Dear President Tolley:

One of the principal speakers at the recent national theatre meeting was Miss Rosamond Gilder, associate editor of the Theatre Arts Monthly magazine, professional New York Theatre critic, and author of a number of theatre books.

I arranged for her to stop here last week to talk with our drama students. We visited the library, and she was particularly interested in the Lincoln room, since her father, a poet who had written a number of the books in the collection there, was a Lincoln scholar.

I thought you would be interested in the accompanying sheet which is a part of a letter I received from her upon her return to New York.

Sincerely,

Helen Hulbert
