and final drive began on American's 49 yard line, from where a dazzling and spectacular series of 11 consecutive reverses, with Quarterback Marasco first handling the ball to Pierce and then to the elusive and flashing George Cramer, carried to the one-yard line. Fullback Pierce then plunged over for the score and when Bill Cramer's placement split the goal posts for the Gator's 20th point, ancient Montgomery trembled and shook as the roar of the joyous Alleghenians, old and new, filled the air.

Every man on the Gator eleven played inspired ball, but Linemen Conlin and Leuthner, Backs Pierce, George Cramer and Captain Marasco, who stood out all the way, merit special praise.

Allegheny made 12 first downs to American's 10, 179 yards rushing and passing to the Eagles' 175, and completed 8 out of 19 passes with American completing 10 out of 18.

Some campus group like the A.C.C. ought to leap down on the telephone abuses about this college. Take Tarbell for instance. One fellow had been trying weeks to locate a certain girl whom a mutual friend had told him to look up. He finally located her at Tarbell only to be turned aside by some male frosh who refused to call the girl until the caller had revealed all his past history. Some callers don't get that far. After slipping past the wary Hulings operator they will hear a Tarbell hanger-on answer the phone and say, "Phi Gam house." There's no arguing with that and the caller learns to look elsewhere for his dates. Cochran is cursed with a malignant termite who listens in downstairs on all long distance calls. All this is a comedown from the old days when the phone abuses consisted of such wit as the answer, "Caffisch Maternity Ward. Are you expecting someone?"

Alf Fegley tells of wandering along behind a well-known campus figure one night. Finally she offered a cheery "Hello." The figure jerked convulsively, looked around, saw Alf, said, "My! How you scared me!"

It was Spook Cole.

The izzat girls from Hammet want ultra-ultra izzat Sunday afternoon, apparently for the benefit of any vestigial Alumni still around. Besides appearing expensively lovely they flourished, hosanna!, cigarette holders. They gave the general impression of having Dalmatian coach hounds and Pomeranians chained outside the door. Diskin gave out their names as Cobina, Brenda, Frieda and Mrs. Jock Whitney. Come to think of it, one was Whitney.

Most perfect characterization: "If his I. Q. were one point higher he'd be a plant."

The academic splendor of the convocation ceremony was somewhat marred by Bentley's recalcitrant front door. When Tolley, as part of the ceremony, tried to unlock and enter Bentley, the venerable portal settled back and completely refused to permit the entrance of this young upstart president of only ten years' standing. Superintendent of Grounds Kraft was produced but he was denied entrance and it wasn't until an unrobed worker within was aroused by much knocking to open up that the ceremony could go on.

These freshmen are a high-spirited and splendidly courageous lot. Monday night they DARED to dance in the grill. Hansen with young Fleming was outstanding among the mad hoppers—as only Hansen's dancing is outstanding. Even dignified upperclassman George Cramer got into the youthful spirit of the thing with the aid of kittenish Crowthers. With kind thoughtfulness he wrapped a napkin around an ice cream cone so it wouldn't drip on Kitty's sweater—then flattened the whole cold, melting thing over Kitten's pretty nose.

This story is public property now anyway so here's the thing as it happened. Jerry (Roger) Albright became logically disturbed over some rather dual doggerell in Robinette's New Gay Gaylor. Jerry did nothing about it until a grand idea struck him at the victory chapel as he demolished the head on the bass drum. Two and two make four. In an hour or so he was sitting on top of Robinette trying to beat in his head on the ground. The affair of honor was stopped to be resumed under faculty supervision where Hartman supervised a three-round match in the gym. It ended two to one in favor of the Gay Gaylor.

The Sigs had their own good time over Homecoming. Zanneuser is reported to be now in the hospital recovering (it is reported) from injuries sustained when he was hit by a flying buttress. Milan Harvey, '38, sustained a broken nose in the Alumni-Active touch game at ten o'clock (!) Sunday morning. Moe Detweiler officiated with the whistle. Alumni won, 24-6, in spite of it.

Then there was happy George Blank who week-ended with Genieve Cook when arch-rival Schroyer didn't turn up.

And unhappy Wendell Stone who went home to Connellsville to stay with Doc Gilbert so that his parents wouldn't be aware of his presence. He hadn't reckoned, however, with his home town paper which duly notified the community their own boy Wendell has home for the week-end.

On the domestic front we find Louise Emerson washing and ironing Brossman's shirts. Well, she did one anyway: that flannel one in which the Editor poses for his pictures. (See '41 Kaldron).

During the dreary first half of that happy, happy, happy American U. game, Bill Tolley, Jr., sided with the disgruntled Alumni in saying, "See Dad, I told you you should have bought some players."

double its scope and magnitude. Just how powerful it will become in the future, how much it will expand on the Allegheny campus, will depend, apparently, on how far the students will go with it.

In Director Gratz the organization now has a very able administrator, one who will nurse it along slowly and carefully to the best advantage.

Co-op officers are now located in Room 9 on the first floor of Ruter hall, where all students may obtain membership blanks or talk with Gratz concerning the Co-op, Allegheny's growing student-work association.

Library Receives Lincoln Etchings

A collection of Lincoln etchings in book form by Dr. Burnhart Walls has recently been acquired by the library and is now on display on the east balcony. The whole series contains 85 volumes, although the library at present has only 72 of them.

Each volume contains from five to seven etchings concerning incidents and portraits of Lincoln's life. Dr. Walls of Lime Rock, Connecticut, has done 100 such sets and this is the last complete one. The etchings were purchased with money from the Schide fund which is the Lincoln Room endowment.
