New York.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

Miss Louise Bache of Community Chests and Councils, Inc. has asked me to send you some source material for possible use in your article dealing with the contribution which social workers have made to the relief of distress arising from unemployment. Miss Bache said that you are interested in tracing some of the changing emphases in social work and in describing the specific contributions which given individuals have made to the development of our relief program.

The material which I am sending today gives you some leads to the more important sources of information on the first part of your topic. I want to talk with several social work executives before I send you names of any individuals for interviews or special personal mention. This will take a few days but I hope to get further suggestions to you early next week.

If the material which I am sending suggests any questions which you would like to ask, or if I can be of any further service in connection with the articles please do not hesitate to command me.

Yours very sincerely,

Mabel B. Ellis
