Miss Ida M. Tarbell
120 East 19th Street
New York, N. Y.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

It is a source of encouragement to all of us connected with the Mobilization for Human Needs that you have agreed to serve on the National Women's Committee. On this sheet you will find a preliminary list of the women with whom you are associated on the Committee. Our first meeting will be held in connection with the Mobilization Conference in Washington on September 28 and 29, to which you have doubtless already received an invitation.

Mrs. Roosevelt has graciously invited members of the National Women's Committee to hold a special meeting on Friday morning, September 28 at 11 in the East Room of the White House. A card of admittance will be ready for you in Washington the previous day. Your presence will greatly hearten those who as presidents of national organizations and state chairmen must do specialized and exacting work if the Women's Crusade is to be effective.

Under separate cover you will receive a copy of the new Guidebook of the Women's Crusade which has just been issued as a resume of last year's activities, a picture of the challenge of the present, and a suggestion for a variety of local projects to be carried out during the fall.

As you know, the National Women's Committee gives national leadership and stimulus to the local Women's Crusades, which in turn bear a major responsibility for informing their communities of the essential need for maintaining and strengthening their human service agencies. Your counsel, your participation in this effort, your suggestions for making it succeed, are not only welcome, they are needed. We hope you will use your influence in creating new opportunities for spreading the idea behind the Women's Crusades.

You may hear in the near future from our Public Relations Director, Miss Louise F. Bache, regarding some possibilities of publicity.

Sincerely yours

Louise F. Bache
