The Transatlantic English Nation 188

The crisis at which we have now arrived - I saw we far after all we nearly as much inclined as if I were making this speech in the city of Boston or the city of New York 172

This is a sad business about the U.S.; but still I think it very much better that they should be split up. In 20 yrs or in 30 yrs I just wish it was, they will be so proud that they will outrage all Europe" Mr B. quoting a wise Englishman - 185

Writings.
What is wanted of U.S. - one combat, slavery - so has revolted because partly because slavery has succeeded at the polls & not wanted to revolt of colonies for colonies were without representation while so has indignity - not tariff question - question of slavery - yet speakers & newspaper of peace - suppose Ireland revolted would of any peace - try to restore the monarchy the great would happen - out of your suspension of Habeas Corpus act. B. promised of what else did in Irish rebellion '48 independence acknowledging so as Bellingham situation - but all great affairs - appeal for calm.

Nearly 500,000 persons - men, women & children - at this moment are saved from the utmost extremes of famine not a few of them from death, by the contributions which they are receiving from all parts of the country.

If our gov. had done it dilly-dolly enough would be had from India but the nations ending or have

In 1847 & again in 1850. B said in unwritten: - "It might not be just that the wrong of the cotton grown in America is produced by slave labor, and this,
I think, all will admit - that no matter as to the period in which slavery may have existed, abolished it will ultimately be, either by peaceable means or by violent means. Whether it comes to an end by peaceable means or otherwise, there will in all probability be an interruption to the production of cotton, and the calamity which must in consequence fall upon a part of the American trade will be felt throughout the manufacturing districts of this country."

Bright - Birmingham, Dec 18, '82. 3.

Account of efforts to secure development of India, and says apropos of Guthrie in Lancashire, "It comes from the utter neglect of their opportunities
- their duties which are distinguished the Gov. of India"

Defend Am. No. for war. Went much by, as if Spain tried to take the Gulf Coast.

Get hearing into family of nations a state-law upon a principle more than 2 more blunders than has you heretofore dreamed of in climbing times.
