Dear Madam;-

Your letter of April ninth at hand.

We send you express paid the MSS. referred to in our recent letter.

The book will be entitled "Napoleon's Addresses" as the selections are confined to such of his public utterances as would come under this general title. We would like to have you look over the MSS. when you receive it, and if you know of any other material in this line which we have omitted, we wish you would kindly let us know as we want to make the book as complete as possible. One obvious omission, viz., Napoleon's Address to his army before the battle of the Pyramids, will be supplied, but it is more than likely that other desirable material will have been overlooked. If you will give the MSS. a sort of editorial examination and write an introduction of twenty-five hundred words, we will pay you fifty dollars, which we understand from your letter is your price.

We would like to have you go ahead with the work and let us have it by May 10th as you suggest.

Awaiting your pleasure, we are

Yours truly,

JOSEPH KNIGHT COMPANY

Joseph Knight Pres't.
