Dear Miss Tarbell:

Your news this morning made me very anxious about you, and I'm hoping hard that already you are feeling better, and will continue to improve in health rapidly !

This morning I, at once, telephoned John Finley, who had an engagement for Wednesday forenoon, but would "pinch hit" for you if we failed to secure someone else of excellence.

President Colligan showed great concern about you. He telephoned Mark Eisner, President of the Board of Higher Education, and Dr. Eisner is to make the address.

So you are not to be bothered, much as we'd love having you. You are to devote yourself to getting well, knowing that we thoroughly appreciate your kind willingness and your thought for our wonderful girls.

Faithfully yours,

Friday, January 22, 1937.
