Miss Mildred P. Sinclair,
31 Elm St.,
Bloomfield, N.J.

My dear Miss Sinclair:

I hope you will forgive the delay in replying to your letter of March 4 - I have been out of New York for a number of weeks and such correspondence has been held for my personal attention.

I wish that I could give you some really practical advice. You seem to have made an excellent start, everything you have done being of course to the good.

Of course, if you continue in a position which absorbs the most of your time and strength, you will find it difficult to do all the independent writing that you want, though by no means will it be impossible for you to do some. It is almost impossible to hold a position and get the opportunity to do the kind of thing that you wantmost to do. It is hard to write a satisfactory answer even to so full a letter as yours. I wonder if you could come into New York some day and we could talk it over, unless you have already made your decision and your connections. I could arrange to see you some Tuesday or Thursday afternoon at the Pen and Brush Club, 16 East 10th St. It would have to be a little late in the afternoon, I am afraid
